Can You Picture
KENTUCKY
without its Fire Fighters?

Maybe you've never had to call the fire department — maybe you never will. But it's a mighty comforting thought to know that it's there, ready night and day to save you and yours from one of man's most treacherous and terrifying enemies.

The heroic work done by fire fighters in so many of the towns and cities of our Allies, which have been showered with incendiaries and explosives, is drama itself. The job of our own firemen right here at home in Kentucky may be less spectacular but it's no less important—particularly to us. Yet most of us give little thought to this vital safeguard of our everyday life — until an emergency comes along.

There are 778 men in Kentucky whose full-time job is the protection of lives and property of the citizens of this State. These are the regular firemen—but there are hundreds more who are ready to do their share at a moment's notice, the volunteer firemen.

To all of these valiant men, we of the Greyhound Lines pay sincere tribute. We're proud of these fellow-citizens—thankful for them, too. And we feel we have at least one thing in common with them. They're fighting hard to improve the safety record of our State and so are we. In these tense and busy days we feel that Greyhound, in providing safe, convenient transportation between this community and its good neighbors, is also playing its part in making Kentucky a safer, happier place to live.

HOMEMAKERS BUY 14 LIBRARY BOOKS

BRINGS TOTAL NUMBER IN LIBRARY TO ONE HUNDRED THIRTY—BOOKS AVAILABLE AT HOME AGENT'S OFFICE.

Fourteen new books have recently been added to the Boone County Homemakers' Library. This brings the total number of books in the county library to one hundred thirty.

The Florence Homemakers' Club sponsored a St. Patrick's Day donation for the benefit of the county library. Mrs. Alexander Yelton, county reading chairman, purchased thirteen books for the library with the ten dollars received from the Florence event.

Homemakers and non-homemakers may select books they want to read from the shelves in the Home Agent's office in the court house or at local homemaker meetings.

Following is the list of new books recently added to the library:

The Apostle, Sholem Aseh; Survival, Phyliss Bottome; Astria, Grace Livingston Hill; Excuse Me, Mrs. Meigs, Elizabeth Corbett; Till I Come Back to You, Thomas Bell; Victoria Grandolet, Bellamann; O River, Remember, Maratha Ostenso; The World Is Like That, Kathleen Norris; Search for a Key, Walter Duranty; Centennial Summer, Albert E. Idell; Mr. Lincoln's Wife, Anne Colver; The Waltz is Over, Hester Pine; We Followed Our Hearts to Hollywood, Emily Kimbrough; The Case of the Drowsy Mosquito, Erle Stanley Gardner.

Farm Labor Notes Are Given By Will Smith

Several farmers the past week were assisted in securing farm help. Farmers who are badly in need of help should leave their names at the County Agent's office. Occassionally some excellent men are available.

Walter Pennington, Walton, Nathan Brewster, Verona, Melvin Kelly, Burlington and Roy Kinney, of Beaver Lick, have already expressed their intention to do custom work in sheep shearing this year. Farmers who must rely on custom shearers should contact their operators early so that they may book their routes. Some of the operators have raised their prices.

Incomplete lists of custom machinery operators who will assist farmers in plowing, disking and other work are as follows: Petersburg, Russell Cook, B. C. Stephens and John Burns; Florence, John Burton and Bi-County Farm Bureau Coop. Feed Store; Burlington, Mitt Kelly, Howard Lizer and Buckler Bros.; Walton, Verona and Beaver, Dance Bros., Harry Moore, Roy Kinney, Albert Parker, Lewis Victor Webster and Harvey Hughes. The farm machinery custom operators list, when complete, will include several other operators. Both operators and farmers who will need custom work done are urged to file their requests.

Farmers so far this spring have their work better organized than they did last year. They, however, are faced with possibilities of a greater feed shortage and are urged to plan for maximum production of feed and food crops. Where farmers must produce more feed and food every effort will be made to locate the labor.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Luther G. Surface of Covington, Ky., announce the engagement of their daughter Loretta to Charles E. Newman S K3/c son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Newman, of Burlington, Ky.

The wedding is set for sometime in June.

Homemakers Urged To Use An Extra Egg

The production of eggs is far above normal and is beyond usual consumption and storage capacity at the present time. The U. S. Department of Agriculture suggests that homemakers use an extra egg wherever possible in cooking, while eggs are plentiful this spring. Families may preserve eggs at home to advantage if they live near enough to the source of supply to obtain eggs the day they are laid, and if they have a cool cellar or other cool place to store them.

Eggs rank at the top of the list of foods in the quality of their protein. They are a good source of iron; phosphorous, thiamin (B-1) and riboflavin. Eggs are one of the few foods containing vitamin D. If a dozen eggs are, bought for the same price as a pound of round steak, the eggs will give slightly more in calorie value, nine times as much calcium, considerably phosphorous and iron, thirty times as much vitamin A, more thiamin and twice as much riboflavin. In addition, the eggs have vitamin D. The steak will give slightly more protein and much more niacin, as eggs are deficient in niacin.

Adding an egg adds food value and gives color, flavor and richness. In soup or broth, quick egg noodles may be made by beating 1 or 2 eggs with a little salt until foamy, then blending the beaten egg with flour, using 2 tablespoons flour for each egg. Pour the mixture in a thin steady stram into simmering broth, stirring constantly. Cook 2 minutes and serve at once

The U. S. Department of Agriculture recommends three ways of preserving eggs at home, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent. They are mineral oil or waterglass or dry ice. Dipping eggs in lightest grade mineral oil is a simple inexpensive way to preserve them for several months. Heavy oil makes the shell greasy and collects dust. Warm the oil to thin it but have it no hotter than the hand can stand with comfort. Eggs keep best if they are oiled the day they are laid but they should not be oiled until they have been laid at least four hours. Put several eggs in a wire basket, dip the basket down into the oil, drain, then pack the oiled eggs in a clean basket down into the oil, drain, then pack the oiled eggs in clean baskets, crates or cases, in a cool cellar.

APPLY FERTILIZER SPECIALIST SAYS

CROPS HAVE ADVANCED IN PRICE, BUT FERTILIZER REMAINS PRACTICALLY UNCHANGED.

William Johnstone, Agronomy Specialist from the College, recommended to Boone County farmers in a meeting at Burlington last Friday evening that they make heavy use of fertilizers in 1944. Crops have advanced in price but the price of fertilizer remains practically unchanged.

Nitrogen is usually one of the weak links in the fertilizer chain. Roughly speaking, experimental work indicates that where nitrogen is the weak link, the addition of 1 pound of nitrogen will give an increase of ½ bushel of corn, 3 pounds of tobacco, ½ bushel of wheat and fifty pounds of hay. One pound of nitrogen in the form of 32 percent ammonium nitrate would cost less than ten cents. Ammonium nitrate, the present cheapest form of nitrogen, is available from a few of the dealers in the county.

Heavy application of fertilizers is to be recommended this year to supplement the feed and labor shortage. One thousand pounds of complete fertilizers and 1000 pounds of 20 super phosphate per acre along with 10 to 15 loads of manure are recommended for tobacco. The phosphate and from 800 to 850 pounds of complete fertilizer are to be applied to the green crop and turned under with the remaining 150 to 200 pounds of complete fertilizer put beside the row. Experimental work recently has conclusively proved this the best method of application. Three important principles in fertilizer application should be followed namely: first, put enough; second, put it deep to ward off drouth damage and third, don't mix with the soil more than necessary as this tends to make part of the fertilizer insoluble for plant uses.

Failure of farmers to properly use manure represents a huge loss to farmers, according to Johnstone. One ton of manure equals in plant food analysis 100 pounds of 4-4-10 fertilizer that would cost around $1.75 per hundred. The quality of fertilizer in the manure is of much higher quality than chemical fertilizers.

Many farmers are having difficulty in securing their fertilizer needs. Farmers have been advised since early January to place their fertilizer orders for their crop needs. Planting does not wait for deliveries. Farmers who can not secure their needs from one dealer should contact another dealer. Orders should be placed immediately.

The 1943 instead of the 1944 Community chairmen were published last week through an error. A total of 143 community project leaders are assisting in carrying out the local 1944 programs, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

School Children Examined For Physicial Defects

The activities of the Red Cross Nursing Service for the past few months have been many and varied. Five hundred and thirty-five school children were inspected during April for physical defects. Notices were sent to all parents of those who appeared to need immediate correction. Thirty corrections in vision, tonsils and ears were made, besides many more in teeth. Splendid nutrition work has been done in the schools. When the nurse inspects a school room she gives the names of children appearing to need better nutrition to the lunch room committee, who in turn sees that the child gets milk and other important necessary foods.

The interest in Boone County in regard to health is so good that in most instances all that has to be done is to let parents know what is needed and how they can get it done.

The high school home nursing class at Hebron has just been completed, with ten to receive certificates from Washington. This department of the Red Cross is so busy, with people all over the United States taking courses, that sometimes it takes months to get these certificates filled out and returned to us, but they do always come, so we are asking students to be patient.

Mrs. Jamison Aylor has accepted chairmanship for Home Nursing classes in Boone County, and stands ready to assist a group in any part of the county to get enough for a class. Miss Estell Huey has organized a class for Burlington, which will begin when school work is completed for the year. The Burlington group has asked to spend most of the time practicing actual nursing, which we expect to do. Any other community may have their class conducted this way if they so desire.

FARM OWNERSHIP FAMILIES MEET

FOR ANNUAL SESSION—SUMMARY OF PAST YEAR'S RECORD DISCUSSED — SPEAKERS HEARD ON PROGRAM.

The annual business meeting of the Farm Ownership Families of Boone County was held Thursday, March 30 at 1:30 p. m. in Burlington. Families present were: Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Dickerson, of Beaver Lick, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. John T. Stevens, of Waterloo, Ky; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ashcraft and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Slayback and children o Rabbit Hash, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. James Messmer and daughter of Verona; and Mr. Willford Dixon, of Burlington, Ky. Others present were J. C. Acree. unit leader of the Boone County Soil Conservation District; H. R. Forkner, County Agent of Boone County; Albert Parker and James Pennington, Farm Security Administration Committemen of Boone County; Miss Emily Wade, Associate Farm Security Supervisor, and Ray W. Wilson, Farm Security Administration Supervisor of Boone and Grant Counties.

A summary of the past year's records of the nine farm ownership families who had operated their farms for one year or more, was discussed. These farms were purchased with the assistance of the Farm Ownership loans made by the Federal Government through the Farm Security Administration.

This summary showed excellent progress during the past year. The study revealed that even with the high cost of feed and other things the farmers must buy, these nine families were able to pay an average of twenty-five percent of their gross income on their farms. In addition to this, they paid almost six percent of their gross income on other debts. These two added together show about 31 percent net savings of their gross income.

The average family living expense for these families was only 17 percent of their gross income, as compared to 40 percent average of the farmers in Kentucky as a whole. This show that these families are producing sufficient food for their families and conserving this food so it can be used the year around.

These nine families sold an average of about 3000 gallons of milk per family, a food product that is very greatly needed in our war effort. They sold large amounts of eggs and other food products, and several War Bonds were purchased.

Mr. Acree discussed the problem of soil conservation faced by the farmers and offered his service in helping to plan their farm whereby they could do a better job of conserving soil.

Mr. Forkner explained the use of phenothiazine in the control of pests in sheep, and gave several good thoughts on the selection and care of baby chicks. He also stressed the use of certified seeds for all crops.

Mr. Parker and Mr. Pennington, who have been committeemen since the beginning of the FO program, stated that they were well pleased with the progress of the families. This committee has the job of selecting the families for this program and they must approve the farm after the applicant has selected it. The other members, who were unable to be present, were Mr. Robert Youell committeeman, and L. D. Renneckar, the alternate committeeman.

KIGER GIRL SENT TO STATE ASYLUM

FOUND OF UNSOUND MIND BY A JURY IN COVINGTON, SATURDAY—ADMITTED TO LAKELAND SUNDAY.

Sixteen-year-old Joan Kiger, Covington school girl and slayer of her father and brother, was admitted to the Central State Hospital for the Insane at Lakeland, Ky., near Louisville, Sunday.

The girl had been found of unsound mind by a jury in Covington Saturday, and committed to the institution by Judge Joseph P. Goodenough of Kenton Circuit Court.

Concurring with a previously given opinion, Dr. Charles E. Kiely, Cincinnati physician named court alienist testified at the trial that Joan was suffering from schizophrenia, which formerly was known as dementia praecox.

He pointed out that her physical condition was good but that she was "potentially dangerous" and should be confined. It was his opinion that she might be cured.

Notified of the result of the hearing, Boone County authorities indicated they would take no immediate action against the girl. R. L. Vincent Commonwealth Attorney declared that a warrant charging her with the murder of her father would be obtained if and when she was ever released from the hospital.

Joan was accompanied to Lakeland by Richard Menke, Kenton County Deputy Sheriff; her uncle, Fred Williamson, Fort Mitchell; her mother, Mrs. Jennie Kiger and Mrs. Williamson.

W. J. Rice, father of Thomas W. Rice, purchased this farm in 1895 from James Rogers and the land has always been kept in a high state of cultivation.

PAUL BECOMES A MISSIONARY

LESSON TEXT: Acts 13:1-4; 14:8-20.
GOLDEN TEXT: The Holy Spirit said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them.—Acts 13:2.

Men are God's instruments for accomplishing His purpose in spreading the gospel message. They must, for such a high and holy calling, be men called and prepared by Him, faithful to Him, and willing to sacrifice all for His glory. Paul is a great example of such a life. He was—

I. Separated by the Church (13:1-3).

God was about to begin the great missionary enterprise, which opened with the journeys of Paul and continues to this day. The church at Antioch had capable men in its membership, and the Holy Spirit called for the separation of two of these, Paul and Barnabas, for a special work.

A number of interesting things emerge here. It is good to note that the church had men trained and ready for service. Do we?

Observe that the Holy Spirit worked through the church. There are those who do not speak too highly of the place of the church in this matter. Certainly it is true that if the church has lost its vision and message, God may call men even outside of its membership. But the orderly way—and God's way, if the church is ready—is to have the church separate men for service.

The church at Antioch gave its best, without question and without hesitation. It is an example worthy of our emulation.

II. Sent by the Holy Spirit (13:4).

There is a sense in which the Holy Spirit functions as the executive member of the Trinity. His purpose is to magnify the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, to bring men to faith in Him. To carry out that plan, He sends men out to speak of Jesus.

The sent one is always successful, for he goes the way, at the time, and in the power of the Holy Spirit. To be sent by Him is the mark of distinction upon the Christian worker.

III. Serving by Deed and Word (14:8-18).

The story of the healing of the man who had been a cripple from birth centers around that beautiful word "faith."

God is always looking for faith in men and women, and so we who serve Him should learn to be alert for even the slightest indication of a belief in Christ. All too often we blunder along, a bit too eager for action, or too insistent upon a thing being done in just our way, and thus fail to see the gleam of faith to which we may address the gospel appeal.

"Seeing that he had faith" (v. 9), Paul turned all the power of the eternal God loose in the impotent feet of the man, "and he leaped up and walked." God help us to be ready to be channels for the outflowing of His power!

Impressed by the miracle, the people wanted to accord the disciples the worship of gods. One is impressed both by the promptness with which Paul and Barnabas stopped the demonstration and the skill with which they improved the occasion for a testimony for Christ!

The servants of Christ are in far greater danger when men speak well of them and would worship them, than they are in the hour of opposition and persecution. Not that anyone would suggest that a true word of appreciation or honor be withheld from a faithful teacher or preacher, but let it be given for God's glory and not for the praise of man.

IV. Suffering for Christ's Sake (14:19, 20).

The highest praise quickly turns to the most bitter hatred. Finding that they had foolishly attempted to deify two Jewish preachers, and being visited by the Jews who made it their business to pursue Paul to this city, they stoned him.

Incidentally, it is of interest to observe how zealous people can be for an evil cause. Having set out to hinder the gospel they were willing, yes eager, to spend time and money to carry out their purpose. The children of Satan are often more diligent than the children of light (cf. Luke 16:8).

Paul was left for dead; in fact, there are those who believe that he was dead, and that it was at this time he was caught up into the heavens and had the vision spoken of in II Corinthians 12:1-4. If that was the case, the raising of Paul was an actual resurrection from the dead.

For a man so stoned as to be left for dead, to arise and journey on the following day to another city, was a miracle of God's power.

In this case, God delivered His servant, not from his troubles, but through them. We must not always expect to be saved from trial, but we can be sure that God will deliver us either "out of" or "in" our troubles. Let us trust Him!

CORNS

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

The most frequent of foot ills is the disagreeable growth which usually is found on the outer side of the little toe or on top of the second, third and fourth toes, and in some cases on the bottom of the great toe joint. The chief symptom is a burning, stinging pain of varying degrees. The formation of the growth produces a pressure upon the nerves which in turn gives rise to pain varying from a dull mild sensation to a sharp and intense irritation. These pains are usually increased when the parts affected are further irritated by ill fitting shoes, by friction or by other pressure.

In the case of a soft corn, which is found in the web between the fourth and fifth toe, the cause is usually due to pressure brought about by the dropping of the fourth metatarsal bone which in turn presses upon the face of the fifth. The possibility of eliminating a soft corn is very good provided proper shoes are worn and a metatarsal bone to set it up in posture. The soft corn will gradually become smaller and finally disappear.

Vascular corn is an over growth of skin, the same as occurs in hard corns, but in which blood vessels are found. The pain is more severe in this type of corn than in any other form, usually resulting in a burning sensation even when the victim is not standing or walking.—Adv.

who doesn't bother to remove pins and other hard metal objects from the path of her cleaner

Most everybody but Zella knows that running a cleaner over pins, nails, coins and similar objects can damage the brush, dust bag or mechanism. It's something to be avoided if you want your cleaner to last. Here are some other tips that mean longer wear and better service:

- Empty and clean dust bag after each cleaning.
- Keep brush free of hair, threads and string.
- Don't yank cord from wall socket.
- Keep proper tension on belt.
- Don't pull cord tightly over handle hooks. Coil loosely.
- Avoid banging cleaner against furniture and baseboards.
- Oil cleaner periodically in accordance with instructions for your make.

You need your electric servants more than ever these busy wartime days. Take care of your appliances and make 'em last.

The following letter was received from Edwin H. Walton by his mother on April 10th:

"Dear Mamma,

"Although I just sent you a V-Mail form giving my new address, I am writing again to tell you more about myself and surroundings. However, some details of the trip will have to wait until later.

"In a few weeks I can tell you where I am but just now you must be satisfied to know that I arrived safely.

"So far things have been real pleasant, the place is very nice and the food is the best I have had for a long time and seems to be getting better. We are allowed all we want to eat and I am feeling fine. I weighed more than I ever did when I left the states, and believe I am still gaining.

"I've seen quite a bit of the world since I last saw you, lot of interesting plants, animals, etc., including several thousand flying fish—I didn't know there could be so many.

"The vegetation is beautiful such a dark green and so abundant. You can buy most anything at the PX. Everything is cheap here except trinkets sold by the native—they are sky high.

"Yes I got a little sea sick but I got over it and was so hungry I would have given fifty dollars to have been home for just one meal. We only got two meals a day on board. I saw a five-cent plate of ice cream sell for one dollar, but what we get now makes up for all that.

"I attended two church services while aboard and they were very fine. We didn't have any Hammond organ to accompany the singing but it was real good any way.

"We haven't been busy so far, but it won't be long. You don't play soldier here—everyone just works.

"I am sorry I can't make my letter more interesting, but there is so little I can tell you about where I am and what I am doing, but when I see you, I have seen enough already to talk for hours.

"I want to write to everyone as soon as I find out just what I can write and what I can't. Until then, tell them I said 'hello' and love.

Edwin."

The following letter was received this week from Gerald Lee Clore S2/c U. S. Naval Hospital Corps School Class 38, Barracks 107, Sec. 1, Great Lakes, Ill.:

"How is every one in Boone County? I suppose everyone is busy with their spring cleaning and farm work. We are busy learning how to patch up the wounded. We start school at 8:00 in the morning and get out at 9 p. m. each night, and it is not very easy, but someone has to do it.

"If everyone back home will buy War Bonds we'll all be home soon. Write to me when you can as it is lonesome up here."

• • •

Great Lakes, Ill., Feb. 21—This week's graduation ceremonies of the Hospital Corps School here at the U. S. Naval Hospital saw Bluejacket Harold P. Huey, 28, son of J. H. Huey, Petersburg, Ky., promoted to the rate of Hospital Apprentice second class.

Graduation terminates a six-week course of preliminary training at the Hospital Corps School. The course of study included the study of anatomy and physiology, hygiene and sanitation, materia-medica and weights and measures, first aid and bandaging, nursing, transportation of casualties, and dietetics.

The newly graduated man will continue to train at another Naval hospital before being sent to duty at sea or at another shore station.

We are in receipt of the following letter from William R. Tinkelenberg, S 2/c, Naval Air Facility, Columbus 3, Ohio:

"I am on Tamarac duty here in Columbus now and will be here for about six months. This is really a fine place and I am living in the K of C. club, where there is a swimming pool, gym, bowling alley, pool tables, library, chow hall and anything else a person could want. Every morning a bus takes all of us (about 100) out to the field.

"I really appreciate getting The Recorder every week and I know all the other boys do, too. You are doing a great job. Thanks for the paper."

• • •

Pvt. William F. Bell, ASN 358-83209, Co. A. 61st Bn., 1 Pl., Camp Wolters, Texas, writes:

"I received my first Recorder a week ago today and the second one yesterday, so the news from good old Boone County isn't very old by the time I get The Recorder.

"We went on a four-mile speed hike yesterday. We were to make this hike in one hour, but it only took us fifty minutes. It was pretty warm out here yesterday and we were wet with sweat by the time we returned. Most of the fellows were all in.

"Last night we walked about four miles again, but we had a good rest from the time we started until we got back. This infantry is a pretty tough outfit. You should see how some of the fellows come limping in after a hike.

"I will again says thanks for The Recorder."

RECORD LEAF CROP IN MONROE COUNTY

A record tobacco crop of 4,102 pounds on two acres of upland was produced by Spohn Eubank of Monroe county. In the fall of 1942, he sowed 15 pounds of crimson clover and 20 to 25 pounds of vetch per acre with a light seeding of balbo rye, according to Farm Agent Justus L. Ellis. In February he applied 10 to 12 tons of manure; a heavy cover crop resulted, which he turned under in April. At that time he drilled in a ton of 20 percent phosphate. Mr. Eubank also used in the row 250 pounds of sulphate of potash and 500 pounds of 4-8-8 fertilizer. The tobacco brought an average of $50.25 a hundred.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY
Tallulah Bankhead, famous Broadway dramatic actress, is starred in Alfred Hitchcock's production of "Lifeboat" by John Steinbeck, coming to the Gayety.
In 20th Century-Fox's sensational saga of six men and three women adrift in an open boat in mid-Atlantic, Miss Bankhead's performance as "Connie Porter," has been hailed by critics as the greatest performance she has given on either stage or screen.
Featured in cast are William Bendix, Walter Slezak, Mary Anderson, John Hodiak, Henry Hull, Heather Angel, Hume Cronyn and Canada Lee.

SUNDAY AND MONDAY
The consistency with which the Aldrich family has scored in every one of the Aldrich films has given five members of the cast the distinction of having worked in the entire series. In Paramount's spook horror comedy, "Henry Aldrich Haunts a House," the same troupe are haunted by goons, gorillas, and domesticated skeletons.
The five people seeing action together are Jimmy Lydon, as the inimitable Henry, Charles Smith as Dizzy, Vaughan Glaser, the outraged principal; John Litel, and Olive Blakeney, as Mr. and Mrs. Henry Aldrich, Henry's harassed parents.
• • •
TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY
The inside of a great penitentiary forms the background for a major thrill in "Dr. Gillespie's Criminal Case," latest in the series. Lionel Barrymore and Van Johnson are kidnapped by a crazed killer they try to aid. Another dramatic episode is the battle against epidemic in a children's ward.
Barrymore plays the veteran Dr. Gillespie, Johnson and Keye Luke his assistants, and Donna Reed the fiancee of the crazed convict. Little Margaret O'Brien figures dramatically in the epidemic sequence.

FARMING ON THE LEVEL

By J. C. Acree, Soil Conservation Service

A practice that is old yet rather new, in Boone County is contour farming, or farming on the level. Four Boone County farmers really started out in earnest last week to crop on the contour. Twelve acres of corn and tobacco will be grown on the level on the Grover Ransom farm at Verona. Some plans have been made on Mr. James Messmer's farm in the same community. Fifty-five acres were plowed on the contour on Mrs. Walter Ferguson's farm at Union. Instead of short rows being plowed up and down the slope, some of the furrows were three-fourths of a mile long by plowing around the slope on the level. Likewise twenty acres on Cecil Dickerson's farm near Beaver were staked so that he will have all his crops on the contour. Three acres of Kudzu crowns were set on this farm last week. This is a legume vine that is doing wonders in the South as a soil saver, and is used extensively there for hay and pasture. Whether it will do well here will be determined by this demonstration and three others in the county. Mr. Dickerson says he is glad to try anything new that might hold and improve the land.

Thirty-five other farmers have asked for assistance in laying off guide lines so that they might crop on the contour.

This method of farming is very simple after once established. Guide rows are laid out starting at the highest point in the field and then at one or more points further down the slope, especially if the topography of the land changes. The best way to lay out guide rows is before the land is plowed. The farmer then can plow, if the ground is not too steep, in lands, by backfurrowing. This will establish a permanent guide line.

Actual tests show that we can reduce erosion 50 percent; increase tobacco poundage by 75 to 150 pounds; increase corn yields by 8 to 10 bushels. There isn't any magic in contour farming. It is merely holding the water on the land rather than letting it run off down the hill.

Need For Manpower Continues

Although the United States Army has reached its planned peak strength of 7,700,000 persons, it will need 75,000 to 100,000 monthly to maintain that strength, according to the War Department, and the Navy Department said it would need 400,000 additional personnel by September 1 to get the Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard up to peak strength of 3,500,000. Meanwhile, the National Selective Service System has abandoned the War Unit Plan for determining agricultural deferments. Provisions concerning a registrant's agricultural occupation or endeavor that will govern are whether he is necessary, whether he is regularly engaged in it, whether that occupation or endeavor is necessary to the war effort and whether a replacement can be obtained.

Jobs For Discharged Veterans

For men discharged from any of the United States Armed Services, a summary of job opportunities in 114 major industrial centers will be placed in nearly every local U. S. Employment Service office, the War Manpower Commission announces. These job summaries give information on types of jobs, scheduled hours at work, hourly wage rates, availability of housing, cost of living, and the adequacy of community facilities such as schools, hospitals, and transportation. The summary will be revised bi-monthly and will indicate the expected labor demand six months in advance.

Special Gasoline Rations

Full-time paid employees of farm organizations operating to increase food production are eligible for preferred mileage under gasoline rationing, the OPA announced. Their organizations must be chartered by the United States, or by a State, and have a membership of at least 100 persons, the majority of whom are farmers. Also qualified victory gardeners again will be granted special gasoline rations for up to 300 miles of travel to and from their plots this summer.

Test Motor Fuel "Dopes"

Shortage of gasoline, says the Department of Commerce, has led motorists to use fuel "dopes," reputed to increase mileage and otherwise improve the automobile operation. The Bureau of Standards has tested hundreds of them without finding beneficial results in any case.

Merchant Marine Calls Radiomen

At least 500 first and second class commercial radio telegraphers, licensed by the Federal Communications Commission, are needed for Merchant Marine service within the next three months, the War Shipping Administration announces. Qualified men should telegraph collect, at once to U. S. Merchant Marine, Washington, D. C. Registrants will be placed on active pay status as soon as accepted and must attend a Navy school on wartime procedure for one to three weeks.

Maritime Commission Reports

Maritime Commission shipyards delivered 410 ships of 4,115,951 dead weight tons during the first quarter of 1944, the Commission announced. Liberty ships continued to dominate production, but there was a growing tonnage of military and other fast type vessels, including the new victory ship. In March, 152 merchant ships were built.

FAMILIES IN TOWN PRODUCE MUCH FOOD

That large quantities of food were produced last year by families living in towns is indicated in a report from Home Agent Genevieve Gee of Rockcastle County. For the first time Mrs. R. L. Webb, of Livingston tried her hand at raising chickens, raising 235 out of 250 chicks purchased. She sold fryers for $75.00, canned several quarts of chicken, and then kept 100 hens which now are averaging 49 eggs a day. Mrs. Webb also had a garden of 21 vegetables which provided good variety all summer. She canned around 200 quarts of vegetables and fruits. Twelve dollars worth of corn was sold off her corn patch and 65 quarts canned. She also sulfured seven gallons of apples.

APRIL IS CANCER CONTROL MONTH

DRIVE NOW UNDER WAY IN COUNTY—CONTRIBUTORS REQUESTED TO MAIL DONATION TO COMMITTEE.

Due to publicity given through the press and radio, the general public know that April has been designated as Cancer Control Month and that a special effort is being made everywhere to secure funds in the fight against this dreadful disease.

Last year Boone County had a part in this drive and we hope to do more this year. It is impossible for the committee to see everyone, so send your contribution to Mrs. S. B. Nunnelley, Mrs. M. A. Yelton or if more convenient leave it at Peoples Deposit Bank, Burlington.

We realize in these dire times the calls are many and urgent, but this work must go on; countless lives are being saved because the Women's Field Army of the American Society for the Control of Cancer are following the example of those who helped combat scarlet fever, diphtheria, typhoid, tuberculosis and other diseases which have been checked by combining medical science with lay education.

Sunday School Nine Defeated Saturday By Florence Team

The Florence baseball team defeated the Burlington Sunday School nine in their opening game Saturday.

"Girl Shy" To Be Presented By Florence High School

"Girl-Shy" a three-act comedy will be presented by the Florence High School, Friday April 28th at 8:15 p. m.

The play is fascinating, intriguing, thrilling. Tom Arsdale, who is girl-shy, and Oke Stimson, who isn't create much excitement thruout the entire play. Birdie Laverne a girl from the country, tries to get into the movies. Asma, a colored "wash lady" has trouble as maid. Chuck Mayo, Birdie's late affinity, kidnaps the wrong girl. Caroline, Dean Barlow, and Alfred Tennyson Murgatoyd furnish quite a lot of humor in the play. Barbara Sanford, sophisticated and cultured, proves to be a real pal to Birdie. Sylvia Webster is rather pert and self-important. Peaches Carter is pretty and modern.

All these elements cause things to become very involved, but as the curtain falls—after many comic scenes and hilarious situations—all has been worked out to the happy satisfaction of everyone.

The cast of characters include: Jo Ann Kinman, Frances Laile, Geraldine Herrington, Renaker Miller, Betty Moss, Margaret Fields, John Schira, Mary Jane Utz, Jimmy Bonar, Bobby Zapp, Bobby Martin, and Danny Houston.

Purchases New Lime Spreading Equipment

Val L. Dolwick, Burlington, R. 1 has recently purchased a new truck bed lime spreader with which he hopes to service a part of Boone County's annual lime needs.

They are Dance Bros., Walton; Vernon Masters and William Loze, of Constance; Val B. Dolwick of Burlington and Gaines Aylor and Stanley Graves, of Hebron. It is hoped that additional dealers can be secured as there is a great shortage of available agricultural limestone. There is practically no commercial crushing in the county and the supply must be shipped in by rail or truck.

Prices in carload lots can be secured for farmers who may wish to make cooperative orders.

PAPER SPONSORS CANNING PROGRAM

PURPOSE OF PROGRAM WILL BE TO ENCOURAGE ALL FAMILIES TO RAISE FOOD SUPPLY AND CAN SURPLUS.

The Boone County Recorder is sponsoring a 1944 countywide Home Canning Program, according to the County Extension office. The purpose of the program will be to encourage all families to raise as much of their home food supply as possible and to can surplus foods for the winter food supply.

The splendid job done the past year in home food production and preservation has been nationally recognized as the greatest contribution to the War Food Production needs. The home canned foods have released large quantities of commercially canned foods for our military and allies' use.

The judging of the 1944 home food production and preservation contests will be under the supervision of the County Extension Service. Two contests will be offered to all people of Boone County.

First contest—Home Canning contest, sponsored by the Boone County Recorder. First prize, $10; second prize, a two-year subscription to the Boone County Recorder.

Second Contest—Home Canning and Storage, sponsored by the Boone County Farm Bureau. First prize, $10.00; second prize a $5 1945 membership in the Boone County, Kentucky and American Farm Bureau Federations.

Entrants in one contest will not be eligible to compete in the other contest. Each entrant will decide whether he or she wants her work scored on canning alone or on the canning and home food storage work combined. The scoring will be done next October and November. Plan your 1944 home food production program now to enjoy the friendly spirit of competition and to produce for your country. It is just as important to produce food this year as any other necessary war job.

Rural Recreation Problems Different Advises Specialist

The rural recreation problem is one of true social and recreational activities, according to Carl W. Jones, club specialist addressing the Boone County Utopia Club members last Thursday evening at Burlington. The city recreation problem has centered around making greater use of leisure time and keeping unemployed youth busy.

There is practically no unemployment among rural youth, and farm youth under war conditions are called upon to put in long and strenuous hours. The recreation problem here is one of finding time for wholesome organized recreation that will give desirable social contacts and build rural pride and leadership. Mr. Jones complimented the Utopia Club and local leaders for the recreational program they have recently conducted.

The next meeting of the Utopia Club will be held at the home of Lucian Bradford of near Union. Rev. H. M. Hauter will be a guest speaker on the program. His subject will be "Rural Life and Youth."

Pre-School Clinic Dates Set For Burlington-Hebron

Dr. M. A. Yelton and Dr. S. B. Nunnelley will conduct pre-school and immunization clinics in Burlington and Hebron this week. Hebron, Thursday, April 27 at 2 p. m., Burlington, Friday at 10:30 a. m. Now is the time to begin getting children who enter school for the first time next year, in good physical condition.

There will be immunization for smallpox and diphtheria. An attempt has been made to get a written notice to parents, but if you have a child, bring him in whether you receive a notice or not.

It is more important for babies to be immunized against diphtheria than older children, because they are more susceptible and more apt to take the disease.

If you have a child between six months and six years bring him, as well as the child to enter school to the clinic.

SCOUTS WILL GET 193 ACRES IN CO.

FRANK L. MICHAELS MAKES GIFT OF GUNPOWDER LAND TO SCOUTS FOR SUMMER CAMP.

Frank L. Michaels, president of the Michaels Art Bronze, Co., Covington has donated a 193-acre tract of land to the Boy Scout organization of Northern Kentucky, it was announced this week by H. H. Harris, president of the Boy Scout Council

The tract of land is located in Boone County on Gunpowder Creek, six miles east of Union, off the Union-Rising Sun road.

The camp is to be known as the Boy Scout Reservation, in line with the desires of Mr. Michaels.

The camping committee has been searching through Northern Kentucky for the past three years for a suitable spot that would lend itself to the needs of scouting.

This site is ideal for scouting, according to reports, as three quarters of a mile of the best section of Gunpowder Creek flows through the property. There are three very fine lakes of water, one being 50x275 feet which will be used as the swimming hole. It is planned to build a small dam which will raise the water several feet and provide a half mile of canoeing water.

Two-thirds of the tract is densely wooded, with every variety of tree found in this section of Kentucky. The national organization, through its camp engineering service, has approved the site.

No major improvements will be made on the property until after the war, but it is hoped by the council that sufficient funds will be made available to the scout organization for a postwar development.

The gift was made in the name of Mr. Michaels and his two sons, Lewis and Lawrence, who were Scouts in their youth.

Rel C. Wayman, 623 Washington St., Covington, acting as agent for Butler Brothers and Messrs. Stephens and Hudson secured the options on this land, all of which borders on Gunpowder Creek.

Early Pastures

The pastures are greening up. With feed scarce and high, the temptation is to turn on too early. Better wait until the grass gets a good growth first. Early pasture grasses are very high in water. Continue hay feeding for the first month on pasture. It will help hold the cows up in production and in flesh and it may help avoid grass tetany. Also when cows are on early, lush pastures, they require and will consume nearly double their usual amount of salt, so provide ample loose salt in boxes for them. It will pay. Mixing five pounds of Epsom salts with one hundred pounds of common stock salt is also a very good practice and helps supply magnesium, so often apt to be lacking when cows are on luxuriant pasture.

ELECTRIC BIDS ARE RECEIVED

BY NEW AIRPORT MANAGEMENT—REA IS LOWEST BIDDER, ACCORDING TO REPORTS.

Two bids for electric power at the new airport, located near Hebron have been received, is announced last week. Bidders are the Union Light, Heat & Power Co., Covington, and the Owen County Rural Electrification Administration. The REA bid is the lowest.

Approval of the War Production Board for materials needed for the temporary administration building and the water and power lines is being awaited, according to the airport manager.

Water for the airport will be supplied by the Kenton County Water Commission. The airport main water line will be tapped into the water commission's line in Erlanger.

Approximately $700 in delinquent tax claims against property purchased by the Kenton Fiscal Court for the airport site have been placed in the hands of Sheriff Jake Williams of Boone County.

The claims are against the owners who sold the land to Kenton County.

PAUL WINS RECOGNITION FOR GENTILE CHRISTIANS

LESSON TEXT: Acts 15:23b-29; Galatians 2:1, 2, 9, 10, 20, 21.
GOLDEN TEXT: Being therefore justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ.—Romans 5:1.

Problems and differences of opinion need not be harmful if they are properly met and honestly settled. In the church at Antioch a question had arisen which had to be answered, authoritatively, and once for all.

The early converts of the church were naturally from among the Jews, and they carried with them into their new-found faith the traditions of their religion. Some of them did not recognize that the salvation they had in Christ was entirely by grace apart from any works of the law. They not only felt that they must observe the law, but insisted that the Gentile believers must also fulfill the Jewish rite of circumcision. This promptly raised the question whether Christ alone could save, or if men were saved by grace plus works.

To settle this matter, Paul and Barnabas went up to the church at Jerusalem, and there a great council discussed it freely, and came to a decision which was then transmitted by letter and a committee. We find—

I. Fundamental Principle Established—Salvation by Grace (Acts 15:23b-29).

The believers at Antioch were to abstain from those things which would hinder their spiritual progress and harm their testimony. That was important and right, but it must not be allowed to confuse them regarding the basis of their salvation. They were not saved by works, no, not even by the most commendable.

Salvation is by grace, through faith, not of works, lest any man should boast (Eph. 2:8, 9). That principle, which is absolutely foundational in all Christian thinking, was established then, and is valid and blessedly true for all time.

Is it not strange, then, that all through the church's history there has been a determined effort on the part of some in the church to add something to God's redeeming grace as a ground for salvation? One would think that all the peoples of the world would rejoice in such a gloriously simple and altogether divine redemption.

It is well worth our attention to observe how the matter was handled. Observe the plain rebuke given to the teachers of error in verse 24. It is no light matter to trouble and mislead the souls of men, by injecting our worldly wisdom or our opinions, when we should be teaching the truth of God's Word.

Note that there was fine courtesy in sending the message to the church at Antioch by messengers who were men of distinction and great spiritual courage. It was not a case of abruptly telling this new church what to do, and end it there, but of using this trying situation as a means of drawing the churches together in fellowship and mutual faith.

II. Sound Practice Observed—Walking by Faith (Gal. 2:1, 2, 9, 10, 20, 21).

The life of grace is not just something to be written or talked about, or to glory in, although it is all of these. It is to show forth in the daily walk of the Christian.

Paul in Galatians 2 tells of his experience in Jerusalem, of his meeting and discussion with the brethren. It was all of vital importance to him and to the cause of Christ, but it is not the record of an academic argument, or the vaunting of a personal victory which he presents.

He rises to the high point of Christian experience, the realization of the fact that a believer has died to self. He is crucified with Christ—and yet he lives.

Yes, he lives in a newness of life which is not his own, but Christ living in him. There is the secret of real Christian living—a complete acceptance of all that Christ is, in and for the believer.

This truth is at once deeply spiritual and completely practical. Again we say, it is not something about which one theorizes. It is an actuality—something which Christians can and do live out in daily experience. It is "the life which I now live" of which Paul speaks, and that is by "the faith of the Son of God," who loved us and gave Himself for us.

To fail to receive and appropriate this grace by seeking to be made righteous through the deeds of the law is to deny the need of the death of Christ, in fact, to make it a vain thing.

Some may feel that all this is too deeply theological for them, but it really is not, for God does not expect us to explain it, but only to accept it. This is His work, and it is indeed wonderful in our sight (Ps. 139:6), but not too wonderful to receive by faith, to rest and rejoice in, and to declare to others.

LOTTIE LOTTAFROST

— who wastes electricity and shortens the life of her refrigerator by neglecting to defrost it regularly

Thick frost on the freezer acts as an insulator, retards coldmaking, makes the motor run longer. Lor faster freezing and lower operating cost, frost should be removed whenever it reaches thickness of one-quarter inch. And for longer life and better all-around performance, follow these other timely tips on refrigerator use and care:

- Don't store hot foods. Let them cool first.
- Cover all liquids — to retard formation of frost.
- See that door gasket makes tight seal. Do not open door unnecessarily.
- Don't overcrowd shelves.
- Use fast freezing sparingly. Don't set temperature control higher than necessary.
- Keep unit compartment and condenser coils clean.
- If an open unit model, oil periodically as directed by the manufacturer. Sealed unit models need no oiling.

good idea, too, to have your refrigerator checked by a serviceman at least once a year. Remember — it must last for the duration!

SOIL CONSERVATION

By J. Casper Acree

This article is a copy of a radio talk made by H. H. Bennett, Chief of the Soil Conservation Service on "Post War Planning":

All of us depend on the soil for our existence and well being. All the things that we hope for after the war—happiness, opportunity, security—will have to be built on the permanent productivity of the land, if they are to be lasting. Our future in the last analysis, depends on how effectively we conserve our productive land. No matter what else we do, that situation cannot be altered.

Looking to the future, then, how do we stand with respect to our basic soil resource? What is our capacity to maintain and improve the productiveness of the land in the period immediately after the war and the years beyond that?

Let's consider what's already been accomplished. Soil conservation got under way on a national scale just ten years ago. Ten years is not long in the life of a nation. But in that time we've made real progress in the fight against soil erosion, an enemy that continually undermines all unprotected land. Soil erosion has robbed us of millions of acres of good land. Today we know how to control erosion. Today, people are mobilizing behind soil conservation.

Here is a system of farming that for the most part requires little extra manpower, equipment, or expense, but which, nevertheless, protects the soil, haves rainfall, and increases crop yields, all at the same time. It's not at all surprising that farmers throughout the country are becoming increasingly enthusiastic about the results of conservation farming. Conservation measures store up rainfall in the ground for crop use, instead of allowing it to run off with the topsoil and the fertilizer contained in the topsoil. This and other benefits have resulted in increasing yields and better production thruout the country.

Today, millions of acres of cropland are producing much more than formerly, and pastures are more productive, too.

This, the farmers of the nation, assisted by conservation technicians and others, have been able to do in just ten years. Much more will be accomplished in the next ten years, for I am confident, now, that farmers are convinced of the effectiveness and need of soid conservation. Progress is sure to be faster than in the past.

Think of the way the farmers themselves are working together to protect their land. All over the country they've been organizing soil conservation districts with really amazing speed. In these districts, farmers are cooperating under their own leadership to safeguard their productive land, to make better use of rain-water, and to increase their yields. Today, they districts include more than a third of all the farms in the country.

We must not forget, however, that a lot of work remains to be done. Erosion still impedes our food production program. It still affects a vast acreage of land, more than farmers have yet been able to protect. But I think it's entirely possible to reverse this trend of waste—this loss of soil, rainfall, and crop production—within a few years after the war. Then, with more manpower and machinery, we can reinforce our conservation effort. We can go all out into a land improvement and protection program. Such work not only is swinging the tide against erosion, but it's increasing by at least 20 percent the production of food and fiber on treated lands.

Such a program involves, also, bringing into use land of high potential productivity. That means draining wet lands, irrigating dry areas, making good pastures on mediocre land—even on some of the severely gullied areas by planting the wonderful new crops like kudzu and lespedeza. In general, the kind of work I'm talking about makes the best possible use of all land, idle and cultivated. About 30 million acres, for example, could be brought into production through drainage alone. Millions of other acres need such treatment as terracing, contouring, strip cropping, gully control, stock-water ponds, and plantings of grasses, legumes, and trees, according to the needs of the land. We need this now for top production; and it's needed at all times for national security.

These and other types of beneficial work on the land would provide the best kind of employment for ex-service men. Many boys in the armed forces write us that this is what they hope to do. Their work would help lay a solid foundation for our agricultural plant of the future. With this help, and adequate technical assistance, farmers could apply conservation measures necessary to build up their soil to maximum production. We know where the work is needed and we know how to do it. We've had a great deal of experience. At one time the Soil Conservation Service was using a hundred thousand men on this kind of work—CCC boys and others. And the results, for the most part, are still bringing benefits in the way of increased production, now so critically needed.

Every acre that is improved, improves, by that much, the economy of our entire nation. Soil and water conservation provide greater income, more farmers satisfaction, and increased social security on the farm. When the farmer's standard of living is raised, government expenditures on farm relief and rehabilitation are reduced. Back of farm security—back of all curity of the soil itself.

MAY WORK AT ANY PRICE

As the government goes forward with plans to increase draft of fathers and as American battle casualties in every part of the world mount into the hundred of thousands, a late issue of the "Oregon Voter" tells of some of the make-work rules still being enforced by the unions in the country's largest shipyards: "If a plank has to be laid across a couple of saw-horses, for the crew of pipe fitters to make an adjustment high up on a partition, a crew of shipwrights has to be routed to the place, as the work with wood is shipwright work. The management has to plan this routine in order to avoid too much delay.

When the time comes for the plank to be lifted off the of sawhorses, to be moved a few feet to put in another length of pipe, the crew of shipwrights has to be routed to the spot again to move the wood. Any delay in this routine means a suspension of work by the crew of pipe fitters while they wait for the shipwrights.

"...If a gadget one man can carry is needed from the warehouses, the pipe fitter, or machinist, or shipwright, must go for it, the teamsters union must fetch it."

And labor leaders wonder why public wrath is rising against union managements.

KENTUCKY TO COOPERATE IN APRRISAL OF WAR'S EFFECTS ON FORESTS

Frankfort, Ky.—Director K. G. McConelll announced today that the Kentucky Division of Forestry has been invited to cooperate with the American Forestry Association in an appraisal of the war's effects on the forest resources of the country. This survey which will cover the nation, was launched early this month. It will provide a factual basis for dealing with post-war reconstruction and problems of forest management.

The survey unit will be a State, and wherever feasible information will be checked at the county level. A regional consultant will work in each of the country's principal forest regions. Aided by state and federal authorities, and the timber industries, forest land conditions will be studied, the character and extent of growth and drain will be measured and the effects of war upon the over-all situation will be appraised.

This fact-finding survey is being directed by John B. Woods of Portland, Oregon, timber valuation expert, and formerly forester for the Lumber Code Authority under NIRA. He will head a staff of well known appraisal specialists. They will be assisted by an advisory council of five members prominent in state and federal forest industry and agriculture. These are S. T. Dana of Ann Arbor, Michigan, dean of the School of Forestry, University of Michigan; William G. Howard, New York State Director of lands and Forests; James W. Girard, Division of Forest Economics, U. S. Forest Service; William G. Greeley, former chief forester of the United States, now secretary-manager of the West Coast Lumberman's Association, and E. O. Sviecke, Nebraska farmer and retired Southern Forestry leader.

"Much prewar information is available," says McConnell, "and this will be used. Where necessary special survey projects will be undertaken. The cooperation of all state forestry agencies have been pledged to the end that this survey may produce urgently needed down-to-date information about the American Forestry situation. In this worth-while activity the Division of Forestry is happy to cooperate.

McConnell stated that specifically, the following lines of study are proposed: 1. Recapitulation of forest and farm woodland surveys—inventory of timber, growing stock and forest lands; 2. ownership and management of forests by federal, state and private classifications—land, timber, and other forest values; 3. extent and character of forest drain since 1940; 4, utilization trends, with particular attention to wartime uses and peacetime possibilities; 5. marketing of forest crops; 6. public attitutes toward forest resources and industries; 7. permissible post-war drain—silvicultural, quality and other economic factors; 8. scope and effectiveness of forest legislation with reference to protection, perpetuation and utilization of forest resources; 9. ownership problems and trends—local and federal taxes.

FARM NOTES

Livestock

Sheep—All flocks should be treated now with Phenothiazine drench or tablets to eliminate worms. Salt mixture containing nine parts salt, and one part Phenothiazine, should be kept before sheep thruout the summer.

Local dealers reported handling Phenothiazine are Gulley & Petitt, of Burlington, L. C. Scothorn of Idlewild, Conrad Hardware of Walton, and Ray K. Newman store, of Union.

Sheep shearing is almost here. Farmers who know they must have their sheep custom sheared should contact their operators.

Better pastures and hay crops lowers the cost of producing lamb, pork, beef and milk. Plan now for better pastures and hay crops.

Hogs—Healthy pigs on pasture make profit when wormy pigs lose money. When corn returns $1.00 per bushel fed to healthy hogs in a dry lot it will return $1.82 when fed to healthy hogs receiving a balanced ration on pasture. Wormy hogs paid 73 cents per bushel for corn fed to them. Hogs lost at birth represents a waste of 140 pounds of feed, at weaning 260 pounds of feed, and at markeing time 990 pounds of feed. Feeding hogs without a protein supplement costs from $20 to $140 per litter.

Crops

Tobacco plant beds should be treated just as soon as the plants produce first true leaves in order to control wildfire and angular leafspot. Use 3-4-50 Bluestone, lime mixture, according to the leaflet available in the County Agent's office. Fertilize tobacco heavy—turn under 10 to 15 loads of manure, 1000 pounds of phosphate and 750 pounds of complete fertilizer. Use 250 pounds beside the row. Order your fertilizer early so you will get it.

Balbo rye and vetch are both making excellent growth now. Look over your fields and your neighbors' fields where these crops are growing. The Farm Bureau has taken an option on the entire production of Balbo rye seed from one large farm. This seed will be available to members and local dealers this fall.

Fruit—Grape growers who had severe loss of fruit from rot last year should apply three prebloom sprays with 4-5-50 Bordeaux. These are the most important sprays. The first spray when growth is one inch long, the second when the new growth is 4 to 6 inches and the third before the blossoms open.

Feed Important

Plan to produce in 1944: (1) one acre legume hay per cow; (2) enough good pasture and grain to supply your livestock needs; (3) plow under old corn stalks by May 1st to control the corn borer.

Fertilizer

Order your fertilizer needs early. Already both dealers and farmers are having trouble to secure their needs. Local dealers report they have had a record demand for fertilizer.

FLORENCE HOMEMAKERS

The regular meeting of the Florence Homemakers was held on Friday, April 21st with 20 members present. We also had some very welcome visitors, Mrs. Gaynell Flynn, our county president and her baby daughter and Mrs. Fondrie of Wisconsin, who came with Mrs Gertie Fossett and one new member, Mrs Sadie Tanner.

The meeting, as always, opened with salute to the flag and reading the club collect. During the business routine we found that our paper drive had made us something over $8 and as our treasury was in rather good condition we voted to give $10 to the building fund for the 4-H Fair Grounds.

The rocking chair tour of the Mediterranean was a source of delight and instruction. It was Libya this time.

At lunch time "Beans O'Brien" were much enjoyed for it helps a lot to learn new ways of serving old standbys. Mrs. Frances Berkshire made the lesson most interesting, using the blackboard to bring out the points she wished to impress.

Mrs. Gertie Fossett had prepared a game which was lots of fun.

There were two afghans turned in, one of which still needs a crocheted edge to complete it and Mrs. Schmitt offered to do the work.

Altogether it was a delightful and profitable day.

Early History Of Boone Co.

By A. M. Yealey

We had the opportunity to have a chat with William Aydelotte, a man that was born in Florence on Sept. 14, 1851. Although old in years, Mr. Aydelotte's mind is keen and he can give much information in reference to Boone County, as we can readily see that he was ten years old when the Civil War broke out and remembers quite well that he and his father were cutting wood on the Union pike, when a company of Union soldiers were retreating back toward Ft. Mitchell, and in trying to cover their retreat kept firing along the Lexington pike. At the junction of Shelby St. and the Lexington pike Larkin Vaughn was shot and died as he was being carried to a nearby house.

He also stated that the Confederate soldiers did not attempt to go any farther than the intersection of the Union pike with the Lexington pike, then wheeled to the left and went out the Union pike with a dozen wagons. In about three hours they returned with their vehicles loaded with ground corn and wheat and a great number of sides of bacon. The camp was located at Snow's pond near Walton.

He also stated that when he was but seven years old he remembers very well when Joe Marcus murdered Lyda Bryant with a hoe, that he and his father heard bells tolling and a searching party of 100 men and boys was organizing for the purpose of finding her, as she was missing at nightfall.

When the searching party got under way a colored boy by the name of Joe Marcus was under suspicion, but denied his guilt, later admitting he killed her with a hoe and led the way to the old spring that still exists.

Joe escaped being lynched due to his owner Miles Marcus. Had he been lynched he would have received no bounty, but through the courts he received $900. Joe was convicted and sentenced to be hung, which was carried out, but before he was hung he sold his body for 10c worth of candy, to a couple of medical students of Florence, and his body was brought back by them, but the place of burial has never been located on the lot now owned by Russell Mitchell.

WOMEN USE TRICKS IN HOUSECLEANING

That there are tricks to make housecleaning easier was discovered by homemakers in Franklin county, following discussion demonstrations by Home Management Specialist Ida C. Hagman of the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Short cuts in cleaning walls and wood work, equipping cleaning kits, making doormats of corn shucks and keeping tools in tip-top shape were some of the time and money saving ideas the homemakers found worthwhile.

FARM WOMEN PLAN FOR BUSY SEASON

Hickman county homemakers are concentrating on labor savers for the busy summer ahead. Many are re-arranging movable kitchen equipment to reduce the number of steps necessary in preparing a meal or washing dishes. Other ideas presented by Miss Ida C. Hagman, of the State College of Agriculture and Home Economics, which the homemakers found practical, were the making of knife racks to keep edges sharp and of additional cupboard shelves to eliminate the staking of dishes.

The Great Toe

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

Do you know that the great toe supports the entire weight of the body for an instant, in the last act of walking?

The foot muscles acting upon the four lesser toes preserve the balance of the body by causing the toe to grip in the shoes, and in the last act of walking to give the final spring, or "take off." By their attachment the toes flex at their first (holongel) points and extend at their second and third joints, so that the ends of the toes are pressed upon and grip in standing so as to form powerful propelling levers as the body swings forward upon the toes.

Now, take off your shoes—and look at the bottom of your toes. In every case (there are few exceptions) you will see where the fleshy tissue on the bottom ends of the toes come to a point, from being forced tight together and in many cases the toes themselves lap over one another. This is positive evidence of ill fitted and ill shaped shoes. This continued distortion of toes in many cases leads to bunions, Hommar toes and other toe defects.

Lack of balance will cause you to walk incorrectly and create strain in other parts of the body, inducing fatigue, pain and more misery, NOT ONLY in the feet, but even in the back of the neck and headaches. Resolve right now to correct this condition.

It costs you nothing for a thorough analysis of your foot problems and difficulties. Remember you can't be HAPPY with UNHAPPY FEET.—Adv.

The following letter was received from Jack Clore, stationed in Italy:

"Having just finished reading The Recorder I decided it would be a good time to write a few lines. There are no words to express my thanks for your paper, so I will just say thanks Pete, you're doing a lot for the boys overseas.

"The letter printed from Aubrey Knox was very good. He wants to hear from boys over here, where the lead is hot and the weather is cold. Well, Aubrey, I can say you are one hundred percent right. I have seen plenty of both. I have seen action from the place you landed to the present front lines. I have laid in fox holes and had water to freeze in my canteen, have had German planes to strafe and bomb us for three straight days. I have seen men who were blown out of their fox holes by enemy shells. At times we have walked miles with our guns and ammunition, through mud half way to our knees. I will agree that I hardly think a dog could live such a life, or at least I have seen some which were killed along the way.

"I have had close calls many times, and I don't claim it was all luck, for there was someone watching over me, surely. I have had holes torn in my raincoat and also had shell fragments to cut holes in my pistol holster and ruined my forty-five.

"Don't think I won't trade places with anyone who isn't satisfied with sixty bucks a week. If anyone wants to trade I'll work and give them the sixty on top of the sixty Uncle Sam gives us.

"Again I say thanks for the paper and say hello to friends around the burg. Good luck and best wishes to all."

We are in receipt of the following letter from Cpl. James D. Aylor 324th B. Hq. & A. B. Sq., Walnut Ridge, Ark.:

"I have been receiving The Recorder for some time, but neglected writing this letter. I enjoy The Recorder very much and I agree with the boys that have written you, the Recorder does bring you close to home and even in contact with many of your friends in the service.

"Although this letter is a little late, I want to extend my deep appreciation and thanks for The Recorder.

"Looking forward to seeing some of my Boone County friends, soon."

• • •

We are in receipt of the following letter from Tom Owen of Camp Campbell, Ky.:

"I am sending you this letter to thank you for The Recorder, as it is a very good paper, giving all the home town news to us boys in the army. It is just like receiving a letter from home and that is a lot.

"Your paper carries a lot of the boys' addresses, enabling me to write them.

"I am stationed at Camp Campbel, Ky. Part of the camp is in Tennessee, but most of it is in Kentucky, and it is a very nice camp.

"I will close now, and thanks a lot for The Recorder."

Pfc. Harry T. Cook, 35507139, 809 Tech Sch. Sqdn., Bks. 420, AAF, Sioux Falls, S. Dak., writes:

"Have been meaning to write to you sooner but have been kept rather busy here. I have just completed eight weeks of school here, which puts me through the second phase, Fundamentals of Receivers and Transmitters. I have passed a test and again made the honor roll here with 91 per cent. For Phase I, I was an honor student with 90 per cent. I am hoping to remain on the honor roll for the next two phases, 10 weeks. Am just about to pass the 12 word-per-minute code check and unofficially have credit for sending 10 W. P. M.

"We have had some snow and cold weather, but as a whole it has been rather nice here all winter.

"Ran into James Gayle Smith the other day and sure was glad to see someone from good old Boone.

"Had a letter from Everett Cress the other day. He is back at work and doing fine now. Told me some quite interesting things about the South Pacific Navy life. Sure wish I could see him again.

"Well, I guess this is about all the news from here now. Will be seeing you about last of May or first of June."

• • •

Edwin Walton, former principal of Burlington High School stationed with the U. S. Army somewhere overseas, writes:

"I suppose by the time you get this letter you will have gotten the card, giving you my change of address. I do get around don't I?

"If my memory serves me right The 'Recorder' will be sent to me wherever I might be. I hope so for I've a hunch I'll appreciate it a lot more during the coming year or so than I have in the past, since it will serve to keep me in close touch with the doings and the folks at home since I can't be running home on passes and furloughs anymore.

"Maybe in two or three months I can give you a general idea of where I'm located. Right now it is a military secret.

"Tell the folks 'hello' for me Pete and that I would like to have seen more of them when on my last furlough, but ten days was just too short a time to see everybody.

"I would appreciate it if you would print my new address for I would enjoy hearing from as many folks at home as care to write."

His address is Edwin H. Walton, T/5, 35685002, 939th QM Petroleum Pro. Lab. APO 9537, care Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

• • •

George Louden, stationed in Oahu, Hawaii, writes:

"Will drop you a few lines tonight as I am thinking of all my friends in good old Boone County, and I do think of you often.

"Say Pete, since I've been getting the paper through my sister, and it is late in getting here, I wonder if you could send it straight to me. I will appreciate it very much.

"There are several boys here that I know and sure would be glad to get Bus Loomis' address, since he formerly was in the same outfit with me.

"I've been to Pearl Harbor and Honolulu, and there sure are some beautiful places here. They have nice warm weather the year around. I could tell you more about this island if I was there.

"Will you get William Aylor's address and send it. I think he is here someplace. If you will send me the addresses I will thank you a lot.

"Tell Don and Wuss I said hello and also Sickum Weaver and everyone else.

"I will say so-long for now, Pete.

Ed. Note: We give you the address requested, they are: Pvt. Leland R. Loomis, Med. Dtch. 19th St. Hos., ASN 35122505, APO 523, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y., and W. W. Aylor Submarine Detch., 4th Sec. To E & R Dept., Honolulu, Hawaii.

Pfc. James E. Stephens, A Bty. 16th F. A. Obsn. Bn., Camp Pickett, Va., writes:

"Change my Recorder from Ft. Bragg, N. C., to Camp Pickett, Va. I have been wanting it changed for sometime, but I had been on the move so much I never knew where to have it sent.

"Christmas and until after New Year's we were at Indiantown Gap, Penn. We left there to return to Ft. Bragg, when we met a Major from our outfit and he told us that the Battalion was going to move here to Camp Pickett, Va. We found out our detachment had to go to Camp Butner, N. C., where Punk was stationed a year ago. We were there for fourteen days then was sent here. We were here a week and then returned to Camp Butner for several days. We hope to be here for a while.

Give my regards to all my friends in Boone County."

• • •

Sgt. Stewart Ryle, stationed in Italy writes the following letter:

"I have been intending to write you so you could send me the paper but haven't had much time.. I got a clipping out of the paper that Butch wrote and was glad to write him.

"I have been overseas 13 months, and all the news I get is from Mom and I like to hear from all of the boys and to know where they are stationed so I could drop them a few lines sometime.

"There isn't very much that we can write over here, because we aren't allowed to, and it is a good idea. They say some of the boys from Boone County are over here somewhere and if there is I wish they would send me their address and I might arrange to see them sometime. The only one from home that's close to me is Bill Brown, and I have seen him several times.

"I don't think it will be long now until we all will be home again and start where we left off.

" I played some ball when I was in Africa and played some of those teams over there that were pretty good, but not good enough.

"I told Bill Jarrell I would write him, when I was home on furlough, but since that time I have had little time, and that has been over a year ago.

"I have written all I can think of now, and I do wish you would send me the paper so I can read some news from home.

"When some one gets an address of any of the boys over here let me know and I will try to look them up."

Ed Note: Your paper has been leaving our office every week Stewart. We are sending the paper to the following address: Sgt Stewart Ryle, Co. H 6 (A) Inf. APO 251, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y. Anyone having news of boys stationed in Italy, please write Stewart to the above address.

• • •

Pfc. William E. Harrison, Bty. B. 406 AAA, APO 512 care Postmaster, New York, N. Y. writes:

"Just a few lines to thank you for sending me The Boone County Recorder. It sure is a pleasure to receive it, as I can read what is happening back home. I don't get it regularly, got two yesterday, the first news that I have had for a long time. Keep them coming, they will catch up with me sometime.

"As for myself, I am enjoying the best of health, the food is fair and it is cold here in the mountains, but in the valleys it is warm.

"I have seen a lot of Boone County boys both here and in Sicily."

Bill was stationed somewhere in Corsica, when the above letter was written.

• • •

Sgt. Wm. Sebastian 35675367, APO 15,156, care Postmaster, New York N. Y., writes:

"I am not much at writing, but will attempt to thank you for sending me The Recorder during this past year, and also to notify you of my present address so it will not be delayed longer than necessary.

"At present it is following me across the South Central and Northeastern states. First it goes to Van Dorn, Miss., from there to Camp Maxey, Texas and last to Ft. Meade, Maryland before it is sent on to me. So you see, sometimes it arrives a little late.

"Well, I believe this covers everything the censors will let me say, so I will close thanking you again for The Recorder."

• • •

The following letter was received recently from Pvt. Milton Brown, ASN 35881566, Co. B. 40th Inf. B.N., Camp Croft, S. C.

"To my dearest friends back in Boone County. Kentucky and especially Mr. Pete Stephens I want to thank him for sending me the Boone County Recorder for it does keep me in contact with my close friends in Boone County, for any time that I may be sitting on my bed wondering about my friends back home, I can pick up The Recorder and see just what they are doing. If you are lonely, you can just pick up The Recorder and it will make you cheer up.

"I want to thank my Boone Co. relatives for their kind co-operation in thinking of me and also their kind letters and boxes which they have sent to me in the past. I can hardly explain how much good it does a soldier to receive a local paper from back home or a letter from a friend who you know is thinking of you. I want to give my sympathy to the mothers and fathers back home who have have boys in the service in the states, and especially those having boys in actual combat

"I am giving my address for those who may want to write to me and have failed to get my address."

S/Sgt. Robert F. Horton, 3546-0797, 396th Bomb. Sqdn. (M) APO 240, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco, California writes as follows:

"Well I guess you thought it was about time for me to let you know if I have been receiving the paper or not. I have been receiving the paper for the last two or three weeks, and I just want to say thanks a million, and it certainly does mean a lot to us over here. I know it has been hard for you to keep up with me because I have moved around so much. I think that I am settled for a while now.

"I have made a few missions over the enemy and had a taste of action and can truthfully say that it is not any cinch. But with the help of you folks and your constant prayers, we will come through with flying colors.

"I was decorated March 16th at which time I received the Air Medal and it is a very beautiful medal.

"I would like to say thanks a million to all my friends and relatives for their very nice letters. They are really appreciated over here. I just can't sit down and write to them all as I would like to, but I am sure they will all understand.

"I am somewhere in the Gilbert Islands, and not much can be said about them. They do have quite a few natives here and we G. I's have quite a time trading with them. I have really seen some interesting sights over here and wish I could tell you all about them, but that is impossible, so I will say thanks again for the fine paper and close for now."

Clyde E. King, USN, Unit A 18, Motor Torpedo Boat Repair Tng. Unit, Portsmouth (Melville), R. I., writes:

"This letter may confuse you, but it can hardly express my feelings now! I was on three submarines, on which I received busted eardrums from depth charges, and have been temporarily disqualified from submarines, and so in order for them to try and heal they put me on P. T. boats. I can hardly wait for a chance to get back into submarines as I really like that duty.

"I have been transferred to three places of late, and have not received a paper for so long that I thought maybe I had been forgotten.

"Enough of my troubles. I hope all is well at home with you folks running the paper and all the good people there in Boone County. I am still waiting for that leave to come around, and then I will drop over to see you.

"My new address is on the envelope and what an address! It is almost time for lights out and I have barely started, so I will knock off part of it. Would you ask all my old school buddies and friends who are in the service and receive the paper to please write as I don't know where any of them are? I was about the first to leave early in 1942 and the rest waited to be drafted. My best regards to all the folks at home in Boone County."

Fort Benning, Ga.—Pvt. Charles Craddock, son of Walter E. Craddock, of Union, Ky., has won the right to wear the world-famous wings and boots of the United States Army Volunteer Paratrooper, World War II's most feared warrior. He made his fifth and qualifying jump, a night tactical leap identical to actual combat work in Sicily, which completed his four weeks of jump training.

Jumping at the Parachute School has been steadily developed to a recognized war science. There is but one per cent chance of suffering injury while jumping at the school. In addition to producing jumpers for combat, Parachute Specialist training is given to qualified men in Camouflage, Communication, Demolition, Riggers, and Sewing Machine Maintenance, vital skills for the new and better Infantry coming in by air today.

George Emerson of Hickman county, who has 150 acres of Thorne wheat, says it surpasses other varieties for winter pasture and spring growth.

FEED SHORTAGE BECOMING ACUTE

FARMERS FACED WITH ADJUSTING FARM ORGANIZATION TO MEET CHANGING SITUATION, SAYS AGENT.

The feed shortage for the livestock producer who must buy his feeds is becoming more acute, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Prospects are that the situation will get worse the next few months and not better.

Farmers are faced with the problem of adjusting their farm organization and livestock operation to meet this changing situation or to probably face some difficult situations. One of the greatest needs now is to increase the feed and food crop production for this year. A few timely suggestions that in some instances may be profitably carried out are:

1. Increase corn production thru (a) increasing acreages where practical; (b) using high yielding adapted hybrid corn seed. Adapted hybrids include Ky. 102 and 103 and U. S. 13 among the yellow hybrids; and Ky. 69, 72B, 201 and 203 among the white hybrids; (c) using larger amounts of recommended fertilizers (including manure) in approved methods; (d) making most efficient uses of corn and corn fodder produced.

2. Increase pasture production. Have all land producing the highest quality pasture possible thru improved seeding, fertilizers, grazing and other management practices.

3. Provide an abundance of high quality hay for next winter. Prospects are that hay will be high next year. If grain shortages come to the worst, most livestock can be brought thru the winter on roughages alone. One acre or one ton of good roughage is worth in feeding value more than two tons of poor hay or roughages. Quality to a large extent can be controlled.

4. Secure protein supplements when available.

5. Produce your own food. The accomplishment of last year has paid the greatest return to the nation's war time food production program.

6. Keep all livestock healthy. Healthy livestock, like a correctly adjusted, well lubricated engine, does the most efficient production job.

He is survived by his wife, one son, four brothers, 1 sister, 2 half-sisters, 4 half-brothers and his father Matt Jackson.

The Catherman funeral home, Ludlow, was in charge of arrangements.

SIXTY-TWO WOMEN JOIN WLA IN CO.

WOMEN DOING ANY TYPE OF AGRICULTURAL WORK ELIGIBLE TO BE MEMBER, SAYS COUNTY CHAIRMAN.

Sixty-two women representing eight communities have joined the Women's Land Army for 1944, according to Mrs. Vernon Pope, County Chairman. Some application blanks were distributed during April. They will be sent to all communities during May.

Women doing any type of agricultural work such as dairy, poultary, garden, livestock, truck crops, fruit, general farm work and operation of machinery are eligible to belong to the W. L. A. The purpose of the organization is a program of work to give credit to women who are doing some farm work as their part of the war effort.

Anyone wishing to join the W. L. A. is asked to contact the Home Agent, Burlington 412, or local chairman for an application blank.

Burlington Nine Trounces Florence Sat.

Burlington's Sunday School baseball team trounced Florence Saturday at the local park by a score of 7-3, after suffering defeat at the hands of the Florence boys a week previous.

Burlington will entertain the Belleview nine on the local diamond Saturday at 2:00 p. m.

CANNING CONTEST BLANKS AVAILABLE

PRIZES WILL BE AWARDED TO FARM FAMILIES DOING BEST JOB IN HOME CANNING AND STORAGE.

The 1944 Home Canning and Food Storage contest entry blanks are now available, according to the County Extension Office. Blanks may be secured from the county offices or from the Homemakers' Clubs.

Prizes will be awarded this year to the farm families doing the best jobs in home canning and home canning and food storage. Every family is urged to secure an entry blank so they will be contacted when the contest is judged this fall.

Home food production last year was one of the most important factors in relieveing an apparent food shortage. Every rural family wants to do a better job of home production in 1944, both to help a most important phase of the war program and as the most economical means of better feeding the family.

REGULAR SALE IS PLANNED BY POOL

G. P. SOMMERS ADVISED GROWERS OF MARKET OUTLOOK AT MEETING HELD IN BURLINGTON MONDAY.

The Boone County Wool Pool members voted Monday at Burlington to offer the county pooled clip for sale under the regular established sale plan, according to H. E. White, President. If such sale can not be satisfactorily completed under this plan the sales committee will develop the most profitable plan available for the sale of the clip.

G. P. Sommers, marketing specialist from the College, advised the growers on the Market Outlook and that all wool must be sold under government regulations this year. Several plans by which growers may dispose of their wool were outlined but the plan above was recommended as probably the most satisfactory for local growers.

The pool sales committee is expected to contact buyers and arrange for the sale and delivery of the clip around June 10th to the 15th.

All growers expecting to sell their wool thru the county pool are urged to sign up with their local director immediately. Only thru a completely signed-up pool can the sales committee sell the pooled clip for the highest dollar, according to the sales committee.

Covington Fire Chief Visits Local Firemen

Fire Chief Walter .Salyers, of Covington Fire Department visited the Burlington Volunteer Fire Department Friday night at the regular meeting of that organization. Chief Salyers demonstrated how to extinguish a gasoline blaze with a fog nozzle, and gave the firemen many pointers which will be very beneficial in fighting fire.

Chief Salyers has shown much interest in the organization of the local fire department, and has been instrumental in its organization. His expert advice has been sought in many matters, which has greatly aided in perfecting the department.

The citizens of Burlington and surrounding territory, as well as the firemen extend thanks to Mr. Salyers for his splendid cooperation.

MANY CONFUSED OVER TIME CHANGE

WHICH WAS IN EFFECT SUNDAY MORNING—MANY TURN OUT FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL ONE HOUR EARLY.

Moving up of the clock one hour Saturday night at midnight caused considerable confusion among the churchgoers of Boone County Sunday morning, according to reports reaching this office. Many of the members arrived at 10:00 a. m. for Sunday School, only to find that the hour had been advanced in most instances to 11:00 a. m.

The county as a whole will be required to observe the Eastern War Time, regardless of hours set for opening and closing of establishments. Churches throughout the county will make their own announcements concerning the hours of worship.

C. L. Cropper, Judge of Boone County Court announced Tuesday that the various offices in the courthouse will open at 9:00 a. m. and close at 5:00 p. m. daily, except Sunday.

Officials of the Peoples Deposit Bank announced that their hours will remain the same as heretofore, 9:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m. (EWT).

SHORTAGE OF FERTILIZER

IS ANNOUNCED BY LOCAL DEALERS—PHOSPHATE MOST DIFFICULT OF FERTILIZERS TO SECURE.

Farmers who are late ordering their fertilizer needs for tobacco and other crops may not be able to secure their needs, according to H R. Forkner, County Agent. Many farmers have taken advantage of earlier recommendations and have secured early delivery sufficient to cover their needs.

Phosphate is one of the most difficult of fertilizers to secure. The county A. A. A. office has unfilled orders of thirteen carloads on file. Some dealers have been able to get a limited supply while other dealers are unable to make delivery. The use of 1000 pounds of phosphate and 750 pounds of complete fertilizers per acre turned under and 250 pounds of complete fertilizer beside the row, is recommended for tobacco land where the crop is to be grown year after year on the same land. General recommendations include 500 pounds of phosphate per acre for new alfalfa seedings and 300 to 500 pounds per acre for new grass and clover seedings.

Complete fertilizer mixtures are available in larger quantities than are the straight kinds. The higher the analysis usually the better the buy in complete fertilizers. Home gardeners will ordinarily find the 3-9-6 combination their best buy at around $32.00 per ton. Liberal applications where turned under, or beside the row or mixed well in the row in most cases will give satisfactory results. Potash of sulphae instead of murate of potash should be in the tobacco fertilizer mixture.

A few dealers have the new 32.5 percent ammonium nitrate nitrogen fertilizer for sale. This fertilizer at prices from $60 to $65 per ton is the best nitrogen buy on the market.

Farmers who have not already secured their fertilizer needs should contact their dealers and make sure that their order will be filled. This is one year that heavy applications of fertilizers properly applied will pay dividends.

CHARLES RANSLER NAMED CHAIRMAN

OF BOONE COUNTY AREA IN EIGHTH ANNUAL DRIVE OF WILLIAM BOOTH MEMORIAL HOSPITAL.

The appointment of Charles Ransler as chairman of the Boone County area, in the eighth annual maintenance drive of the William Booth Memorial Hospital, Covington, has been announced by Henderson Hightower, general chairman of the campaign.

The goal of the drive is $34,500, which amount is needed, Hightower stated, to keep the hospital operating at its present high standard durfng the coming year. The campaign started Monday night, May 1st, with a kickoff dinner staged at the Covington Masonic Temple.

Covington and Newport city and county officials; Mayor Timothy Fitzgerald of Covington; Commissioner Ernest I. Pugmire, national and eastern territorial commander of the Salvation Army; as well as many high ranking Salvation Army officials from southwest Ohio and northeast Kentucky were special guests. The more than 600 Majors, Captains and workers who have volunteered their services in the drive, will make public announcement of their respective goals.

Other chairmen in Boone County, who will operate with their workers, under the direct supervision of Ransler, are as follows: Mrs. C. D. Benson, chairman of Burlington area; Rev. George Caroland, Walton; Mrs. Louis Houston, Florence; Claude Johnson, Beaver Lick; and Mrs. L. Stephens, Petersburg.

Ransler, in outlining plans for the communities embraced in Boone County, stated that his workers would make a house-to-house canvass of every home and business house in their respective areas. "All of them are eager to work—just as we believe all those they solicit will be eager to give," he said. "We are all aware that the future of Booth Hospital—upon which all of us depend in case of illness—is at stake. And we must keep it operating not only for the benefit of those on the home front, but for the thousands upon thousands of our fighting Yanks from Northern Kentucky, who deserve the right to have the assurance that their loved ones back home will receive proper care, when necessary."

WEED ALLOTMENTS ARE ANNOUNCED

PRODUCERS WILL BE NOTIFIED OF 1944 ALLOTMENTS—NEW RULING WILL INCREASE ALLOTMENTS.

Notice has been received that all persons who established a 1943 tobacco allotments and which is still in effect in 1944 will have a 1944 minimum allotment of 1.0 acre; if the acreage of crop land on the farm is 4.0 acres or more. If acreage of cropland is less than 4.0 acres the allotment will be 25 percent of the cropland or the present 1944 allotment whichever is greater.

This ruling will increase the present tobacco allotments in cases where the allotments are less than 1.0 acre, up to 1.0 acre, if the crop land is sufficiently large to justify it.

All producers will be notified in a few days of their 1944 allotments, and these increases, where this ruling applies, will be made before notices are sent to producers.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

PAUL CROSSES INTO EUROPE

LESSON TEXT: Acts 16:13-15; Philippians 3:7-14.
GOLDEN TEXT: I press on toward the goal unto the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.—Philippians 3:14.

Pressing "toward the mark" (Phil. 3:14) well describes the zeal and intense devotion with which Paul lived his life for Christ. He was wholehearted in giving himself to the preaching of the gospel. Our lesson tells of his carrying of the gospel into Europe by the guidance and blessing of the Holy Spirit.

It seems appropriate to consider the two Scripture portions in reverse order, looking first at Paul's declaration in Philippians of his passion to know Christ, and then in Acts of his purpose to make Him known. The man with vision is eager to serve. "A task without a vision makes a man a drudge; a vision without a task makes him a visionary; a task and a vision makes him a missionary."

I. Paul's Passion to Know Christ (Phil. 3:7-14).

There were many things in Paul's life of which he was proud, until he met Christ, and then everything else lost its importance and interest.

All things in life are relative in value and our attachment to them is determined by our heart attitude.

Now being spiritually minded and having found in Christ real satisfaction for his soul, the Christian counts as refuse the things in which the world takes such pride and satisfaction.

To "know Him" calls for a depth of experience, sacrifice and of joy which is not easy to describe in words. It begins with a divine righteousness imparted by faith. Self-righteoushess will not suffice. This is not a matter of law, but of grace.

It is a resurrection faith and therefore powerful. It is a faith which accepts suffering for Christ as a part of fellowship with Him—not only bearable but glorious because it is in the power of His resurrection.

That fellowship is one day to be complete and eternal, for there is to be for Paul the assured experience of a personal resurrection out from among the dead (v. 11). The faith of a Christian looks beyond the grave.

All this has to do with the present, as well as the blessed future. The man who has this kind of spiritual experience shares the purpose of Paul expressed in verses 12-14. Here there is no resting back in self-satisfied comfort, no pride in one's past victories, no sense of having "arrived."

Paul saw not only the necessity but the blessedness of going from victory to victory. Too many Christians of today are entirely satisfied with what they have attained (and it is usually all too little).

There is a prize to be gained, the prize of our "high calling in Christ Jesus." Let us, like Paul, be filled with holy dissatisfaction with ourselves until we reach that blessed goal.

The man who had such a vision was ready for God's call to carry the gospel into Europe.

II. Paul's Purpose to Make Christ Known (Acts 16:13-15).

The story of the conversion of Lydia has many elements of special interest. It presents the turning point in the progress of the gospel, which by the grace and leading of God brought it northward to Europe rather than southward into Africa. Many of us have heard because of the way Paul was led, and one wonders if Europe and America might not otherwise have been the "dark continents" rather than Africa. We are what we are by the grace of God.

Then we note that the first convert was a woman. She was not the last woman to give an attentive ear and a believing heart to the gospel message. The church through all its history has been blessed by the readiness of women to bear and heed the gospel.

We like to note that she set a pattern of hospitality and service which her sisters in the church have maintained (see v. 15). She "constrained" the visiting preachers to enjoy the comforts of her fine home, and thus put forward the work of Christ (see III John 5-8).

It is encouraging to note how perfectly the leading of the Holy Spirit worked out in the experience of Paul and his brethren. The Lord sent His prepared messenger to the place where there was a prepared heart waiting to receive the Word with gladness.

We may confidently go on the errands of our God, knowing that when He leads, He goes before and prepares the way. That does not mean that there will be no trials and difficulties. Paul had plenty of them (see II Cor. 11:23-33). But it does mean that we may go with the assurance of blessed results, in His name, and with the grace to bear whatever comes along the way—for His glory.

SALLY SLAMBANG
— who carelessly knocks her iron to the floor

Falls put more irons out of commission than any other one thing. Always stand your iron carefully on heel rest and be sure ironing board is level and not sloping. And follow these other tips for longer life and better service:

- Never immerse your iron in water. It may cause a "short" in heating elements.
- Don't iron over zippers, buckles and other hard articles. It scratches sole plate.
- Don't let cord touch hot iron or rub continuously on edge of ironing board.
- Always connect iron by inserting iron plug first; then outlet plug. Reverse procedure to disconnect.
- Don't yank cord loose from outlet. Grasp plug in fingers.
- Be sure iron is perfectly cold before putting it away.
- To cure a sticky iron, heat it and rub it over a waxed bread wrapper that has been sprinkled with salt. This also waxes sole plate.

No one can say for sure when irons will again be available in quantity, so take good care of the one you have. Make it last!

WITH OUR BOYS IN SERVICE

We are in receipt of the following letter from Pfc. Robert Stephens, Co. C 338 Engrs. APO 782, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y., stationed in Italy:

"How is everyone back home by now? I am feeling fine and am in good health.

"I am very busy now, and I think I will be for a long while. I have been wanting to write you since I have been in Italy, but it seems as though I couldn't get started. I have received The Recorder several times since I have been over here and I want to thank you for sending it to me.

"I was talking to Paul Clore the other day, and he said he hadn't had a day to rest since we came over. My mother always told me 'the harder the storm the sooner it would be over.' I hope that is true here. I think we will make the grade this year if everything keeps rolling as it is now.

"Pete, I have been getting so many letters that I can't find time to answer them. I would like to thank all my friends for writing, and I will answer their letters as I have the opportunity. I really appreciate the letters and cards and I hope they will keep coming. I think everyone will understand why I haven't answered their letters.

"It is time that I must close, so tell all my friends I said 'hello' and am looking forward to the day when this war is over and we all get back there again."

Harry R. Conrad S 1/c (EELRM) Brks. 23, Batt. 3-44 Co. E, USNTC, Gulfport, Miss, writes:

"I have received a copy of The Recorder weekly for the past three and a half months. I certainly have appreciated it and I always enjoy reading it. The fellows are not kidding when they write back and tell you how much it has meant to them. When I receive my Recorder on Friday, after a tough week, it gives me a boost as I read about what the other fellows are doing—a lot of them overseas.

"I'm in my second month of radio technician training. It is very interesting training but I have a hard time keeping up with the Navy pace. I was moved from windy Chicago to the sunny South, but I prefer Chicago's hospitality to service men to the summer weather we have here.

"I have been separated from all the men who originally went thru 'boot' with me. I hope to hear from some of them through The Recorder soon.

"Thanks again for your interest in us."

* * *

T-5 John H. Cook, 9th Base Post Office, APO 968 care P. M., New York, N. Y., writes:

"I have been wanting to write to you for some time but just have never gotten around to it. We have been plenty busy for the past several months and don't have so much time to write. I do try to write home at least once a week and to a few special friends.

"Since we have finished the Christmas mail I have been getting my Recorders fairly regular, but up until the past month I didn't get any for sometime. I wrote home and asked them to find out whether you had quit sending it to me, but I never received any answer to it. In the past two weeks I have received all my papers as far back as the first week in December. In the future I believe that they will arrive in good time and fairly regular.

"I want to express my appreciation to you for sending them to me as I surely did miss them during the time I failed to receive them. As I have a good many friends all over Boone County that is about the only way that I can keep in touch with what they are doing. Since my father has been sick, Russell didn't have much time to get away from home to hear any news so I had to do without.

"What I like to read most is, what and where the other boys in the Army are doing and where they are located. I am the only one from Boone County that I know of that is located in this particular town, although Paul Clore, Robert Stephens, and the Black boy were here at one time. I never met any of them but I saw their mail going back to their folks at home. I have kept an eye on the outgoing mail so that if any of the fellows that I know were in this locality I could look them up.

"I sure was glad to read that Boone County had gone over their subscription again in the Fourth Bond Drive. Maybe the people back home don't realize how much we appreciate knowing that they are behind us in this war. At one time I thought that they were going to fail us and not come up to the allotted subscription. If everyone knew just what and how much the boys on the front lines to go through with they would be more than glad to put all their extra cash in Bonds. Just for an example of what I mean I'll use my friend Wilson Edwards as an example. We both went into the Army on the same day and I suppose came overseas about the same time. In less than one year's time he has been injured and returned to the states. His life may be ruined to a certain extent from the injuries he received at Salerno. He is just one of the boys that lost their health and also their lives just because of some crazy person desiring a little power over a large group of people.

"I am not afraid to say that 90 percent of the fellows in the Army are doing their share in purchasing as many bonds as their pay allows them. Many of them have other depeendts to look after as well, but they still put a large amount of their pay back in Bonds. They know that every bond that they buy helps shorten the war and eventually get them back home to their loved ones.

"Since I don't know any news to tell you and my time and paper is getting short I will have to quit. Give my regards to everyone at home and tell them to stay in there and do their part and we will do ours over here."

* * *

We are in receipt of the following letter from Weston Rogers:

"Again my address is changed, and to top that, it isn't permanent. I'll only be here for 12 weeks and then I go back to Camp Campbell.

"I have been sent here to study to be an automotive parts clerk. I don't know much about the work yet, for I just arrived.

"I will inform you again when the twelve weeks are up as to my proper address. So until then, thank you very much."

* * *

Ted Stephens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Stephens, stationed somewhere in Ireland, writes:

"Here comes that same old excuse for not writing sooner—I just haven't had time to write.

"I really appreciate The Recorder and I know all the other Boone County boys do. It keeps me posted on the addresses of all my old civilian buddies, and that means a lot to a fellow so far from home.

The last edition I received was dated February 24th, but that is quicker than most papers get over here.

"It seems I can never get caught up with my letter writing. One reason is I go to town once in a while to keep up the moral of the civilians.

The people over here are rather friendly, especially the girls between the ages of 16 and 20, but I will take the civilian life in the good old U. S. any day they are through with me.

"I have been in the army 13 months and I am ready to call it quits any day. I think most of the fellows didn't know what home was like until they left. I know I didn't.

"I am sending a piece of poetry written by one of the Yanks over here. I thought it was rather good.

"I just got off work and am rather tired. I have to close for this time. Tell all the folks I said 'hello.' ".

A Letter Home

Save all your pity for others,
Waste not your tears on me—
Rather weep for the heartbroken mothers,
And the brave who are no longer free.
As you sit by your fireside and ponder,
And think of your soldier so dear
Who fights in the far off yonder,
Don't build a wall of fear.

Pity the maimed and the blinded,
The men who must early return,
Forever while life stays reminded
Of the crash and the cut and the burn.

Pity the gibbering creature,
The hideous thing with a name;
Like a man in his stature and feature,
And a man till his moment came.

Remember when fear reaches fingers
To tear at your heart and your mind,
And doubt sneaks in and he lingers
Driving you mad and half blind.

Ours is a cause that is mighty,
And ours is an army that's proud;
Our aims are not hazy or flighty,
And our heads are forever unbowed.

Ours is an aim both gracious and right,
And ours is an arm that is strong;
Ours is a sword that is wift as light
To vanquish the legions of wrong.

We don't give a d—— for the devil,
Or anything else in our way;
For Destiny's pointing her finger,
And courage will yet win the day.

So save all your pity for others—
The child whose daddy is gone,
And the widows and heartbroken mothers,
Who see no more hope in the dawn.

Waste not your pity on soldiers,
We're ready if need be to die,
The man on the ground, the man on the ship,
And the man in the far blue sky.

If we should perish why pity?
It's the sleep of a moment and then
The streets of a great Golden City
Shall peal to our laughter again.

If we should die why sorrow?
Our glory shall never die,
For high in the skies of tomorrow
The banners of freedom will fly.

Harold A. Flick, Pl. 18, Composite Platoon, R. D. M. C. B., San Diego, 41, Calif., writes:

"I'd like to thank you for The Recorder. There's not much to say for everybody else who receives it has already said it before me. But it is like a letter from home.

"California weather is not so bad when one becomes accustomed to it, but it is different at first.

"We had thirty days of mess duty after our platoon broke up, but that is over and I'm in a composite platoon awaiting transfer. Right now we are staying in tents which is pretty nice during the day, but a little cool at night. Our chow is pretty go so I can't make any kick on that."

The following poem was written by Edward Bowen, to his wife at 1047 Scott St., Covington, Ky:

I dream of you often and your cheerful ways,
And then I remember all those happy days,
My dreams are my passtime that you do know
Of you and me a long time ago.

I know it's not as long as I make it sound,
It's the thoughts of you, they pound and pound;
My brain is a scramble, a continuous whirl,
With the thoughts of you, my own sweet girl.

I learned to love you in a very short while
It didn't take long after I saw you smile,
You were always so happy in a serious way
I'm telling you honey I love you that way.

I've traveled so far, but you've always been near
You ask me how? Why in my dreams my dear,
Without my dreams for my moral support
I could never make it from port to port.

I thank God in heaven for the clean life we lived,
That merits those dreams of the love I relive,
And I know deep down within my own heart
Ours is a love, a love that won't part.

The following letter was written by Mrs. Ivan K. Norris, of Monroe, La., who is with her husband stationed there with the U. S. Army:

"I am writing for my husband A/C Ivan K. Norris to let you know that his address has changed again. You see he is pretty busy now since he has gone into Advanced Navigation. Since I am here with him and have plenty of time on hand I thought I could do that much.

"I want to thank you, as I know Ivan does, for sending The Recorder to him. I get to read it every week and it is good to read the news back home, especially the column 'With Our Boys in the Service.' That is the first thing Ivan and I both look for. We want to see who has written home and all about them.

"I will try to tell you what I can about Ivan's training now.

"Ivan has been in Advanced Navigation for seven weeks now. He has gone on five missions and likes it fine. He has to study hard and has class all day and some nights. I am allowed to go out to the field (which is five miles from Monroe where I am staying) on Tuesday and Thursday night, that is if Ivan doesn't have class, then he can come into town once a week. One week he has open post on Saturday and the next week on Sunday. The day he doesn't come in I go out to the post.

"This is a very nice place, but am planning on coming back to Boone County soon. Ivan will finish here and get his commission as a 2nd Lieutenant about the middle of July, I hope—by that I mean if nothing happens. Then we are hoping for the best which will be a furlough.

"We are both fine and the sunny South agrees with us both, although it rains a lot.

"Thanks again for sending The Recorder to Ivan.

"His address is A/C Ivan K. Norris 35805219, Flight 44, Class 44-10, Advanced Cadet Detachment Selman Field, Monroe, La."

Stanley Tanner S 2/c, U. S. S. Peril (AM 272) care Fleet Post Office, New York, N. Y., writes:

"I received a Recorder yesterday, dated April 12th and one today. April 6th, but I got them and it all was news. I sure appreciate them.

"We moved from Little Creek, Va., to Chicksaw, Ala., where we went aboard our ship the USS Peril (AM 272) and today we moved from Chickasaw to Alabama State docks.

"I guess everyone knows I was married April 12th and received a five-day leave, but never went any farther than Mobile. I like it down here, but liked it better at Memphis and Florence.

"Say Pete, is there anyway I could get the address of Vernon Clifton or Bill Chapman? I would like to hear from them.

"Sure wish I could be back in good old Boone County, although Navy life isn't so bad. You have fun every day and we sure have a swell crew aboard ship.

"Well, friends write to me and I won't forget to answer your letters."

Pfc. H. K. Buckler, 3256th Q. B. D. Co., APO 763, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y., writes:

"I have been receiving the paper and I want to thank you very kindly. I sure enjoy the news and the going-on at home. It has been so long since I was there that any little article that appears, I read with the keenest interest. It helps me keep my knowledge of associates in other theaters of war thruout the world and also of my good friends at home.

"I have been here so long that I am learning to like it. If that's possible. But I could be a lot worse off.

The food is good, our officers are swell and the only danger we have is bucking the chow line each day.

"I close with cheery hello to all my friends and wishing you the best of health.

"Thanking you again for your thoughtfulness in sending the paper."

Robert Henry England, S 2/c 756-10-72 Station Hospital, Mess Hall, Camp Peary, Va., writes:

"I just got through reading my Recorder and enjoyed it a lot. My wife is here with me and she enjoys it too.

"Was sorry that I could not get out to see you when I was home in March, but there was just too much for me to do in a short time. I have been at this camp since February 3 and like it very well.

The Recorder is the best source of news for us fellows in the service. It helps us keep track of happenings in good old Boone County.

"This base is now a Naval training base so I expect to see some of the boys from home before long.

"Thanks a lot for the paper and keep up the good work. Tell the boys at the office 'hello' for me."

Earl Tanner, USNR SS Brks 611 U. S. Sec. T3-12, Great Lakes, Ill., writes:

"I am writing this letter to thank you a thousand times for your generosity in sending me The Recorder.

"I am only a few miles away, but to my shipmates and friends who are thousand of miles away, I know it is a wonderful moral builder to be able to read about their friends and neighbors.

"I have been in torpedo school for three weeks, so you see I have not really had time to write you. This school is certainly a good one, teaching many things we would otherwise never have known.

We get an hour each day of swimming, boxing or calisthenics, and eight hours a day classroom or shop. It certainly is wonderful the way the navy can make everyone useful in times like these.

"In closing, I wish to thank you again for sending me The Recorder every week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. White, Mrs. Percy Ryle, Mr. Geo. Cook and Miss Mary A. Poston were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. Williamson and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. J. Cook.

WITH OUR BOYS IN THE SERVICE

We are in receipt of the following letter from T/Sgt. Kenneth F. Rogers, ASN 15057621, 2216th Q. M. Trk. Co. (AVN) care Postmaster, New York, N. Y.:

"After receiveing and enjoying The Recorder for so long I feel ashamed to try to thank you for your paper—better late than never. Just as all the rest of the Boone County boys, I enjoy your paper very very much, especially since I have been in England.

"I am in perfect health and weigh more now than I ever did.

"When I was in California my wife and son were there with me. I had a pass permitting me to live off the base and draw separate rations. I was home every night except three or four while they were there. I was very lucky, I would go to work each morning and when I came home that evening my wife would ask, "did you get the Recorder?' That happened almost every evening. When I did get the paper I would have to hide it if I didn't get a chance to read it during the day. Then after we ate my wife and I would divide the paper and read it together. Now when I receive the paper I wait until I get a real good chance, then lie down on my bunk and read it from start to finish.

"I don't think I could sit up and read any more. We don't have nice soft chairs to sit on, if any. So it is a habit for a soldier to flop down on his bunk whenever he has a chance.

"My wife used to look quite disguested at me when I would lie down on the bed just after she had made it. I was just about broke of the habit when she had to go back to Boone County and I started for England. It didn't take long to acquire the habit again. Try it sometime Pete, just after your wife gets the bed made.

"Your column 'With the Boys in the Service' is quite interesting. I should say page. It is the first that I read. In your March 9th issue there was a letter from Jake Hughes. Jake was a very good friend of mine. I lost his address several years ago. His address wasn't in the letter. If you have, would you print it so I could write to him.

"A lot of the names of people I read about are familiar, some are not. I enlisted in the Air Corps in 1940, also four years ago. Time sure goes by. It has been 28 months since I was in Burlington—that is a long time.

"My wife and son are in Petersburg with her parents.

"Tell everyone hello for me Pete. Will drop in to see you when I get back.

"There isn't anything I can tell you about the war. In fact I expect you know more than I do. My wife writes and tells me news that I don't know concerning the war.

"There are several boys here from Boone County. I know of several from Petersburg. Haven't had the pleasure of meeting any of them yet. It is very hard to do.

"England is a very nice country. The people treat us very nice. It was hard to understand them at first. I had quite a time with their money at first, but it would take a good one to short change me now. We get paid with English money. I would rather have two dollar bills than ten shilling notes.

"It has been my pleasure to travel through about half of the states since I have been in the army. From coast to coast, but I still like Kentucky and will be back as soon as possible. All my interests are there.

"Thanks a million for the paper."

Ed. Note—In reply to your request for Jake Hughes' address we print the following: Pl. Sgt. W. E. Hughes, 1st Base Depot, FMF, care Fleet Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

We are in receipt of the following letter from Chaplain Thomas O. Harrison, 89th AA Gp., Washington, D. C.:

"It has been some time since I have communicated with any of you. Since the duties of an Army Chaplain are unending, I am taking this means of renewing our friendship. I have not forgotten the people in my old field. I have simply been busy in the new one.

"After fifteen months of serving in the Armed forces as a Chaplain, there are certain impressions that have come to me which might be of interest to you. I pass them on for what they are worth.

"(1) There is a profound respect for religion among service men. The Chaplain, representative of religion, is not counted as excess baggage, but when worth of it, is loved and appreciated. His advice is sought in personal matters, his guidance is solicited in matters of religion, he is considered the friend of all.

(2) There is no reason why your sons, husbands and brothers should not come back home stronger men and better citizens than when they left. It is true, there is a tendency in these times to become more loose morally; there are numerous opportunities to go wrong. But there are enough strong, good influences that are put in the path of the men so that this experience can greatly profit them.

"(3) The church at home has in all too many cases failed to instill Christian principles and Christian faith into these men while they were still young. This is not an effort to excuse ourselves for we have no excuses to offer. It is simply stating the fact that definite Christian faith, and strong Christian teaching at home are the best safeguards for men in the service.

"(4) I believe there must be a greater effort put forth by all Christian organizations to definitely influence men for Christ. I am sure there will be men coming back to you sooner or later who will be softened by their experiences and who will be receptive to the claims of the gospel. Not all of them will, but there will be some.

"May I extend my good wishes to all the members of my old parish and to all my friends throughout the County. It is still a pleasure to hear of you all through the pages of The Recorder which still comes to me through the kindness of the editor. As you do your part there we will try to do our part here that freedom and right, truth and justice may live on in the earth."

Pvt. James G. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Smith, of Burlington, Ky., R. 1, has been assigned to the AAF Training Command Radio School at the Sioux Falls Army Air Field, Sioux Falls, S. D., for training as a radio operator-mechanic. Upon completion of a 20-week course, he will be fully trained to take his place as a member of a highly skilled bomber crew of the Army Air Forces.

Pvt. Smith was inducted November 4, 1943 at Ft. Thomas.

How Jungle Fighters Live, Work And Fight

From the steaming jungles and hills of Bougainville Island in the northern Solomons come reports by enlisted men and officers of the 37th (Buckeye) Division, telling how a United States Army jungle fighter lives, what he thinks about and hopes for, and how, fortified by humor, he continues day in and day out in the fight to conquer a treacherous foe.

What with Japanese snipers and bombers, the discomforts of jungle life, and the need for constant work, his days and nights are fully occupied. Yet there are plenty of humorous incidents. For example, some of the troops were changing their position, and foxholes were deepened and covered with logs and sandbags. One soldier made a particularly good job of his foxhole. He then announced that "even a bomb couldn't get into it." Unfortunately, neither could he. He had forgotton to leave a place for an entrance.

Soldiers Sleep in Hammocks

Sleeping arrangements are comparitively simple. A soldier looks around for two trees sturdy enough to support his weight, and slings his jungle hammock between them. About 7 p. m., if he has no particular duties, he crawls into his hammock and begins to wonder how the wife and youngster are getting along—if he has them—or his sweetheart, or the girl next door at home, or to dream about that last furlough he had.

Likely as not, it begins to rain and his wonderings turn to his foxhole and how much water there's going to be in it. About this time, there is an ear-shattering wail from the warning siren. So the soldiers pones the zipper of his mosquito netting, hunts for his shoes, and runs and slides into the foxhole, which by now is about half full of water.

About this time "Washing Machine Charley" drones over on one of his frequent noturnal visits. "Charley' 'is a Japanese tow-engined bomber so named from the fact that its motor seems to run more slowly than the American variety.

After the raid, the soldier, wet from the water in his foxhole, crawls back into his hammock. Conversation commonly consists of such non-picturesque expressions as: "I wonder where they dropped" and "Did we have any night fighters up?"

Ordinarily, the early bombing is only the first of a series. The same process must be gone through several times during the darkness.

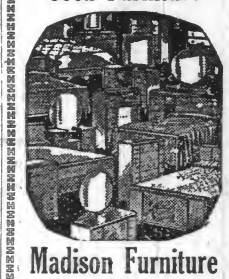
The formalities of military life disappear in jungle fighting. Buck privates call commanding officers by their nicknames. It wouldn't be safe to say "Sir" or "Colonel" where the enemy could hear it. The Japanese have proved themselves uncanily adept at picking off commissioned and non-commissioned officers. No officer wears insignia, since it would make him a fine target for a sniper's rifle.

General Obeys Private

One day a private was having a tough time driving his truck thru a swamp. Along came another jeep in which a brigadier general without insignia was riding. "Get the hell off this road and let me get by," yelled the private. "I've got front line supplies." Without a murmur or change of expression, the general motioned his driver to pull the vehicle off the road so the supplies could go through.

When the troops leave combat areas, this informality ceases. They revert to the traditional and time honored courtesies and customs of the Army.

Living on Bougainville is tough, but there are moments. On rainy Thanksgiving Day, 25 days after the soldiers landed, their regular rations were supplemented with the kind of dinner they'd had at home, complete with roast young turkey and cranberry sauce. "Brother," said one of the soldiers, "when you get a meal like that on Bougainville, you're really accomplishing a miracle."



"And so," writes Staff Sergeant James G. Smith, "life goes on in the jungle. It's a dreary one at best, full of inconveniences, scares and tension. But somehow you know that everything is all right when you hear healthy American voices singing in the short tropical twilights. They sing the old barber shop favorites . . . in bad harmony, perhaps, but the spirit is there. And with that spirit, there's no doubt of the outcome."

Stand Up Straight

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

Standing and sitting erect require less muscular effort than the slumped posture for the normal, healthy person. With the body in an erect attitude the center of gravity passes more nearly through the center of the body and places the weight on bones and ligaments that are by nature equipped to meet this demand. When the head slumps forward, the shoulders droop, the spine curves and the abdomen bulges; then muscles must take on more and more of this burden of weight bearing, a burden for fatigue and later actual deformity of certain of the bones and joints.

The first necessity in good posture is good feet.

Show me a person with good posture and bad feet. It's almost impossible.

But show me a person with good posture and I'll show you a person with good feet, for good posture starts with good feet. The foundation of any super structure is the most important.

Don't suffer another day with your feet.

No matter how many shoes or trial supports you have tried, try just one more and have one of our foot comfort specialists make a free foot analysis and show you how to get rid of all foot pains, leg pains, backaches and headaches. Even arthritis and rheumatism pains are often mistaken—most times when feet are corrected the pains vanish. We know we can help you to stand up straight.—Adv.

SOIL TREATMENT STEPS UP YIELDS

How farmers in Grayson county Kentucky, boosted alfalfa hay yields from 850 pounds to 8,320 pounds to the acre, by applying limestone and superphosphate, is told by E. R. Russell, assistant county agent.

The Tennessee Valley Authority, the Kentucky College of Agriculture and farmers cooperated in testing the value of lime and phosphate. Here are some other results:

On 17 farms, wheat produced 18½ bushels to the acre where lime and phosphate were used, and four bushels where the land was untreated.

On 10 farms, untreated soil produced 475 pounds of red top hay to the acre, and 1,960 pounds where lime and phosphate were used.

Red clover hay made an average of 3,260 pounds to the acre on treated land and 680 pounds on untreated land, on eight farms.

Lespedeza turned off 3,540 pounds of hay to the acre on treated land and 584 pounds on untreated land.

On limed and phosphated pasture land a 1,000-pound cow or steer did well on 1.44 acres, while 4.6 acres of untreated land were needed to carry a 1,000-pound animal.

The use of limestone and superphosphate more than doubled the yield of corn.

The second quarterly district meeting of the North Bend Women's Missionary Union was held at the Crescent Springs Baptist Church, Thursday, April 27 with one hundred sixty-two members and visitors present.

Activities Of Boone Red Cross Nurse

A large number of school children have been inspected for physical defects this month, and a number of corrections made. The schools who have been able to serve lunches this year have done a good job, and have come out well with the government cooperative plan. Many of the boys and girls have improved, and do show better nutrition by having balanced lunches and not being allowed to buy too many sweets.

The high school Home Nursing class at Hebron has just been completed, and a summer class of adults has been organized for Burlington and Florence. Other communities in the county may have classes if they can get at least ten to fifteen persons to join. These classes require at least twenty-four hours of theoretical and practical work. The time, place and length of periods may be arranged to suit the majority.

Gardeners Should Consider Soybeans

Vegetable soybeans should be considered by all gardeners in Boone County. Among the peas and beans for home gardens, vegetable soybeans are outstanding in food value, ranking tops in protein fat, iron and calcium, according to recent studies by scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. These beans are delicious when green, served like green peas or young limas, and are also good when mature and dry, used like other dry beans, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent.

Recent scientific tests show soybeans to be twice as rich in protein as green peas or lima beans; seven times as rich in fat as limas, and eleven times as rich as green peas. They can be served with less butter or other fat.

Soybeans need about the same soil culture, and growing methods as bush beans, but they grow more slowly and are taller. John S. Gardner, Garden Specialist, University of Kentucky, recommends the Ban Sli as the highest yielding soy and Burpien Funks Delicious for a larger dark green soybean with smaller yield. An advantage to gardeners is that the Mexican bean bettle bothers them only when there are no other beans in the garden.

WOMEN FOREGO NEW CLOTHES FOR BONDS

Homemakers in Madison county were able to buy more war bonds and stamps because they patriotically used some of the clothing they had on hand in place of buying new. During the past few weeks, they saved a considerable amount of money when they refitted or retrimmed 85 garments, repaired by tricky new methods 373 garments, made over 29 discarded suits and top coats, and reclaimed for service 89 other garments.

There are quantities of material for spring costumes in oldstyle suits and coats stored away in attics and closets, was expressed by Miss Dorothy Threlkeld clothing specialist at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

Because much of the ready-to-wear clothing is higher in price and lower in quality than formerly, homemakers find it worth their time and effort to make use of good fabrics on hands, Miss Threlkeld told Madison county women.

Suits and topcoats of sons and brothers in the Armed Services provide a good source of wool, she said. If the articles cannot be used in their present state, the clothing specialist recommended that they be remade for some member of the family. Such a practice, she said, would help in the war effort, as it would reduce the demand for new materials.

DEPLORES WASTE OF FARM MANURE

Farmers could save a lot of money by better use of manure, thinks W. C. Johnstone, a crops man at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Kentucky farmers will spend $3,000,000 for mixed fertilizers this year, he says.

"The produce on their farms over $40,000,000 worth of manure, and they waste, by careless and improper handing, seven times the amount of plat food bought in mixed fertilizers."

"A ton of properly conserved manure has the approximate immediate plant food value of 100 pounds of 4-5-10 fertilizer," he continues. "The plant food applied in eight tons of manure would be nearly equal to that contained in 200 pounds of nitrate of soda, 200 pounds of 20 percent superphosphate and 160 pounds of sulphate of potash. While such fertilizer application would be considered very liberal, the use of eight tons of manure per acre would be possible on 2,000,000 acres of Kentucky farm land each year, if that by-product were handled efficiently."

Pound Of Sugar To Be Allotted Servicemen Home On Furlough

Servicemen on furlough will get their sugar ration in units of one pound, rather than on the previous basis of one-fourth pound for nine meals eaten at home, the Lexington District OPA Office has announced.

The OPA said the reason for the change is that servicemen are finding it difficult to buy sugar in smaller amounts than one pound. In addition the handling of certificates for quarter pounds of sugar creates needless bookkeeping and banking problems. In the future, a serviceman on furlough will get one pound of sugar for each 36 meals or less he eats at home.

Points have been reduced on spaghetti sauce; soups, grape and tomato jams and preserves; apple, grape, mint and plum jellies; bakers' jellies and fruit butters. Points have been increased on cranberries and cranberry sauce; tomato juice in large containers; canned or bottled dry varieties of beans (excluding soy, blackeye and garbanzos); tomato catsup and chili sauce; raspberry and strawberry jams and preserves. Reductions were made to move out last year's stocks before new supplies are available in great volume.

Butter Point Value Reduced

The ration point value of creamery butter has been reduced from 16 to 12 red points a pound, the OPA has announced. Margarine has been lowered from six to 2 points per pound. The new values are effective through June 3, 1944. This reduction was made possible by seasonal increased production.

Lumber Industry Needs Men

More than 60,000 men are needed for lumbering and pulpwood jobs before next fall if 1944 requirements are to be met, according to a statement from the War Manpower Commission. Efforts will be made to switch farm labor to the woods as the harvest season closes and to recruit other seasonal workers. Lumber stocks are at an all-time low and the estimated 1944 minimum requirements of 35,500,000,000 board feet must be met almost entirely from the 1944 output.

Barn-Barnyard Equipment Quotas

Through the Barn and Barnyard Equipment Industry Advisory Committee, WPB has been advised that despite some shortages in the available supply, 1944 production quotas of barn and barnyard equipment will be realized.

To Reduce Hog Prices

Ceiling prices on hogs weighing more than 240 pounds live weight will be reduced 75 cents per hundredweight on and after May 15, 1944, The OPA said. The action is designed to discourage the use of corn and other essential grains in bringing hogs up to heavy, uneconomical weights.

Seasonal Increases in Poultry Prices

Consumers will pay an average of two-thirds of a cent more a pound for poultry over a period of one year under an OPA ruling providing for seasonal increases in prices of chickens and other fowl. The new prices will continue thru June of this year, and from January through June of next year. From July through December of this year ceiling prices will revert to the unadjusted base prices as listed in Table A of the poultry regulation. Premiums to the producers, which will be passed on at all levels of distribution, range from a low of a half-cent a pound in January to a high of 2.2 cents a pound in May.

Sell Corn To Government

Farmers in the surplus-producing counties of the corn belt are urged by the War Department, the War Production Board, and the War Food Administration to sell corn to the Government to assure continued production of critical war materials, the Department of Agriculture announced. The appeal is for corn not required for the farmers' own needs or the needs of feeders in their own communities.

MAN WOUNDED IN ALTERCATION SUN.

FLORIDA MAN SHOT AFTER ATTEMPTING TO WRECK WOODLAND INN — WALTON MAN HELD.

William L. Lane, 36, of 536 S. W. Second St., Miami, Fla., was wounded in his right hip by a .32-caliber bullet fired by Robert Hutson, Walton, early Sunday, following an argument at Woodland Inn, two miles south of Walton on U. S. 25.

The shooting climaxed a series of quarrels started by Lane, according to reports. Police said Lane and a woman companion were ordered out of the inn but came back. They sat around until the bar closed at 1 o'clock then began quarreling with Roy Wigglesworth, manager of the Inn.

After Wigglesworth again ejected the couple, Lane picked up empty beer bottles outside the cafe and hurled them through the plate glass door in the rear. Wigglesworth and his wife, seated in the kitchen were struck by flying glass.

Wesley Wigglesworth, the manager's, son ran upstairs and obtained a gun. When he reached the kitchen Hutson grabbed the weapon, opened the door and shot Lane.

Hutson told police he did not think he had hit Lane because the man walked away with the woman.

Town Marshal Robert Brugh, arrested Hutson at the cafe, where he lives

Police said Hutson admitted shooting Lane, but insisted that he fired in self defense after Lane hurled beer bottles through a plate glass door and windows. Hutson is being held in Covington jail.

Lane was taken to the hospital by Oma Dixson, also of Miami, who was with him in the cafe earlier in the evening. Lane's condition was reported as fair at Booth Hospital, Covington.

Fair Grounds Lake Will Open For Fishing Monday, May 15th

The Boone County 4-H and Utopia Fair Grounds Lake at Burlington will be open for fishing beginning May 15. Season tickets good for 10 fishings will be sold for $5.00 with children 15 years or under accompanied by parents free.

While the lake has been heavily stocked the past two years with young stock, it has not been heavily stocked for commercial fishing. A trial fishing last week proved at that time fishing was excellent.

FBI ANNOUNCE CONFERENCE

LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS FROM SEVEN COUNTIES INVITED TO ATTEND MEETING AT NEWPORT.

M. W. McFarlin, Special Agent in charge, Louisville Field Division, Federal Bureau of Investigation, today announced that arrangements have been made to hold an FBI Law Enforcement Conference at Newport, Ky., on May 16, 1944, between the hours of 2 p. m. and 4:30 p. m. EWT, in the Elks Hall located on the corner of Third and York Streets.

Law enforcement officers and public officials whose work is closely related to law enforcement from the following counties are invited to attend: Boone, Kenton, Campbell, Pendleton, Owen Grant and Gallatin.

William J. Wise, Commonwealth Attorney, Newport, Ky., will speak on the subject "Laws of Arrests, Searches and Seizures." Leo A. Livingston, Chief of Police, Newport, Ky., will talk on the subject "My Most Interesting Case." FBI representatives will discuss methods and means by which the FBI Laboratory can aid local police agencies in solving murder cases and the handling of prisoners of war. During the course of the conference, the March of Time film "Youth In Crisis," which has for its theme juvenile delinquency, will be shown.

This will be the first of a series of three such conferences to be held during 1944 for law enforcement officers in this section of the state. During the month of May, similar conferences will be held in eleven other cities in the state of Kentucky.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has been conducting these conferences since 1940 when by Presidential Directive the responsibility of conducting espionage, sabotage and related national defense investigations was placed on the shoulders of the FBI with the request that all law enforcement agencies give their full aid and cooperation to the FBI in these matters.

These conferenees have served as a medium of obtaining a greater and more efficient dissemination of information relating not only to national defense but also to general criminal matters. Present day law enforcement problems are discussed and instructions are given in new and modern techniques of combatting crime. Burlington Nine Chalk Up Another In Win Column Sat.

Burlington's Sunday School nine chalked up another victory Saturday afternoon when they trounced the Belleview team by a score of 12 to 4 on the Burlington grounds.

Brown started on the mound for Burlington, but was relieved by Benson in the third inning. Belleview collected four runs in the first two innings, but Benson put the fire out by facing 22 men in seven innings and allowing only one hit. He struck out 15 men, walking none.

Ivan Cason served them up for the Belleview team, striking out 11 walking five and allowing ten hits.

Tom Poole, Burlington third baseman led the attack for Burlington with three hits and a walk, scoring four times. Brown and Jones tripled for Burlington. Scott, Clore and White collected Belleview's three hits.

Belleview will try for revenge Saturday when they meet the local boys on the Burlington grounds at 2:30 (EWT).

HOMEMAKERS SELECT PROJECTS

DISTRICT MEETING WILL BE HELD AT WINCHESTER JUNE 15 — COUNCIL TO COLLECT CLOTHING.

The advisory council of Boone County Homemaker Clubs met recently in Burlington. The county president, Mrs. Leo Flynn, presided in her inimitable way, and opened the meeting with the collect, followed by the pledge to the flag. Many of the county chairmen and club presidents were present and gave good reports of work already accomplished. Those unable to attend sent in reports, which were read to the council by Miss Gillaspie. The 4-H chairman reported 522 boys and girls enrolled in 4-H; 254 of these are girls and 22 girls are enrolled in the sewing project. Miss Gillaspie announced the date for the 4-H Spring Rally, May 20.

It was disclosed by reports that Homemakers are also readers, 350 books having been read this year and this number does not include other reading matter obtained elsewhere. Thirteen new books have been added to the club library.

Our Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Gillaspie, announced a county contest in home canning and storing, of interest to the county at large as well as to Homemakers. Some very substantial prizes have been donated. Plans for the contest have not been completed.

Miss Lulie Logan, visiting specialist, announced the date of the district meeting at Winchester, June 15. Two very talented ladies, Miss Roed and Miss Dieken, will be on the program. Everyone who heard them on the Farm and Home program last January will want to see and hear them again.

The council voted to take up clothing and home furnishings as the major project next year, and live-at-home and poultry as minor projects. Committees for the county fall annual meeting were appointed by the president. Mrs. Flynn thanked the council for the good reports and wonderful cooperation.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

PAUL IN THESSALONICA

LESSON TEXT: Acts 17:1-4; I Thessalonians 2:1-12.
GOLDEN TEXT: Rejoice always; pray without ceasing; in everything give thanks. —I Thessalonians 5:16-18.

Strong, active, missionary-minded churches do not just "happen." They are the result of the preaching of a true and powerful message by a faithful and sacrificial messenger. Other factors enter in, but these are the fundamentals.

Paul's ministry at Thessalonica, which is described in Acts 17 and explained in I Thessalonians 2, reveals what should be preached and what kind of a preacher is needed. Perhaps some dead or unsuccessful church may learn the secret today and come to new life for Christ.

I. The Message—Christ the Saviour (Acts 17:1-4).

Paul had already met the varying lot of both persecution and acceptance, and had now come to Thessalonica, a large and important city in Macedonia, where he had a lengthy ministry and established a strong church.

What was the message which so signally succeeded in this great strategic center? Well, it was not (as some modern preachers in large cities would seem to think) a series of social, political, or literary discourses. Paul preached Christ. He reasoned with them and presented the Saviour (v. 3) as One who was—

1. Dead for our sin. These people were like us in that they needed a solution for their sin problem. There were doubtless other questions which Paul might have discussed, but he wisely went to the root of their difficulty and showed them "that Christ must needs have suffered."

Without the death of Christ there is no salvation for any man. Only through the shedding of blood can there be remission of sin (Heb. 9: 22). Paul had no part in the folly of a "bloodless gospel"—as though there were any such gospel.

2. Raised for our justification. It was not enough that Jesus died, marvelous as that is in our sight. For many a man has died for his convictions, but none has risen from the dead. Christ could not be holden of the grave. He arose the victorious Redeemer.

3. Declared to be the Christ. He is more than a man, more than a great leader and an earnest teacher. He is God's anointed One, Himself divine—and our Lord.

Thus Paul presented to the Jews their Messiah, "the Man of Sorrows" (Isa. 53), whose resurrection declared Him to be the Son of God with power (Rom. 1:4), their Redeemer and Lord. Blessed results followed such preaching (v. 4).

II. The Messenger—Approved of God (I. Thess. 2:1-12).

Sometimes a man with a true message largely nullifies its value by the manner in which he presents it, or by his manner of life in the community.

1. He was faithful (vv. 1-6). One of the great temptations facing the one who is a preacher or teacher of God's Word is to let his fear of men cause him to adjust his message, to use a bit of flattery, to please men.

Paul was "bold in our God" (v. 2), not trying to deceive or mislead anyone (v. 3), seeking only God's approval (v. 4), not trying to make money for himself or gain standing with men by smooth words (v. 5), and not claiming a high position or authority over men (v. 6).

2. He was affectionate (vv. 7-9). How often those who are faithful and bold in preaching the truth ruin the effect of their work by being harsh and unkind. Here is a lesson many of us need to learn.

To be gentle (v. 7) a man must be strong. The cardinal quality of a strong Christian should be that he is a gentleman, or she a gentlewoman. If not, there is not real strength in the life.

Paul gave not only a message, he gave himself—his very soul (v. 8). The people to whom he ministered were "dear" to him. The pastor who looks down at his congregation with hardness, and perhaps hatred for some individual, needs to read this passage and find Paul's secret of success.

He labored with his hands to support himself (v. 9), lest anyone think he was a burden to them. Let no one think that this means that a preacher is not worthy of support. Christ Himself declares that the laborer is worthy of his hire (Luke. 10:7). But it does show Paul's fine spirit of devotion and sacrifice.

3. He was unblamable (vv. 10-12). Holy in his life before God, Paul was ready to live righteously before men, and thus to stand unblamable before them and before his Lord. This indeed is a life worthy in the sight of God (v. 12).

In other words, the preacher was able to say to his listeners, "My life shows you what I mean by my preaching." The true preacher of the gospel will never be satisfied to be a signpost, pointing a way in which he does not walk.

WITH OUR BOYS IN THE SERVICE

Ft. Benning, Ga., April 28—Pvt. Charles Craddock, son of Walter E. Craddock, of Union, Ky., upon completion of nine weeks of intensive training has graduated from the basic and the advanced courses of the Communications School. This is one of the five Specialist Schools offered to the Parachutist at Fort Benning. Included are Communications, Riggers, Camoflage, Demolition and Machine Maintenance. Only qualified jumpers may apply and only the better men from each qualifying class will receive this instruction.

Without adequate means of communications, the existing machinery of war would quickly bog. It is an essential component of every Parachutist in combat. In the advanced course men learn to send code at the rate of thirteen words per minute, and are also given instruction in the finer points of dropping and operating communication equipment.

"I will try to write you a few lines and thank you for the paper. I really do enjoy reading it. I received two papers tonight and I just finished reading them.

"I have seen some things over here in Italy that I never would have seen if it had not been for the war, but I would sure like to see it end. I was here in Italy in time, and lucky enough to get see the eruption of Mount Vesuvius. It was a great thing to see, but it did do a little damage, I guess. I never have imagined a volcano would look like it did during the eruption.

"Pete, I have been getting letters from so many friends back home that I can't answer all of them and I would like to thank them for writing me and I will try to answer them as I can. I really enjoy getting lots of letters.

"I have been seeing Paul Clore, Ralph Cain and Pete Black almost every day.

"Well, it is getting late, so I guess I will close for now. Thanks again for the paper and tell all my friends, I said hello."

Chester Edwards of Boca Raton Field, Fla., writes:

"I guess I should be completely ashamed of myself for not writing sooner, thanking you for The Recorder. I have received it regularly since taking this position with Uncle Sam and have enjoyed it very much.

"I have been stationed in Florida for about 8 months and have been at three different fields and camps.

"My first week here I ran into 'Top' Porter. He was the second Boone countian I have met since being enlisted in this man's army. The other was Everett Caudill from somewhere near New Haven.

"I was in the same flight with 'Top' for a week, then I was transferred to a school flight.

"Just what I am studying is one of the army's big secrets so therefore I cannot tell you what it is.

"Tell all of the grand people in Boone County hello' and if any of them would care to write, I would appreciate it.

"I will thank you for the very nice gesture in sending the boys in service The Recorder."

Pvt. James G. Bullock 35876035, 974th Engr. Maint. Co., Camp Maxey, Texas., writes:

"It has been quite sometime since I have written you so will write a few lines. I am back in Texas now after finishing my school at Ft. Crook. The weather is quite warm and it rains almost every other day. There are plenty of snakes and lizards down here.

"I have been receiving The Recorder regularly and sure do enjoy reading it. That way I can keep up with the folks back home and also the boys in the service. That is the section I enjoy reading most."

Pfc. Robert S. McNeely (CP) Hq. Seacoast Group "B" Smith Def. Bn. care Fleet P. O., San Francisco, Calif., writes:

"Just a few lines to let you know that I have been receiving The Recorder regularly for the past three months and to say how much it means to a fellow to get news like that over here.

"This is the (censored) I have been on since I left the states, but it doesn't start to compare with (censored) . Very little that we are allowed to write about out here, can't say where I am or what I am doing, except that I am in communications.

"I left the states about the first of December. Until then Buster Romans and I were stationed at the same camp in California. It was really swell to be with an old friend for a while. We left the states about the same time, but not in the same outfit.

"Would like to hear from a certain fellow in the Navy, Wayne See Jr.! Remember me?

"What I really want to do Pete, is to say, 'thanks a million for the Boone County Recorder.'"

In a letter received from Staff Sgt. William L. Noell, he gives us his change of address: Staff Sgt. William L. Noell USMC, VMF 462, MBDAG 43, El Centro, Calif. He writes to tell all his relatives and friends of the county that he sends his regards.

Pfc. W. E. Feldhaus, Sec. A, AAF Base Unit 2128, Cochran Field, Macon, Ga., writes:

"I don't know you personally, but since you are so kind to send The Recorder and it seems all the boys do know you well enough to call you Pete, I shall do the same.

"My address has been changed and I thought it best to notify you, for then if I have the correct address I will get the news from home on Friday instead of Saturday, and I tell you it can't come too quick.

"As far as I know I am the only person here from Boone County, but all the boys in my barracks seem to get as much kick out of The Recorder as I do. Especially do I like to read the letters from our boys and learn where they are. I have written to several of the boys after finding their address in The Recorder.

"Thanking you again and wishing you the best of luck and wanting to hear from my friends at home."

William Frederick Kruse, Navy 822, (Div. A) care Fleet Post Office, New York, N. Y., writes:

"Just a few lines to thank you for the home town paper. I have received quite a few of the Recorders, but this is my first chance to write you.

"The Recorder sure brings back a lot of memories of good old Boone County. The thing I like to read most is "With Our Boys in The Service.' I have been able to find out where a lot of the fellows are stationed from Boone County.

"Pete, I would like you to continue sending the Recorder to my new address. I am looking forward to being back in good old Kentucky some of these days.

"Thanks again for The Recorder, and I am looking for more letters from some of the old gang in Boone County. I am somewhere in Italy."

LESS WORK PULLS TOBACCO PLANTS

A leaflet published by the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics tells how to save work in pulling tobacco plants. Twelve pictures help to show how some farmers have developed easier and quicker ways of getting this job done. One of the pictures shows the use of a plant-bed board.

"Pulling the plants is tiring at best," says the leaflet, "but the use of a plant-bed board to sit on while pulling across the bed does away with much of the standing, stooping, or squatting that otherwise is necessary. This one device alone, which many farmers have not been using, speeds up the work and does much to make it easier."

RECOVER AUTO SEATS

Instead of buying new pieces of furniture, members of the Farmington Homemakers' Club in Graves county are saving money by recovering seats from discarded automobiles. A frame is made the correct height for the seat, then a slip cover is tailored. The result is a modern-style divan or chair, comfortable and attractive.

There is only one way of straightening a bent frame—it's in our frame press which eliminates heat weakening and body or motor removal. Prompt accurate work.

KEEP ON Backing the Attack WITH WAR BONDS

NOTICE!
Attention is called to persons driving tractors with sharp lugs on our black-top roads, causing damage. This is against the law. The county does not want to have persons cited, but must do so if this practice continues. It is your tax money that is wasted.
BOONE COUNTY ROAD DEPARTMENT

JENNY JERK
— who yanks appliance cords from outlets
Almost everyone but Jenny knows that yanking on an appliance cord may loosen connections, break the fine wires under insulation and perhaps cause a short circuit. Homemakers who want their cords to last always release them by taking hold of the plug itself. And they also follow these other tips on the use and care of their cords:
- Don't place cords under rugs where they will be walked on or crushed by heavy furniture.
- Don't run cords through doorways where they will be squeezed by opening and closing of door.
- Don't use frayed or defective cords or cords with loose connections. Have them repaired.
- Never tack or nail through a cord. If long extensions must be used, run them through screw-eyes or over hooks.
- Keep non-waterproof cords dry.
- Don't wad up cords or allow them to knot and kink. Coil them loosely and lay them in a drawer when not in use.

By keeping your appliance cords in good condition, you will get better service from your appliances. Take good care of them and make them last.

Ninety-One Acre Tract Near Burlington Sold

A. G. McMullen sold his farm of 91.37 acres, 1 mile out on the Burlington-Petersburg Road to Lester W. Gulley, Monday, through A. B. Renaker.

This farm is across the road near Mr. Gulley's present tract of land and is one of the good farms around Burlington, being well improved.

Mr. McMullen will remain on the farm this season and give possession around the first of the year.

Farm Labor Notes Given By Will Smith

Sheep Shearing—Large numbers of requests for sheep shearing are being received at the county office. Some of the custom operators began work Monday morning of this week. Higher prices are asked by some custom operations this year. The office will supply all requests with the list of available custom operators and the farmers where possible, should contact the operator direct. All asssitance possible will be rendered farmers needing help.

Tractor Plowing—Farmers are as late this year in their spring plowing as they were in 1943. Farmers owning tractors and custom operators will play a most important role in getting land prepared for planting. Farmers who have tractors with which they would assist neighbors and all customer operators with equipment for hire are urged to notify the County Agent's office. Farmers who must hire extra equipment or help are urged to notify the office at the earliest possible date. It is often impossible to have equipment available exactly on the day needed.

Several applications for day and month hired help are on file at the office. Everyone who knows of unemployed help available for farm workers is urged to notify Will Smith at Burlington or the County Agent's office.

Peach Growers Urged To Use Spray Immediately

Peach and plum curculio (worms that make wormy peaches) were out in large numbers on peaches, last part of the past week. Peach growers cooperating in the Northern Kentucky Insectory program were notified to use at the earliest possible date, a spray containing 2½ pounds of arsenate of lead, 2 pounds of zinc sulphate per 100 gallons of water. The spray should be repeated in 10 to 14 days.

C. Liston Hempfling of Constance, reported he completed spraying a large peach orchard with the above mixture last Saturday morning.

Apples not properly sprayed this year, may be badly affected with scab. The season so far has been excellent for scab infection.

Coddling moths that make wormy apples may be expected to begin their infestation locally around May 15th. A poison spray should be applied.

Grapes will in all probability be affected with rot unless they are sprayed before bloom. Follow closely the college recommended spray schedule available at the county office.

Prospects so far are for another good fruit crop. Growers who are not thoroughly familiar with needed spray applications should secure leaflets at the County Agent's Office giving this information.

SETS LAMB RECORD

Avery Carr of the Pilot Oak community in Graves county has a lamb production record that will be hard to beat, says County Agent Wilson R. Hoover. Thirteen ewes have 22 living lambs. One ewe had triplets, seven had twins and five had singles.

SPECIAL WEEK URGES SHEEP IMPROVEMENT

Wider use of the drug called phenothiazine to keep sheep free from worms was stressed during the recent "phenothiazine week" in Kentucky. Representatives of the United States Department of Agriculture and of the sheep interests in other states, and of the meat packers and others interested in the livestock industry, joined the Kentucky College of Agriculture in an educational program to encourage the production of better sheep. Special attention was given to improving the quality of late lambs.

A leaflet issued by the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics sets out the following 12-point sheep management program:

1. Don't save late lambs for breeding ewes.
2. Don't buy parasites into the flock when adding sheep.
3. Dose all sheep with phenothiazine in the late fall and again after lambing in the spring.
4. See that the flock is well fed.
5. Have clean quarters at lambing time.
6. Don't spread sheep or cow manure on fields that will be used for the flock that season.
7. Keep a mixture of one part of phenothiazine and nine parts of salt before flock from May through September.
8. If tapeworms are present, treat with a mixture of bluestone and blackleaf 40.
9. Provide for pasture rotation.
10. Keep fences in repair to prevent sheep going from field to field.
11. See that flock can get to fresh water readily at all times.
12. Finish for May and June marketing as many lambs as possible.

FARMERS URGED TO SAVE CLOVER SEED

When it is planned to save seed from the second crop of red clover, it is considered better to cut the first crop before it is in full bloom, says a statement from the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics urging farmers to save clover seed wherever practical.

When the first crop is not cut until after full bloom the seed production of the second crop may be reduced as much as 25 percent, says the college. It also is noted that the best hay comes from the first crop when it is cut just before it reaches full bloom. Hence, early cutting means better hay and better seed.

Seed yields of the second crop of red clover in Kentucky are commonly much better than those of the first crop. Hay yields of the second crop, on the other hand, are usually lower than those of the first crop, and the hay less desirable for general feeding. For these reasons, notes the college, if either crop is harvested for seed it is usually the second crop.

Since larger amounts of clover seed than normal are likely to be needed during the war, it is desirable that as much seed as possible be harvested in Kentucky this season.

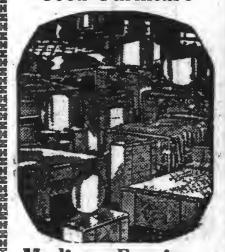
In Elliott county, farmers will increase their planting of hybrid corn to approximately 3,500 acres this year.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Whatever the price of eggs, they are gold mines when it comes to food value and should be included frequently in the family meals. Unlike many other foods, they appeal at breakfast, dinner or supper. There is no waste in eggs, they are easy to prepare and serve, their mild flavor blends with all foods, and, rich in protein and minerals, they are protective foods.

For the greatest enjoyment of eggs, food specialists recommend that they be prepared in a variety of ways. Regardless of the method selected, use a moderate temperature, says the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

Fluffy Omelet: 1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 6 eggs, ½ cup milk.



Make a white sauce of the butter, flour and milk. Add this to the well-beaten egg yolks, stirring constantly. Bat the egg whites until foamy, add the salt and continue beating until stiff. Fold in the yolk mixture to the beaten whites then pour the mixture into a well greased skillet or frying pan. Cook over moderate heat. When the omelet has browned slightly on the bottom, bake it in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 10 minutes. When it is done, crease it with a knife from edge to edge, fold half over and roll the omelet on to a hot platter. Serve at once.

Variations: (1) Add ½ cup chopped ham, bacon or grated cheese to the egg mixture before it is cooked. (2) Add 1 cup of cooked vegetables, such as peas, mushrooms or asparagus to the mixture before it is cooked. (3) Add 1 cup of a combination of chopped onion, green pepper, celery and parsley, delicately friend in butter, to the egg mixture before it is cooked, or spread one-half over the cooked mixture before it is folded.

Menu: Fluffy omelet, buttered asparagus, browned potatoes, vegetable salad with horseradish dressing, rye bread and butter, and rhubarb roll.

HOMEMAKERS' CLUB PLANS RECREATION

Members of the Oscar Homemakers' Club in Ballard county are of the opinion that farm families do a better wartime job if they get together occasionally for recreation. During the winter months, the club arranged weekly parties at different homes. Community social at the school building included taffy pulls, folk games, picture shows and old-fashioned box suppers. Home agent Susan Davis reports that more than 100 were in attendance at a recent meeting.

Feet And The Law Of Tissue

N. TULCH

Foot Comfort Specialist at—

PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE

814-816 Madison, Covington

There is a natural law constantly at work in the tissues of the human body. We must understand that bone, muscle and nerve consist of millions of ever changing tiny bodies called cells. These cells are held together with the tissue fluid and substances of the body.

Therefore bone, muscle and ligament respectively share the influence of this law, that constant tension causes wasting especially in the feet when the body weight which they carry about and support is not evenly distributed and balanced throughout the twelve major bones of the foot framework.

If ligaments are stretched, due to long and careless standing especially — those which bind the weight-supporting and key bones together, these ligaments finally yield in about the fifth or sixth year to strain and abuse and pull away from the bone attachments.

The rest which the night affords is not enough to counteract continuous strain during the day.

This same law holds true of the muscles and tendon attachments of the feet which lift the body weight on the metatarsal heads or pivots. On the other hand, constant pressure causes wasting of tissue.

If the muscles do not hold the weight-bearing joints of feet in proper dovetailing and interlocking action, these joints become deranged, misshaped and deformed because of the pressure of the body weight upon their point surface.

When we consider that we drive hundreds of tons of aggregate weight upon bones of each foot every day that we live it is easily understood why feet degenerate.

Can you be well with unhealthy feet. Those headaches, those backaches, those leg pains may be caused by the shoes you are wearing.—Adv.

FOR BETTER EGGS IN HOT WEATHER

Hot weather brings problems in handling eggs. The Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics lists the following things that can be done to help preserve egg quality and prevent loss:

Produce infertile eggs. Gather eggs often—two or three times a day. Produce clean eggs. Arrange nests so the hens enter from the back. Keep ample nesting material in the nests. Keep a deep litter on the floor and keep hens away from the dropping by placing wire over the roosts. Hold eggs in as cool a place as possible. Market eggs often. Watch for lice and mites.

Says C. E. Harris of the College: "Just because things are not so favorable now should not discourage good feeding and management of the growing chicks. The way we care for them will determine what we get back next fall."

KENTUCKY MAN SELLS TOP-FINISHED STEERS

W. J. Foster of Daviess county sold 60 Angus steers which were said by buyers to be the best-finished cattle received at the stockyards in Evansville, Ind., in two years. They averaged 1,160 pounds. All but one sold for 16½ cents, that one bringing two cents less a pound. Farm Agent John E. McClure notes that 19 of the steers had been bred by Mr. Foster.

FERTILIZER BOOSTS ONE-SUCKER YIELDS

Charles R. Neely of Simpson county proved last year that a liberal use of fertilizer will result in a high yield of one-sucker tobacco. On 4.1 acres, he harvested 2,160 pounds per acre. Farm Agent Woodrow Coots says that Neely used approximately 10 loads of stable manure to the acre, a part of which was turned under and, in addition, he broadcast 500 pounds of 20 percent phosphate and used 200 pounds of 4-12-8 a t the row.

CIRCULAR DEALS WITH FREEZER LOCKER FOOD

In response to wide interest in freezer lockers, the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics has issued a circular dealing with the preparation, packing, freezing, thawing and cooking of freezer locker foods. There will soon be lockers in 36 Kentucky counties.

Locker managers, factory representatives, and farm and home demonstration agents in counties having lockers attended a two-day conference at the University of Kentucky in which phases of the freezer locker method of food conservation were discussed.

ORCHARD GRASS CAN BE THREE-WAY CROP

How orchard grass may be grown as a triple-production crop is brought out in an article from the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. It can be grazed in early spring, a seed crop harvested about midsummer, and then it can be grazed again or cut for hay.

Orchard grass is well adapted to all parts of Kentucky, the college says. The interest in good pastures has increased the demand for seed. Formerly about a third of the orchard grass seed used in this country came from Denmark. That supply is now cut off. Also large quantities of seed are needed for export to England.

Farmers are told that orchard grass seed production is profitable at present. Prices are high, and a crop of seed provides a substantial cash income or saves spending money for seed, without materially lessening the feed produced by the crop. The stubble may be used for pasture or cut for hay.

Harvesting orchard grass seed does not require special machinery the college points out. It may be handled by equipment already on the farm or in the neighborhood. The usual method is to cut with a grain binder and thresh with an ordinary separator. In some instances combines can be used. Small lots can be cut with a mower, or even with a cradle.

IN MEMORY

Of Harry W. Riley on his birthday, May 13, 1944.

The passing of Harry W. Riley on December 22, 1942 removed from the town of Union, Ky., a man to whom the word "righteous" applied with dignity and truth. He was righteous in his attitude and righteous in his actions. Throughout a life distinguished by kindliness and the fear of God, he lived up to the best that was in him.

Of how many others of us can as much be said? And how many others of us, at passing, will leave in the community so real a vacancy. 1t-c

FIVE PER CENT MORE CANNING

ASKED OF HOMEMAKERS BY GOVERNMENT—CUT IS FACED BY CIVILIANS IN MORE POPULAR CANNED FRUITS.

The Government has asked that all homemakers whether living in town or in the country can 5 percent more fruits and vegetables than last year. Because of the increased supply required for military and Lend-Lease needs, civilians face in 1944 an approximate cut of 43 per cent in the more popular canned fruits and a 19 percent cut in the best-liked canned vegetables.

Homemakers are urged, to start their canning season early, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent. By starting early, the homemaker has the opportunity to can a greater variety and get a product that is more flavorful and tender.

Now is the time to can rhubarb, wild greens, spinach and kale. Canned rhubarb brings a breath of spring into the winter menu. In canning rhubarb, wash, trim, cut in one to two-inch pieces, measure, add one-fourth as much sugar as rhubarb. Cook without water by baking in oven until tender. Pack in hot, sterilized jars, seal (see directions of jar lids you are using), process five minutes, in a hot water bath.

The University of Kentucky bulletin, "Can Fruits and Vegetables for Victory" may be obtained from the Home Agent's office in Burlington or call Burlington 412.

WHY YOU ARE WANTED IN THE U. S. NAVY

Never in history has there been such an urgent need for the services of American women. This is total war,—a war in which every woman as well as every man must play a part.

The men in the Navy are in for one reason alone—to fight! They're in to fly the planes, man the ships, smash the Nazis and Japs.

But to back their attack, to keep them fighting, there are important non-combatant jobs which must be filled. Vital military jobs which you can fill. Jobs which thousands of women just like yourself are already doing.

Thousands more are needed. You are needed—Needed now!

Learn the following from your nearest Navy recruiting station, Post Office Building, Covington, Ky.:

1. Work you will do as a WAVE.
2. The new life you will live.
3. Where you will serve on active duty.
4. How you will live.
5. How much you will earn.
6. Extras you are entitled to.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hensley and family were Sunday guests of Mrs. George Freeland and Mrs. Milburn Mills and daughter, of Florence.

Many Farmers Use Nitrate On Plant Beds

Many farmers called the County Agent's office the past week in reference to applying nitrate fertilizer to tobacco beds where the plants had not made desirable growth. The application of nitrate of soda quickly stimulates plant growth but may make tender, brittle plants that may need hardening before transplanting.

The recommended application of nitrate of soda for a bed 9 feet wide and 300 feet long is as follows: Dissolve ten pounds of nitrate of soda in a fifty gallon barrel of water. Five gallons of this solution will treat from 20 to 30 running feet of a nine-foot bed. Twice as much water as the amount of solution used should be used to wash the plants off. The canvas should be removed when applying.

A limited number of College of Agriculture Extension Circulars No. 77 is available at the County Agent's office on request.

Burlington Baseball Team Takes Second Game From Belleview

The Burlington Sunday School team took their second consecutive game from the Belleview nine Saturday by the score of 12-3.

Belleview, playing a good defensive game, held the Burlington boys to one run until the sixth inning, when Burlington drove 11 runs across the plate. Belleview collected two of their three runs in the sixth when Dave Clore tripled with two men on base.

Bob Brown served them up for the Burlington nine, striking out 23 men, walking 4 and allowed only four hits. Ivan Cason, Belleview southpaw, was on the mound for Belleview for the first 7 inning. Clore, White and Scott, divided mound duties the remainder of the game.

Benson, Jones and Tom Poole led the offensive for Burlington, each collecting two hits. Dave Clore led the attack for Belleview with a triple and single.

Burlington plays two games this week, both at the local diamond. Hebron will be here for a twilight game Thursday evening at 6:00 E. W. T. and Florence will visit Burlington Saturday at 3:30 EWT.

FERTILIZER AVAILABLE

ACCORDING TO REPORTS—SUPPLY LARGER THAN DEMAND —WILL PAY FARMERS TO USE THIS NEW FERTILIZER.

The County Agent's office in Burlington was notified Monday that the supply of the new ammonium nitrate fertilizer is at present larger than the demand. Farmers where possible, are urged to take advantage of this cheap fertilizer.

Ammonium nitrate is a by-product of the factories making explosives. It tests 32.5 per cent nitrogen compared with approximately 15 per cent for nitrate of soda and 20 per cent of ammonium sulphate. The price of this new high powered nitrogen fertilizer is around $60.00 per ton. Some dealers who have encountered increased expense in locating the material are forced to charge slightly more.

Nitrogen fertilizer is the quickest acting, most active and powerful of all the fertilizers used. One hundred pounds per acre plowed under is expected to increase corn yields around 10 bushels per acre. Grass and hay crops show immediate results.

The post-war period will probably see our farmers using large amounts of ammonium nitrate. It will pay most farmers to start this year to learn how to best use this important fertilizer. Approximately ten tons have already been sold to farmers in the county.

LIVESTOCK AND FARMING TOOLS WILL BE SOLD AT WALTON, SATURDAY

Having sold their farm through Rel C. Wayman, Covington real estate agent, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Johnson will hold a public auction Saturday, May 20, 10 a. m., (CWT) or 11 a. m. (EWT). on the premises, three miles south of Walton, on Green Road, one mile off Dixie Highway.

Included in the sale will be cows, horses, pigs, farming tools, harness, household goods, etc.

Rel C. Wayman will conduct the sale. Harry Johnson and Lute Bradford are auctioneers.

Gordon Gaines, of Houston, Texas was called here on account of the serious illness of his father, A. W. Gaines, of Erlanger.

Mr. and Mrs. George Riley, of Pasadena, California and Mr. and Mrs. George Hankins Riley, of Louisville, called on Mrs. Ida Balsly Sunday afternoon.

HOME FOOD IS CONTRIBUTION

TO NATION'S PROGRAM—RESPONSIBLE FOR TAKING MANY OF THE NATION'S FOOD OFF RATION LIST.

Home food production the past year has been given credit as the outstanding contribution in the nation's food production program. It is largely responsible for taking many of the nation's foods off the ration list.

This year, 1944 probably presents a more serious threat than last year, according to the County Agent's office. With rationing not so severe in many instances, many families may not work as hard in the planning and producing of their 1944 food supply. Many of the wiser and more experienced will probably plan to expand their production, expecting a more acute shortage than was anticipated last year.

Below are a few important and timely home food production suggestions:

1. Dairy cow or cows—The dairy cow is the most efficient source of high quality food. Milk is the nation's number on food shortage problem. Where possible, feed well. Feed usually is the limiting factor in all livestock production problems.

2. Plant a good garden based on family needs. Make a good seed bed; use good seeds and an abundance of fertilizer.

3. Poultry and hogs—Raise where possible own meat and plan for at least enough early hatched pullets to supply own eggs for this winter.

Milk Price Increase Requested By Producers

Producer organizations of the Cincinnati milk shed requested the AAA Market Administration last Wednesday to increase the price of whole milk from $3.55 for class one milk or $4.00 per hundred. Class two milk will also be increased.

Production cost figures secured from representative farmers showed that the cost of producing milk had risen and that the prices paid producers in other markets had risen while the price in Cincinnati since 1942 had not changed. The local County Agent attending the meeting reported prospects for a price increase looked favorable.

PAUL IN CORINTH

LESSON TEXT—Acts 18:1-4; I Corinthians 13.
GOLDEN TEXT—But now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; and the greatest of these is love.—I Corinthians 13:13.

Who is a Christian? One might answer in a number of ways. He is one who has been saved by the redeeming grace of Jesus Christ. He is one who seeks to live a life in accord with the will of God. He is a witness for God, and so on. But the answer that the whole world understands is a life in which the redeeming love of Christ begets a true love for one's fellow man.

I. An Example of Christian Love (Acts 18:1-4).

Teaching and preaching are God's ordained way for presenting the truth. They are effective, but only when done by one whose life exemplifies the truth. In his letter to the Corinthians Paul gives the greatest discussion of love known to the world, but before he wrote it he had lived that truth before them. The Holy Spirit spoke through him of love, because He had already lived the truth out in the preacher.

Two things appear here: Paul was:

1. Working (vv. 1-3). The world's most distinguished missionary and preacher had arrived in Corinth. Where was the welcoming committee of local dignitaries? There was none. Whose comfortable home would receive him? None was offered. His was the lot of the pioneer for Christ. He had to hunt up a Jewish fellow craftsman and go to work to earn his bread.

Paul, like every other Jewish boy, had learned a trade, something he could do with his hands. He was a tent and sail maker, and was not ashamed to work at his trade. A more recent follower of Christ put it thus: "My business is to preach the gospel, but I pack meat to pay the expenses."

But notice that Paul did not let this work become the chief thing. As the Lord prospered him he did not decide to "go back into business." No, for his real business was:

2. Witnessing (v. 4). He began, as was his custom, in the synagogue, presenting Christ to Jews and Greeks. The Jews opposed him (see v. 6), and then Paul addressed himself to the Gentiles.

God prospered that ministry and encouraged Paul by a vision, assuring him that the Lord had "much people" (v. 10) in that wicked city. The love of Christ in Paul thus shone forth as a light in the darkness of sin and superstition.

Love was something which the heathen world of Paul's day had so misrepresented and distorted (even as it has today) that it needed definition and exposition. So we have—

II. An Explanation of Christian Love (I Cor. 13).

This is one of the outstanding chapters of all Scripture. Its magnificent discussion of the greatest of all themes has drawn forth many choice expositions.

The thought centers around the emptiness of the loveless life, the glory of the life of love, and the eternal unchangeable power of love. We gather it up in three words.

1. Indispensable (vv. 1-3). Without love man's attainments are empty. He may become an orator with a "heavenly" gift of speech, but unless he truly loves, his elegant and persuasive talk is just a meaningless noise. How true!

One may also have marvelous gifts of prophetic insight and a wonder-working faith, and find that it is all a vain and empty experience without love. Our world leaders could well study that verse just now.

Sacrificial interest in the needs of mankind is a fine trait in man, but it must have the love of Christ in it or it too is profitless. As we think of feeding the hungry nations of the earth, let us not forget to make it worth while by doing it in Christian love.

2. Incomparable (vv. 4-7). The standard for the life of a Christian is a very high one; in fact, it is impossible of attainment apart from the grace and power of Christ. Naturally, we find curselves to be impatient, proud, suspicious, resentful, etc. The new nature in Christ is just the opposite, for love rules.

Note that phrase "endureth all things." We need that in these days when it is so hard to keep on going, or as someone said, "to keep on keeping on." Love endures all things.

3. Immutable (vv. 8-13). All things in life change and pass away. Love is eternal and unchangeable. Even the spiritual gifts have their fulfillment and pass from view, but love shall endure through all eternity. God, the Eternal One, is love (I John 4:8, 16).

When we shall come to that perfectness of understanding which is to be ours one day, when we shall know even as God now knows us, then we shall see love as the supreme gift, eternal in its power and validity.

—who leaves her range units on high after food begins to boil

Switching to low heat promptly when food comes to boil not only conserves electricity but also prolongs the life of the units. Don't forget and leave them on high like the young lady above. And follow these other timely tips on the use and care of your range:

- Use surface units in rotation. Favoring one unit will cause it to wear out before the others, and in these days replacements are difficult.
- Make sure oven units are pushed in tightly. A loose fit causes arcing, which will pit and burn terminal points.
- Use utensils that fit the units. Utensils larger than units spread heat to porcelain finish and may craze it.
- Wash porcelain finish with warm, mild soapy water. Don't use gritty cleaners or abrasives and be sure range is cool. Wipe up spilled milk or fruit juices promptly to avoid staining finish.
- Don't use sharp instruments to clean surface units. Spilled food will burn away.
- Don't slam oven doors and don't let the children sit on them.

Your range is probably the most important single piece of equipment in your home. Don't neglect it. Keep it in top-notch condition for the duration.

Can You Picture
KENTUCKY
without its War Activities?

War is a long way from Kentucky—but in so many ways it's mighty close to us. Our men are fighting all over the world — our factories and farms are producing an endless stream of supplies our troops depend upon. But even that isn't all — it wouldn't be enough!

We have so much more to do right here in Kentucky — jobs that are up to all of us, jobs that must be well done. In the 4th War Bond Drive, for instance, Kentuckians bought $127,000,000 worth — 22% above our quota — but we're keeping right on buying more and more! We've gladly given our money and more than 66,000 donations of our blood to the Red Cross — and hundreds of thousands of hours of our time to making surgical dressings and kits for our men overseas.

We've supported and worked for the U.S.O. and various war relief groups. We've built and maintained an efficient Civilian Defense organization. We've collected scrap and rubber, tin and fats. Whatever has been asked, Kentucky has done — and then some!

The men and women of the Greyhound Lines, like their fellow-citizens of Kentucky, have shared in all of these activities. They've also shared in the vital job of moving wartime manpower—in uniform or in work clothes. Greyhound buses — by making near neighbors and good neighbors of all the communities they serve in this State — by linking cities, war plants, farm centers, and military camps — are helping to keep Kentucky's war efforts rolling toward Victory!

TRIMBLE TOMATO CROP PROFITABLE

More than 16 tons of tomatoes to the acre were produced by James McKinney of Trimble county on two acres last year, bringing him an income of $980. He applied 600 pounds of 3-9-6 fertilizer to the acre, and set plants every 35 inches in rows 38 inches apart.

Another grower in the same county, D. E. Barnes, produced an average of 11 tons per acre on [illegible] acres, returning him approximately $1,855. Mr. Barnes plans to build up the soil better than last year when he used 1,100 pounds of rock phosphate with an application of 2-12-6 fertilizer.

Considering the growing season last year, these records are excellent, notes Farm Agent J. D. Tolbert, as the county average is around five or six tons to the acre. Tomatoes are one of the most important war food crops, and farmers are being encouraged to grow as many as possible.

Weak Feet Affect Body

N. TULCH

Foot Comfort Specialist at—

PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE

814-816 Madison, Covington

When feet are permitted to pronate inwardly, the bony structure of the foot goes down, shutting off the nerve and blood supply in the bottom of the foot. When you crap or choke the blood stream and slow up circulation, there is a lack of bone repair; chemical deposits, or waste matter form at the points. Next inflammation sets in at these joints causing pain. That inflammation is often mistaken for rheumatism, arthritis and many other ailments. Altho when you cramp the blood supply you shut off the food supply to the nerves.

When nerves are impoverished, muscle tone is impaired because sensory nerves indirectly control motor nerves which in turn control the muscles. When muscles in the feet have lost their tonicity due to impoverishment of the nerves feet are no longer subconsciously held in normal position.

Surgical shoes give support to the vital arches in the feet releasing cramped nerves and blood vessels to promote better circulation. Gradually as circulation improves, muscles grow strong and regain their tonicity.

With foot health improved the person feels better all over. Research has shown that no less than eighty-seven diseases are indirectly caused by bad feet.

Don't take chances with your health, happiness and peace of mind. With foot comfort you'll live longer and feel better.—Adv.

MAN HAD BRICK IN HIS STOMACH FOR 10 YEARS

One man recently stated that for 10 years he felt like he had a brick in his stomach. This feeling was due to the lump of undigested food he always had inside of him. He was weak, worn out, headachy, swollen with gas and terribly constipated. Recently he started taking ERB-HELP and says the feeling like a brick in his stomach disappeared the second day. Bowels are regular now, gas and headaches are gone and he feels like a new man.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Elsmere Pharmacy, Dixie Highway.

NOTICE!

Attention is called to persons driving tractors with sharp lugs on our blacktop roads, causing damage. This is against the law. The county does not want to have persons cited, but must do so if this practice continues. It is your tax money that is wasted.

WILL CELEBRATE 150TH BIRTHDAY

BULLITTSBURG BAPTISTS PLAN CELEBRATION JUNE 4TH—ALL MEMBERS AND FORMER MEMBERS URGED TO ATTEND.

The Bullittsburg Baptist Church will celebrate its 150th anniversary Sunday, June 4th, according to officials of the church. An all-day meeting is planned, with a picnic lunch at the noon hour.

Speakers on the program for the day are: J. S. Kirtley, Henry M. Holliday, J. W. Campbell, C. L. Cropper, F. B. Taylor and Roy Evans.

The Church Directory is composed of the following: Moderator, A. B. Ligon; Clerk, W. B. Campbell; Treasurer, G. H. Grant; Board of Deacons, G. B. Yates, E. A. Martin, Wm Gray, W. B. Campbell; Trustees, Chas. Stevens, G. B. Yates and E. B. Elliott; Pianist, Mrs. Nell D. Grant; Music Director, W. B. Campbell; Sunday School Superintendent, C. L. Lancaster; Secretary, Ralph Elliott; Treasurer, Miss Lucy Lee Grant; S. S. Pianist, Martha Pfalzgraf; Choirister, Henry Holladay; President Missionary Society, Mrs. Bernice Snyder; Secretary and Treasurer, Miss Mattie Kreylich; Sunday School Teachers, Mrs. Mary V. Gaines, Mrs. Margaret Yates, Miss Mattie Kreylich, Mrs. Mayree Holladay, W. B. Campbell, Henry Holladay.

All members and former members of the church are extended a cordial invitation to spend the day at Bullittsburg and join in this celebration.

Following is a brief history of the church since its organization:

In 1797 the year George Washington was finishing his second term as President of the United States, a hardy band of pioneers in Boone County, were building a church.

The same church still stands and remains a place of worship. It has survived the elements, Indian warefare and all destructive influences. Today it gives promise of rounding out another century as a house of God. The pioneer workmen built better than they had any idea. Its thick walls are just as sturdy as they were in the infant days of the Republic.

To the members of the Baptist faith in Northern Kentucky, Bullittsburg Baptist Church is known as the "mother church." From it sprang all Baptist congregations in Northern Kentucky. To the majority of Baptists, Bullitt's Bottom, where the church was founded in 1797 is known as North bend.

The Bullitt's Bottom settlement was one of a few scattered thruout Northern Kentucky. It was perhaps, the first one to erect a church.

The "mother church" was constituted as the "Baptist Church of Christ," according to Mrs. George Kreylich of Burlington, a member of the congregation and an authority on its history. It apparently is the oldest church left standing in Kentucky. As far as is known the churches erected at about the same date, or prior to it, have been torn down for one reason or another.

Ministers were more plentiful in those days than at present, it seems as the records show that two or more pastors served the church at the same time.

Eager to see the Gospel spread to other sections, the Bullittsburg folk went to adjoining settlements to organize churches. It was through the zeal of these pious men and women that the early Northern Kentuckians owe their religious training. Many churches were established by them in Southern Indiana as well.

Beginning in 1822, Elder Robert Kirtley served as pastor, assisted by Elders James Dicken and Absalom Graves. In 1826 both Dicken and Graves died. For thirty-seven years thereafter Elder Kirtley was the sole pastor. Such a situation had not existed since the second year of the founding of the church.

In 1862 Elder Kirtley's son, J. A. Kirtley, became assistant pastor of the church. He continued in this capacity until his father's death, in 1872, when he took over the pastorate. He served until his death in 1898. Thus a father and son served the church as pastors for seventy-six years.

After this the church had a number of pastor for short periods. Among them were Elders Hoover, Sproler, Early, Skillman and Brooks.

In March 1913, Elder J. W. Campbell became pastor. He held the position as pastor until 1937 when he resigned. Since 1937 the church has been served by Rev. Leo Drake, Rev, Forest Taylor and Rev. Roy Evans.

WOOL GROWERS MEET SATURDAY

TO DECIDE ON METHOD FOR SELLING 1944 CLIP—GROWERS WILL BE ASKED TO APPROVE SALE PLAN.

Boone County Wool Pool members are being called to a meeting at 9:00 p. m. (Eastern War Time) at Burlington on this Saturday, May 27th, to decide on a method for selling the 1944 clip, according to H. E. White, president of the pool.

The pool originally planned to sell the clip under sealed bids. Present Government restrictions requiring that all wool be graded and sold to the Commodity Credit Corporation makes the former plan impractical.

The sales committee has arranged for a plan whereby the wool can be delivered and paid for at a satisfactory price on a similar basis to previous years. Growers will be asked at the meeting Saturday evening to approve this plan before it is finally adopted.

4F'S ELIGIBLE FOR SERVICE

They are also guaranteed by Public Law 87, 78th Congress, the same reemployment rights of a veteran who enlisted or was inducted into the Armed Forces. The pay scale is that of the Armed Forces. They also state they are especially anxious to secure men with prior Navy or Merchant Marine Service, or men who are familiar with seafaring subjects to act as instructors on training ships and at training stations. Any inquiries should be addressed to the Commandant, U. S. Maritime Service, Training Organization, War Shipping Administration, National Theatre Building, Washington 25, D. C.

30-DAY FURLOUGH GIVEN LOCAL MAN

HAS FIFTY MISSIONS TO HIS CREDIT OVER GERMAN TERRITORY—AWARDED AIR MEDAL RECENTLY.

T/Sgt. Alfred Ranes, 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ranes of Burlington, arrived home Thursday night of last week, from a AAF base somewhere overseas.

Sgt. Ranes completed his fiftieth combat mission as a radio operator-gunner on a B-17 Flying Fortress March 30, over Sofia, Bulgaria, according to an official announcement from the War Department.

He is enjoying a thirty-day furlough with his parents and friends in Boone County. One of his most exciting trips was over Toulon, France on March 7. 1943 when his plane was badly damaged, but the crew was able to return to their base. Three enemy fighters were shot down that day.

Sgt. Ranes entered the army on July 17, 1942, gaining his wings on January 12, 1943 at Tyndall Field, Florida. He has been overseas since June 24, 1943, making his first combat mission over Aquino, Italy, July 29, 1943.

He was awarded the Air Medal with nine Oak Leaf Clusters by the War Department recently.

CO. BOOTH DRIVE EXCEEDS QUOTA

COUNTY CHAIRMAN C. W. RANSLER THANKS WORKERS AND PUBLIC FOR SPLENDID COOPERATION.

On May 1st, William Booth Memorial Hospital inaugurated its eighth Annal Campaign. In order to balance the hospital budget for the year, it was found necessary to raise $34,500. Of this amount, Boone County was given a quota of $650 and Mr. C. W. Ransler was chosen as chairman of this county.

It was indeed a happy and victorious group of workers who assembled at the Masonic Temple, in Covington, on May 17 to hear the final report. Instead of the $34,500 which was the goal, $36,574 was reported in cash and pledges which is $2,074 over the top.

Mr. Ransler was able to report the splendid total of $851 for Boone County which exceeded his goal by $201. In addition to this sum, Boone County Fiscal Court contributed the generous sum of $800.

Mr. Ransler wishes to heartily thank his devoted and hard-working workers who, by their faithful efforts, made this fine achievement possible. On his own behalf, and on behalf of the hospital, he extends very sincere gratitude and congraulations on a job well done.

The following assumed responsibility for the various districts: Rev. George S. Caroland, Walton; Mrs. H. F. Dresman, Union; Mrs. Lewis Houston, Florence; Mrs. Al Stephens, Petersburg; Mrs. C. D. Benson, Burlington; Mr. Cloyd Johnson, Beaver Lick.

Burlington precinct has not completed its drive as yet, although it has exceeded its quota, Mr. Ransler stated. This additional work is highly commendable, he said.

Sheep Shearing Now In Full Swing

Sheep shearing began in full swing the past week. Most of the 14,000 old sheep in the county will be sheared during the next three week.

The Wool Pool plans to sell the pooled clip in the very near future. This factor and the fact that both sheep and lambs do better after shearing encourages farmers to shear early.

Rev. Will Smith, County Emergency Farm Labor Assistant, advises that several custom operators are available now for custom work. Farmers who expect to have their sheep sheared by these operators should notify the County Agent's office immediately.

Home Nursing For County Organized

Large classes in Home Nursing have just been organized in Florence and Burlington. The first meeting at Florence will be June sixth at 7:30 p. m., Eastern War Time, at the high school building. A few more may enroll. Any one interested and undecided may come to the first meeting and then if they are still interested, may enroll if there are any vacancies left. Burlington date has not been decided on, but it will be around the first of June.

Other places considering classes and it is hoped will soon be organized are Walton, Rabbit Hash, Taylorsport, Hunter, and Petersburg.

Mrs. Jemmison Aylor is chairman for Home Nursing classes in Boone County and Miss Elizabeth Lowry is the instructor.

While the text book will be a guide and used in these classes, any group wishing to give most of their time to actual nursing and practical demonstration may do so.

Any community desiring a class this summer may do so if there are as many as ten women interested, enough to begin and stay with it—the number is limited to 20 for one class.

J. M. SMITH TRANSFERRED

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. G. Smith received word last week that their son, First Class Petty Officer, J. M. Smith, who has been stationed in Miami, Fla., for the past six months in the Navy Recruiting Station there, has been transferred to Tallahassee, Fla., to be in charge of the Recruiting Station in that city.

Prior to being transferred to Florida, he was in charge of the Covington Recruiting Station for a year, having enlisted in the Naval Reserve in October 1942.

Two More Games In Win Column For Baptist Sunday School Nine

Thursday night Burlington nine chalked up another victory to their credit when they out scored the Hebron team 17-4. Jones was credited with the victory and Willoughby was on the losing end for Hebron. Daley led the offense for Burlington with four hits.

Saturday afternoon the youngsters met the older men and gave them a sound trouncing to the tune of 11-6. Mike Ranes led the attack for the old men with a homer and a double and Benson collected three singles for the youngsters. Bob Brown was the winning pitcher, with Walter Brown on the mound for the losers.

CO. POULTRYMEN RECEIVE PRAISE

ASKED TO PRODUCE 813,315 DOZEN EGGS THIS YEAR—URGES GREATER USE OF EGGS IN MENU.

Boone County poultrymen are asked by the government to produce approximately 813,315 dozen eggs this year, four per cent more than in 1943, as their part in the Food for Victory program, the National Poultry Defense Committee announced today.

This county goal can best be reached if housewives take full advantage of the present egg surplus and plan more menus calling for greater use of eggs, thus encouraging farmers to maintain high production, declared Committee Secretary Leon Todd.

In urging poultrymen to meet the 1944 quota, Todd pointed out that the current egg abundance may be followed by a serious shortage if farmers liquidate some of their laying flocks because of inability to dispose of eggs at profitable prices now.

An aid to producers is the concerted effort of distributors to keep the supply of eggs flowing steadily into consumer channels as a nutritious wartime food, Todd said, adding that aggressive merchandising has thus proved an important factor in increasing egg consumption.

Even greater cooperation by distributors and consumers is needed now, the poultry official said, to assure farmers a profitable market for their surplus producing during the next few weeks and thus insure that a feast will not be followed by a famine. "Each of us can help, he concluded "by eating more eggs during this period. Remember they are a 'whole' food, complete with proteins, essential vitamins, fats and minerals."

Reports Acre And Two-Tenths Of Tobacco Set

Bryant Jones, who resides at the old Ernest Stevens farm on East Bend Road, reports he has an acre and two-tenths of tobacco set on the 17th of May.

So far as we are able to learn, this is the first tobacco crop to be set in this community, and to date, very little corn has been planted due to the heavy rainfall this spring.

Miss Patty Peebles of Owingsville spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Galen Kelly.

SHERIFF ORDERS DOG QUARANTINE

IN SOUTHERN SECTION OF COUNTY—DOGS MUST BE CONFINED OR MUZZLED, ACCORDING TO ORDER.

Dog owners throughout the southern section of Boone County were requested to either muzzle or confine their pets, according to an order issued by Sheriff J. T. Williams, following a report from the University of Kentucky on the head of a dog sent there for examination last week.

Several dogs were bitten by the dog affected with rabies, in the Walton area, and all persons having animals bitten by the dog should dispose of them immediately, Sheriff Williams said.

The following report was received from the University of Kentucky laboratory:

"Examination positive for rabies. "Inasmuch as the examination of the brain indicates that this animal was infected with rabies or hydrophobia, anyone exposed to the saliva through handling or feeding or from having been bitten within a period of ten days prior to the first symptoms, should take the Pasteur or anti-rabic treatment immediately to guard against contracting the disease."

There are two forms of rabies, furious rabies and dumb rabies. In furious rabies the dog may first be noticed to seek the company of its master, or to seek dark, secluded places. He makes sudden starts toward objects or from unusual noises. He also has a tendency not to obey orders. These early symptoms may last two or three days. There is much saliva, but not necessarily "foaming." The salvia usually becomes thick and stringy. As the dog becomes more restless, he wanders about, and often leaves home and travels a long distance. During this wandering he is likely to be irritable and vicious, and to bite dogs and others animals or people. As a rule he returns home and appears completely tired out. He refuses to eat or drink, is irritable, and has a tendency to chew and swallow such things as stones, sticks, dirt, feathers, rags. The entire period of sickness may last 5 to 10 days.

In dumb rabies there is more often a tendency to hide away in a dark place. Usually there is distinct paralysis of the lower jaw, with protruding tongue and drooling saliva, making the dog look as if he had a bone stuck in his throat. Though unable to eat or drink, he may try to take objects into his mouth. The paralysis may extend to other parts of the body. Death occurs in a few days.

Sheriff Williams urges that all dog owners in the southern section of Boone County cooperative in the dog quarantine order. Your cooperation may prevent the spread of this disease throughout the county.

FARMERS FACE SERIOUS PROBLEM

IN LIVESTOCK FEED SITUATION FOR NEXT WINTER—FARMERS URGED TO BALANCE LIVESTOCK WITH PRODUCTION.

Boone County farmers are confronted with a serious livestock feed situation for next winter, according to the County Agent's office. Farmers are urged to balance their livestock with the production of feed crops on their farms or the visible available feed supply.

Greatly increase acreages of the feed grains and hay are not in prospect this year in Kentucky. Increased yield per acre has a greater possibility. From a wise management standpoint, each Kentucky farmer can well look into his individual farm enterprises to determine the kinds and quantity of livestock that will give the most returns for the feed and labor that are in prospect on his farm. Necessary adjustments may be (1) stringent culling or even reduction in numbers of livestock for which feed is not in prospect; (2) shift in numbers between kinds of livestock; (3) even in some cases an expansion in livestock enterprises for which feed and labor are potentially available.

Mr. and Mrs. James Robert Huey and sons and guest Mrs. Twyman Ellis, of Bowling Green, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Huey, of Belleview.

PAUL ENCOURAGES THE CORINTHIANS

LESSON TEXT—II Corinthians 4:5, 16-18; 5:1, 5-8, 14-19.

GOLDEN TEXT—Ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might become rich.—II Corinthians 8:9.

"Nothing is certain but uncertainty," so says the modern philosopher. But man cannot be satisfied with constant change and confusion. That is why, in our day of unheard-of disruption of ordinary life patterns, men and women especially need the message of the gospel, for in Christ we find the answer to our quest for certainty and stability.

Paul writing to encourage the church at Corinth assured them that life may be steady, useful and true because they are Christians. He presents:

The Christian—a Servant of Men for Christ's Sake (II Cor. 4:5). Having—

I. A Vision Which Lightens Affliction (II Cor. 4:16-18).

Any honest person knows that in the temporal world round about him everything speaks of death. All things tend to run down, to wear out, to decay, including the body of man. He sees his mental as well as his physical powers coming to a certain maturity only to go into decline.

At the same time he is conscious of the deep burden of affliction and sorrow which seems to press down on all the world like an almost unbearable and crushing weight. What can he do about it? Shall he try to dissipate the clouds by artificial cheerfulness? It will not work.

Our text gives us the answer. "For this cause we faint not," says Paul. The things which press us down are only temporal—they are of this world. God's world is eternal. The weakness of the physical body only makes the strength of the spiritual life more evident. The affliction which seems so heavy is only a "light affliction" when one remembers the "eternal weight of glory."

Is this just a bit of "escapism"? Is it only some wishful thinking? No, indeed. Have not men learned anew in the war that the only possessions you can keep are those which cannot be bombed to pieces or stolen?

Obviously, that is true in the highest degree of the one who knows Christ, and whose riches are those of eternity. How triumphantly he can meet decay and sorrow! He is of the other world, and nothing here can be more than a light affliction, which seems negligible in the light of the glory of eternal things. Ah, but it's great to be a Christian in such days as these!

II. An Assurance Which Removes Fear (II Cor. 5:1, 5-8).

Of all the fears which afflict mortal man the greatest and the ultimate one is the fear of death. He knows that it is so absolute and final that it terminates everything and separates him from all that he has known and held dear in this world.

That is just the point, death does end everything (except the awful fear of judgment for a wasted wicked life!) for those who live only for this world. Man, however, was never intended for just this present life. He is a being who has eternity written in his very personality.

What if this "earthly tabernacle"—my body—does give up, says Paul. I have a "building of God," something which man did not make with his hands, an eternal home in glory.

That gives a man confidence. While he is here in the body, he lives and walks by faith, but when absent from this body, he is "present with the Lord." How altogether delightful and marvelous is the future, even beyond the grave, for the believer. Hence, we "sorrow not as others which have no hope" (read I Thess. 4:13-18).

III. A Hope Which Makes Him a Living Testimony (II Cor. 5:14-19).

Worldly people sometimes wonder what tremendous and tireless motive power keeps Christians working for the Lord in the face of impossible difficulties. We have that motive named in verse 14—"the love of Christ constraineth us."

There is no compulsion about real Christian testimony and service. There is no feeling that one must do this or that in order to please God. No, the compelling force here is the love of a dying Saviour. It is the supremely powerful and all persuasive influence of love.

Christ died for all, and those who realize that, know that they cannot "henceforth live unto themselves" (v. 15). The social standing, or family connections of our fellow men, no longer control. Christ died for them and we must bring them the word of life.

Notice in verse 17 that it is the born-again-one who has this hope. Many church members whose lives are powerless and sinful are so because they have never been born again. "Except a man be born again" (John 3:3) he is not a Christian. That is the place to begin Take Christ by faith.

THE NAILS

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

The nail, like the hair, is a specialized epidermal structure. It is composed of two layers, the mucous or the soft layers, and the horny which constitutes the nail proper. The nail bed is the tissue covered by the nail. The posterior end of this is the matrix from which the nail grows. The exposed portion of the nail is termed the body and the posterior portion embedded in the groove is the root. Occidental white spots on the nail are due to the presence of air between the lamellae.

Ingrown nails is a condition in which the free edge of a nail has penetrated through the skin layers and become imbedded in the soft parts of the toe.

In 98% of the cases shoes are the cause. How often have you put shoes on in a store (that knows nothing about feet) that are long enough when you are sitting down, and the minute you stand up they are short. It is an absolute impossibility to fit feet unless you can control feet with the shoes you are being fitted in. This is important. The foot must be locked at the arch so as to hold the foot back against the heel so that the shoe that gives you ¼ of an inch clearance when selling does not get short when you stand up. —Adv.

WOMEN'S WORK TO BE MADE SIMPLER

Homemakers in Kentucky are to learn easier and simpler ways to do their work, announces Miss Myrtle Weldon, state leader of home demonstration work. County home demonstration agents will attend a series of conferences with Miss Mary L. Collings of the United States Department of Agriculture, who will show them how housework can be simplified, made easier and done more quickly. Then the home agents will pass on the information to members of homemakers' clubs.

"With time and energy at a premium, and labor scarce, it is up to every homemaker to learn to do her work in the easiest and quickest way possible," said Miss Weldon.

HOME SEWING SAVES IN WEBSTER COUNTY

That home sewing has saved farm women in Webster county considerable sums of money during the past months is told by Mrs. Charles Ogden, clothing leader of homemakers' clubs in that county. Approximately 1,532 garments have been made in the past few months, which she said conservatively estimated would have cost $3,422 bought ready made. In addition, 1,136 pieces were remodeled. Mrs. Ogden further reports that women made 3,621 garments wear longer by mending, and that more than a thousand articles were made of feed sacks. They included children's garments and many different household items.

HANNAH HASTYWASH
— who habitually overloads her washing machine

Overloading a washer strains the motor and decreases washing efficiency. Too heavy a load on wringer may lock rolls and even strip gears. So don't try to handle too many clothes at one time a la Mrs. Hastywash. Follow manufacturer's recommendations for loading. And check these other points on washer care:

- Don't plug in while agitator or wringer are in gear. You may blow a fuse.
- Empty pins, nails, etc., from pockets to avoid damage to water pump.
- Remove buckles, large buttons, etc., to prevent chewing up of wringer rolls.
- Lift agitator and clean agitator shaft frequently to prevent "freezing" of agitator in one position.
- Release pressure on wringer rolls when not in use. Saves springs and rubber.
- Rinse tub and agitator thoroughly after each washing. Remove all soap curds and lint. Leave cover off tub until dry to prevent musty odor.
- If stored near dust source, cover washer when not in use.
- Lubricate your washer regularly, following manufacturer's directions.

Your washing machine is more valuable than ever in these days of household help shortage. Give it the care and attention it needs. Make it last!

BALBO RYE THRIVES

Balbo rye showed up well under unfavorable conditions in Trigg county. Herbert Light broadcast balbo rye and wheat by hand in the same field on the same day. The rye established a good root system, according to County Agent Keith S. Venable, while the wheat was slow in getting started and made less than a fourth as much growth.

It is estimated that approximately half of the sheepmen in Boone county will treat their sheep with phenothiazine this month.

STRINGTOWN PLACE

BUILDING LOTS — ACREAGE

AT AUCTION!

SAT., MAY 27

10:00 A. M.

On premises, on Route 42 at Florence, Kentucky, just several hundred feet south of the main junction with U. S. Highway 25, and only 20 minutes from Cincinnati. Mr. Walter J. Keenan, the owner, has authorized us to sell this desirable and highly developed residential property at absolute auction on the above date. Hence, a fair, square, bonafide sale. You make the price---Mr. Keenan will make the deed.

Stringtown Place has the historical and colorful setting of "Stringtown on the Pike," made famous by the late John Uri Lloyd. Here is a quiet, restful, clean and accessible place to live, with the advantages of near-by shopping districts.

The property contains 50 units, all of which are spacious building lots with ample depth and convenient acreage tracts. All of the lots touch Uri Avenue, a crescent street or avenue that has been built through the development. The home sites, whether acreage or lots, have been laid out with a mind to securing the most advantageous, accessible and desirable home sites. There will NOT be a dead end street in the subdivision. Every convenience one could call to mind is within easy reach of this development—including electricity, city water, gas, etc. This property is three-fourths in the city of Florence, Ky., one fourth in the county, and very close to the two main thoroughares to the South.

If you are seeking a home that is peaceul, clean, restful, where conveniences are to be had, plan to attend this sale and purchase a parcel in STRINGTOWN PLACE. See the development and study it. It has been laid out in acreage tracts and roomy lots where the purchaser will have depth and frontage on a good thoroughfare. If you want to live in a peaceful spot, rich in historical color, convenient to the larger cities, surrounded by good homes, then attend the sale, and get a desirable building site before the boom starts.

"A bill enacted by the General Assembly at its recent meeting, created a new agency to be known as the Division of Game and Fish, independent of any other agency of the State Government. The Bill was signed by Governor Simeon S. Willis March 24 and will become a law June 13, 1944.

"A new Game and Fish Commission, it is my duty to call, within thirty days after the effective date of the new Act, a meeting of the sportsmen in each of the Congressional Districts of the State. At the meeting in each district, the sportsmen in attendance shall select five residents and citizens of the district, who are well informed on the subject of wildlife conservation and restoration, and recommend such persons to the Governor for appointment to the Game and Fish Commission. The Governor shall appoint the members of the first Game and Fish Commission from the names so submitted, within sixty days after the effective date of the New Act.

"It is my earnest desire to help the sportsmen of Kentucky get a Commission made up of the best sportsmen and conservationists in the state and I hereby urge you to call a meeting of your club immediately to consider this problem and to decide upon the persons whose names you will recommend from your district. Since this is to be a Bi-Partison board please make certain that you submit as nearly as possible an equal number of Republicans and Democrats. If you submit the names of good men you cannot fail to have a good Commission.

"As your Director during this period of reorganization, it will my purpose to conserve the assets of the Division of Game and Fish so that my successor, whoever he may be, may take over a going concern and render the greatest service possible to the sportsmen of the State."

Boone County sportsmen will hold their regular meeting at the club house, Thursday, June 8th, at which time a delegation will be selected to attend a meeting a Carrollton, scheduled for June 28th, at which time five candidates will be selected by the various clubs, whose names will be presented to the Governor. One man out of the five will be named by the Governor as a Commissioner from this district.

Members of the local club are urged to attend the meeting at Burlington on June 8, at which time the club will select men to be presented as candidates at the Carrollton meeting.

Refreshments will be served by the committee at the regular meeting of the sportsmen of Boone County and all members are urged to be present.

GENERAL LABOR NOTES ARE GIVEN

SHEEP SHEARING FAR AHEAD OF LAST YEAR—CUSTOM TRACTOR OPERATORS AGAIN SAVING DAY.

The following general notes on the Boone County farm labor situation on May 29th is given by Rev. Will Smith, Farm Labor Assistant:

Sheep Shearing.

Custom sheep shearing work is far ahead of last year. Practically all applications for custom sheep shearing will be completed this week. The following custom operators have assisted in the 1944 sheep shearing program: Everett Judge, Union; Brewster Bros, Verona; Milton Kelley, Burlington; Roy Kenney, Beaver; Dance Bros., Walton; Wilson Lilliard and Vernon Dean of Gallatin County and Felix Pennington of Cincinnati and others.

Any farmer who expects to have his sheep sheared by a custom operator should notify the operator or the County Agent's Office immediately. Once the operators complete their work and put their equipment up, they do not like to start custom work again.

Tractor Work

Custom tractor work is saving the day again in getting the spring plowing work done. Farmers in many instances are late and horses are unable to stand extra hard work during the recent record hot weather. Farmers who are unable to get needed plowing and land preparation done are urged to notify the County Agent's Office.

A splendid example of farmer cooperation is shown by Courtney Pope of Belleview. Last fall his neighbors came to his aid to assist in harvesting his corn. This spring he is paying back his neighbors in assisting them with his tractor in plowing and preparing their land. This tractor has been working day and night. It is this fine American spirit being shown by our farm people that helped them exceed record war food production goals.

His Memory Is Enshrined In Our Hearts

Sacrifice and suffering... a final crude resting place... Our words cannot pay adequate tribute to his deeds... Our homage seems in itself a futile thing... it must remain for us to match in unswerving purpose... the matchless devotion of his effort.

DOCTOR DECLARES JOAN KIGER SANE

NO DATE IS GIVEN FOR HER RELEASE FROM LAKELAND FINAL DISPOSITION OF CASE NOT REACHED.

Dr. Isham Kimbell, Superintendent of the Central State Hospital at Lakeland, Ky., reported that 16-year-old Joan Kiger was not insane and that prolonged custodial care in a state hospital or in any institution is not the answer to the problem.

No indication was given as to when she would be released from Lakeland, where she has been confined since April 16th.

Dr. Kimbell stated that careful consideration and as much time as is deemed necessary will be spent in consultation with the psychiatric social service, relatives and all concerned prior to the final disposition of the case.

Commonwealth Attorney Raymond L. Vincent stated that a new murder charge would be filed immediately against Miss Kiger if she is released from the Lakeland mental hospital.

The girl will be charged with the slaying of her father Carl C. Kiger, Covington vice mayor, if she is released, Mr. Vincent stated. She was acquitted last December of the charge of slaying her brother, Jerry 6.

BOONE CO. CROP OUTLOOK BRIGHT

TOBACCO SETTING STARTED ON LARGE SCALE—PEACH, GRAPE, AND TOMATO CROPS PROSPECTS GOOD.

Boone County has excellent prospects for hay, pasture, and fruit crops this spring. Alfalfa hay was cut on many farms the past week.

Tobacco setting started on a large scale with excellent plants. Virgil Campbell in North Bend reported considerable setting of tobacco on May 13th.

The largest crop of peaches in years was seen on the farm of F. L. McGlasson and Sons, C. Liston Hempfling and Charles L. Hempfling. The apple crop over the county looks good with many trees setting light crops.

Commercial grape growers have good prospects this year. Herbstreit and Jergens of Constance, John P. Dolwick and son of Constance, Robert and Billy Graves, of Hebron and William Moore, all large growers, have been busy applying necessary sprays to produce quality fruit. John P. Dolwick and son have recently bought a new power sprayer.

John Herbstreit, Elmer Reeves, John P. Dolwick and Son and F. L. McGlasson and Sons and Dolwick Bros. all of Constance, have excellent crops of market tomatoes in the making. All plants are staked and are making excellent growth.

Cecil Conner of Conner's Hatchery at Hebron reports the last setting of the season was made this week. The incubators will be closed down after a most successful season.

Tobacco growers in most instances have done an excellent job in selecting their ground for the 1944 crop. They are urged to carry out the recommended fertilizer recommendations for 1944.

Sheep owners are urged to keep the Phenothiazine salt mixture before their sheep at all times.

Wool Pool Plans Sale

The Boone County Wool Pool members met last Saturday night and authorized the Sales Committee to sell the 1944 clip in any manner that would net the grower the most profitable return. The pool previously had planned to sell only by sealed bids.

The sales committee reported that several good offers were received. Indications are they will be able to sell the 60,000-pound clip within the next ten days for a satisfactory price. Each cent advance on the wool will mean $600.00 or more to local growers.

JUDGE CONTINUES SHOOTING CHARGE

INDEFINITELY AGAINST WALTON MAN—SHOOTING FOLLOWS ARGUMENTS AT INN NEAR WALTON.

Charges were continued indefinitely Wednesday by Judge John B. Read in Kenton County Court in the cases of three persons charged in connection with a shooting May 7th at Woodlawn Inn, near Walton.

Robert Hutson, Walton, an employee at the inn, was charged with shooting with intent to kill and William L. Lane, 36, and Oma Dixon, both of Miami, Fla., were charged with malicious destruction of property.

The shooting followed an argument at the inn on May 7. Hutson was accused of shooting Lane in the right hip with a .32-caliber revolver, after the latter allegedly hurled some beer bottles through a window.

Hutson admitted he fired the weapon, but said he acted in self-defense.

Mrs. Wigglesworth, wife of the proprietor of the establishment, who filed charges against Lane and Miss Dixon withdrew the prosecution. Lane also advised the court he did not wish to prosecute the shooting charge against Hutson.

FOOT TEST

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

Usually the first sign of foot trouble is the running over of the heels of shoes.

In a strong healthy human foot the 26 bones are held together to form a substantial support for the weight of the body and they are held together in place by strong ligaments, tendons, and muscles. These bones are so arranged that they form four separate and natural arches.

The heel bone and ankle bone lean out of position more or less in almost every kind of foot trouble. The cause, is that ligaments, muscles and tendons which hold the heel bone and ankle bone in place, become weakened, and are not strong enough to hold these bones in their normal position.

Backaches, headaches and many body ill may be traced to feet. Even symptoms like those of rheumatism and arthritis now are being banished with proper shoes. Also nervous indigestion, sleepless nights etc.—Adv.

PAUL IN EPHESUS

LESSON TEXT—Acts 19:8-10; Ephesians 2:4-10; 3:14-19.
GOLDEN TEXT—We are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God afore prepared that we should walk in them.—Ephesians 2:10.

Not peace—but a sword! With such graphic words Jesus indicated that His coming into the world would set men apart, either for or against Him (see Matt. 10:34-42). The gospel is the good news of redemption for all mankind, but the attitude of men toward the gospel divides them sharply, into the saved and the lost. Which are you?

Our lesson, telling of Paul's ministry at Ephesus and giving part of his letter to the Ephesians, shows that the gospel does divide, but that it also gives quickening grace and strength for Christian living.

I. Dividing (Acts 19:8-10).

Paul had a long ministry at Ephesus and a very successful one, but at the same time it was a stormy, trying experience. After all, do not those elements often go together?

Paul began in the synagogue. That was the proper way, and his custom. He ran into opposition, and after three months he had to seek another place to meet the people. But notice, he did not give up and leave town.

The teaching of any truth results in division, and especially is that true of the gospel. It was found before long (vv. 23-41) that winning people to Christ interfered with the heathen business interests, and then things began to stir.

One wonders why modern business set for the destruction of men's souls by rotten plays, movies, books, amusements, and by the saloon is so content to let the church alone. Is it because our testimony does not harm their business? If so, we are certainly not walking in the footsteps of Paul or of Christ.

Christ is a divider of men. Yes, but those who stand on the right side of that divide also receive

II. Quickening (Eph. 2:4-10).

Dead men, spiritually, come to life when they meet Christ and believe on Him. We were all dead in trespasses and sins, entirely unable to help ourselves, when God in mercy and grace quickened us.

He did this for us, but also for His own glory. That really is the most adequate explanation of grace. It was and is for His glory, a showing forth (v. 7) of the exceeding riches of His grace, through all the ages to come.

Being saved, then, is not (as some describe it) a foolish thing of little import, that takes place in some mission or little crossroads Sunday school. It does happen there, thank God for that, but it reaches clear up to the highest heavens, and on into all eternity. This business of bringing men and women, boys and girls to Christ is the greatest of all occupations. Let's be busy about it!

Be sure to note in verses 8-10 that it is all of grace. No works can enter into salvation. We are "his workmanship," not the result of a cooperative enterprise or creation.

But at the same time do not fail to stress that we are created "unto good works" (v. 10). The professed Christian who talks about being saved by grace, but who does not live it out in the good works which God has ordained as the proper expression of salvation by grace, should not be surprised if the testimony of his lips is not believed.

If we are quickened to newness of life in Christ, we ought to bring forth fruit. That is not possible in our own puny strength. But wait, the gospel which divides and quickens is also—

III. Strengthening (Eph. 3:14-19).

Paul prayed for the Ephesians, but somehow one feels that he prayed for the Christians of all time, for every member of "the whole family in heaven and earth" (v. 15) who bear the name of Christ. The writer is rejoicing today that he belongs to that family, but he wonders how it is with you who read these lines. Do you belong?

Paul prayed in the Spirit, that is evident as one reads these sublime words. It is a comforting and encouraging thought, too, for Paul here asks for a Christian experience for his readers, which seems quite impossible of attainment, except for one thing. It is the power of God which is to bring it about. Prayer in the Spirit is prayer that God answers, always and fully.

So we read with confidence these magnificent, enriching petitions, and we say: "O God, make me that kind of a Christian, a real Christian."

Observe that there is to be a strengthening of the inward man by the Holy Spirit. This is not something "put on" or acquired. It is God's gift.

Note also that it has a normal development, a growth in the knowledge of Christ because of an ability to "comprehend" (v. 18). Is not that our great need? We are unspeakably rich in Christ, but we do not seem to know enough to take out our inheritance.

Floyd L. Ryle, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Ryle, Union, Ky., is receiving his initial naval indoctrination at the U. S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

His "boot" training consists of instruction in seamanship, military drill, and general naval procedure. During this period a series of aptitude tests will be taken by the recruit to determine whether he will be assigned to a Naval Service School or to immediate active duty at sea.

His recruit training completed, the seaman will spend a period of leave at home.

We are in receipt of the following letter from Pfc. Lee R. McNeely ASN 35801278, Brks. 897, Branch 1, Section M, 3503 AAF Base Unit ORD, Greensboro, North Carolina:

"I've moved again. Guess I'm keeping you busy changing my address, but I just can't help it.

"We are at the port of embarkation for eleven weeks, but we have been shipped back now to an overseas replacement depot. The training will be rough for a few weeks, and then back to port, I suppose. I can't understand what the delay is.

"I am in the best of health, but it is really hot here. It was much more comfortable in New Jersey.

"I've never met anyone from home since I entered the Army. Sure would like to meet some of the boys.

"Tell everyone at home hello for me, and thanks again for The Recorder."

Here, officers, enlisted men and Wacs are trained in the executive and administrative functions of the nation's largest business—The Army of the United States.

The following poem was sent in by Pvt. Kenyon Clore somewhere overseas:

Government Issue

Sitting on my G. I. bed,
My G. I. hat upon my head,
My G. I. pants, my G. I. shoes,
Everything free, nothing to lose—
G. I. wish that I was home.

They issue everything we need,
Paper to write, books to read;
They issue food to make you grow
G. I. want a long furlough.

Your belt, your shoes, your G. I. tie
Everything free, nothing to buy;
You eat your food from a G. I. plate
Buy your needs at G. I. rates.

It's G. I. this and G. I. that,
A soldier's face is Government Issue
But G. I. wish I was where I could kiss you.

The following letter was received from Corporal Leslie McMullen, ASN 15362062, 543rd Ord. H. M. Co. FA. Camp Breckinridge, Ky:

"At last my hopes and wishes were fulfilled and I was moved back to dear old Kentucky. After spending 14 months on the west coast, 7 of them on the desert of Arizona, the home state still looks the best.

"We the members of the armed forces never appreciated the beauty and comfort of home and surrounding territory until we have been away from it a while. After all, home is the place we want to be and that is what we are trying to hold; trying to keep out evil powers and have our own free life to live as we please, without one person telling us we can do this or do that.

"Those fellows on the front lines today are giving their all so they can come back to a nice peaceful home and family.

"Truer words were never spoken by any man those of Patrick Henry when he said, 'Give me liberty or give me death.' That is what we all must say and do to have our democracy.

"I'm no veteran in this man's army, but I've seen enough to know that the people on the home front are doing their part and that is half of the battle.

"I hope to be able to see some of my friends on some of the weekend visits I get at home. My time here is very limited and I know its impossible to meet them all. Whenever I receive my paper, thanks to the editor and staff, I feel as tho I meet practically all of them there.

"The camp is very nice here, and it is very large. There are also German Prisoners of war here.

"I'd better sign off for now as it is getting late and I have my honorable duty of guard to contend with yet tonight.

"Here's hoping to see you real soon."

Marion King, Co. A, 42nd Tk. Bn., APO 261, Camp Cooke, Calif, writes:

"I am sorry I haven't written to you and thanked you for the paper. I have written to Abby several times, but I don't think I have ever written to you as yet. The paper and the letters I receive from home are the only things I enjoy reading during my leisure time. It is one of the best papers any soldier from Boone County would want to read. There isn't a thing I miss reading. The paper is a great moral booster to the fighting men and also to the men who are so far away from home.

"Well Pete, I am now located on the Pacific coast at Camp Cooke, Calif. The country down here is beautiful and the ocean breeze is swell. I imagine you could do some deep sea fishing if you were here. As for me, I never get a chance.

"Since I have been here I have visited Los Angeles, Hollywood, Tompoc, Santa Maria, Pasadena and Santa Montica. All these towns and cities are very beautiful, and you can have a good time too. I haven't as yet run across Jake Kirk but I sure would like to though.

"Well Pete, thanks a lot for the paper, and tell everyone 'hello' and that I am still thinking of them."

• • •

James R. Kittle F 1/c, U. S. S. Spence (DD512), care Fleet Post Office, San Francisco, Calif., writes:

"We've had a breathing spell out here for a few days and I had plenty time to write and ask you for The Recorder. My mother sends me some clippings from the paper almost every week, but it's not like sitting down and reading the whole paper. There's nothing a fellow looks forward to out here as much as he does a letter or paper from home with all the home news.

"I've been out here about six months now. Of course that's not as long as some of them have been on the job, but it has been an exciting six months for our ship and its crew.

"Time don't mean anything out here. You don't care whether it's the first of the year or the last of the year. We're all looking forward to the day we tie up in the good old U. S. A. No use giving up though; you just have to grit your teeth and hang on.

"Well, we have some pretty stiff censors on board so I can't write much, but I'll be looking forward to the good old Boone County Recorder."

Ed. Note: Thanks for the letter James, and you will receive the paper each week.

Ross Francis Barlow, 24, husband of Mrs. Gladys Marie Barlow, Constance, Ky., is receiving his initial naval indoctrination at the U. S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes Ill.

His "boot" training consists of instruction in seamanship, military drill, and general naval procedure. During this period a series of aptitude tests will be taken by the recruit to determine whether he will be assigned to a Naval Service School or to immediate active duty at sea.

Cpl. James A. Carpenter, 988th Sign. Oper. Co., APO 689, care P. M., New York, N. Y., writes:

"Dear Mom,

"Well today is Monday, but it does not seem so much like it as it used to. Sunday came and went, with as much to do as any other day in the week. Not much to write, but as this is the last mail out in a week or so I just thought I would tell all 'hello,' and not to worry if mail is slow. I haven't had any mail myself for the last couple of weeks.

"Days are hot and trails are long, but some day I shall get to the end of that last trail up to that home-bound boat—will that be a day?"

• • •

Cpl. Andrew P. Rich, Co. C, 801 T. D. Bn., APO 230, care P. M., New York City, N. Y., writes:

"Just a line to give you my new address and to thank you for sending the paper I enjoy it very much and look forward to receiving it as I would a letter from home. It sure does help to read about ones friends when we are so far from home.

"My battalion is stationed in England now, which is a beautiful country and the English people are very nice to us. But I will still take Kentucky and Boone County for my home.

"Thanking you again for the paper and wishing you a lot of success."

PRODUCTION RECORDS

The measuremcnt for profit is production.

Generally speaking, the higher the production of the individual cow, the greater the profit over feed costs will be. The average dairy cow in America produces 180 pounds Butterfat. The average production of Registered Jerseys tested by the American Jersey Cattle Club is 460 pounds fat. The dairy farmer should appreciate that a 400 pound fat herd is an excellent institution. His goal should be to own a herd that, as a minimum, produces 300 to 350 pounds fat.

CONSERVATION NEWS

Farm plans were written up on seven farms during the month of May. They were: Nick Mikkelsen, near Hebron, George Sperti and Abe Nichol's farm, North Bend Road, Wilford and Lawrence Scott and Frank Milburn just north of Burlington, Cecil Dickerson, Beaver Lick and Theodore Dunlap, of Walton. Good farm practices agreed upon in these plans were: Pasture improvement, additional water supply, woodland protection, construction of diversion ditches and terraces, contour plowing and cultivation and long rotations and many others.

Kudzu crowns set out on Shirley Ferguson's farm, Cecil Dickerson's farm, Liston Hempfling's farm, Helen Tomlin's farm, and the Ware Bros.' farm are doing well. Eight acres of these crowns were set out and as to how they come through the winter will determine whether these demonstrations will be continued.

Cecil Dickerson has three acres of tobacco set out on the contour.

Terraces are under construction on the Abe Nichols farm. Twenty-five acres of corn were planted on the contour on the Ware Bros. farm last week. All the cultivated land on the Helen Tomlin farm will be worked on the contour. These contour lines were laid out with a homemade farm level made by Walter King.

Everyone is urged to save all kinds of seed, especially Balbo rye, wheat, bluegrass, and orchard grass. Mr. Arnold, farm manager on the Joe Hizer farm, has a homemade bluegrass seed harvester. Every farm will profit by looking it over. Arnold states they gathered enough seed in one day to sow twenty acres. At the price of blue grass seed, this was worth $140.00.

LAND USE POINTERS ARE GIVEN BY SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT

At the last meeting of the Supervisors of the Boone County Soil Conservation District, they recommended that the following letter be sent to several farmers in the county. The letter indicates steps to take for different land uses so that we may make this business of farming more profitable, conserving and attractive.

Meadows—Sow a mixture of legumes and grasses 25 lb. or more per acre. Mulch and reseed thin spots. Lime and phosphate as soil tests indicate. Run test strips to see if more treatment is necessary.

Pastures—Mow at least once a year. Rotate grazing, don't graze too close. Thicken sods by patch seeding. Top dress with lime and phosphate. Supply plenty of water. Build a reservoir.

Cropland—Plow, plant and cultivate on the contour; use long rotations at least eight years; treat soil as tests indicate; sow cover crops on all cultivated land, use certified seed; build diversion ditches or terraces if necessary.

Woodland—Extremely steep land should be kept in woods; woods should be fenced from stock; selective cutting should be practiced.

Homestead—Conserve all manures, residues, and tobacco stalks; conserve all buildings, save the surface and you save all; conserve food, produce, can, store; conserve time, plan your work, work your plan; conserve ideals, make the best better.

Timely Farm Notes

Farmers in several communities began setting their 1944 tobacco crop the latter part of last week. Plants are reported as growing fast and many farmers do not have their ground ready for transplanting.

William Hill of Idlewild reports he has the best livestock pasture he has ever had. He attributes his good pasture to the early use of his small grain pasture which saved his permanent pasture until it made a good start. This is the program that has been strongly recommended to Boone County farmers. Plan now to have good small grain pastures, next fall, winter and early spring.

Wilton Stephens and Lloyd Siekman, local hybrid corn breeders, report a complete sell out (except for round grades) of their yellow hybrid seed. Siekman has some high yielding white hybrid seed still in stock. These white hybrids are Kentucky developed and are good. Adopted hybrid corn seed demand has been the largest on record.

Hugh Baker, of Petersburg, a new Hampshire sheep breeder, is developing a fine purebred flock.

Those sheep owners who have not treated their flocks with Phenothiazine should do so immediately. Failure to supply a mixture of salt, 9 parts and Phenothiazine one part before the sheep at all times may necessitate treating the flock again during the summer. This new sheep treatment is working wonders in parasite control. It is simple to give and results are soon noticed.

Farmers are getting behind in their plowing. Farmers who must hire plowing done should notify the County Agent's office as early as possible.

Bowel Cleaning Power Of Erb-Help Medicine

One man recently took ERB-HELP three days and said afterward that he never would have believed his body contained so much filthy substance. He says his stomach, intestines, bowels and whole system were so thoroughly cleansed that his constant headaches came to an end, several pimply skin eruptions on his face dried up overnight, and even the rheumatic pains in his knee disappeared. At present he is an altogether different man, feeling fine in every way.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Elsmere Pharmacy, Dixie Highway.—Adv.

Warmer weather means your electric refrigerator must work longer and harder to protect your perishables and keep you supplied with extra quantities of ice cubes, cold drinks and frozen desserts. So give it the care and attention it needs to operate with maximum efficiency and economy. Keep unit compartment clean. Use fast freezing only when necessary. Defrost at least once a week. And if you have reasons to suspect mechanical trouble, call in a competent serviceman NOW. Repairs take longer these busy wartime days and if you wait until something serious develops you may find yourself without refrigeration for a time just when you need it most.

WAR BOND DRIVE OPENS MONDAY

COUNTY QUOTA SET AT $600,000 —MEETING HELD TUESDAY AT BURLINGTON BY COUNTY OFFICERS.

June 12, 1944, our government—which means you and every other citizen—begins its Fifth War Loan Drive. Our county's quota in this 16-billion-dollar drive is $600,000. We have faith that we shall meet this request and shall not be surprise if we exceed it.

Day-by-day the war and its costs in "blood and tears" is being brought more vividly home to the people of our county. More and more frequently those fateful messages, beginning "The government regrets," are being delivered to our county homes, signifying that some man (who so recently was one of us) has given his full measure of blood, his loss wringing the full measure of tears from the loved ones left behind.

These messages and reports from the fronts are making us all more and more aware that the only possible way to stop the increasing flow of this bad news to our homes is to bring this war to a close as quicly as possible. There is no sudden way to end the war, but there is a way to hasten that end; to keep a ceaseless stream of supplies of every sort flowing to the battlefronts. The men getting those supplies will do the rest, and do it effectively and speedily. THEY HAVE NEVER LET US DOWN.

Insofar as the invasion is concerned not a person on the home bases has the least doubt but that every man taking part in that invasion will meet his assignment with courage and determination. We are confident in that assurance. To fortify those men with an equal assurance that we at home are backing them to our utmost, we must meet this 16-billion-dollar war loan. This is our assignment for this invasion period.

When we evaluate dollars along with what we expect our soldiers, our sailors and our marines to GIVE us, we feel a sense of shame that our government finds it necessary to emphasize that it is only asking us to loan—not give—this money; that such loans are really investments on which we shall receive good returns. What returns did we assure those marines who were moved down on Tarawa or the men due to be moved down on Europe's western coasts?

We could not, we can not assure them they will return home, but, by meeting this war loan—to keep the sinews of war flowing to them and giving them every aid possible—we do assure them that the folks at home are backing them with every dollar they can muster for the cause. All of us must buy more War Bonds than we have ever bought before.

The county chairman, precinct chairmen and heads of special committee groups held a meeting at the court house in Burlington, Tuesday night of this week and made plans to raise Boone County's quota of $600,000.00 You can help lighten the burden of these faithful chairmen, who have so patriotically served through all the past drives, by volunteering your services to solicit subscriptions. Each precinct chairman is expected to organize his precinct and begin soliciting on June 12th.

Quite a little rivalry is being expressed among the precinct chairmen as to which precinct will report "over the top" first. Let's all do our best to raise the county quota as soon as possible.

CO. WOOL POOL SELLS 1944 CLIP

M. SABLE COMPANY OF LOUISVILLE WILL RECEIVE CLIP JULY 5, 6, AND 7TH AT VARIOUS POINTS IN COUNTY.

The Boone County Wool Pool sold the 1944 pooled clip of approximately 60,000 pounds of wool, the first part of this week, to John Neumeyer of the M. Sable Company of Louisville, according to H. E. White, president of the pool. Delivery will be made on July 5th, 6th and 7th at Walton, Burlington, and Petersburg, respectively.

This year's sale price is reported as most satisfactory reflecting the advantages of cooperative selling in sufficient quantities to justify full market considerations.

The wool was sold and is to be delivered and paid for in full to the growers on the same basis as in former years. This type of sale was especially difficult for the committee this year in that all final sales must be made to the government on specific grades based on scoured basis. Through the delivery of a large quantity of high quality wool to three convenient receiving points, the pool was able to make a cash sale that represented a considerable saving to the growers on the government allowed handler's commission.

All sign-up committeemen are urged to forward immediately all signed up pooling sheets, as only signed up or listed wools can be sold through the pool. Committeemen are urged to carefully check their lists to see that their sheets are complete. All Boone County Wool growers are invited to take part in the pool operations.

FEDERAL USE AUTO STAMPS DUE JULY 1

WILL BE ON SALE IN ALL POST-OFFICES ON JUNE 10—ALL MOTOR VEHICLES MUST HAVE STAMPS.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Joseph D. Nunan, Jr., announced today that auto use tax stamps in the denomination of $5.00 will be placed on sale in all postoffices and offices of Collectors of Internal Revnue on Saturday, June 10. The stamps will evidence payment of the tax for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1944, and must be purchased on or before that date. The stamps will be serially numbered, will be gummed on the face, and will have provision on the back for entry of the make, model, serial number and state license number of the vehicle.

Mr. Nunan said that, to guard against loss or theft, it has been suggested that, when affixing the stamps, the vehicle owner should dampen the windshield rather than the adhesive side of the stamp. This method has been recommended to keep the stamp intact upon the windshield. As an additional precaution, it has been suggested that each motor vehicle owner shall make a record of the serial number which appears on the use tax stamp for protection in the event the stamp should become lost.

Every owner of the motor vehicle which is used upon the highways should call at his local postoffice or at the office of the Internal Revenue Collector and secure a $5.00 use tax stamp and affix it to his vehicle on or before July 1, 1944, the Commissioner said. The various postoffices will sell the stamp over the counter for cash only and no mail order business with respect thereto will be conducted by the postoffices. Collectors of Internal Revenue are authorized to accept cash, postoffice money orders, and certified checks in payment of the use tax stamp. Uncertified checks will not be accepted.

Sale of the less than $5.00 denomination use tax stamp in postoffices has been discontinued. Such offices will stock the $5.00 denomination stamp only and motor vehicle owners liable for payment of the use tax for periods of less than a full year must obtain their stamps in lessor denominations from the Collector of Internal Revenue.

It is the desire of the Bureau of Internal Revenue that the use tax stamps shall be placed on the windshield in a location that will not be in conflict with State requirements. Mr. Nunan stresses the fact that the use tax law has not been repealed and cautions motor vehicle owners that failure to purchase and display the new use tax stamps on vehicles using the public highways after July 1, 1944, will subject the violators to severe penalties imposed by law.

11,000 PLANES, 4,000 SHIPS USED IN DRIVE

Landings Made Along 100 Miles of Normandy Coast Between Cherbourg and LeHavre— Casualties Light

United States, British and Canadian troops battled inland against Nazi defenses of Normandy across English Channel Wednesday to expand an invasion operation which Winston Churchill, Prime Minister, said was proceeding "in a thoroughly satisfactory manner" and with unexpectedly light casualties.

Channel weather was adverse; a strong northeaster kicking up the waves. But this was not permitted to halt the stream of reinforcements and supplies for the forces hacking out positions along a 100-mile front between Cherbourg and Le Havre.

The German radio expressed fear of new landings. Fresh and strong naval forces were reported sighted this morning off the Dunkerque-Calais area, opposite Dover and 200 miles airline northeast of Cherbourg.

General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Supreme Commander, was serene and confident of success in the great land, sea and air blow started before dawn Tuesday under a screen of bombs and shells from 4,000 warships and 11,000 warplanes.

The Allied high command disclosed that more than 1,000 troop-carrying aircraft, including gliders, bore fighting specialists on invasion missions and said this phase was executed with "unexpected success." Allied bulldozers slashed out coastal landing strips.

Naval casualties were officially regarded as "very light."

"It must be admitted," said the Nazi-controlled Vichy radio, "that the Allied beachhead area has been considerably widened and that Allied reinforcements are pouring in."

At a late hour Tuesday night hundreds of Allied planes still were in the air, guarding the convoys and the beachheads and striking beyond the zone of operations to paralyze Nazi defense positions and communications.

The first of the Allied wounded were returned to England. Despite injuries, many were smiling and cheerful.

Headquarters officers, reticent regarding the progress of sea landings, expressed themselves as more than satisfied with the air-borne attack, contradicting a German high command claim shortly after midnight that the defenders had annihilated strong air-borne units.

The British bomber command threw more than 1,300 aircraft against the enemy's coastal batteries in the darkness, preceding the assault, and from 11:30 p. m. Monday until dawn they sent more than 5,000 tons of bombs cascading on the invasion coast. This was the greatest weight of bombs ever dropped by the British in one night.

In the purple dawn the American Ninth Air Force's first fighters became air-borne and they were in the air continuously afterward throughout the day, bombing, staffing and patrolling ahead of the ground troops.

Landings have been made along 100 miles of the Normandy coast between Cherbourg and Le Havre.

The invasion is moving along according to plan, and casualties are much lighter than was expected. President Roosevelt says it's "up to schedule."

According to reports, a vast hidden underground army is poised to spring at a signal from the Allies.

ELSMERE WOMAN KILLED MONDAY

BY ELECTRIC WIRE WHEN SHE ATTEMPTED TO DISCONNECT THE ELECTRIC PLUG FOR A WASHING MACHINE.

Mrs. Della Mae Wesley, 22, of Elsmere was electrocuted Monday as she attempted to disconnect the electric plug for a washing machine from a metal wall socket in the cellar of the home 112 Main Street.

Mrs. Wesley had been dead approximately an hour before she was found by her husband, Homer Wesley, who was awakened from sleep by the crying of the couple's children. Mr. Wesley is a night fireman at the Beatrice Creamery Co., Cincinnati, Ohio.

The young woman apparently was soaked with water as a result of doing the weekly washing, thus causing a tremendous shock when she disconnected the machine cord. The cord was found across the woman's body.

Philip Taliaferro, Erlanger funeral director is in charge of arrangements.

PAUL PLEADS FOR A RUN-AWAY SLAVE

LESSON TEXT—Philemon 4-21.
GOLDEN TEXT—Be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving each other, even as God also in Christ forgave you.—Ephesians 4:32.

Brotherhood is one of those fine qualities or impulses of the soul of which men like to speak when all is fair and prosperous, and promptly forget in times of distress and struggle. That is just where Christianity shows forth at its best, for it is in the hour of need, sorrow, or affliction that real Christian brotherhood shows its depth and durability.

Paul was in prison when he wrote to Philemon. The one of whom he wrote, Onesimus, was a slave who had deserted his master and probably defrauded him (v.18). He had been converted, and now was being sent back to his master. So we have three Christian men dealing with a very delicate matter, and providing us a picture of brotherhood in action. We learn that it is—

I. Courteous (vv. 4-9).

After a fine spiritual salutation, Paul enters upon an appeal to Philemon which is a model of tact and courtesy. One could wish that those who think that being faithful to the Lord and true to His Word means being blunt and unkind, would learn of Paul.

First he lets Philemon know of his prayerful interest in him. Paul had been praying for him, that's why he could say such a helpful word. Praying for our fellow man prepares us for genuine brotherly love.

Then he recognizes Philemon's goodness, and his effective testimony for Christ. This is an excellent approach to the making of a request, but be sure that it was not empty or hypocritical flattery. We do well to recognize the fine qualities of our Christian brother, and we could profitably speak of them more than we do.

Then Paul was ready to make his request. See how nicely he does it. He skillfully reminds Philemon that he might make some demands, and especially in view of his age and his imprisonment. But he will not do so, rather he says, "I beseech thee." There is fine Christian courtesy.

II. Considerate (vv. 10-16).

Paul, the aged prisoner, had found in his new convert, Onesimus, a real helper. He would have liked to keep him. In fact, says he to Philemon, Onesimus could do for me the things you would want to do if you were here (v. 13).

Undoubtedly Paul could have been sure of the willingness of Philemon. He could have assumed that the request would be granted. And in any case, Philemon did not even know where Onesimus was, so why not keep him?

True Christian consideration respects the personal rights and the property rights of another. We must not assume, or demand, or put pressure on anyone (v. 14) to get what they have or to draw out their service.

Another expression of consideration is found in verses 15 and 16. Philemon had lost a heathen slave, now he is receiving back a Christian brother. No worker will give less in service, and no master will demand more, because the two are both Christians. We need to recognize that fact, for all too often men presume on their relationship as brethren. But the fact that they are Christians should make a great difference in their attitude toward one another.

III. Cooperative (vv. 17-21).

Partners share the benefits and the burdens of their joint enterprise. Partners in the gospel, like Paul and Philemon, shared not only spiritual blessings, but also the responsibilities. Paul was presenting such an item to Philemon in the return of Onesimus. Something had to be done about the debt of Onesimus, his failure as a servant. Paul says, "Charge it to me, your partner."

It has been pointed out that there is here a blessed example of the important doctrine of imputation, which is the "act of God whereby He accounts righteousness to the believer in Christ," because He "has borne the believer's sins in vindication of the law." So we note that verses 17 and 18 perfectly illustrate imputation.

Paul's promise "I will repay it" (v. 19) was the legal phraseology of a promissory note in his day. It was a bonafide partnership transaction, yet it was coupled with a reminder of indebtedness. Everything Philemon had and was he owed to Paul; but, says the latter, "I will not speak of that now." Consideration again, but opening the door wide for Philemon's cooperation.

No right thinking person is content always to be on the receiving hand. The humblest recipient of favor or the smallest child who feels the love of another wants to respond. The considerate friend will, therefore, not always insist on giving, but will graciously (like Paul) open the way for cooperation, for partnership.

The Blood Stream

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

The blood stream has several important functions. For instance it feeds the tissues from the products of digestion; it carries away waste matter and it aids in equalizing the temperature and the water content of the body.

Blood is not just plain fluid, but has two parts. A yellowish fluid called PLASMA, in which float solid particles called corpuscles. Then there are three kinds of corpuscles are the protectors of the body and multiply at a great rate of speed. In other words, the white corpuscles enable the body to resist infections and throw off contagious disease.

Friends, now that we understand how important a part our blood stream plays in the health of our entire body, it is easy to see that we should be careful not to choke or cramp this blood stream in any way.

When you cramp blood vessels and shut off blood supply to any part of the foot, every school physiology book tells us that you not only deprive it of the food it should have to keep health, but the slower blood stream cannot clear away waste matter as it should. We find chemical deposits form at the joints of the feet and the legs and then inflamation develops leading to pain and discomfort that makes you miserable all over. These symptoms are often mistaken for arthritis, rheumatism or some other ailment. Backaches, headaches and many body ills may be tracted to the feet.—Adv.

Wilma Huff was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Black, last week.

Worship Service 10:30 (CWT). Sermon subject, "What and Where is God?"

The Young People under the excellent tutorship of Jack Purdy, will begin a new course of study shortly. The Book of Acts will be the basis of this study, which will run till the subject matter of the book is mastered. We hear by the grapevine that this fine class of young folk is planning some sort of a party at the lake week after this.

At a special election last Lord's Day, the congregation elected Wilbur Denniston to the Eldership, to fill the unexpired term of W. G. Kite. By common consent the other two Elders were moved up to the three-year term and the two-year term, Bro. Denniston to the one year term which expires Jan. 1. The group then elected by unanimous vote, Cam White to fill the office of Deacon vacated by Bro. Denniston. These are two fine men and make a real addition to the leadership of the church.

The Ladies' Aid will meet in all-day session at the home of Mrs. John Holbrook and Mrs. Raymond Holbrook, Thursday, June 8th. Everyone of the ladies of the Church is welcome.

Livestock Notes

A dairy cow will require from 90 to 110 pounds of good pasture per day.

The Agronomy Department at the Experiment Station has found that 200 pounds of Ammonium Nitrate per acre applied in the spring doubled the yield of bluegrass pasture.

Phenothiazine can be used as a good worm treatment for hogs.

Beef cattle producers are facing a period with record numbers of cattle on hands. Economists call the situation uncertain. The cow and calf plan producing quality beef on good pasture and roughage is recommended for Kentucky as probably the safest beef cattle program.

STATE FAIR TO BE RENEWED AUGUST 28 - SEPTEMBER 4

At a meeting of the Kentucky State Fair Board in Frankfort, it was decided that the 1944 State Fair would be held August 28 to September 4 at Churchill Downs in Louisville. The home of the Kentucky Derby was selected as the site for the 1944 Fair because of the lease to the Girdler Corporation of Louisville of the Fair Grounds buildings for war work.

This year's fair will be the first held since 1941. Churchill Downs is ideally suited for use by the fair and there will be more than ample accommodations and space for every fair activity. Elliott Robertson, Commissioner of Agriculture and President of the State Fair Board, said that undoubtedly the Fair this year would draw record crowds. It is planned to make the theme of the Fair "Food for Freedom" and the agricultural exhibits will emphasize the important part the farmers of Kentucky are taking in successfully bringing the war to a victorious conclusion. Among the other interesting exhibits will be captured enemy war material.

Featured, of course, will be the Grand Championship Horse Show in which the finest five-gaited saddle horses in the country will be entered. Premiums have been generously provided for all departments. The State Fair Office at the Fair Grounds in Louisville is already busy booking exhibits and Midway attractions and other features for the big show. The catalog and premium lists are in preparation and will be sent out as soon as possible to all prospective exhibitors throughout the State. Meanwhile, anyone interested in a specific department of the Fair may communicate now with J. C. Wehrley, assistant Fair manager and superintendent regarding fair matters. Mr. Wehrley will maintain an office at the fair grounds and may be addressed there until further notice.

Martin county farmers have increased their acreage of hybrid corn by 100 percent.

COAL WARNING ISSUED TO LOCAL COAL USERS

Householders were warned today by District Manager Henry A. Leachman of the Office of Defense Transportation to order their coal during the summer months if they wish to have a supply during the winter months.

Mr. Leachman said that the shortage of motor trucks and drivers available for coal distribution is expected to reach the critical stage by the beginning of the cold season, and orders for coal should be placed with dealers now to enable them to make deliveries during the summer.

ODT officials here explained that many trucks engaged in coal delivery are over age, or in need of replacement parts or complete rehabilitation. If householders wait until cold weather sets in before obtaining their winter supply of coal, they may find it impossible to obtain prompt delivery.

Forty-four farmers in Daviess county bought 65,200 pounds of ammonium nitrate, most of which was applied to pastures and meadows.

HIGH PRAISE FOR BALBO RYE PASTURE

Ten dollars worth of pasture for each $1 invested in balbo rye seed is the claim of Charles Gabbard, Owsley county farmer. Last fall he bought $40 worth of seed for eight acres. "He would have had to buy over $400 worth of feed if he had not had the rye pasture," said County Agent H. H. Williams. As it was fed hay only three and a half months.

Burgoyne Botner, another Owsley county man, told Williams he got more pasture off an acre of balbo rye than off three acres of common rye. Carl Stepp, also of Owsley, said he got more pasture off four acres of balbo than off 16 acres of ryegrass.

LADY NEARLY CHOKED WHILE LYING IN BED— DUE TO STOMACH GAS

One lady said a few days ago that she used to be afraid to go to bed at night. She was swollen with stomach gas, which always got worse when she went to bed, and the gas would rise up in her throat after she lay down and would nearly choke her. She couldn't lie flat. Had to prop herself up on pillows. Recently this lady got ERB-HELP and now says gas is gone, stomach feels fine, bowels are regular and she can go to bed and sleep soundly.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Elsmere Pharmacy, Dixie Highway.

DRIVE IT HOME!

"That's the way I like to see them," said Gen. MacArthur when he saw the rows of dead Japs in the Admiralty Islands. In this war—the costliest, cruelest war of all time—our boys must fight with savage fury. Kill or be killed! And on how well each plays his part depends the lives of many of his buddies.
Here on the home front, too, just cheering the attack on isn't enough.
That's why there's a Fifth War Bond drive on now, a drive in which you're needed to support the men on the fighting fronts who are facing the most treacherous forces Americans have ever met in combat. We on the home front can't let them down—and we won't. So resolve now to at least double your Bond buying in the 5th War Loan drive. This is the time to do better than your best.

Fish For Stocking Farm Ponds Available

Bass, bream and crappie minnows for stocking farm ponds and lakes are available, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Application blanks are available at the County Agent's Office for securing stock from Federal Hatcheries.

Properly stock ponds under good management practices should furnish 40 to 50 one-pound bass and 600 to 800 one-fourth pound bream to be taken out by hook and line, per surface acre per year. Bass past seven years of age are considered practically worthless for propagation. This means young stock may be most desirable.

Boone County farmers have been building 300 or more ponds or farm reservoirs per year. While the primary purpose of these ponds is livestock water, the failure to stock these ponds with the right fish means another loss of a food crop. Where farmers do not have time to catch fish with pole and line, it is recommended that the pond after the first year, be seined each fall to take out surplus stock.

It is hoped that at some future date this coming winter, a meeting can be held on fish pond management.

Farmers in Rockcastle county have purchased 125 bushels of hybrid seed corn and they are also using more fertilizer.

Wanda M. Hue Wins Scholarship At Villa Madonna

Miss Wanda Marie Hue was selected valedictorian of the 1944 graduating class of St. Henry High School, Erlanger, Ky. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hue, Florence. One of the two scholarships given to Villa Madonna College, Covington, was presented to Miss Hue, Monday night at the commencement program.

Seniors of St. Henry elected her most popular girl of her class at the Junior-Senior prom.

Miss Hue graduated from St. Paul's grade school in Florence. All of her high school study has been at St. Henry.

Hybrid Seed Planted By 90 Percent Of Boone Farmers

Ninety percent of Boone County's 1944 corn acreage will be grown from hybrid seed, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. One hundred thousand more bushels of corn are estimated to be produced as a result of use of adapted hybrid seed.

Local seed producers have been practically sold out of seed for several weeks. Farmers who must yet purchase their hybrid seed are advised to stick to Kentucky adapted hybrids. U. S. 13 and Ky. 102 and 103 are the best yellows. Ky. 72B, 201 and 203 of the white hybrids have out-yielded some of the yellows.

The use of unadapted hybrid seeds cost several local farmers a large portion of their crops each year. Good open pollinated varieties are better than unadapted hybrids.

FIFTH WAR LOAN DRIVE UNDERWAY

QUOTA OF $600,000.00 MUST BE SUBSCRIBED BY INDIVIDUALS —INVASION FORCES NEED OUR SUPPORT.

This week marks the beginning of the Fifth War Loan Drive in which the citizens of Boone County are asked to purchase $600,000 in War Bonds. Banks can not subscribe for any bonds of this quota. All of it must be taken by individuals, firms, trusts, and corporations, except banks. Each precinct has been assigned a quota as its share of the county quota. Look at your precinct figures recently published in this paper and then count up the men and women in your precinct who are able and are willing to purchase bonds and you will soon see what your individual quota should be, if your precinct reaches its goal.

With the invasion of western Europe just started and where many of our soldiers are falling, wounded and dying, as well as the same thing happening in Italy and the South Pacific, one would think that we, who are far away from this awful suffering and hardships, could do little less than lend our money to our Government at a good rate of interest in order to provide our soldiers with food, clothing, medicine, hospitalization, implements of war, etc. These boys are bravely facing death for you and for all of us in order to preserve our homes and our country from the fate of those enemy conquered countries. They are not letting us down, we must not fail to support them.

When you get your check for your wool, lambs, milk, live stock, tobacco, (if you are a farmer) or your payroll check (if you are a defense plant worker), just remember that a part of the proceeds of this check is BLOOD MONEY. You would not be receiving these prices were it not for the war in which our young men are bleeding and dying by the thousands. THINK OF THIS, then go to your bank and buy more bonds than you ever bought before. You are not giving away anything, you are only lending your money at good interest with the principal returned to you at maturity or in the event you need your money you can always cash the bond.

A few patriotic citizens drove several miles to their banks last Saturday to leave their checks for good size subscriptions to be entered Monday on the first day of the drive. They said they wanted to be among the first to help start the drive. One man said he was glad to have this opportunity of subscribing, aside from the fact that it was the patriotic thing to do, he regarded the bonds the safest investment on earth.

Next week will appear the report of the first week of the drive. Let's make a good showing. Be sure to get your subscription for coupon bonds in before June 26th so as to save paying any accrued interest. All coupon bonds are dated June 26th and will carry accrued interest after that date to be paid by the subscriber.

MOTORISTS ASKED TO OBEY SIGNS

WHILE CENTER LINE STRIPES ARE BEING PAINTED—STOPPING ON PAVEMENT WILL FORCE CARS TO CROSS LINE.

The State Highway Department is painting a center line stripe in the center of all paved State and Federal roads in Kentucky, J. Stephen Watkins, Commissioner of Highways, announced today. "It is our desire," he said, "to do a neat job and the cooperation of the public is solicited."

In order to paint this center stripe, it is necessary that the striping machine travel the center of the pavement. A yellow truck carrying a red flag will precede the striping machine. A flagman on this front truck will wave the traffic over to the extreme right side of the road in order that the striping machine can travel the center of the road. Signs marked "KEEP TO RIGHT FRESH PAINT" will be placed at intervals along the center of road of the freshly painted line and will remain in place until paint is dry. Under normal conditions the paint will dry in twenty minutes.

Motorists are requested to obey the signs and drive to the right of the wet painted line. Do not drive on or across it. Do not stop on the pavement within the limits of the freshly painted section. Use the shoulder if it is absolutely necessary to stop your car. Stopping will force other cars to cross the wet center line.

The following of these rules will insure a painted line without tracking.

LIBERATION OF EUROPE BEGINS

INVASION CUTS CIVILIAN SUPPLIES OF RADIO TUBES, GASOLINE AND OIL, ACCORDING TO WAR PRODUCTION BOARD.

The historic news flash, "First Allied landings in Western Europe have started," sent over the teletypes of the overseas branch of the Office of War Information, at 3:43 a. m., Tuesday, June 6, was part of the second, or actual combat phase of psychological warfare being waged directly under Supereme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Forces.

The first phase of psychological warfare was the strategic or preparatory phase—the softening up—during which the Americans and the British bombarded the enemy and occupied countries with leaflets designed to undermine enemy morale and bolster the morale of the enslaved peoples.

Germany, France, Belgium, Holland and Norway have been receiving miniature newspapers with a combined circulation of almost 16 million. Part of the present combat phase will be carried on by psychological warfare branch combat teams who will be equipped with portable printing presses and radio equipment to keep the local population in liberated areas informed as to the progress of the war and to give in the local language the regulations of the military command.

Recent shortage of many civilian supplies may be attributed to military demands of the forces of liberation. Examples are radio tubes and parts, gasoline and oil. In spite of a radio manufacturing output over 10 times as great as pre-war, military demands for radio tubes and repair parts have increased. This explains why civilians are finding it hard to get these items, the War Production Board says. Every military plane has radio equipment, some as much at $100,000 worth each. Ships, tanks and other2 mobile equipment also use radio equipment.

A five-month supply of 100-octane aviation gasoline is required for each of the 11,000 planes backing up Allied liberation forces, the Petroleum Administration for War reports. Heavy and imperative demands for oil by General Eisenhower as early as last winter almost made New York, Boston, and Philadelphia the first indirect invasion casualties. Increased production by East Coast refineries, the "big inch" and "little big inch" pipelines, and emergency deliveries helped avert civilian shortages of oil and gas in the East.

CLASSIFICATION GIVEN LOCAL HERD

BY AMERICAN JERSEY CATTLE CLUB—EACH ANIMAL IN DUNLAP HERD JUDGED AND GIVEN PERMANENT CLASSIFICATION.

The American Jersey Cattle Club on last Saturday afternoon, June 10th, gave a permanent classification as to true Jersey type to the 23 cows in the registered herd, of Tom Dunlap of Walton. The permanent classification of each animal can be raised but not lowered during the life of the animal.

Each animal in the herd was judged and given permanent classification by an officially appointed American Jersey Cattle Club judge. Prof. Fordyce Ely, Head of the Dairy Department at the University of Kentucky, served as official judge. A large group of local breeders were present to see the official judging of the animals. Six animals classified very (next to excellent, the highest classification award which denotes perfection), nine were good plus and six good. The other two had previously been awarded high classifications.

This is the first herd in the county to receive the official classification. The classification as to type is the same throughout the United States. Milk and butterfat production are determined thru D. H. I. A. records. This herd has an exceptionally high production record with one cow in the herd producing 91.5 pounds of butterfat during May.

Kircher M. Johnson Member Of Picked Group In Italy Drive

At an advanced forward position on the Fifth Army front in Italy is a group of hand-picked men upon whose shoulders sometimes rested the failure or success of the infantry unit to which they are attached.

Selected for their ability to readily familiarize themselves with the methods of the enemy, they are the eyes and ears of the regimental commander. Always in front of the most advanced troops, they detect and report German movements.

As the infantry advances the reconnaissance platoon carries supplies and ammunition to the men, knock out small pockets of resistance, locate enemy pill boxes and dugouts and often times select routes of approach. And whenever they get a chance they round up German prisoners.

A member of the platoon is Pfc. Kircher M. Johnson, son of Mrs. Bessie Johnson of Walton.

"Eagle Eye" Johnson, as he is affectionately called, was a well known basketball player at Walton High School, was a star semi-pro ball player before entering the insurance brokerage business in association with his mother.

The men often find themselves deep in enemy territory and cut off from American lines but they always come through with vital information which has aided their unit in its drive toward Rome.

FLORENCE YOUTH CLINGS TO BARGE

FOR TEN HOURS UNDER CONTINUOUS GUNFIRE IN INVASION OF FRENCH COAST—RESCUED BY COAST GUARD.

Pvt. Eugene Lockwood, 19 of Florence, survived what may be one of the most harrowing experiences of the invasion, it was learned. He also is the first northern Kentuckian heard of since the big push began.

Pvt. Lockwood, with 16 others clung fractically to pieces of their landing craft tank off the French invasion coast when the boat went to pieces after springing a leak, while German 88's were firing at them continuously.

After ten hours in the water, the men, members of an American anti-aircraft battery were brought to British invasion port suffering from submersion, but otherwise unhurt.

When the craft started to leak as it was headed for the invasion shore, an attempt was made to beach it, but "concussion from nearby ships firing on the beaches opened the plates and the ship went down with the loss of all equipment."

Frantically clutching pieces of the craft, the men managed to hang on despite the furious and deafening gunfire until they were rescued by a U. S. Coast Guard boat and carried back to England.

Pvt. Lockwood has been overseas nearly six months and in service since July, 1943, training at Camp Dix, N. J.

Sheep Shearing Closes This Week; Labor Critical

The farm labor custom sheep shearing program is expected to close this week, according to Will Smith, County Farm Labor Assistant. All of the fifty-eight applications filed at the county office have been filled. Several times this number have been filed by direct application to the custom operators.

The general farm labor situation so far as securing new help is more difficult and critical than at this time last year. Farmers are and must cooperate to the fullest extent in the exchange of equipment, of labor, and other resources if the maximum of needed food and feed supplies are produced. This cooperation must be fully appreciated and developed for a more wholesome rural agriculture. Those farmers who fail to meet their obligations in neighborhood cooperation will lose much of the joy of rural living and find themselves in a difficult situation when critical periods arrive.

Farmers who must secure seasonal or permanent help are urged to notify the County Agent's office early as often considerable time may lapse before suitable help can be secured.

FEED PRODUCTION SERIOUS PROBLEM

FOR 1944, SAYS H. R. FORKNER, COUNTY AGENT — FARMERS URGED TO PRODUCE AND SAVE ALL FEED.

Feed production is presenting Boone County's most serious 1944 farm problem, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. This is true not only of the county, but of the state and most parts of the nation. Farmers are urged to produce and save every possible pound of feed.

Livestock numbers in the nation have increased from the 1932-42 ten-year average of 132 million animal units to 160 million units in 1943 to 171 million units in 1944. Feed surpluses have disappeared and feed shortages are here and in prospect for the next several months.

Farmers must meet the feed shortages with revised and improved production practices. The following recommendations are presented for general consideration with individual adjustments up to each particular farmer:

1. Plant the maximum amount of adapted hybrid corn fertilized and managed to produce maximum production.

2. Harvest every possible ton of hay and other such roughage in such manner as to produce maximum amounts of high quality feed.

3. Fertilize, mow, and carry out best possible pasture production practices.

4. Cull low producing livestock closely. Sell roosters unless producing hatching eggs. Sell other unproductive livestock.

5. Practice disease control and careful sanitation in poultry, hog, dairy, and sheep production. Treat all sheep with Phenothiazine and keep the Phenothiazine-salt mixture before the flock at all times.

6. Sell hogs between 180 and 225 pounds in weight.

7. Prevent waste of feeds by providing proper feeds and feeding equipment.

8. Don't hesitate to pay time and a half overtime or other reasonable expense if this means saving your crop.

9. Cooperate with your neighbors in saving of crops and other emergency work.

The over all picture presents a challenge to produce a maximum amount of feed crops and to bring the livestock production on the farm in balance with the feed production program. Most farmers the past week were exerting every effort to get their tobacco crops transplanted. This is both profitable and necessary. The hay, corn planting and other feed production work is equally important.

Ossification Of The Bone

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

In the fetus or unborn child, the bones first consist of masses of cartilage which, about the second month of fetal life begin to ossify, or become bony. In a long bone, which may be taken as an example, the process commences in the center of the shaft and proceeds toward the extremities, which for sometime remain cartilaginous. Subsequently, a similar process commences in one or more places in the extremities and gradually extends through it. The extremity, does not, however, become joined to the shaft of the bone until growth has ceased, but remains separated by a layer of cartilage tissue termed epiphy cartilage.

The points at which bony development first commence are known as centers of ossification.

The process of ossification consists in the appearance within the cartilaginous skeleton of bone forming cells, and the deposition calareous or earthly matter which gradually displaces the cartilaginous matter.

These processes extend gradually in every direction from the original center of ossification until the entire cartilaginous mass becomes boney or is ossified.

The first bones in which ossification appears are the chcule (collar bone) and inferior maxellary (lower jaw bone) about the fifth to seventh fetal week; the last ossification to appear is in the pisaform bone of the hand, about the twelfth week.

Knowing the time and care that nature takes, in forming and developing our feet, and body, isn't it reasonable to assist nature in taking the proper care of ourselves against the abuses of modern life by wearing shoes that fit and are constructed to hold the foundation of the body in perfect balance.—Adv.

A GOOD SOLDIER OF CHRIST JESUS

LESSON TEXT—II Timothy 2:1-4, 8-12; 4:5-8.

GOLDEN TEXT—Suffer hardship with me, as a good soldier of Christ Jesus.—II Timothy 2:3.

"A good soldier"—what a wealth of meaning there is in that simple phrase. We think of our own hometown boys who have distinguished themselves in the service of their country, who have proved again that there is that in American life which can meet a crisis and do it well.

"A good soldier of Jesus Christ" is an even more significant phrase, speaking of that fine loyalty and devotion which Christians of all ages, yes, and of our day, are giving to the Captain of our salvation, our Commander-in-Chief in the great spiritual warfare going on in all the earth.

In our lesson we note that the soldier is—

I. Obedient (2:1, 2).

There is something to be done, and the soldier is enlisted for the purpose of doing it. In the case of the Christian soldier, it is to see that the gospel message which he has received is passed on to others.

Personal work is God's method, one man telling another, and another, and another. This is to be a continuous matter, not just now and then, and each one is in turn to become a soul-winner.

As each one wins others and the witness is multiplied by the law of arithmetical progression, the total result is tremendous.

Why, then, has the entire world not been long since completely evangelized? Because we who are Christians are not all obedient soldiers of Christ.

II. Loyal (2:3, 4).

No soldier can serve well with a divided loyalty. He cannot be running a business back home, or taking on outside interests to divert his attention. Being an efficient and useful soldier is his first and only business.

Have not the military authorities in this war asked those who are at home to keep the problems of the home and business out of the letters to men in the army? Do they not require a man to leave home and family and give his all to the service?

The soldier for Christ must please the Lord, even though it involve bearing "hardness." It is no soft and easy business to be a soldier. "Blood, sweat and tears" are the order of the day. Shall we not do as much for our Lord?

III. Prepared (2:8-12).

Training is of highest importance for a soldier. He must know what to do, and why he is doing it. He must understand the reason for obedience and the purpose of the warfare. In other words, he must be a disciplined man, prepared to serve effectively.

The soldier for the Lord is to "remember Jesus Christ," his resurrected Lord and victorious Commander. He knows for whom and under whom he fights.

He also knows (vv. 10, 11) that the message he bears is God's Word, and will succeed even though the bearer of it suffer and die. He is prepared to die, if need be, before he will deny his Leader (v. 12).

IV. Faithful (4:5-7).

Watch, endure, work, be faithful to the very end. Such is the obligation, yes, and privilege of the soldier for Christ. Paul was able to admonish young Timothy to such complete faithfulness because he had himself exemplified these virtues in his own life.

Those who are called upon to command men must themselves be good soldiers. There is an encouraging note from the battlefields of this great war. One learns that the commanding officers are at the front, not hidden away in dugouts far behind the lines. The men take courage as they see the bravery of their officers.

What that meant in Paul's case may be learned from the story of his life, which is condensed in a brief statement in II Corinthians 12: 23-33. He really endured affliction for Christ's sake.

V. Victorious (v. 8).

A nation at war can stand the strain and bear the agony if it can be sure of ultimate victory. The grave disappointment of losing a battle, or the deep sorrow of heavy casualties, can and will be borne for the sake of the final triumph of the righteous cause.

In the battle for Christ, we know that the result will be victory. The faithful soldier shares the fruits of victory. The Christian soldier shall one day receive from his Lord and Leader a crown of righteousness.

When will that great day come? When Jesus Christ returns (Matt. 16:27). He is coming again; first for His own, and then in glorious revelation of Himself as the judge of all the world. His victory over all His enemies will then be complete, and He shall reign forever and ever.

HELL DIVING'S HIS JOB
..LENDING IS YOURS!

WITH GUNS BLAZING and a prayer in his stout heart, this American fighter is hell-bent on destruction of our enemies. HE is not thinking of how little or how much he's doing to help win the war. For him, the chips are down; but his fighting spirit is as high as the heavens from which his plane is diving.

In cramped foxholes and disease-infested jungles, on sun-scorched beachheads—under and over the seven seas—other Americans are matching his courage. And their name is legion. They KNOW that war is a bloody business; that their lives, as well as yours, are now at stake. You cannot—you must not—let them down.

Is it asking too much of you to back these men up by buying more, and still more, War Bonds? There can be but one answer. You'll find it in your own heart.

And remember, too, as you dig deeper than ever before into your pocketbook or cash surplus, that the Fifth War Loan MUST raise 16 billion dollars. It is the greatest financing drive the world has ever known . . . to back up the greatest invasion drive the world has ever known.

And Here Are 5 MORE Reasons for Buying EXTRA Bonds in the 5th!

1. War Bonds are the best, the safest investment in the world!

2. War Bonds return you $4 for every $3 in 10 years.

3. War Bonds help keep prices down.

4. War Bonds will help win the peace by increasing purchasing power after the war.

5. War Bonds mean education for your children, security for you, funds for retirement.

WITH OUR BOYS IN SERVICE

Sgt. David Setters, ASN 35127181 Headquarters Btry, 135th Group, Camp Stewart, Ga., writes:

"I have planned to write you for a long time and just now getting around to it. I hope it will not be too much trouble for you to change my address again as I have left my old outfit, they are all over seas now and I expect to be before long. I do hope to get a furlough before I go over.

"The weather here is very hot. It rains twice a day and you almost burn up the rest of the time. The sand is knee deep.

"At the present time I am cooking for 70 men and they are mostly all officers. Not such a bad job, but I still would rather be home.

"There are so many soldiers here it is impossible to find a cold drink, but they do dip the drinks in ice water to cool the bottles, trying to fool someone.

"I would like to say hello to all my relatives and friends back home and I want to thank you for the paper and the trouble of changing my address so much. I hope to see everyone soon."

• • •

Flo d L. Ryle, Co. 1035, USNTC, Great Lakes, Ill., writes: "Just a few lines to let you know I received my first edition of the paper and I appreciate it a lot. . . There are several Boone County boys here besides myself, Bob Smith, Sam Setters, Robert Rider and a few other boys from Hebron are in the same regiment that I am in. Thanks again for The Recorder."

• • •

Pfc. Wilford Hodges, Co. A, 337th Engrs. Rgt., APO 464, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y., writes:

"I just received three papers from you yesterday and I certainly was glad to get them. I hope the folks back there are O K.

"Pete I read a letter in the paper that some fellow wrote to you what a good job the Red Cross was doing over here. They are doing a wonderful job, one I haven't seen the like before. While I was at the rest center the Red Cross had everything fixed up so you would feel right at home. They wanted you to feel at home. They served us doughnuts and coffee. They really wanted you to enjoy yourself while you were there. Those Red Cross girls would just laugh and joke with us to take war off our minds.

"While all these bonds are being bought, I think it would be a good thing to give to the Red Cross too, so they can make us feel more at home.

"Well, I'll thank you again for The Recorder."

• • •

Pfc. Louis H. Deck, 259 Engr. Rgt. C. H. & S., APO 559, care Postmaster, New York City, N. Y. writes:

"Just a few lines as I haven't written for a while telling you that I receive The Recorder. I received the March 9th issue today, and it sure is good to read the home news. Was glad to hear some of the boys say they like army life. As for me it's a h—— of a long way from Boone County and home.

"I am still in England at present and I see where several of the boys from home are here, but never have seen any of them.

"I am playing a little ball after supper and I am pitching for the team, but the old spirit is not there I miss having 'D' and Henry to yell at me and the rest of the boys like they did.

"Well Pete I guess I had better go to bed, it's like daylight outside yet, and it's 9:30, but 6 a. m. will be here soon. Tell all the folks hello for me, and thanks for the paper."

We are in receipt of the following letter from Sgt. James W. Smith 15065710, Section C, 2539 AAF Base Unit, Foster Field, Texas,

"I hardly know what to write as I have waited over two years to thank you for The Recorder. I receive it every Saturday evening or Monday morning and it's a big lift, after a working week-end.

"As you know I have been here at Foster Field since October 5, 1941. It don't seem so long until I get to thinking of what all has happened since then. All the fellows from around home in the armed forces and nearly all overseas. But I just stay at Foster and help keep these trainers buzzing along. Somebody has to do it, but everybody still thinks he would do more if he was in a combat area.

"Our promotions are frozen, as we say in the Army, but we don't mind because they are going where the boys are pulling the triggers. We just keep pulling wrenches and twisting safety wire and hoping we will be home soon.

"I would like to tell you more, but you know how it is. Tell all the boys hello for me and wish them luck."

The following letter was received from Pfc. Everett E. Rogers, Btry B. 932nd F. A. Bn., APO 464, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y.:

"I receive The Recorder and am very glad to get it and enjoy reading the news from back home.

"Mostly everything I could tell you has already been told by reports. They had lots of material, as the battle of Cassino was pretty tough. The town, as you know, is on the side of a mountain and across a valley with a river in front. We have nicknamed it the purle heart valley.

"The Heines had it well zeroed and I sometimes wonder how the fleet ever crossed it. They did it only by night. I didn't cross the valley myself, being in the field artillery. The going was tough there all the way, but it was really tough after they bombed the abbey. The Germans were in there before it was bombed.

"We have fired lots of rounds into Cassino and made rubble of it. The Heines had learned from Stalingrad how to make a real fortress out of a place like that. Our troops fought there inch by inch and rock by rock with the Germans determined to hold. We now hold most of the town.

"The thing we are proud of is the way we held out there and gave them a lot more than we had to take.

"I get to see a show now and then and have an occasional coke. We also have our PX."

A Soldier's Good Night Prayer

Last night I happened to hear a soldier
Saying his good night prayer
He was standing before a tent
When down on his knees he bent,
His voice came slowly to my ears,
And his words were good and clear
And this is what he had to say
As he gazed into the skies of gray—
Dear Father I pray to Thee
That with my loved ones you'll always be
May you keep them from fear
While I am fighting over here.
Fighting this bloody war
to keep us free for evermore;
So we may worship You my Father
And forget the story of Pearl Harbor.

—Pfc. Everett E. Rogers.

"I have made excellent grades here and have been recommended for a good rating.

"I haven't been home almost a year and am hoping to get a furlough soon. I want to express my appreciation for the paper.

"It sure is swell and I know we —one and all, feel the same. So once again thanks a lot and I hope to be seeing you soon."

"Thanks for changing his address.

Great Lakes, Ill., May 12—Bluejacket Gerald Lee Clore, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Clore, Burlington, Ky., was promoted to the rate of Hospital Apprentice second class during this week's graduation ceremonies at the Hospital Corps School at the U. S. Naval Hospital here.

Graduation terminates a six-week course of preliminary training at the Hospital Corps School. Included in the course is the study of anatomy and physiology, hygiene and sanitation, materia-medica and weights and measures, first aid and bandaging, nursing, transportation of casualties, and dietetics.

The newly graduated man will continue to train at another Naval Hospital before being sent to duty at sea or at other shore stations.

Aylor, R. 2, Ludlow, Ky., during recent graduation ceremonies at the Naval Training School (Electric) at the St. Louis, Missouri, Naval Armory.

Selection to the school was made on the basis of his recruit training aptitude tests. The completed course of study included the practical use of electrical tools, soldering, wiring, diagramming and repairing of telephone circuits. A theoretical phase included principles of electricity and magnetism.

The graduate is now awaiting active duty orders to sea or to some shore station.

Allied Force Headquarters, Mediterranean Theater—Soldier mail clerks of the Ninth Base Post Office have handled approximately twenty-five million letters during one year of overseas operation, according to the records of Major Raymond D. Ferguson, the post office's commanding officer.

Fifty percent of the mail his office handles currently is V-mail while air mail consumes thirty percent and ordinary letters twenty percent.

For speed in delivery, V-mail is consistently the fastest," said Maj. Ferguson, who was employed twelve years by Los Angeles, California, post offices. "It takes from eleven to thirteen days for it to arrive here from the States while it takes from twenty-one to twenty-five days, as a rule, for regular mail. Now and then an air mail letter will arrive in four days but in the long run it takes longer than V-mail."

The Base Post Office is different from a large large domestic post offices in that its functions also include a type of railway mail service. The P. O. operates a fleet of postal trucks across North Africa to supplement air transport delivery. It is also responsible for postal shipments by rail and the loading and unloading of mail from all ships arriving at the local port.

A finance section under Second Lieutenant David L. Kennedy, 58 West Housatonic Street, Pittsfield, Massachusetts, rounds out the functions of a complete post office. This section is operated for the sale of stamps and money orders and the acceptance of parcel post, insured and registered mail. The registry section requires the full-time services of five men to handle the volume of local and transit registers.

Included in the personnel at this base post office is Cpl. John H. Cook, 35, son of Mrs. Cordia Cook, Petersburg, Ky., R. 1.

NITRATE STIMULATES TOBACCO PLANT GROWTH

Tobacco plants in the bed can be stimulated by sprinkling with a solution of nitrate, says a statement issued by the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station.

Apply when plants are about the size of a quarter or whenever growth is slow. Do not apply at a higher rate than recommended here. One application is sufficient. If the growth is very fast, the plants are likely to be tender. To overcome this, remove the cotton from the bed a few days before setting plants.

1. Dissolve 10 pounds of nitrate of soda or 5 pounds of ammonium nitrate in a barrel of water (50 gallons). Do not use more nitrate than recommended.

2. Remove cotton from bed.

3. Using an ordinary sprinkling can, sprinkle the nitrate solution over the bed at the rate of 5 gallons per 200 square feet of bed (about 18 running feet of bed 12 feet wide, or 22 feet of bed 9 feet wide.) Follow with enough water to wash the solution off the leaves thoroughly. This is important.

LISTS 10 WAYS TO SPEED UP PULLING OF TOBACCO PLANTS

A new leaflet of the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics gives 10 ways to save work in pulling tobacco plants. If this system is followed, as much as a third of a day per acre can be saved in the pulling job, it is said. The points are:

1. Use a plant-bed board that can be moved by one man from one end of the board. This means to have one of the main support about 3½ feet from one end, so the board can be swung like a lever.

2. Sit in a comfortable position on the board. Using one position for a while and then changing to another is restful and therefore speeds up pulling.

3. Pull the plants in a systematic way to avoid pulling over the same are more than once.

4. Pull one plant at a time.

5. Pull by grasping the lower part of the leaves with the thumb, first finger, and second finger. Keep the palm of the hand toward the ground.

6. Pass plants to holding hand after pulling three or four plants.

7. Keep the holding had near the pulling hand.

8. Fill the holding hand comfortably full, 20 to 30 plants, before putting plants in the container.

9. Keep pulling while putting the plants in the container. Watch the pulling hand, not the holding hand.

10. Put the plants on a sack or in a basket to be handed direct to the setters or droppers. This reduces the number of handlings of the plant to the least possible.

The phenothiazine program is causing considerable interest in Shelby county, where dealers have purchased more than 1,400 pounds.

Homemakers in Hickman county are adjusting work surfaces to correct heights in order to make kitchen work more quickly and easily done.

Fifty-six women in Ballard county have registered as helping out in the labor shortage by being members of the Women's Landy Army.

Carroll county farmers have purchased twice as much fertilizer this spring as was used last year, according to local dealers.

ERLANGER -:- KENTUCKY

The battle for the World is on!

NOW THAT the chips are down . . . now that our men are writing decisive history with their blood . . .

There can be no halfway measures for us.

The greatest battle in the history of the world must be matched by the greatest war loan in the history of the world.

That's what Uncle Sam says . . . the same Uncle Sam for whom your brothers and sweethearts and husbands are fighting and dying this very minute.

They, in the front lines, are throwing in everything they have.

We, behind the lines, must do the same.

Remember, this is the battle for the WORLD. Our world. And we've got to win it. That's why Uncle Sam expects every dollar, like every soldier, to do its duty.

Every County Has A Grease Quota

The War Production Board hopes that housewives and all eating places will skyrocket grease collection. The position of the Board is that Fat Salvage is a going and successful operation. Points for fats will be continued indefinitely as far as we can see at the present time. The National collection has increased from 14,730,000 pounds in January to an estimated 20,000,000 pounds in May. These figures are gratifying but all states must bear down heavily to make the 1944 quota of 230 million pounds. There is a strong prospect that for 1945 the National quota will be raised to 400 million pounds.

Every county in Kentucky has been given a grease quota, and the people should ask if they are doing what has been requested.

Housewives Neglect Saving Scrap Paper

The General Salvage Committee has announced from Washington that millions of pounds of waste paper are being lost daily because housewives have not been sold on the necessity of saving the little scraps, such as letters, envelopes, toothpaste boxes, gift wrappings, scratch paper and paper match covers.

The main reason why this paper is not recovered is because the housewife does not know how to bundle it. One of the simplest methods is to slip these odds and ends inside of folded newspapers. This is easy and simple and does not interfere with the stacking and tying of newspapers into bundles of even size.

The paper shortage is now so critical that some cities have passed ordinances prohibiting the disposal of any paper in garbage collected by the city. Such paper, including boxes, envelopes, cards, wrapping paper and letterheads, must be bundled and put in separate containers.

This county has a paper quota of 5 pounds per person each month. It is imperative that the community try to secure the quota.

Report On Recent Cancer Control Drive

The general public, especially those who contributed will be gratified to learn that we were able to send $70.00 to the State chairman to be used in the fight against this very sinister enemy and that special recognition was received from headquarters for our efforts, which we wish to pass on to every person and organization who made this possible.

We feel that special mention should be made of the children of Hebron school who brought in their pennies, which amounted to almost $11.00.

We know the educational message that cancer can be cured, if treated in time has been impressed on our community.

We feel sure Boone County can send $100.00 next April as we learn more and more of the importance and the needs of this organization.

TRUCKERS URGED TO KEEP VEHICLES IN GOOD CONDITION

The nation's truck operators were again urged by the Office of Defense Transportation to intensify their efforts to keep their vehicles in proper repair so as to obtain many more miles of operation than would be required under normal conditions.

Strict adherence to a plan of systematic prevention maintenance and repair, the ODT said, should prolong the life of the average truck as much as three times its ordinary span.

The truck manufacturing industry is producing this year about as many new trucks as it has produced in the best of its previous years, the ODT said, but most of them are for military use.

The industry's available manufacturing capacity is large enough to produce trucks in quantity for either military or civilian use, but not in sufficient volume to meet both demands, the ODT explained.

The 88,000 new trucks scheduled for civilian use the coming year, the ODT emphasized, will not be enough to supply all who desire new equipment, and most operators will have to make their old trucks last.

By following the ODT's preventive maintenance and rehabilitation program, truck operators can recondition their present vehicles so that they will have equipment just as reliable as a new truck, the ODT said.

Receives Gift From Africa

Miss Irene Taylor, of Florence, Ky., received a ring from her uncle Vernace Taylor C. M. 2/c, who is stationed somewhere in North Africa. The ring arrived Monday of last week and was gladly received. The ring bears her uncle's picture in the center and it was made by a German prisoner. It was made from a red and green tooth brush.

Other nice gifts have been received by her sister, Inez, such as a purse made from camel hide.

Vernace Taylor has been overseas since February and he writes that he likes it very much. He is with the Navy Seabees and he is a pipe fitter by trade. He is a first class petty officer.

For his many friends who wish to write him, his address is Vernace Taylor C. M. 2/c, C. B. M. V., 513 care Fleet Post Office, New York, N. Y.

He receives the Boone County Recorder regularly.

In South Pacific

Seaman Second Class Charles L. Mahorney, son of Quincy Mahorney, of Florence is now stationed in the South Pacific, according to word received by his wife, Mrs. Lucille Mahorney, 649 Dalton Street, Covington.

Before entering the Navy March 1, 1944. Seaman Mahorney was an employee of the Plastic Molding Corp., Cincinnati.

Avoid Oven And Open Kettle Canning

"Can all you can—but do the job right," is a one-sentence sum-up of this year's advice to home canners, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent. The U. S. Department of Agriculture home canning specialists warn specifically against two methods: oven canning and open-kettle canning.

Oven canning is dangerous in more ways than one. Even though an oven goes to 250 degrees F. or higher, food inside glass jars stays at about boiling point. For non-acid vegetables, this provides too little heating to make bacteria harmless. In addition, oven canning may result in explosions if jars seal during canning so that steam builds up inside them. In cases in which this has happened, oven doors have blown off, glass has flown out, resulting in damage to kitchen and injury to individuals.

Open kettle canning is wasteful for fruits and tomatoes. Yeasts, molds, and bacteria can get into jars from the air and other sources when food is transferred from kettle to jar and there is no further heating to destroy them. For foods with little acid, and for meats, open kettle canning is dangerous because the food never gets hot enough to destroy bacteria. Limit the open-kettle method, say canning specialists to such preserving jobs as making jams, pickles and other products that have enough sugar or vinegar to keep them from spoiling.

BIG BONE W. M. S.

The regular monthly meeting of the Big Bone W. M. S. was held at the church on Thursday, June 8 in the afternoon with 8 members and 3 visitors attending.

The meeting was opened by singing "Come Thou Almighty King" and repeating our watchwords. The devotional "God the Righteous Judge" taken from Psalm 96 was given by Mrs. Hogan, followed with prayer by Mrs. Hogan.

Mrs. Huff then took charge of the program and there were discussions on "His Mighty Acts in Mid-America" by Mrs. Jane Aylor, Mrs. Gruelle, Mrs. Jim Aylor, Mrs. Hiram Stephens, Mrs. Ella Rouse and Myrtle Adams.

We had a special song "Take The Name of Jesus With You" by Mrs. Hogan and Jane Aylor. We then sung another hymn, "The Morning Light Is Breaking," followed with prayer for our missionaries, boys overseas, sick and bereaved by Mrs. Ella Rouse.

After our business session we had special prayer for our shut-ins by Mrs. Huff and for our boys in service by Mrs. Gruelle. We were then dismissed in prayer by Mrs. Hogan. Mrs. W. W. Aylor, Pub. C.

STILL TIME TO USE NITRATE ON CROPS

Farmers who wonder how late they can use ammonium nitrate for corn and tobacco have this answer from the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics:

"Several factors, including weather, supply of soil nitrogen, and the date of planting, enter into the correct answer.

"Generally speaking, early applications of nitrogen are more effective than late application. In other words, the same amount of nitrogen applied before or at planting time would be expected to give greater increase than applications just before the last cultivation.

"An abundant supply of nitrogen available for the young plant may permit it to overcome damage from disease and insect attacks and to reduce competition from weed growth. On the other hand, if nitrogen is a limiting factor, considerable increase may be expected from the use of ammonium nitrate, when used even as late as the early tasseling period. Late applications are, of course, more often limited by the lack of moisture to make it available, and it should therefore be worked into the ground. It is generally agreed that the use of the material should be continued throughout June for corn and tobacco."

Chas. Hodges Overseas

An Air Service Command Depot, "Somewhere in England"—Cpl. Chas. Hodges, husband of Mrs. Chas. Hodges of Constance, Ky., is now overseas helping to "keep 'em flying" with the Aircraft Section of a large Air Service Command depot "somewhere in England."

Cpl. Hodges and the men of this section help to keep our combat planes the best in the aerial battle being fought in the skies over Germany by adding the most up-to-date improvements to ships after the new inventions are perfected.

Cpl Hodges is one of the men recently commended by Lieutenant General Carl A. Spaatz, Commanding General of the United States Strategic Air Forces in Europe, when production at the depot was increased by over 100 per cent.

Before entering the Army, he was employed by the Western Electric Co., in Dayton, Ohio, as electrician.

Can You Picture KENTUCKY without Transportation?

Public transportation—by highway and skyway, by railway and waterway—is one of the most vital industries of this State of ours. It represents far more than a vast array of terminals, equipment, repair shops and cold statistics about moving manpower—it's the link that joins Kentucky's cities and towns and rural communities to each other and to the rest of the Nation. In these tense times, it is the means of bringing boys home on furlough—of getting workers to the war plants—of keeping on the move all those people whose travel is essential to Victory.

An estimated 50,000 of our fellow-citizens of Kentucky are hard at work on the 28 railroads and the 2 airlines serving Kentucky, on boats, barges, huge fleets of trucks, and on the 96 intercity bus lines which operate 954 buses along 9,299 miles of routes within our State borders. No small share of the credit for the efficiency of this excellent transportation system belongs to the Kentucky Public Service Commission and the O.D.T.

We who keep Greyhound buses rolling across our State are conscious of the importance of our particular job—to the whole system of wartime transportation. Without the buses doing their share of the job other transportation would be burdened beyond capacity.

Many of our people today are serving in the Armed Forces—the rest of us are doing our level best to keep essential highway travel safe and efficient.

But we're also thinking about and planning for the post-war days, when pleasure travel will return and when such travel in new and finer Super-Coaches will be a greater pleasure than ever.

An Elsmere Lady Spit Up Acid Liquids For Hours After Eating

For hours after every meal, a Elsmere lady used to spit up a strong, acidulous liquid mixed with pieces of half-digested food. She says it was awful. At times she would nearly strangle. She had stomach bloat, daily headaches and constant irregular bowel action. Today, this lady eats her meals and enjoys them. And she says the change is due to taking ERB-HELP. Her food agrees with her. No gas, bloat or spitting up after eating. She is also free of headaches now, and bowels are regular, thanks to this Remarkable New Compound.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering. Get ERB-HELP. Elsmere Pharmacy, Dixie Highway.

--REGISTERED JERSEYS--

PRODUCTION RECORDS

The measurement for profit is production.

Generally speaking, the higher the production of the individual cow, the greater the profit over feed costs will be. The average dairy cow in America produces 180 pounds Butterfat. The average production of Registered Jerseys tested by the American Jersey Cattle Club is 460 pounds fat. The dairy farmer should appreciate that a 400 pound fat herd is an excellent institution. His goal should be to own a herd that, as a minimum, produces 300 to 350 pounds fat.

--REGISTERED JERSEYS--

PRODUCTION RECORDS

The measurement for profit is production.

Generally speaking, the higher the production of the individual cow, the greater the profit over feed costs will be. The average dairy cow in America produces 180 pounds Butterfat. The average production of Registered Jerseys tested by the American Jersey Cattle Club is 460 pounds fat. The dairy farmer should appreciate that a 400 pound fat herd is an excellent institution. His goal should be to own a herd that, as a minimum, produces 300 to 350 pounds fat.

AIR LINES WILL USE BOONE CO. AIRPORT

UNDER TEMPORARY CONTRACT IS WORD, FOLLOWING MEETING HELD BY KENTON OFFICIALS SATURDAY.

Announcement was made Saturday following a meeting of Kenton County Airport Board that air lines will probably use the Greater Cincinnati Airport, located near Hebron, although no contract was signed at the meeting. Basic facts were established for future negotiations.

Amos Culbert, New York, Vice President of American Airlines disclosed Friday that the air lines would move from Lunken Airport to Boone County on a temporary contract until the Cincinnati decision should be made final on the question of whether to establish an airport in the vicinity of Cornell Road, east of Sharon Woods.

Culbert has estimated that, if Cincinnati should decide to build an airport at the Cornell Road site, two or three years would be passed in preparing it for use. He emphasized that the air lines preferred to remain at Cincinnati, but because of operational difficulties at Lunken Airport the air lines probably would have to move to Boone County.

The move is not expected to take place before fall, as buildings have not been erected at the field near Hebron.

Those attending the meeting of the Kenton County Airport Board Saturday were B. H. Eilerman, Fred T. Macklin, Hal Ricketts, Thomas Sheridan and Lisle Kays, all members of the Board; Amos Culbert, New York, Vice President of American Airlines and William B. Woolsey, Assistant Vice President; A. M. Jens, Jr., Kansas City, superintendent of properties, Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., and Jack Burlington, TWA's district traffic manager of Cincinnati.

CEILING PRICES SET ON USED CAR SALES

TWO TYPES OF CEILINGS SET FOR EACH MODEL AND BODY TYPE—RATION BOARDS WILL FURNISH FULL INFORMATION

All types of used passenger cars have been brought under price control effective, July 10, 1944, the Lexington District OPA Office announced last week.

Specific dollars and cents prices are set according to model and body type, for 23 makes and about 6,000 models of passenger autos manufactured from 1937 through 1942. Older models will be priced by reference to comparable 1937 models. Two types of ceilings are set for each model and each body type—the "as is" price and the "warranty" price.

The 'as is" price is that paid for an auto when it is purchased from an individual, or from a dealer, just as it stands.

The "warranty" price is that paid to a dealer for a car that has been reconditioned and guaranteed.

For such sales, the buyer and seller must jointly fill out a transfer certificate and turn this in to the local Board to make sure the ceiling price has been observed.

Those contemplating buying or selling used cars will be able to obtain full information from their local Boards in a few days and all automobile dealers will be furnished with a copy of the regulation from the National Office.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Snyder spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sebree.

Wire Worms Causing Injury To Tobacco Crop

Wire worms have caused widespread damage to newly set tobacco over the county the past two weeks, according to H. R. Forkner County Agent. Many farmers report considerable damage.

H. H. Jewett, Assistant Entomologist of the Kentucky Experiment Station gives the following advice on wire worm injury and control: "The wireworms cannot be controlled by insecticide on a field scale and there is no chemical that can be put into the water used on the plants when being transplanted. At the Experiment Station, we have found that large plants will stand severe injury and recover if the soil is fertile and suitable for tobacco growing. In fields that have had as much as fifty per cent of the plants injured, not more than 3 per cent have died or needed replacing. The study of the life histories wireworms shows that much of the damage stops about June 20."

APPLICANTS MUST FILE BY JUNE 30TH

FOR MARCH AND APRIL MILK SUBSIDY PAYMENTS — MANY PRODUCERS HAVE FAILED TO FILE.

The closing date for filing applications for March and April milk subsidy payments is June 30th according to John E. Crigler, Secretary of the Boone County Agricultural Conservation Association.

A large number of producers have not filed for this payment and some have submitted their weights for March, but not for April. The payment for a whole milk for the March and April period is 50 cents per hundred pounds, and 8 cents per pound for butterfat or its equivalent.

Instructions have been received that producers who did not have sufficient sales for any previous period to amount to $1.00, may now combine any previous months' weights for payment.

The milk subsidy payment has been approved for continuance through March, 1945.

Weights should be submitted for May and June, as soon as final weights for June are received, and not later than August 31st. The payment for this period will be 35 cents per hundred pounds for whole milk and 6 cents per pound for butterfat or its equivalent. This will also be the same rate of payment for the July-August period, and then starting September 1st, it will be increased to 60 cents per hundred pounds for whole milk, and 10 cents per pound for butterfat or its equivalent.

All producers are urged to promptly file their weights, so that the payments can be made at an early date.

Reed Wilson, OPA District Director, that no special gasoline rations may be issued for vacation travel, and also that gasoline rations issued to B and C book holders for essential driving may under no circumstances be used for vacation trips.

Mr. Wilson added however, that it is permissible for motorists to use their A-book allotments for short vacation trips.

Two More Games Placed In Win Column By Team

Burlington's Sunday School nine chalked up their 10th and 11th straight wins the past week when the two closest games of the season were played.

Thursday evening Burlington turned back Sanders Drive 4 to 3. This was the first game of the season that Burlington had only a 1 run margin. Charles Popham pitched a two-hit game for Florence, but both hits came with men on base. Philip Yelton singled in the third to drive one 1 run in and in the fifth Tom Poole doubled, sending two more runs across the plate.

Sox Benson, the winning pitcher gave up four hits, walked 4 and struckout 15.

The score, tied in the ninth inning, Mike Poole, who had walked stole second and third, and then with two out, stole home to win the game.

Saturday, Burlington and Petersburg met in a slugging match, in which Burlington emerged on the top side with 21 hits. J. D. Daley led the Burlington offensive with two singles, a triple and a home run. Petersburg collected fifteen runs on 14 hits. Wyman Stephens, third baseman led the Petersburg boys with 2 singles and a ninth-inning homer. Sox Benson clouted out a home run in the first inning for the Burlington.

Bob Brown started for Burlington, being relieved in the eighth by Benson who was relieved by Daley in the ninth. Hitzfield, Campbell and Huey divided the mound duties for Petersburg.

Burlington will go to Petersburg Thursday night and Belleview comes to Burlington, Saturday.

Homemakers Should Watch Jar Clusters

Home canners in 1944 should make sure that they know their glass jars and how to use them. Managing each type of seal correctly is important for safety and success, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent.

The majority of food spoilage is due to incorrect use of jar lids. Too often the home canner fails to read instructions carefully.

No new type of lids will be made during 1944, but supplies include some of the familiar porcelain-lined zinc lids not manufactured in 1943.

The homemaker needs to read instructions carefully and follow directions when using any type of lid. Following are some important points to remember about jar closures:

(1) Zinc poreclain-lined cap with shoulder rubber ring to fit standard Mason jar. When canning fit wet ring down on jar shoulder, but don't stretch more than needed. Fill jar, then screw cap down firmly and turn it back one-fourth inch. After canning as soon as jar is taken from canner, quickly screw cap down tightly to complete seal. Do not turn jar upside down.

(2) Glass lid and top-seal rubber ring, held in place by metal screw band, to fit standard Mason jar. When canning, before filling jar, fit rubber ring on glass lid. Fill jar. Put lid on with rubber side down. Screw metal band on tight; then, using thumb as guide, turn back almost a quarter turn, or so that band and jar just mesh together. Caution: If band is screwed too tight, jar may break. After canning, as soon as jar is taken from canner, screw band down tight.

(3) Flat metal lid edged with sealing compound, (vacuum lid) held in place by metal screw band, to fit standard Mason jar. When canning, fill jar, put lid on so that sealing compound is next to the glass. Screw metal band on firmly, this lid has enough "give" to let air escape during canning. After canning: This is a self-sealer. Leave "as is" when removed from canned. Don't tighten further, or the seal may be broken.

(4) Coffee or other commercial jars—"63's"—with flat metal lid edged with sealing compound, bought new, held in place by metal screw cap that came with jar. From an old metal cap pry out paper lining or boil and scrape out sealing compound. Punch a small hole or two in the cap from outside. Then the cap will act as a crew band. When canning, fill jar. Put lid on, so sealing compound is next to glass. Screw metal cap on firmly, but not hard enough to cut thru the compound. When screwed on firmly, this lid has enough "give" to let air escape during canning. After canning: This is a self-sealer. Leave cap "as is" when removed from canner. Don't tighten further, or the seal may be broken.

BOY LANDS LARGE FISH

Master Billy McNeely, brother of Bobby McNeely, who is now serving with the marines in the South Pacific, was fishing in R. H. Garrison's lake when he began to call for help. His Grandfather, Geo. Horton, of Union was nearby and quickly went to his aid. Billy had hooked a big fish which he could not land alone. He held his line taut with bending pole until his grandfather arrived and helped him land a blue-cat weighing six pounds.

Billy said the only thing that worries him is that his brother Bobby isn't here to help enjoy his fine catch.

WLA Has Eighty-Three Members

Boone County has eighty-three women enrolled in the Women's Land Army for 1944, according to Mrs. Vernon Pope, County WLA Chairman.

Mrs. Pope feels that Boone County has many more women who are eligible to belong to this program of work. All women who make a contribution to wartime production of food, feed, or fiber on a farm are eligible to belong. This applies both to non-farm and farm women performing agricultural tasks as well as to those women who, by performing household duties relieve a farm woman for agricultural work. The purpose of the WLA is to give farm women recognition for the part they are playing and can play on the agricultural front.

Boone members of the WLA are spending one-eighth to all their time working outdoors. Fifty-six are spending one-eighth to one-half of their time doing agricultural work; while twenty-seven are spending one-half to all their time working on the farm.

Anyone eligible to join the WLA is asked to contact Mrs. Pope or Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent.

Kirtley McWethy, of Union was a business visitor here Monday morning.

CLOSE CULLING IMPORTANT JOB

UNPROFITABLE POULTRY, BEEF, DAIRY COWS, HOGS AND LIVESTOCK SHOULD BE ELMINATED.

Close culling of unprofitable poultry, dairy, beef, hogs and classes of livestock are more important today with high feed prices and narrow feed margins than ever before, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Culled stock will probably bring more now than later.

The average poultryman for each hundred hens started last fall will find that probably at least 33 birds are producing below feed costs. A close going over of each bird in the flock will identify those birds not in production.

Hog numbers on most upland farms in Boone County certainly should not be expanded. Only the very best of breeding stock should be maintained.

Beef cattle numbers in the United States are at a record high. Outlook experts are expecting a worse rush on the market this fall than was experienced last fall. Beef cattle experts have estimated if those cows that would be classified as culls in the herd were eliminated, the situation would be much improved. These unprofitable animals should be marketed before the market glut this fall.

Breeding ewes that fail to raise good lambs should be closely culled over. They will probably bring more now than later. Sheep numbers are in a better position than other kinds of livestock.

Work stock that is a surplus on many farms may be unprofitable.

The culling program is always an important farm job. It is the foundation for breed improvement. It is doubly necessary now when there is a surplus of livestock in relation to the available supply of feed.

60 Acres Balbo Rye Grown In County

Sixty acres of Balbo rye is reported grown in the county the past year, according to the County Agent's office. This new rye has been found superior for quick growth and winter and early spring pasture to all other cover crops.

It is hoped that at least 1000 acres can be seeded this fall. The greatest difficulty has been in securing seed. Rye is open pollinated, easily crossed with other rye and the result is that some of the seed sold as Balbo Rye has not been true to variety. The Farm Bureau plans to sponsor a special seed securing service to its members this fall.

Local growers of Balbo rye this year are: Harold Crigler, Hebron; B. C. Stephens, Grant; Hugh Stephens, Orville Hensley, O. T. Kelly and J. C. Acree of East Bend, and Walter King, of Verona. These growers have been encouraged to harvest seed for sale to their neighbors.

REPORT $112,246 IN BOND DRIVE

SHOWS TOTAL OF $43,000 AHEAD OF FIRST WEEK OF FOURTH WAR LOAN DRIVE—DO YOUR PART, BUY TODAY.

Subscriptions in the Fifth War Loan Drive the first week to last Saturday night amounted to $112,246.00. This is $43,000.00 ahead of the first week of the Fourth War Loan Drive but is accounted for by a few very large subscriptions the past week. Only 172 people have subscribed so far in this drive. From now on the precinct chairmen and workers must organize and make a house to house canvass in soliciting subscriptions if we reach our quota of $600,000.00 in Boone County.

If a subscriber desires to avoid the payment of accrued interest on coupon bonds he should subscribe before June 26th as the bonds are dated and bear interest from that date and anyone purchasing these bonds after that time is required to pay the accrued interest. Go to your bank this week and enter your subscription and help make a good report for next week. The drive closes July 8th.

We do not see how anyone can read the accounts of the fighting fronts and look at the pictures of these invasions without wanting to buy War Bonds to the very limit. Over 3000 of our boys were killed the first few days of the invasion of western France. We will be hearing of the individual cases shortly, very probably right here in Boone County. Do you value money above human life?

Make that subscription without delay and make it for more bonds than you ever bought before. You can always get your money back when needed, plus interest. Help the soldier boys who are helping us.

Negro Arrested At Florence, Saturday

Deputy Sheriff, Irvin Rouse arrested Ernest Mitchell, 975 Haller Ave., Dayton, O., Saturday afternoon at Florence, after he had obtained gasoline at the Standard Oil Service Station, and left without paying for the gas or relinquishing coupons.

Sheriff Rouse was assisted by a posse of Florence citizens in rounding up the negro, after he jumped from the automobile and fled. He was captured a few minutes later. Mitchell was brought to Burlington and placed in jail, where he was held for FBI officials.

He was driving a 1941 Oldsmobile which he had stolen in Dayton, O., according to officials.

91 ENROLLED IN CANNING PROJECT

PROJECT WORK IN 4-H CLUB WILL START THIS WEEK—LEADERS WILL ASSIST WITH CANNING DEMONSTRATION.

Project work for the 91 girls enrolled in canning will start this week, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent. Girls representing eleven clubs are planning to do some canning work.

Four-H Club leaders are stressing canning projects this year as a means of helping the war effort. Every girl who assists her mother or does canning by herself is doing her part in the "Live-at-Home" program. The amount of work required of a 4-H member enrolled in canning varies according to the age. For instance, girls 8 to 10 years old assist their mother, gather food, preparing, peeling, etc. for at least twenty-five hours during the summer. Girls 11 to 13 years old can 20 to 30 quarts of fruits and tomatoes and help their mother twenty-five hours in food preparation. Girls 14 to 16 years old are asked to can at least 50 quarts of fruits and vegetables. Girls 16 years or older are asked to can 100 quarts of fruits and vegetables. Meats may also be included in their canning budget.

The following leaders will assist 4-H members by giving a canning demonstration and individual instruction: Burlington, Mrs. Vernon Pope; Grant, Mrs. Laura Rogers and Mrs. Allen Rogers; Florence, Mrs. George Morith; Hebron, Mrs. A. W. Rogers; New Haven, Mrs. Joe Woods; Petersburg, Mrs. Pearl Walston; Verona, Mrs. Walter King.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

THE POWER IN SIMPLE LIVING

LESSON TEXT—Daniel 1:8-16, 19, 20.
GOLDEN TEXT—But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the king's dainties, nor with the wine which he drank.—Daniel 1:8.

"Dare to be a Daniel,
Dare to stand alone
Dare to have a purpose firm,
Dare to make it known."

Remember how we used to sing it in our Sunday Schools? Possibly some of us still do. The thought of the song assuredly needs to be emphasized anew.

The "times are out of joint." Millions of men and women are meeting new problems and temptations. The standards of life they learned in home and church or Sunday school are not too easy to maintain.

Many are hearing that old excuse for laxity. "Man, you're in the army now," or "Don't forget you're not at home with Mother; you're in the navy." Civilians have similar tempting excuses for careless living, drinking, etc.

Our lesson is a timely one. It presents Daniel as having—

I. A Courageous Purpose (v. 8).

Daniel and his three Hebrew companions were among those carried captive to Babylon. As promising young men, they were selected to receive an education in the wisdom of the land, at the king's expense and in preparation for his service.

The king provided for them the delicacies of his household, thinking thus to keep them strong and in good health. Daniel recognized that many of these things were unclean according to the laws of his people. He also knew that to eat such food and to drink the intoxicants provided for them would be to injure his health and cut down his ability to learn.

It was no easy thing to ask to be excused from what the king had commanded, not to do what everybody else was doing; but Daniel had a courageous purpose "in his heart."

But Daniel had the wisdom to be tactful about his convictions. He went to the king's steward with—

II. A Considered Plan (vv. 9-13).

He had something thoughtfully worked out, a fair proposal which would not endanger the life or standing of the prince who was over them. He proposed a test, and agreed, if it failed, to be subject to further orders. He knew it would not fail.

How often those who have it in their heart to stand true to God against evils, such as beverage alcohol, have no plan in mind, and are only loud and tactless in their condemnation. They make no contribution to the cause. Let us be intelligent and properly prepared.

Daniel's plan put a planned diet and water over against rich foods and wine. It was a case of simple living against "high" living, and the result was a foregone conclusion. Those high in positions of authority in the field of diet tell us again and again that we need simple, well-balanced meals. And science is definite and clear in its condemnation of alcoholic beverages.

Daniel's test period resulted in—

III. A Convincing Proof (vv. 14-16).

Ten days proved the point. Daniel and his friends were fairer and fatter than the others. They were vindicated in their courageous stand for what they believed to be right. Simple living demonstrated its value.

Think what a fine testimony the experience of Daniel must have been in that great group of young princes who were at the king's table. So we also may give good witness for our Lord by our loyalty to right standards. Often it is true that those who outwardly scoff at them are secretly moved to respect those who consistently stand for what they believe.

We need to cultivate in our young people the high courage which will enable them to stand against the constant temptation to partake of alcoholic beverages and to face with intelligent courage the clever propaganda of the liquor sellers.

Note that Daniel and his friends did not lose by their decision—they gained. They reached—

IV. A Commendable Position (vv. 19, 20).

At the end of the training period the king gave these young men examinations. Note that in technical knowledge, "I.Q." and in personal characteristics, Daniel and his comrades were superior to all the rest. That is in accord with the findings of modern science in the matter of the use of liquor.

Is it not almost unbelievable then that the advertising of the liquor interests, suggesting that liquor is a desirable thing from a personal, social, and business viewpoint, is permitted? The facts are all on the other side.

Strange too is the tolerant attitude of our nation and especially of many in the church toward that which is known to be destructive and detrimental. It is an appalling commentary on the extent to which our standards have been lowered or forgotten.

Lt. James C. Conner, 580th Signal Depot Co., APO 152, care Postmaster writes: "Thanks again for sending me The Recorder. I was receiving them regularly until I made my last move and they'll probably catch up with me again. They really mean a lot when you're away from home."

Pfc. David A. Lucas, ASN 15118206 Co. C. 96th CML Bn. (MT2), Camp Livingston, La., writes:

"Just a few lines to let you know that I have been receiving the paper regularly every since I've been in the service. I appreciate your sending it to me very much, and want to thank you.

"I really enjoy reading news from hom . You are doing a wonderful thing, and I am sure that the boys from Boone County appreciate it."

We are in receipt of the following letter from Pvt. Ward R. "Spuds" Rice, stationed at Camp Blanding, Fla.:

"I received The Recorder today and appreciate you taking it upon yourself to see that I receive it.

"I was transferred recently to another Company, so if you don't mind please send it to the same address but change it to Co. B, instead of Co. C.

"Is Combs still with you, or has the Navy caught up with him? If he is there I suppose he still spends his spare time removing the finny tribe from the babbling brooks of Boone County. I don't blame him, if I were there I would help him out. This camp is built around a lake, but to date I have never had the time to find out for myself if it contains any fish.

"This army life is pecular that way—they don't give a soldier time to think of his pleasures, or I should say time to do the things he likes, but I guess that is the way it should be, because war is a serious business and pleasures will have to be passed up for the duration.

"Pete, this army life isn't too bad but I do miss all my friends back home and I want to hurry up and do all the things that they want me to do so that we can all come home to stay.

"Thanking you again for remembering me."

We are in receipt of the following letter from Mattie L. Elkin, thanking us for the paper we send her son:

"I desire to express my sincere thanks for your generosity in sending The Recorder to my son Sgt. William N. Elkin in Bushnell General Hospital, Brigham City, Utah. He has been in the hospital for six months and will probably be there for six more. He enjoys and appreciates knowing what his fellow soldiers all over the world and the folks back home are doing. I'm sure many others boys in the service of our country are very thankful for this same privilege.'

We are in receipt of the following letter from Cpl. Wallace V. Judd ASN 35454623, APO 958, care Postmaster Hq. Det., Station Compl., San Francisco, Calif.:

"I have been receiving The Recorder for about six weeks and have enjoyed reading it very much, as there is a lot of news in it that no one tells me about.

"I am stationed here on the Island of Oahu and have been here for almost twenty-two months.

"There are three of us here from Boone County, and we get to read The Recorder as we save it when one gets through with it we give it to the other. I think one of the boys gets The Recorder. The three of us are Pfc. Louis Stephens, Sgt. Joe A. Kannady and myself. We all wish to send our thanks to The Recorder.

"I would like to say hello to all my friends back home that I have been unable to write, and the gang that I used to dance with.

"I would be glad to hear from any of my friends who would care to write."

Nichols S. Furnish F1/c A. B. Camp 2, Float 38, Group 141, Division 7, U. S. N. A. T. B., Ft. Pierce, Fla., writes:

"I know you think I am really on the run. I have been here of late, after staying in Solomons, Md., two weeks and then sent here.

"It sure is plenty hot here. I have been blistered three times already by this tropical sun and heat. The sand flies and mosquitoes make it plenty tough to sleep.

"I have been assigned to a crew for attack boat. It is a 36-foot boat for invasions. I will receive about eight weeks' training before going across.

"I haven't received the paper but once since leaving Dearbon. I am expecting to receive the ones sent to Solomons in the next few days.

"I am really anxious to receive your paper again, so send it to my new address. Thanks a lot for sending it in the past."

Pvt. Robert I. Gulley, Sea School, M. C. B., San Diego, 41, Calif., writes:

"Just a few lines thanking you for The Recorder, for it really makes me feel at home when I can sit down and read the paper from my home town. I should have written soon but I've been rather busy up to now.

"I finished sea school training the 8th of June and now I'm waiting to be transferred out, which will be next week, I hope.

"How's fishing this year? I hope it's a little better than last year. Gee, what I'd give to go fishing in good old Gunpowder once more. They say that there's good fishing out here but I haven't had the chance to go yet. Just try to save a few for me when I get back.

"This really is swell weather out here in San Diego and military life must be agreeing with me for I've gained twenty-five pounds since the 25th of February. I don't think I ever felt better in my life.

"Well Pete, I've about run out of something to write about and I think it's time for chow so tell everybody hello and the best of luck. Thanks again for your paper, you'll never know what it means to me and the rest of the boys."

RETIRE from harsh-laxative customer list. Add gentle bulk to daily meals with new Post's Raisin Bran—toasted flakes of wheat and bran plus choice raisins.

State Fair Manager And Horse Show Director Named

Elliott Robertson, State Commissioner of Agriculture, has announced appointments to the two key managerial positions for the 1944 Kentucky State Fair to be held August 28 through September 4 at Churchill Downs, Louisville.

E. L. Newton, oil operator and farmer of Owensboro, was appointed to the position of Fair Manager. Newton, past president of the Owensboro Lion's Club and active in civic affairs in Western Kentucky, is President of the Hoosier Drilling Company and the Birk City Oil Company.

Ray Purdy, also of Owensboro, horse show judge and breeder, was named Horse Show Manager.

Fair Plans Progressing

Churchill Downs, home of the Kentucky Derby, selected as the site for the 1944 Fair, is ideally suited to the big event. The huge grandstand seating capacity and other facilities available on the grounds will make this year's attendance at the Fair a real treat. State farm product and livestock exhibitors are urged to get in touch with the Fair office, which will be located at Churchill Downs, immediately for any details regarding exhibits. The Fair Catalog and Premium list will be in the mail about the middle of July.

Unusual attractions are being billed for the 1944 Fair and will include many outstanding specialties in addition to the famous Johnny J. Jones midway shows. Featured, of course, will be the Grand Championship Horse Show under the direction of Mr. Purdy who has conducted horse shows in Western Kentucky for a number of years.

Long Illness And Your Feet

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

Long illness or long convalescence often may be the cause of painful muscle spasm in the lower limb and foot. In either circumstance long periods of inactivity, lack of exercise, coupled with the weakened condition of the body cause the muscles to lose tone and become weak and flabby.

The foot, while lying, as in bed, cannot and is not, held in a normal position in relation to the limbs and rest of the body. The foot is held in an extended position, which allows a shortening of the large muscles in the back of the limb, and allows the weaker muscles in the front of the limb to stretch.

When partial strength, to the patient, is restored and he finally is allowed to walk, it is imperative that the bones of the foot are properly supported in shoes designed to distribute body weight evenly over the whole bottom surface of the foot, and to relieve further, the strain on the muscles, ligamehts and tendons, until normal strength and muscle tone return.

An ordinary "strong looking" shoe is not the solution to this problem. Ordinary shoes with so-called arch supports and flat base planes, can only allow the foot condition to degrees further.

At this time special attention should be paid to the inner construction of the shoe. The base construction and inner foundation of the shoe should be shaped to the NORMAL CONTOUR of the bottom of a NORMAL FOOT. The inside of the shoe should resemble the normal foot print in soft turf or sand.

Such a shoe with sound construction and foot shaped base planes is found in an especially built surgical shoe.—Adv.

FIVE VEGETABLES ON SAME GROUND

Five different vegetables grown on the same plot of ground from early spring to late fall was one of the gardening tricks made use of by Mrs. V. P. Hatfield of Grayson county in getting vegetable variety last year. So successful was her garden that she canned, dried and stored vegetables and fruits for her family for winter use and until the middle of this summer. She also had enough to provide for her son's family for a part of the year. Mrs. Hatfield is a member of the Freedom Homemakers' Club.

The peach crop as a whole in McCracken county is said to be above average.

On June 6, The Courier-Journal reprinted an article from the Kentucky Farm Bureau News, which sought to establish an attitude of unfriendliness on our part toward farmers, based largely on a supposed antagonism toward the Farm Bureau itself. The following editorial fully states The Courier-Journal case:

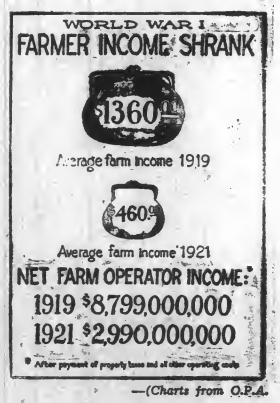
The Courier-Journal and the Farmer

The article which we reprint on this page today from The Kentucky Farm Bureau News encourages us to believe that the facts which we have presented in behalf of price control are rather effective. Otherwise, why this elaborate avoidance of the merits of the case? Why this effort to obscure the plain truths of economics and of history by endeavoring to make the reader believe that THE COURIER-JOURNAL, in presenting these truths, is animated by a perverse bias against the Kentucky farmer and an abysmal ignorance of his problems? The allegation is, of course, as fantastic as it is malicious and will not stand a moment's examination by any well-informed Kentucky farmer.

In the first place, how could we be so stupid? Even if it were assumed that no idea was ever born in this office except as related to our own self-interest, that self-interest would indicate profound concern for the welfare of the farmer. Our own welfare is intimately and inextricably bound up with his. Agriculture is Kentucky's basic industry. Agriculture will be Kentucky's basic industry as far as anyone can see into the future. The Louisville community will not flourish, and neither will THE COURIER-JOURNAL, if the basic industry of the state languishes—if the farmer is put upon again as he was for years following the other war. We don't think the point needs to be labored. We could not conceivably be so dumb as deliberately to cultivate the ill-will and oppose the honest and legitimate aspirations of the people who stand at the very source of everything we hope for, for this state, for this community and for ourselves.

In the second place, we think the record speaks on this point. We are not going boastfully to list here all of the enterprises in which this newspaper has engaged and to which it has devoted time, effort and money for the well-being of the Kentucky farmer as he has conceived it and as we have conceived it. It is enough to remark in passing that the first important public service undertaken by the late Judge ROBERT W. BINGHAM, after he became publisher of THE COURIER-JOURNAL and The Louisville Times, was in behalf of the tobacco farmers of this state, ground down by the postwar deflation of 1921. Judge BINGHAM spared absolutely nothing in that cause, and his deep and understanding sympathy with the farmer left an impress on the policy of THE COURIER-JOURNAL which is still there and will always be there.



We think that most Kentucky farmers are aware of this. If there is bias in this office, it is bias on the farmer's side, growing out of knowledge of his struggle, knowledge of the odds he has often faced in the past, knowledge of his character and common sense. If there is ignorance in this office—and we do not pretend to know everything—it is in any case never ignorance born of failure to try to understand or lack of either facilities or inclination for first-hand study. But we know that it is not ignorant to be mindful of the disastrous consequences of inflation, and we are convinced that it is ignorant, dangerously ignorant, to wave all this aside, as the Farm Bureau writer does, as a preposterous bugaboo. There was nothing at all imaginary about the crash of farm prices, including tobacco prices, that followed the largely uncontrolled war boom before.

We have never pretended that the farmer has had an easy row to hoe in this war. His difficulties and exasperations have been many, and his production record, in spite of them all, has been magnificent. Nevertheless, it would be absurd to pretend that on the whole he has fared badly under price control. One of the charts reproduced with this editorial shows where his income stands—it has about trebled since 1939—and let us not forget that, thanks to price control, there has been no such increase in the cost of things he has had to buy. The other chart is a grim reminder of what happened to farm income before—and, as late as 1939, farmers were still suffering the consequences.

THE COURIER-JOURNAL is not unaware of the many important community services of the Farm Bureau, especially those of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, which we think has contributed much of value to farming in Kentucky. But we are not unaware, either, that the national leadership of the bureau follows a policy of resisting farm price control and of attempting to hamstring it at every turn. It is exactly the policy of the national labor union leadership, which, though relatively quiet on the subject at the moment, is undoubtedly out to hatchet wage control at the first favorable opportunity. We think the policy in each case is woefully, almost criminally, short-sighted, perilous to the real interests of both worker and farmer, and we have repeatedly said so.

We shall have to keep on saying so. We could not in good conscience do anything else, just for the dubious advantage of enjoying the favor of the Farm Bureau leadership or the labor union leadership. We shall, of course, continue to be misrepresented and called names by people like "F. B. Member," but we are not so ignorant as to believe Kentucky farmers are as ill-informed and unintelligent as that writer apparently thinks they are.

SAVE WASTE PAPER FOR ARMY CARTONS

The serious paper pulp shortage and the limited collection of waste paper have led the War Production Board to issue a revised Order L-317 which limits the manufacture of corrugated containers for domestic use by approximately 25 percent.

In 1944 carton production will be the largest in history, but military requirements for V-boxes for our forces overseas will be greater. The second front in France, the rapid advances in Italy, and the fast moving war against Japan in Burma, China and the Pacific call for more cartons to carry supplies. The limitation order is necessary to meet this demand. The public should know this and greater efforts should be made by all individuals, stores, schools, offices, homes, factories and governmental agencies to save waste paper.

The situation grows more critical daily.

Seventy-five bushels of hybrid seed corn were planted by 4-H club members in Breathitt county.

TO A FAITHFUL PASTOR

Dedicated to Rev. H. M. Hauter who is leaving this community July 1st.

It was just a few years ago you came to us.

Days have swiftly passed down the valley of Time and now you are leaving.

You came into our midst not just as our Pastor but as our Friend.

You visited our homes and came to the back door not the front; you came not as "the preacher" but as our neighbor.

Your encouraging words and ready smile brought sunshine to the bedside of our sick ones.

Your gentle, quiet voice laid our loved ones to their final rest.

You guided and fought for our youth.

You comforted and cheered our aged ones.

You married our young folk, and baptized and confirmed their children.

As a shepherd leads and cares for his flock, so have you led and cared for us.

So many times have we shut our eyes to your efforts; too many times have we failed to take your hand and say "Thanks, you have done a good job!"

And now thanks cannot be said.

Instead we say: "God bless you and keep you ever in His love. And may that Love ever shine as your guiding Light."

—A Friend.

THE BOONE COUNTY RECORDER

ESTABLISHED 1875

VOLUME 69 — BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY THURSDAY, JUNE 29, 1944 — NUMBER 2

SERVE AND CONSERVE TO WIN THE WAR

Library U of K

$284,996 REACHED IN BOND CAMPAIGN

ONLY FOUR HUNDRED THIRTY-NINE INDIVIDUALS AND FIRMS HAVE SUBSCRIBED, ACCORDING TO CHAIRMAN.

Subscriptions for the two weeks of the Fifth War Loan Drive, ending last Saturday night, amount to $284,996.00. This is less than half of the county quota of $600,000.00 and half of the time has expired. It must also be considered that several very large subscriptions are included in this total.

The number of people subscribing is very low, as only 439 firms and individuals have subscribed. This is a very poor showing in a county with a population of 10,000 people.

Are we going to fall down this time on raising the County's quota? Do we want the word to go out to ours boys on the firing line that the citizens of Boone County are not interested in them? Really, can you sleep at night knowing that you have not done your part by purchasing War Bonds?

Some soldiers who are now fighting in foreign countries are saving their money and sending it home for investment in War Bonds. They are fighting and buying. What are you doing? The Drive closes July 8th—do not delay that subscription. Let's have a much better report for next week.

Boone County has been allotted $6,000.00 of a $2,000,000.00 bond purchase made by the Federal Land Bank of Louisville in connection with the Fifth War Loan Drive. In announcing the purchase, A. B. Renaker, Secretary-Treasurer of the Boone County National Farm Loan Association, explained that the allocation to each county was on the basis of Federal Land Bank loans held by farmers in the County.

FOOD COST SURVEY COMPLETED BY OPA

MAJORITY OF PRICES HAVE REMAINED FIXED—TEN ITEMS SHOW EVEN NUMBER OF ADVANCES AND DECLINES.

A survey of food costs was completed last week by the Lexington District Office of OPA. The survey covered the cost of thirty staple food items in May, 1943 as compared to May, 1944 and is a part of a district wide survey.

The results of the survey showed that the majority of prices have remained fixed while there were about an even number of advances and declines among ten items.

Lower prices on bacon, butter, pork chops, eggs and peanut butter were found while advances were indicated on meal, flour, catsup, milk and dried beans. An increase of a half cent per pound on flour was general in spite of the fact that flour now sells at wholesale for less than it did a year ago.

Among the 20 items remaining unchanged in price were beef, sugar, lard, coffee, bread, soaps and most canned goods.

Slight price changes either up or down can be attributed to merchandising methods, but on the whole, food prices have been stabilized according to Chris Moore, Assistant Information Officer of the Lexington District OPA Office, who conducted the survey.

Burlington Nine Wins Over Belleview Sat.

Burlington marked up their twelfth victory Saturday when they defeated Belleview 22-15. The game lasted two hours and a half.

Phil Yelton took the mound for Burlington with Ivan Cason on the hill for Belleview. Yelton was relieved in the first of the fourth by Brown after giving up six runs on three hits.

Burlington was trailing the Belleview boys by two runs in the fourth, but staged a rally in the final innings, collecting thirteen runs, giving Brown his eighth victory of the season.

Cason was relieved in the sixth inning by White of Belleview and Scott took over mound duties in the seventh to finish the game. Cason was the losing pitcher.

J. D. Daley collected four of Burlington's 14 hits, having a triple, double and two singles. Dave Clore third baseman for Belleview collected two doubles and two singles for six times at bat.

Sanders Drive comes to Burlington tonight (Thursday) for a game at 6 o'clock.

Hauter Inspires Youth In Talk Thursday

"Rural Life and Youth" was the subject of a highly inspirational talk of Rev. H. M. Hauter before the Utopia Club last Thursday evening. Rev. Hauter stressed the importance of the rural home, of neighborliness, friendships, and closeness to nature. Urban life can not compare with these advantages. The problems of the coming years are going to be difficult but rural people will solve these problems, according to Hauter.

Carl W. Jones and the County Agent and Home Demonstration Agent were other speakers on the evening program.

The next meeting of the club will be held July 20th to plan for the 1944 and Utopia Free Fair.

"The Purple Heart" Looms Great Triumph!

In the ordinary course of events, outstanding motion pictures cast their shadows before them. The public has read about them in the fan magazines, in the syndicated columns of Hollywood writers, has heard about them on radio programs, and in general has a pretty fair idea of what the picture is all about. The longer the shadow, the more important is the picture likely to be.

That is why "The Purple Heart" showing at the Gayety Theater, Thursday and Friday night, looms as the outstanding motion picture of the year. For during the past few weeks more space has been devoted to it in newspapers, magazines and columns, and more time on the air, than any screen production of recent history.

In a word, "The Purple Heart" is News—and news of such importance that it has overflowed the movie sections into the editorial pages—has burst from the fan magazines into the nationally-circulated picture-and-news weeklies—has spread from radio's film commentators to the straight newscasters and analysts.

The reasons for such unprecedented coverage are readily apparent—"The Purple Heart" is a story that might have been torn right from the headlines. It is the story of eight Yanks who bomb Tokyo, are captured by the Japs, and are brought to trial as murderers—not as prisoners of war.

How they defy the entire Jap empire, and literally tie the Jap army, navy and air force into knots is the astounding climax of the picture, which bristles with the vengeance that will be wreaked upon the Island empire.

Featured in the cast are Dana Andrews, Richard Conte, Farley Granger, Kevin O'Shea, Donald Barry, Trudy Marshall and Sam Levene. Lewis Milestone directed the film.

RECORD WOOL CROP DELIVERY

IS EXPECTED IN BOONE COUNTY ON JULY 5, 6, AND 7TH, ACCORDING TO H. E. WHITE, PRESIDENT.

The Boone County Wool Pool is preparing for a record crop delivery this coming week, July 5th, 6th, and 7th, according to H. E. White, president of the pool. Delivery will be made on Wednesday at Walton, Thursday at Burlington and Friday at Petersburg. The pool usually handling 90 percent of the wool produced in the county, is expected to exceed 95 percent of the total clip this year.

John Neumeyer of the M. Sable and Sons of Louisville will accept pool weights of each farmer at the local points and will pay each grower at the time of weighing. The County Pool is rated as having the highest quality wool produced in the state. Growers are urged to keep their wool dry in case of rain and to deliver the clip in the best merchantable condition. Growers are also urged to have their clips at the local receiving points not later than early afternoon at Walton or Burlington or before noon at Petersburg on the respective dates for those places.

COVINGTON STORES WILL CLOSE JULY 4

At a meeting of members bers of the Covington Retail Merchants' Association Monday morning, it was decided that most Covington stores would be open all day next Monday, July 3, but, of course closed all day July 4.

One exception to the Covington stores is The John R. Coppin Co., which will be closed on both days, Monday and Tuesday in order to give their employees a double holiday.

On account of the holiday, the usual Wednesday afternoon closing will not be adhered to, the stores remaining open all day.

The announcement that Covington stores will be open Monday is made in consideration of the fact that some stores in Cincinnati will close that day.

Eight Applications Made For Fish Stock

Eight applications for fish stock have been received at the County Agent's office. The two main species of fish that will be available this fall will be bream and bass. This combination is theoretically the best for balanced pond stocking.

Two or three hundred new ponds are being built in the county each year. Approximately fifty of these ponds would be suitable for fish stocking. A good fish pond should be six or more feet deep and cover at least four-tenths of an acre if fertilized, or three-fourths of an acre of water if not fertilized. Only ponds of this size or larger are recommended for restocking.

Applicants for state and Federal fish stock may contact Edwin Johnson, State Fish and Game Conservation officer at Walton; J. C. Acree of the Soil Conservation Service or the County Agent's office. Requests will probably not be filled until cool weather this fall.

CULL AND CAN CHICKENS NOW

CLOSE CULLING DURING SUMMER SAVES FEED AND LEAVES MORE SPACE FOR GOOD LAYERS, SAYS HDA.

Early Molters and slackers in the poultry lot should be culled during the summer months. Close culling during the summer saves feed and leaves more space for the good layers.

Old hens are the best for canning, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent. Old birds stand the long processing and high temperatures, necessary in meat canning, whereas young tender chickens, when canned, lose flavor, fall apart and develop a stringy texture.

Chickens may be canned with a pressure canner or water bath. Chicken in quart glass jars should be precessed 60 minutes at 15 lbs. in pressure canner or for three hours in water bath.

To prevent darkening of the meat, put up in glass and use no copper or iron utensils in preparation. Never cook or let chicken stand in galvanized iron tubs or pails. Cut up chicken into serving pieces. Keep only enough fat for favor. Sort chickens into three piles. (1) Put together meaty pieces such as breasts, thighs, legs and upper wing joints to be canned with or without bone. Canned with bone, chicken takes less time to process and has better flavor. (2) Put boney pieces such as backs, wings, necks, together. These are best if the meat is stripped from the bone, packed, and covered with broth before processing; and (3) keep giblets separate. Canned with other meat of chicken, they discolor and flavor it. Can livers alone and gizzards and hearts together.

Steam chicken in a small amount of water, sear in a pan or put into a greased pan and into a hot oven until the fowl begins to brown. Sprinkle with salt, using one teaspoon per pound of meat. Pack while hot into hot jars. Seal according to jar closure and process. Cook boney pieces in a small amount of water, remove from bone, reheat in broth in which they were cooked, pack in hot jars and process. Precook giblets in boiling water about 10 minutes, pack in hot jars, cover with boiling stock and process.

After processing, complete seal and cool jars right-side up out of drafts.

CO. FARM LABOR SHORTAGE ACUTE

EVERY KNOWN AVAILABLE SOURCE OF LABOR HAS BEEN EXPLORED—MANY CROPS ARE NEEDING ATTENTION.

Farmers of Boone County at present are facing an acute farm labor shortage, according to Will Smith, Farm Labor Assistant. Several farmers are facing an emergency in their farm operations unless help can be secured immediately. Every known available source of labor has been explored. The labor shortage is probably the most acute on record.

Many farmers have not gotten all their tobacco crop out due mainly to weather conditions. Cultivated crops are demanding immediate attention. Large number of farmers find themselves unable to harvest their hay crops and as a result are not cutting all their hay. Many farmers are offering to loan tools and equipment for someone to harvest hay crops on the shares.

Dairymen who are unable to secure reliable help are in the worst predicament of all. Excellent wages are being offered for good dairy hands.

Those who may be available for full or part time jobs are urged to contact the County Agent's office at the earliest possible date.

Ernest Webster

Funeral services were held at 3 p. m. Sunday at the Walton Baptist Church for Ernest Webster, 51, Walton, who died Thursday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, after a short illness. Burial was in Walton Cemetery.

Mr. Webster was a member of the Walton Baptist Church and the Walton Masonic Lodge, No. 719. He was a signal maintenance worker for the Louisville & Nashville R. R. and was a deputy Conservation officer of State Fish and Game Division.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mabel Beach Webster, and a daughter, Miss Ernestine Webster.

U. K. Summer Term Enrollment Reaches 952

At the close of the regular registration period for the first term of the 1944 Summer Quarter at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, a total of 952 students were enrolled, just 113 less than were registered at the close of the same period in 1943.

A number of registrations for two and one-half week short courses will swell the grand total for the first term.

It is interesting to note that registration increased in 37 Kentucky counties, and 23 of the 48 states, besides Kentucky, are represented, as well as four foreign countries or American possessions.

Among those registered from Northern Kentucky are Evelyn Percival Coffman, Verona, and Mary Bess Cropper, of Burlington.

Proctor Urges Farmers To Form Strong Bureau

Ruben Proctor, former Owen County Farm Bureau president and assistant secretary of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, met with the County directors last Wednesday evening. He cited the great advantages our farmers have secured through the work of the Farm Bureau both State and National. He urged that every farmer be urged to join in building a strong farmer organization to meet the post-war problems of agriculture.

Directors attending the meeting were: Lloyd Siekman, president; John Crigler, secretary; George Heil, Florence; Walter King, Verone; H. E. White, Burlington. The directors expressed the opinion that Boone County should have at least 500 Farm Bureau members.

Revival Services Planned

Revival services will begin at the East Bend Baptist Church on July 3rd and will continue through Friday, July 14th, according to the pastor, Rev. Carl Wainscott.

Rev. John Ashcraft will bring the message each evening at 8:30 p. m. (CWT). The public is cordially invited.

Harvests Good Hay Crop

Cad Sullivan of near Burlington, reports he harvested approximately six tons of excellent alfalfa hay the first cutting from four acres of land. Mr. Sullivan applied four and a quarter tons of limestone and 500 pounds of phosphate per acre and sowed fifteen pounds of seed per acre.

No hay crop pays better than alfalfa seeded with grass on good land that is properly treated. Boone County farmers could profit from three to four times the present total alfalfa acreage, according to the County Agent's Office.

New Sheep Program Highly Successful

The new Phenothiazine stomach worm control program is proving highly successful with farmers in all sections of the county, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

Farmers who followed the recommended program have reported the most effective control experienced to date. Unfortunately, a few farmers failed to drench and others have failed to follow the drenching with the feeding of Phenothiazine, one part, and salt nine parts. The complete program is recommended. Also, failure to use a weather protected salt box has resulted in loss of this expensive material.

Mimeographed plans for both the recommended treatment and the salt box are available on request at the County Agent's Office.

DELEGATES NAMED AT CO. MEETING

SATURDAY TO ATTEND STATE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION AT LOUISVILLE, TUESDAY—THIRTEEN DELEGATES CHOSEN.

Delegates and alternates were named at a meeting of Boone County democrats held at the court house in Burlington, Saturday afternoon at 2:00.

C. L. Cropper was named temporary chairman and Chas. W. Riley was elected temporary secretary of the County Convention. Wilton Stephens, V. P. Kearns and J. T. Williams were named as members of the resolutions committee.

Delegates and alternates named from the group of democrats present, to attend the State Convention held in Louisville, Ky., on June 27: Delegates were R. M. Hall, C. L. Cropper, Bernard Rogers, C. A. Fowler, Shirley Ferguson, R. I. Rouse, Emily Cleek, Byron Kinman, Mrs. A. E. Hue, Wilton Stephens, J. T. Williams, V. P. Kearns, and Chas. W. Riley. Alternates were, Mrs. C. E. McNeely, J. P. Brothers, J. H. Huey, L. S Chambers, Powers Conrad, J. E. Riddell, S. M. Graves, Mrs. Stanley Lucas, Hiram English, Hugh Stephens, Tom Huff, Pat Madden and G. C. Ransom.

Delegates were directed to cast their votes as a unit in all matters coming before both the District and State Conventions, and a majority of the delegates present shall govern how the vote of the delegation shall be cast on all matters coming before either the District or State Convention.

Attendance was very light at the County Convention held here Saturday. Lack of attendance was attributed to scarcity of help on farms and many farmers being far behind with their work. Business of the meeting, however, was carried out in an official manner.

The Boone County quota in the Fifth War Loan Drive is nearer fulfillment today due to the subscription of $2,000.00 by Standard Oil Company (Ky.)

LLOYD SOCIETY WILL MEET

The all-day meeting of the Lloyd Society will be held Saturday, July 1st at the home of Mrs. Sarah Markesbery. All members are urged to attend.

COUNTY HAS QUOTA OF 54,100 POUNDS

OF WASTE PAPER PER MONTH—DEMAND FOR PAPER WILL CONTINUE TO GROW, ACCORDING TO COUNTY CHAIRMAN.

To satisfy the minimum needs of the Army and civilian requirements, our nation must secure eight million tons of waste paper in 1944. Kentucky has been asked for 14,228,135 pounds a month. Boone's quota is 54,100 pounds, based on population figures of 10,820 or about five pounds per person.

Boyd, Fayette, Franklin, Harrison, Jefferson, Scott, Shelby and Warren are the only counties thus far who have been able to make their quota.

The demand for paper will continue to grow more serious and probably the real "pinch" will come this fall. Many people are not alert to the situation. Consequently we expect an increase in the paper salvaged from month to month, especially on the part of all communities who go into action with a determination to put over this important war cause.

The County chairman requests everyone to make a desperate effort to increase the amount going out from your home.

Watch for collection dates.

SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for July 2

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

ENTERING THE PROMISED LAND

LESSON TEXT—Joshua 1:1-9; 23:1-5.
GOLDEN TEXT—Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed: for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest.—Joshua 1:9.

The forward look is typical of God's people. They are always to go on. They are to be like Israel, to whom came the word, "Moses is dead," but "now therefore arise and go"—under a new leader.

Our lessons for this quarter center around the experiences of Israel from Joshua to David, a period rich in historical data, much of it with most helpful spiritual application. It affords a real opportunity for effective teaching.

Moses was now dead, but that only brought forth

I. God's Provision of a New Leader (1:1, 2).

God buries His workmen at the end of their day of labor, but God's work goes on. The people had become attached to Moses and had learned to trust his leadership (even though they often murmured). With his death we might have assumed that there would be a letdown, but that was not in God's plan.

The Lord works through men. He gives them abilities and uses them for His glory—often in a way which astonishes them and others. But let them not become proud, for God has someone to take their place when they are gone. They are not indispensable.

Sometimes people talk as though all the great leaders of the church had died, or were dying. Yet God has some obedient men who are ready to step into the gap.

Joshua was ready, when God was ready, and he stepped into leadership.

II. God's Promise of Victory (1:3-5).

The promise given to Moses was still good. God's promises are always good. They are the only really stable thing in a trembling universe. The question is, Are we ready to accept Him at His word?

If our love were but more simple,
We should take Him at His word;
And our lives would be all sunshine
In the sweetness of our Lord.
—Faber.

They were to step out by faith. The land was promised to them only as the sole of their foot should tread upon it. Israel [illegible] out the full promise of verse 4. They lacked faith. Do we?

God honors those who believe Him and who move forward by faith to plant the foot of spiritual conquest in new territory. Some are doing it now. Are we?

The enemies of God's people were many and mighty, but they were not able to stand in the way of God's people when they were moving forward for Him. Here again, Israel failed. They did not drive them out, because they did not take God at His word. The application of that truth to us is obvious.

III. God's Plea for Obedience and Courage (1:6-9).

"Be strong and of good courage." There is a side to the believer's character which calls for submission, for turning everything over to God, for being sweet and spiritual. All that is good and very desirable, but it can never be substituted for that other side which shows virile courage and fearless abandon to the cause of our God.

Joshua was made to realize—as we must too—that serving God (and especially, in a place of leadership) calls for a measure of high courage unsurpassed in any other pursuit of man. It takes all there is of a man to be a real follower of Christ—be sure of that!

This courage, however, is not to be confused with a foolhardy bravery which is reckless and unintelligent. No indeed, for it is based on the observance of God's law (v. 7).

Note (v. 8) the importance of meditating upon God's Word. This (which is really a lost art in our day) means so absorbing the principles of the Word that our very lives are conditioned by them, and we are made ready to meet every problem in the light of its teaching.

IV. God's Purpose for the Future (23:1-5).

Passing all the great and stirring experiences of Joshua, we have now a glimpse of his closing days. He was counseling the people regarding the future.

It is the mark of a great man that he looks beyond the end of his own short existence and plans for the future. Many there are who are not concerned about what happens once they are gone. They have no vision, no concern about the continuity of life, in fact they come and go almost like the beasts of the field.

What about the future? Joshua reminded them that every blessing they had received, every victory they had won, everything, had come from the hand of God. There and there alone was their hope for the future. And it was enough!

IN LOVING MEMORY

Of our beloved wife and mother, Della Goodridge Siekman, who passed away July 2, 1940.

The garment of your soul has passed away,
The shining spirit and the love-light stay;
The echo of your voice, your eyes, your smile;
Just as they were are with us all the while!
You tenderly cared for your loved ones,
To your friends you were ever true;
God laid His hand on your heart-strings—
Leaving sweetest memories of you!
—Sadly missed by her husband and children.

YOUR INVASION!

FROM General Bradley, leading the Invasion ground forces, right through every rank, American men now face a brutal, desperate, able enemy. For this invasion has only begun—before our fighters lies a hard and bloody task, one that demands all their courage, backed by all your faith in their ultimate victory.

That faith will be tested many times in this invasion—in grim struggles, set-backs, possibly even temporary defeats. It will be up to you to remember that early victories usually only mean more savage opposition from a foe made more bitter, more ruthless as the shadow of his doom grows larger—up to you to keep that faith in days and nights of gloom as well as in hours of triumph.

There is little that you can do to show that you realize what they must face, perhaps for many months. But one thing you can do—back the attack with every dollar you can spare! Let the Bonds you buy in this greatest of Drives be the measure of your belief in their ultimate victory!

The out-of-doors dinner on Friday, June 16th was a huge success, but with a perfect host and hostess as Rev. and Mrs. Carter, nothing else would have been possible. There were 38 to partake of the dinner, 32 adults and six children.

Miss Gillaspie gave us some of the highlights of the District convention. We had a rocking chair tour of Egypt and last thing in the afternoon a quiz on South America which proved to all of us how little we know of our neighbors to the South.

The battle for the World is on!

NOW THAT the chips are down . . . now that our men are writing decisive history with their blood . . .

There can be no halfway measures for us.

The greatest battle in the history of the world must be matched by the greatest war loan in the history of the world.

That's what Uncle Sam says . . . the same Uncle Sam for whom your brothers and sweethearts and husbands are fighting and dying this very minute.

They, in the front lines, are throwing in everything they have.

We, behind the lines, must do the same.

Remember, this is the battle for the WORLD. Our world. And we've got to win it. That's why Uncle Sam expects every dollar, like every soldier, to do its duty.

. . . and readers in 225,000 Courier-Journal homes chuckle gleefully as he "mugs" notables in the news

GEORGE JOSEPH . . . The Courier-Journal's nationally famous editorial cartoonist and caricaturist, lives in a world of laughter. He laughs . . . you laugh, and even the "oh-so-important-victim" laughs. Proof of this is found in files of treasured letters from Washington Cabinet Members, state and local personalities good-humoredly begging for George's originals of them.

Known to his colleagues as the man with the blackened forefinger, George used this very digit to perfect a flexible airbrush technique far superior to the usual stencil method. His sketches have been reproduced in leading publications in America and England. Working directly from photographs, our left-handed adventurer with an airbrush tickles the funnybone in the anatomy of art.

If you wonder how he dreams up such droll and amusing caricatures, you should watch George make faces . . . both ways. His impersonations from Hitler to Donald Duck, are complete with dialect and sound effects. This 230 pounds of "good humor man" blames his wife's artful Syrian cookery for his size, but continues to eat of tasty Mihshie Mulfood with Mhimmas sauce over it. Because of two very flat feet, George got a flat-footed rejection from the Army.

The man who signs his sketches "Joseph" came to The Courier-Journal in 1937 from two years' study, and one of teaching, under the famous Emil Pinschke, cartoonist at Louisville Art Academy. Remember the dog cover on Roto in April? The United States Marines are using this Joseph cartoon as a national poster to recruit dogs for war service.

Laugh with Joseph and you laugh with the world that searches for his funny faces in

The Courier-Journal

FLORENCE HOMEMAKERS

The out-of-doors dinner on Friday, June 16th was a huge success, but with a perfect host and hostess as Rev. and Mrs. Carter, nothing else would have been possible. There were 38 to partake of the dinner, 32 adults and six children.

Mr. Carter had constructed a most efficient and ornamental grill in the yard and he himself, fried all the meat. The back yard at the parsonage is beautifully shaded so all the meeting was held there.

Miss Gillaspie gave us some of the highlights of the District convention. We had a rocking chair tour of Egypt and last thing in the afternoon a quiz on South America which proved to all of us how little we know of our neighbors to the South.

Three new members joined the club and altogether it was a perfect day.

The battle for the World is on!

NOW THAT the chips are down . . . now that our men are writing decisive history with their blood . . .

There can be no halfway measures for us.

The greatest battle in the history of the world must be matched by the greatest war loan in the history of the world.

That's what Uncle Sam says . . . the same Uncle Sam for whom your brothers and sweethearts and husbands are fighting and dying this very minute.

They, in the front lines, are throwing in everything they have.

We, behind the lines, must do the same.

Remember, this is the battle for the WORLD. Our world. And we've got to win it. That's why Uncle Sam expects every dollar, like every soldier, to do its duty.

. . . and readers in 225,000 Courier-Journal homes chuckle gleefully as he "mugs" notables in the news

GEORGE JOSEPH . . . The Courier-Journal's nationally famous editorial cartoonist and caricaturist, lives in a world of laughter. He laughs . . . you laugh, and even the "oh-so-important-victim" laughs. Proof of this is found in files of treasured letters from Washington Cabinet Members, state and local personalities good-humoredly begging for George's originals of them.

Known to his colleagues as the man with the blackened forefinger, George used this very digit to perfect a flexible airbrush technique far superior to the usual stencil method. His sketches have been reproduced in leading publications in America and England. Working directly from photographs, our left-handed adventurer with an airbrush tickles the funnybone in the anatomy of art.

If you wonder how he dreams up such droll and amusing caricatures, you should watch George make faces . . . both ways. His impersonations from Hitler to Donald Duck, are complete with dialect and sound effects. This 240 pounds of "good humor man" blames his wife's artful Syrian cookery for his size, but continues to eat of tasty Mihelzic Mudfoot with Mhimma sauce over it. Because of two very flat feet, George got a flat-footed rejection from the Army.

The man who signs his sketches "Joseph" came to The Courier-Journal in 1927 from two years' study, and one of teaching, under the famous Emil Pinschke, cartoonist at Louisville Art Academy. Remember the dog cover on Roto in April? The United States Marines are using this Joseph cartoon as a national poster to recruit dogs for war service.

Laugh with Joseph and you laugh with the world that searches for his funny faces in

The Courier-Journal

LADY'S STOMACH WAS LIKE A GAS FACTORY; MEALS TURNED TO GAS

One lady said recently that her stomach used to be like a "gas factory!" That is, when she ate a meal it seemed to turn right into gas. She was always bloated, had awful stomach gas pains, daily headaches and constant irregular bowel action. Now, however, this lady says she is FREE of STOMACH GAS and she says the change is due to taking ERB-HELP. Her meals agree with her. No gas or bloat after eating. Headaches and constipation are gone. "Oh! what relief!" states this lady. "Why don't other gas and constipation sufferers get Erb-Help?"

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Elsmere Pharmacy, Dixie Highway.

TO CAN GREENS

Homemakers canning greens are advised by Mrs. Pearl Haak of the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics to cut both ways through a packed jar of greens, so as to permit the heat to penetrate to the center of the jar. Pack greens loosely in pint or quart jars. Detail directions for canning are given in a free leaflet called "Can Fruits and Vegetabes for Victory," available from the college or from county home agents or agricultural agents.

Children's Feet

PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

Ninety-nine out of a hundred babies are born with good feet, even if they do appear to be flat at the start. We say babies are born with flat feet because the bony masses in a new-born baby's feet are held in place by fat pads. As the baby starts to stand and walk, these fatty pads are absorbed and muscles take their place. But about the third year the arch of the foot should be pretty well defined if the child is going to have any arch. We say if, because every one is not meant to have the same color of hair or eyes.

Perhaps when the child starts to stand he is overweight, or undernourished or has gone thru a serious illness. In that even the muscles may not develop enough to produce an arch in the foot. He then grows with a natural flat foot. The condition is rarely painful. However, many cases of flat feet can be averted if the child is provided with shoes that hold the weak foot in alignment. Such shoes are usually wedged slightly under the inner border of the heel bone. This prevents tipping in of the ankles and by over correction has a tendency to cause the muscles on the inner border of the leg to shorten. These muscles are the ones which keep the foot arched.—Adv.

Waistline is way down now. Meals are a pleasure. I praise Erb-Help to the sky."—This is an actual signed testimonial from a man living right here in Elsmere.

VOLUME 69 BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY THURSDAY, JULY 6, 1944 NUMBER 3

4-H AND UTOPIA FAIR SET AUG. 19

LARGEST AND BEST FAIR AND PICNIC ON RECORD IS PLANNED—WILL BE ON ONE-DAY BASIS.

The Twelfth Annual 4-H and Utopia Fair and County Picnic will be held at the fair grounds at Burlington Saturday, August 19th, according to an announcement of the 4-H and Utopia Club Council on last Tuesday evening. The largest, biggest, and best fair and picnic on record is being planned.

The fair and picnic is being held under war conditions and in an attempt to cooperate fully with the war effort to promote needed wholesome recreation and education in better Agriculture and Home Economics. All people of the county and their friends are urged to take part.

The fair this year and probably until the close of the war will be on a one-day basis. However, the council, with the limited facilities, is offering livestock and crops breeders and improvement organizations an opportunity to develop their own fair programs and will include in the fair catalogue all entries and premium awards of an approved nature, provided these organizations will be in charge of those phases of the exhibition program. The fair catalogues will be ready for printing around July 15. Those who want to make special class entries should contact the County Agent's office or members of the 4-H and Utopia Club Council before the above date.

The question of liquidating the indebtedness on the grounds to make ready for a large post war grounds improvement program, has received serious consideration. Everyone interested in the fair program is urged to advise the council as to their desires on this matter. It is the desire of the council that the entire fair and picnic program this year and in future years be of that type that best serves all needs of the county. The question of grounds improvement is discussed in another article. All who will are urged to reply to that article.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mullins and family, of Covington, spent several days this week with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maurer and daughter.

FREE FAIR VS. CHARGE IN 1944

CITIZENS OF COUNTY OFFERED QUESTIONNAIRE CONCERNING SMALL ADMISSION CHARGE FOR THIS YEAR.

The 4-H and Utopia Club Fair belongs to the people of Boone County. The 4-H and Utopia Club Council is the official elected committee who donate their time and service in supervising the grounds and in planning for a better and improved Agricultural and Home Economics program among youth in the county. Such a program to best serve, must include the full cooperation of all the people and an expression of their desires.

Six thousand dollars have been spent in purchasing and improving the grounds. All but $1200.00 of this amount has been paid. This $1200.00 indebtedness must be paid before much needed additional improvements in livestock pens, buildings, a grand stand and show rings can be made. If the entire indebtedness can be liquidated before the postwar period, we will at that time be in a position to take advantage of surplus labor and materials to carry out a worthwhile new improvement program. People today probably have more money to contribute than they will later.

Everyone is urged to fill out the questionnaire below and mail either to the 4-H and Utopia Council or the County Agent's office at Burlington before July 10th.

Welding Firm Celebrates Twenty-Fifth Anniversary

When a Recorder man called on the R. Michels Welding Co., 722 Washington Street, Covington, last Thursday, he found the genial proprietor, Robert Michels, even in a happier mood than usual. The occasion was the 25th anniversary of this enterprising company's activities in Covington.

Mr. Michels is not only a superduper welder, but always has a head full of good advertising ideas. He can drop his flame-thrower (torch to you), grab a pencil and paper and reel off plenty of publicity ideas with ease and effectiveness.

The writer asked Mr. Michels if he had ever heard of the enterprising Kentucky welder who advertised, "I weld everything, from a broken heart to the break of day," whereupon Mr. Michels showed us something better.

Mr. Michels (he would rather be called Bob, but we are writing this) is diplomatic, too. We asked him what he thought of the Dewey-Bricker set-up, and he had a quick reply: "Mr. Newspaperman, I'm too busy here helping folks who have got a 'bad break' to talk politics." So we left Mr. Michels without learning his politics—whether he thinks it will be "Roosevelt or Ruin," or "Dewey or Phooey."

CONSTANCE BOYS WIN HIGH HONORS

SONS OF MR. AND MRS. THOMAS KENYON ARE PROMOTED IN RANK WHILE SERVING WITH ARMED FORCES.

Allen Kenyon and Melvin Kenyon, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kenyon, of Constance have received promotions while stationed with the U. S. Army, according to a report received recently.

Both Allen and Melvin are graduates of the Hebron High School. Allen received his B. A. and M. A. degrees at the University of Kentucky and obtained his Ph. D. degree in chemistry after only one and a half years' work at Columbia University, New York. Melvin attended the University of Kentucky three years, receiving military instruction in the R. O. T. C. unit.

Allen was commissioned a first lieutenant in the Army Reserve Corps in May, 1941, and was called to active service in January, 1942. He was commissioned a major in May of this year.

Melvin enlisted in the Air Corps in April 1942, and was called to active duty in September of that year. He has been overseas since January, and has played an important part in America's battle in Europe as a bombadier in a B-24 Liberator. He completed his 30th mission over German territory the day before D-Day. He is credited with downing a German fighter.

Lt. Melvin Kenyon received his training at Decatur, Ala., Ellington and Midland Fields, Texas, and Bowan Field, Idaho. He received his wings and commission at Midland Field.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenyon were notified last week that their son, Melvin, had been awarded a total of five Oak Leaf Clusters to his Air Medal, and the Distinguished Flying Cross for 30 missions over Europe. He had previously received three Oak Leaf Clusters.

Maj. Allen Kenyon is now serving in the capacity of technical research engineer in the photo-engineering laboratory, experimental chemical engineering at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio. He spent three months in England last summer as consulting engineer to the Royal Air Force.

Boone County is proud of these boys and their friends join in congratulating them on the spendid work they are doing.

Jessie Lee Utz

Jessie Lee Utz, age 55, a registered nurse, died at Philadelphia, Pa., on Saturday, July 1st. Her entire life was spent in nursing.

She was a graduate of the General Hospital in Louisville and took advanced nursing at John Hopkins University. She had traveled in England and for several years was connected with the Jewish Hospital in Cincinnati. At the time of her illness and death she was with the Methodist Hospital in Philadelphia.

She was a former resident of this county, being born near Union. She was a daughter of the late Rev. T. L. Utz, a prominent Baptist minister.

She is survived by a step-mother, Mrs. Carrie Surface, of Florence; one brother Alan Utz, of Devon; one sister, Mrs. Joseph Surface, of Carrollton; two nieces and four nephews.

The remains will arrive today (Thursday) in Cincinnati. Friends may call at Tharp and Stith funeral home Thursday afternoon and evening until Friday, July 7 at 2:30 at which time services will be conducted by Rev. Harold Wainscott, pastor of Florence Church, of which she was a member. Burial will be in Hopeful Cemetery.

Tharp & Stith, funeral directors will be charge of arrangements.

POND BUILDING PROGRAM MOVING

WITH GREATER SPEED—NINE BULLDOZERS AND POWER SCRAPERS NOW WORKING IN COUNTY.

The Boone County pond building program is moving with greater speed, according to the County Agent's office. Nine bulldozers and power scraper operators are now working in the county.

Farmers who need additional farm reservoirs or ponds to supply livestock water and who have not already contacted a good operator, should leave their names at either the County Agent's office or with J. C. Acree at the Soil Conservation Service office.

The County Soil Conservation Service has been rendering a special service to farmers in staking out the location, water level, and bases of the dams for farm reservoirs. This is an excellent and a much needed service. In fact, it is the best and most profitable start in pond construction.

Farmers are advised and urged to use great care in selecting pond sites and making sure the machinery operators construct a good core trench throughout the length of the dam. Dirt will settle in most instances at least 10 percent. This means the dam should be high in the middle to allow for settling. A good spillway is just as important in most instances as a good dam.

SPENCE CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESSMAN

HAS SERVED THIS DISTRICT FOR PAST FOURTEEN YEARS—WILL BE UNABLE TO MAKE ACTIVE CAMPAIGN.

Hon. Brent Spence, Ft. Thomas, makes his formal bow to voters of Boone County in this issue of The Recorder, announcing his candidacy for re-election as Congressman from the Fifth Congressional District.

Mr. Spence needs no introduction to voters of Boone County or the Fifth District, as he is well known throughout this section, having served this district as Congressman for the past fourteen years.

He is well qualified for the position he seeks, as has been proven during his time in the House. He has given careful considerable to legislation affecting this section of Kentucky, and has represented his district in a most efficient manner.

Due to the war and added work placed upon representatives in the House, Mr. Spence probably will be unable to make an active campaign but will depend upon his friends throughout the district to carry on his campaign.

A letter received from Congressman Spence last week, states:

"As the Committee on Banking and Currency of which I am Chairman has been continuously considering important legislation for the past several months, I have been unable to return home to conduct my campaign for reelection.

"The President has appointed me a member of the International Monetery and Financial Conference which meets at Bretton Woods, New Hampshire, July 1st to the 15th, and I shall attend that conference. As soon as it is concluded I will return home and I expect to visit my friends in the district."

Mr. Spence made his first successful race for Congressman in 1930 and has held this office since that time.

O. D. PERKINSON ACCEPTS POSITION

AS COUNTY AGENT OF MENIFEE COUNTY—HAS SERVED AS ASSISTANT COUNTY AGENT OF BOONE FOR 17 MONTHS.

O. D. Perkinson, assistant County Agent of Boone County for the past seventeen months, moved to Menifee County, Saturday morning of last week, where he has accepted a position as County Agent of that County.

Mr. Perkinson has made many friends in Boone County during his work here, and farmers and 4-H members along with everyone who had the pleasure of meeting him and his family, regret to lose them from our County, but wish him the best of luck in his new field.

Mr. Perkinson has served Boone and Kenton County in a most efficent manner as Assistant County Agent, and his services will be greatly missed in both counties.

He makes the following statement to 4-H members who have been under his guidance for the past seventeen months:

"To the parents, leaders and 4-H members of Boone County:

"I wish to express my appreciation for the fine cooperation given me in carrying on the 4-H program in Boone County. I have been called to another field, but there will always be a warm spot in my heart for the people of Boone County. If it were possible, I would like to see everyone and say goodbye personally, but time will not permit, so I am taking this method of saying—so long for now."

JAMES PIERCE AIDS INVASION FORCES

IS SON OF MR. AND MRS. GEO. B. PIERCE OF NEAR HEBRON —HAS BEEN AWARDED AIR MEDAL, OAK LEAF CLUSTER.

Staff Sergeant James J. Pierce, son of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Pierce, of near Hebron was present with the AAF when the invasion of France was started. S.-Sgt. Pierce said "It was the greatest experience I have ever had. The sky was filled with planes and the Channel below was covered with ships of all types."

S.-Sgt. Pierce was a flight leader-radio operator on a Ninth Troop Carrier squadron aircraft. His plane, among the first to reach the Normandy Peninsula in the invasion, carried paratroops to a designated area on the coast, flying through antiaircraft fire.

Antiaircraft fire was no novelty to James, for he had flown similar missions in the invasions of Sicily, and Italy, and since the early part of the war has been active in glider and paratroop operations.

He is a graduate of Hebron high school and was a student at Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., when he enlisted February 20, 1942.

Two of his brothers are in the service of their country, John and Grover who are with the Army Engineers. Grover is in India serving as a railroad engineer and John is in Italy.

S-Sgt. Pierce has been awarded the Air Medal with an Oak Leaf Cluster, the Good Conduct Medal and two bronze battle participation stars.

A small barn owned by Charlie Snelling of the Woolper neighborhood was destroyed by fire Thursday afternoon when struck by lightning.

The barn and three tons of hay were covered by insurance in the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co., according to Mr. F. H. Rouse, Secretary. A road wagon and new hay frame destroyed in the blaze were not insured.

Mr. Snelling's loss was paid by the Farmers' Mutual at their regular meeting Monday. Another loss was paid Walter S. Ryle of Rabbit Hash, who lost a cow when struck by lightning during the storm on Thursday.

A large silo on the farm of Robert Youell, of Youell Road, was damaged Thursday when struck by lightning. Fortunately the silo was not ignited by the bolt. Damage was covered by insurance in the Farmers' Mutual Insurance Co.

A large silo on the farm of J. H. Huey, near Petersburg was blown down during the storm, it was reported.

CO. NEARS QUOTA IN BOND DRIVE

SMALL NUMBER OF 719 SUBSCRIBE FOR $513,798.50—CITIZENS URGED TO BACK OUR BOYS ON FRONT LINE.

Total subscriptions in the Fifth War Loan drive up to last Saturday night amount to $513,798.50 of the county's quota of $600,000.00. Seven hundred nineteen people are responsible for this total.

We are falling considerably short on the number of subscribers in this dirve, as the number subscribing is less than the number of soldiers from Boone County serving in our armed forces. It does appear that more people should purchase bonds than there are soldiers serving their country from Boone County. If you have not purchased a bond, please go to your bank and do so before July 8th, when the drive closes, even though it may be a small bond. We can do little less than match a soldier with a bond. This is the last week of the drive and it is to be hoped our quota will be exceeded before Saturday night.

We have people living outside of our state who are so interested in seeing that Boone County "goes over the top" that they have made subscriptions and allocated them to our county. We would not need help if 20 percent of our population would purchase bonds. We have several citizens who have subscribed liberally in every drive, even resorting to the borrowing of money to do it. When the boys come home they will want to know who stood behind them on the home front while they were facing gunfire on the battlefront. What will your answer be?

A full report of the drive will appear in this paper next week.

County champions will be selected on their project work, record books, and leadership contributions to community and county.

POINT CHANGES ARE ANNOUNCED

CHOICE CUTS OF BEEF STEAKS AND ROASTS RAISED ONE AND TWO POINTS POUND—LAMB RATIONED.

To make possible a more uniform distribution of beef and lamb to consumers, OPA has returned choice cuts of lamb to the ration list for the four-week ration period July 2 to July 29, and has raised point values for choice beef steaks and roasts one and two points per pound.

All other meats remain ration free, including canned meats and canned fish. Only the best cuts, (steaks, chops and roasts of beef and lamb) need points, OPA said.

"We are restoring points to choice lamb cuts not because of any expected decreases in supply, but because choice lamb has been very unevenly distributed," Administrator Chester Bowles said.

OPA also announced that butter will continue unchanged at 12 red points per pound and margarine at two red points per pound. American cheddar cheese, familiarly known as "store cheese," will continue unchanged at 10 red points per pound, while all other cheeses in groups II and III go back on point rationing at four points per pound.

Points have been restored to three canned vegetables—asparagus, peas and tomatoes—effective July 2, OPA announced. Point values are as follows for No. 2 size containers: Asparagus, 10; peas, 5; tomatoes, 5.

Branded, spiced or pickled fruits are, at the same time, restored to the list of rationed canned goods with the same values as other canned fruits. Other point value adjustments for canned goods for the July rationing period are of minor importance.

NITRATE SPREAD ON JEFFERSON PASTURES

More than 300 tons of ammonium nitrate have been used by Jefferson county farmers this spring. About 200 tons were applied to pastures in April and an additional 100 tons in May. The results are very marked, notes Farm Agent S. M. Anderson, many farmers estimating that their pastures are producing from 30 to 50 percent more where the fertilizer was used. Several farmers applied 100 pounds per acre on test plots of orchard grass to be harvested for seed. On several farms, it looks as though the treated plots will yield twice as much as the unfertilized areas, Mr. Anderson said.

TAKING POSSESSION OF CANAAN

LESSON TEXT—Joshua 14:6-14; Judges 1:20, 21.
GOLDEN TEXT—Thou hast wholly followed the Lord.—Joshua 14:9.

Companions in battle usually means friends and comrades for life. Joshua, of whom we studied last week, had such a friend in Caleb. Together they had faced the crises of life.

Caleb is one of the characters about whom the Bible does not say much, but in every case the word is one revealing high and noble character. Consider such passages as Numbers 13:6, 30, 14:7-9, 24, 30; 26:65, as well as our lesson for today.

The background for our study is the story of Caleb's courageous stand with Joshua when the spies returned from their visit to Canaan, which is related in Numbers 13.

Note first of all Caleb's

I. Perfect Obedience (Josh. 14: 6-8).

"I wholly followed the Lord my God." Such a testimony from a man like Caleb is no idle boast, no effort to parade his faith and piety before others. In saying it he was repeating what God and Moses had both said about him. In his heart he knew it to be true.

It is God's will for each of His children that they should come to such a place of simple trust and complete obedience that in every circumstance of life they need to know only one thing—God's will, and then in faith to go and do it. It is a life beautiful in its transparent simplicity and powerful in the strength of God Himself.

II. Promised Inheritance (v. 9).

"Surely the land whereon thy feet have trodden shall be thine inheritance." Such was the promise of God through Moses. Forty-five long years had elapsed, but down through this period of wilderness wanderings and the conflict in subduing Canaan the promise had lived in Caleb's heart. He knew it would be fulfilled, and he waited serenely for God's time.

Such also are the promises of God which keep the heart singing in our hours of trial and sorrow, which light up the dark ways, which strengthen the heart of His children. Learn God's promises, cherish them in your heart, expect God to fulfill them.

III. Preserved Strength (vv. 10, 11).

"The Lord hath kept me alive . . . and I am . . . strong." Here was a man kept of God, in full vigor in his eighty-fifth year, "like a rock in a changeful sea, like a snow-capped peak in a change of cloud and storm and sun" (Meyer). No doubt there was here what our forefathers liked to call "the longevity of the antediluvians"; but even apart from that, let us recognize that life and strength come from God, and that those who walk with God in holy living may count on Him for the renewed strength of Psalm 103:5.

An incidental but extremely important lesson we should learn is that God has no age deadline. The church has frequently sinned against Him and against His faithful servants by "shelving them" for younger men; when they would have brought blessing if the church had encouraged and used them. The writer of these lines is a young man, but he would speak here a word of loving admonition regarding his honored brethren who have gone on before to bear the brunt of the battle.

IV. Powerful Assurance (vv. 12-15; Judg. 1:20-21).

"If . . . the Lord will be with me, then I shall be able." Caleb asked for no easy task. He was ready to go up against the giants of Hebron. Read Deuteronomy 3:11, and you will find that there were men in those days who needed thirteen-foot beds. But Caleb was not afraid. He counted not on his own strength, but on the power of God.

It is significant that, while the other sections of Canaan were only partially conquered, Caleb brought his formidable adversaries entirely under control, so that "the land had rest from war" (v. 15). The verses in Judges 1 indicate that Caleb was as good as his word. He was a doughty, God-fearing 85-year-old. His faith is here contrasted with the shameful unbelief and failure of Israel.

The spiritual application to our day is evident and appropriate. There are giants in the land. Corruption — social and individual — raises its brazen head. Drunkenness and vice leer at us with the impudent suggestion that we cannot control them.

There are giants "within us — greed, selfishness, love of ease, lust, passion, cruelty" (Blaikie).

Are we to do nothing about them? If we are to meet them in the strength of the flesh, we might almost as well do nothing. But in the power of God, we are like Caleb—able. In His name we may do something about it! For His glory.

CORNS

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

The most frequent of foot ills is the disagreeable growth which usually is found on the outer side of the little toe or on top of the second, third and fourth toes, and in some cases on the bottom of the great toe joint. The chief symptom is a burning, stinging pain of varying degrees. The formation of the growth produces a pressure upon the nerves which in turn gives rise to pain varying from a dull mild sensation to a sharp and intense irritation. These pains are usually increased when the parts affected are further irritated by ill fitting shoes, by friction or by other pressure.

In the case of a soft corn, which is found in the web between the fourth and fifth toe, the cause is usually due to pressure brought about by the dropping of the fourth metatarsal bone which in turn presses upon the face of the fifth. The possibility of eliminating a soft corn is very good provided proper shoes are worn and a metatarsal bone to set it up in posture. The soft corn will gradually become smaller and finally disappear.

Vascular corn is an over growth of skin, the same as occurs in hard corns, but in which blood vessels are found. The pain is more severe in this type of corn than in any other form, usually resulting in a burning sensation even when the victim is not standing or walking.—Adv.

MAN HAD BRICK IN HIS STOMACH FOR 10 YEARS

One man recently stated that for 10 years he felt like he had a brick in his stomach. This feeling was due to the lump of undigested food he always had inside of him. He was weak, worn out, headachy, swollen with gas and terribly constipated. Recently he started taking ERB-HELP and says the feeling like a brick in his stomach disappeared the second day. Bowels are regular now, gas and headaches are gone and he feels like a new man.

Squirrel Season Opens August 1st

August 1 may be just another day to large number of people, but to the squirrel hunter it has a definite meaning, that of being able to begin the hunting of squirrels on that date and the continuation of such sport until September 15—reopening on November 24 and ending on December 31.

J. M. Perkins, Director of the Division of Game and Fish, calls attention to the bag limit of six squirrels daily which is now in effect and which law will be strictly enforced by the Conservation Officer.

Reports that have come to the office here from both sportsmen and Conservation Officers from over the state indicate that all species of squirrel are abundant.

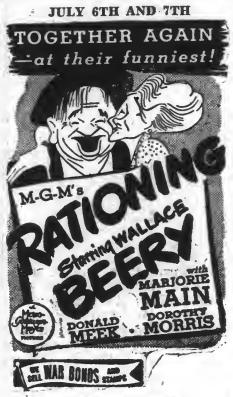
LAUDS COUNTY AGENTS FOR THEIR PART IN WAR FOOD PRODUCTION

Writing about county agent leadership in war food production, in the May issue of the Kentucky Banker magazine, W. A. Cole, cashier of the Lincoln National Bank at Hodgenville, Ky., reviews their part in World War I, and adds:



"They (county agents) are, in World War II, again charged with the responsibility of helping farmers produce food, fiber and oil needed in the war program. This production has increased each year for seven years and the 1944 needs are greater than in any previous year. By this record, county agents have proven their ability as leaders and tireless workers, for while they do not claim credit for all this increase, they have been leaders in most of the increases made. The agents have technical training, practical farm experience and close working contact with farm people. They use information and local experience as well as the finding of the research laboratories and experimental fields. Being non-political and unbiased, they have gained the full confidence of the farm people, who have learned to turn to the county agent and home agent for all types of problems that confront the farm and home.

"Our farmers are called upon to produce to the limit, and yet they must not permit the depletion and erosion of the soil through bad farming practices, which happened during and immediately following World War I. Our county agents have been leaders in restoring to production much of this land which had been all but destroyed. With their guidance and leadership, this mistake need not be repeated. . . ."

Miss Goldie Horton was ill several days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James G. Smith attended services at Florence Christian Church, Sunday.

. . . and readers in 225,000 Courier-Journal homes chuckle gleefully as he "mugs" notables in the news

GEORGE JOSEPH . . . The Courier-Journal's nationally famous editorial cartoonist and caricaturist, lives in a world of laughter. He laughs . . . you laugh, and even the "oh-so-important-victim" laughs. Proof of this is found in files of treasured letters from Washington Cabinet Members, state and local personalities good-humoredly begging for George's originals of them.

Known to his colleagues as the man with the blackened forefinger, George used this very digit to perfect a flexible airbrush technique far superior to the usual stencil method. His sketches have been reproduced in leading publications in America and England. Working directly from photographs, our left-handed adventurer with an airbrush tickles the funnybone in the anatomy of art.

If you wonder how he dreams up such droll and amusing caricatures, you should watch George make faces . . . both ways. His impersonations from Hitler to Donald Duck, are complete with dialect and sound effects. This 210 pounds of "good humor man" blames his wife's artful Syrian cookery for his size, but continues to eat of tasty Mihshie Mulfoof with Mhumsa sauce over it. Because of two very flat feet, George got a flat-footed rejection from the Army.

The man who signs his sketches "Joseph" came to The Courier-Journal in 1937 from two years' study, and one of teaching, under the famous Paul Plaschke, cartoonist at Louisville Art Academy. Remember the dog cover on Roto in April? The United States Marines are using this Joseph cartoon as a national poster to recruit dogs for war service.

Laugh with Joseph and you laugh with the world that searches for his funny faces in

THINGS TO CHECK
--before calling a refrigerator serviceman

Sometimes a service call can be avoided if a few simple checks are made first. With servicemen extra busy these days, each owner can be of extreme help, under present wartime conditions, by avoiding unnecessary calls which use up precious time, tires and gasoline. If trouble develops, check these things:

IF REFRIGERATOR UNIT DOES NOT RUN:
1 Check to see if plug is making contact in wall outlet.
2 If plug is in outlet, check outlet with light cord and bulb to see if current is on.
3 If current is not on at outlet, check for blown fuse in house-fuse panel or block.

IF MECHANISM RUNS TOO MUCH:
1 Make sure door seal is tight.
2 Clean the condenser.
3 Temperature control may be set for too cold a temperature.

IF MECHANISM RUNS . . . but there is little or no refrigeration:
1 Stop mechanism by turning off switch or removing wall plug.
2 Allow all frost to be melted off cooling unit.
3 Start once more and see if cooling unit gets cold.

IF IT TAKES TOO LONG TO MAKE ICE:
1 Check temperature control. It may be set on warm position.
2 If in wintertime and refrigerator is in cold location, it may not operate long enough to make ice.

America — this is it!

He's doing his part...We must do our part!

For him the terrifying grand climax of the war is at hand.

The supreme military risk—bloody, costly in American lives.

Our boys know this. They don't have to read the heart-rending headlines or casualty lists to know what is expected of them.

They are in it.

But they are not flinching . . . not holding back.

They will see the grim venture through to the bitter, victorious end.

And if, for your boy, or some boy you know, the price of Victory is death, you can be absolutely certain that he did his part courageously . . . for the cause of Freedom.

For us, too, the terrifying grand climax of the war is at hand.

This supreme, desperate call for American dollars—16 billions of them—is to enable our fighting men to carry through the grim, bloody assault to a successful conclusion and Victory.

Not just American dollars—but the dollars in your pocket—in your savings account.

You must buy War Bonds—now! At least twice as much as you bought last time. If you are already buying Bonds on a pay-roll savings plan, buy EXTRA Bonds during this Drive.

Your Government is counting on you. Your boy—and your neighbor's boy—millions of them—are counting on you. Just as desperately as you are counting on them in this fateful hour.

▶ Don't let them down! Do your part—as they are doing theirs. Dig down, America—dig down deep! While there is still time. This is America's Zero Hour—Civilization's Zero Hour!

And here are 5 MORE reasons for buying EXTRA Bonds in the 5th!

1. War Bonds are the best, the safest investment in the world!
2. War Bonds return you $4 for every $3 in 10 years.
3. War Bonds help keep prices down.
4. War Bonds will help win the Peace by increasing purchasing power after the War.
5. War Bonds mean education for your children, security for you, funds for retirement.

We have the tires proven by
3 BILLION MILES
B. F. Goodrich all-synthetic Silvertowns

IF ANYONE still has doubts about tires built with man-made rubber, here's clear-cut performance proof: by the most conservative estimates, essential drivers have already rolled over 3 billion miles on B. F. Goodrich all-synthetic Silvertowns.

Letters have come in from drivers all over the country reporting complete satisfaction. Most of them have expressed confidence that all-synthetic Silvertowns will give at least as much mileage as pre-war tires.

The 90,000,000-mile road test was the first proof that B. F. Goodrich could build high-performance tires with synthetic rubber. The test started almost two years before Pearl Harbor when B. F. Goodrich sold tires in which more than half the rubber was synthetic. They were the first synthetic tires ever offered for sale to the American public. Building and testing them gave B. F. Goodrich the valuable backlog of experience which is now showing up in the performance of today's all-synthetic Silvertowns.

So, see us at once if you are eligible for new tires. If inspection shows that you need new tires, we will fill out and handle your application for these proven B. F. Goodrich Silvertowns.

WOOL POOL SELLS 49,776 POUND CLIP

FOR TOTAL OF $25,366.20—CLEAR WOOL NETTED GROWERS 52 CENTS PER POUND AND REJECTION WOOL 42 CENTS.

Th Boone County Wool Pool members sold the past week, 49,776 pounds of wool to John Neumeyer of Louisville for $25,366.20. The clip was the shortest in several years due to reduced numbers of sheep and light weight of the clip.

Clear wool netted growers 52 cents per pound and rejection wool 42 cents per pound. Eighty-nine and ninety-five hundredths per cent of the wool graded clear, 8.35 percent regular rejections and 1.70 percent special priced rejection wool. The per cent rejection was double that of last year with practically all rejection wool due to burrs. The quality of the clip as a whole, was excellent. The increased amount of burry wool is credited to the labor shortage last year.

Walton, receiving point, received 22,533 pounds, Burlington 19,958, and Petersburg, 8,185 pounds. It is estimated that 95 per cent of all wool produced in the county was sold through the pool. This is the highest per cent of the total wool produced on record.

Water Bath Canner Is Easy To Make

Any Homemaker with fruits and tomatoes for canning this year, should find little trouble lining up right equipment. Half a million enamel-iron water bath canners were manufactured this year. If a commercial canner is bought, be sure it is deep enough for 3 or 4 inches of water above jar tops. Many more canners are being improvised from materials at hand, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent.

Here are pointers for making a water bath: Get out a big kettle, metal pail, wash boiler, ham boiler or lard can. Any clean vessel in which water can be boiled will do, provided it has a good lid, is big enough to hold several jars without touching, and deep enough for water to boil up actively over jar tops. Since jars must stand on a rack, and canning starts with at least an inch or two of water over the jar tops, the container must be at least 3 or 4 inches taller than jars used.

The rack for canning may be wire, wood, or old jar rubbers. Its duty is to keep jars from touching hot metal on the bottom and to let water circulate freely under jars. A wire basket or rack can sometimes be bought. Or a rack for cooling bread or cake may serve, or, strips of wood may be fastened to make a lattice rack, but don't use pine for this, since the resin would boil out and get on jars. Old jar rubbers may be tied together and used for the rack. Use three thicknesses of rubbers.

The water bath is the best method to be used in canning tomatoes and fruit. This method may be used for canning other vegetables. Don't shorten the time of processing. Follow the rules and count from the time the water boils vigorously. Be sure that the jars have at least one to two inches of water over the top during the whole canning process.

Homemakers Learn Handicraft At Meetings

Seven Homemaker Clubs are meeting this month to learn handicraft. Crayonexcraft on white feed sacks or unbleached muslin is being directed by Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent, at local meetings. Homemakers bring bleached, washed, and ironed feed sacks to the meeting. They may leave the class with one or more of the following: Closet accessories, such as shoe bags and shoulderettes; dress accessories such as purses, bonnets and belts; luncheon sets and scarfs. Designs are traced on the material and then filled in with wax crayons.

Visitors are welcome to attend one of the following meetings and participate in the handicraft work:

July 12, Hebron 10:30 a. m., at the home of Mrs. Stella Nichols; Thursday, July 13, Petersburg 10:30 a. m. (CWT) at the home of Mrs. Eva Carver; Friday, July 14, Walton at the home of Mrs. Geraldine Harris; July 19, Wednesday, Taylorsport, at the home of Mrs. Earl Morehead; Thursday, July 20, Bullittsville; and July 21, Florence, at 10:30 a. m., at Town Hall.

FARMERS FACING FEED EMERGENCY

FOR THIS WINTER, ACCORDING TO COUNTY AGENT—FARMERS URGED TO BEGIN WORK TO FIGHT EFFECTS OF DROUTH.

Farmers in most sections of the county are facing a livestock feed emergency program for this winter, according to the County Agent's Office. Experiences of last winter have shown farmers great saving could be accomplished through more efficient uses of corn fodder and small grain pastures.

Farmers are urged now to begin work to counteract the devastating effect of the present drouth and to be better prepared for the coming winter feeding program.

Each farmer has his own individual feed problem. Below are a few general recommendations:

1. Fall, winter, and early spring cover crop pasture will produce better livestock with less hay than any other plan.

(a) Balbo rye for pasture will out produce all other small grains. Common rye or wheat are good. Vetch makes an excellent combination. Seed early and include pasture and meadow seed mixtures if desired. Secure your Balbo rye seed now while it is available.

(b) 100 to 200 pounds of Ammonium Nitrate per acre will start growth and make small grain grow fast.

(c) Seed small grain early. The earlier the seeding, after August 1st, the earlier the fall pasture will be available.

2. Soybeans, Sudan grass, milet and cane may still be seeded where there is a pasture or hay emergency, and the ground is suited for seeding.

3. Many farmers have a good supply of straw for the first time in recent years. This straw, if baled while it is in good condition, will sell almost as high as hay and will have some value as feed. Care should be taken to keep the quality of the straw high.

4. Soybean meal is now available Wise farmers will lay in their winter needs now. This important protein supplement can be purchased from most dealers at a price slightly cheaper than corn. Properly fed, it will make other feeds go much farther.

5. Hay—if you have hay or other feed, you can not harvest, notify the County Agent's office. Several farmers have agreed to put up hay for other farmers on the shares. Hay harvested at the right time represents a considerable saving.

6. Close culling of unprofitable livestock and poultry.

7. Build farm reservoirs if additional water supply is need. Build these reservoirs according to the specifications set up for a good reservoir by the College of Agriculture to insure success and economy.

CAREFUL ANALYSIS LABOR PRACTICES

WILL GREATLY AID FARMERS IN BOONE COUNTY, SAYS COUNTY FARM LABOR ASSISTANT.

The available day labor or help supply for Boone County has been practically exhausted, according to Will Smith, County Farm Labor Assistant. Efficiency in farm labor practices, planning and greater use of custom operated power equipment and custom work groups will help many farmers produce and save acreages of crops.

It has been found that through more careful planning and use of available labor saving practices on many farms, seventy-five per cent more work can be accomplished with the same amount of labor and no new equipment. This phrase of the labor program presents a challenge to every farmer in a wartime emergency.

Custom operators with efficient power equipment can, in many instances, do five times as much work with the same amount of labor at a lower cost. Many farmers are using these custom operators to handle the overload to get through the normal peak labor load periods and thereby are able to carry on their regular work without hiring additional labor. Local examples of this are custom plowing, planting and harvesting, sheep shearing, hay baling, corn picking, combining small grain, corn shredding, and feed grinding on the farm. This form of operation on the farm, while representing a cash expense to the farmer, is expanding rapidly.

Examples of jobs in which custom operators are being asked to cooperate during the next few months include seeding of small grain cover crops early this fall, hay harvesting and baling, and corn picking. A new program under consideration is the organization and training of local groups of young boys under the supervision of a work leader to prime tobacco for farmers on a contract basis.

Neighbor and neighborhood cooperation has been and will continue to remain one of the greatest contributions to the war farm labor program.

Farmers are urged to plan and foresee their farm labor needs. When they see they will be unable to meet their farm labor requirements, they are urged to notify the County Agent's office at the earliest possible date.

CO. FARMERS CAN EARN ALLOWANCE

FOR 1944 IN A. C. PROGRAM—USE OF LIMESTONE IS MOST IMPORTANT — COOPERATORS URGED TO ORDER NOW.

A. C. cooperators have been advised this week what practices they could still carry out to earn the balance of their 1944 allowance. The most important one of the practices is the use of limestone, which can be ordered as grant of aid or used on a commercial basis. The credit as well as the deduction where it is ordered as grant of aid is $2.75 per ton. Dealers have delivered a large part of the orders that have been made and prospects for delivering all orders this year are favorable.; Producers are urged to order early, so that the orders can be cleared through the State office and back to the dealers, so that the late fall rush may be avoided.

Two grant of aid materials used in the past few years to earn a large part of their allowance are, namely, phosphate and vetch. Both of these are extremely limited. Only one-fourth as much phosphate will be available this fall as previously, and only one-seventh as much vetch. Orders are being taken for both on a limited basis. Phosphate obtained thru a commercial dealer and used on grass and clover crops with or without small grains as a nurse crop only, but not where cut for grain will be given, a credit of $25.00 per ton. Vetch seeded as a winter cover crop this fall preferably with a small grain nurse crop will receive a credit of $4.00 per acre.

Two new practices that should receive a wide scale use have been added to the 1944 program. The two practices are: Mowing pastures and pond building Fifty cents per acre credit is given for mowing pastures to remove noxious plants and weeds, 15 cents per cubic yard for dirt moved is given in the construction of a dam in building a pond for stockwater development. Cooperators are advised to fill out an application blank at the county office and re-and had six strike outs to his credit. Daley led Burlington at the plate with two triples and a single. McWethy had two singles for Petersburg.

Thursday evening Burlington will go to Belleview for a twilight game at 7:15 (EWT). July 22nd, Burlington will play the Men's Bible Class of the Baptist Church. The class has sponsored the team for two years and has challenged them to this game.

Belleview will entertain Petersburg at the Belleview park Saturday at 2:00 p. m. (CWT). Everyone invited.

Miss Carolyn Cropper was visiting friends in Belleview, Sunday.

$1,033,686.35 Subscribed In County War Bond Drive

MOST MONEY EVER RAISED IN ANY WAR LOAN DRIVE IN THIS COUNTY — 1044 SUBSCRIBE.

The grand total of all bonds purchased by individuals, firms and corporations, including allocations made to Boone County from subscribers living outside of the County, at the close of the drive last Saturday night is $1,033,686.35, on the county quota of $600,000.00 This is the largest sum of money ever raised in any War Loan Drive in this county. This large oversubscription is because of several large purchases of bonds for which the County received credit.

One thousand forty-four subscribers are responsible for this large total. The only disappointing feature of the drive is the small number of people cooperating, as the number subscribing in this Fifth War Loan Drive is less than subscribed in the Fourth War Loan Drive when a less amount of bonds were purchased.

Boone County was expected to raise $200,000.00 in Series E sales but only $112,040.85 of the grand total represents E bonds. While the drive closed July 8th on coupon bonds, the purchase of Series E, F and G bonds during the month of July will count on the Fifth War Loan.

The County Chairman desires to express his appreciation for the splendid cooperation of all precinct chairmen and their loyal workers. These people have labored without hope of reward of any kind except to know that they are having a part in helping to provide funds for winning the war and to get our boys back home as soon as possible. There are many others whose names do not appear in the county organization who have loyally stood with the organization with their money and help in putting these drives over Without them our quotas could not be reached unless more people subscribe in these drives.

Doubleheader Split By Burlington Nine

Burlington pulled through on the long end of a 12-11 score over Belleview in the opening game of a doubleheader July 4th. The second game was dropped to Petersburg by a score of 10-3, leaving Burlington 13 victories and two defeats for the season.

The first game was a close, hard-fought contest that Burlington won in the ninth inning. Going into the first of the ninth Burlington had a six-run lead, when a walk, double, single and a homerun by Dave Clore tied the score. Burlington scored one run in the last of the ninth.

Bob Brown, in his ten start of the season hung up victory number nine for Burlington. He walked six men and struck out 14. Dave Clore started for Belleview, but was relieved by White who was the losing pitcher.

"Sox" Benson led the offensive for the winner with two singles and a double, while Dave Clore, powerful hitting third baseman collected a single, double, triple and a homer for Belleview.

Petersburg gave the Burlington boys a set-back in the second game of the doubleheader, emerging on the long end of a 10-3 count, behind the outstanding pitching of Sammy Huey, who struck out two walked two and gave up only nine hits. Yelton was the starting pitcher for Burlington, being relieved in the seventh by Benson. Yelton gave up 5 hits, 8 walks, and struck out six batters. Benson allowed only one hit, gave up 8 walks ceive the assistane of a supervisor familiar with pond construction who will check the site of the pond and assist in its construction. Some of the essentials for building a pond are: A drainage area of 2 acres or more, a minimum surface area of 8000 sq. ft., a depth of seven feet at the deepest point, a clay core trench and dam extended to the top of the water line, a slope of dam on the upper side on a 3 to 1 basis, and 2 to 1 on the lower side. The dam should be a minimum width of 6 feet at the top and the spillway should be constructed that will take care of the maximum rainfall.

The 1944 program ends December 31, 1944, and all practices must be completely carried out by that time.

FALL FOOD SUPPLY MAY BE BRIGHT

IF WEATHER CONDITIONS CHANGE AND ATTENTION TO FALL FOOD PRODUCTION IS GIVEN.

Boone County farmers are experiencing the most discouraging home garden and food production program since the drouth of 1930, '34 and '36, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Many farmers are reporting they will not get back the potato seed they planted last spring. This means that many families may be short of canned foods this winter unless attention is now turned to the fall garden.

The fall food supply may be bright if weather conditions change and attention to fall food production is given during the next two or three weeks. A few timely jobs that are worthy of immediate consideration include:

Garden

1. Now is good time to plant fall crops of Irish potatoes. Cobblers, Green Mountain, Bull Moose or Buckskins are all good fall varieties. Small, uncut seed pieces do better in dry weather.

2. Plant bunch beans and corn regularly until August 1st.

3. All of the fall green crops including kale, mustard, spinach, Chinese cabbage, lettuce, peas, beets, and perhaps others should be planted around August 1st to the 10th.

4. Cucumbers, beets, late cabbage and tomatoes may still be set out.

5. Apply liberal applications of complete fertilizers in the row for most of the late crops.

6. If favorable weather hits, some excellent fall crops may result.

Remember, the quitter always loses.

Meat Supply

Hogs, cattle, and lambs have all suffered serious set backs due to drouth and burdensome market supplies. Certainly this year with the present relative low price of all livestock on the market, every farm should plan for an abundant supply of meat this winter.

Special prizes and awards are being made this year to the farm families doing the best jobs of producing, storing, and canning their 1944-45 winter food supplies.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

SUCCESSES AND FAILURES OF ISRAEL

LESSON TEXT—Judges 2:6-16.
GOLDEN TEXT—Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people. —Proverbs 14:34.

The success or failure of both nations and individuals is ultimately determined by their attitude toward the law of God. He is always right and true. The constant factor in a world order that swings wildly from one extreme to another, is His law, which is perfect and eternal.

God is no respecter of persons. Even Israel, His own chosen nation, found that observing God's law meant blessing, and failure to do so brought judgment and sorrow. No man is great and powerful enough to ignore this rule—and none is exempt from its operation.

I. Remembering God Brings Blessing (vv. 6-9).

Although Israel had not fully obeyed God's command, and had been rebuked by an angel of the Lord for their failure (Judg. 2:1-5), they had come into a measure of their inheritance under Joshua.

They now possessed that inheritance and entered into enjoyment of it (v. 6). It is one thing to have an inheritance, but another thing to claim it and make use of it. Countless Christians have never taken out their inheritance in Christ. All they have is the earnest (Eph. 1:14) or "down payment."

God never meant that any child of His should live a poverty-stricken spiritual life, or should go halting on first one side and then the other. He has made provision for a full-orbed, strong and joyful life. Why not enter upon your full inheritance in Christ now?

As the people of Israel took possession of the land, they went forward in the way of blessing as long as Joshua, and the elders who remembered God, kept them steady and true. We have here an excellent illustration of the power of a godly example. It is far stronger than we think.

II. Forgetting God Brings Backsliding (vv. 10-13).

The fact that a people has been highly privileged and has been exalted to a place of power and honor will not save it in the day when God is forgotten. Israel no longer had God-fearing men to bring it back to God, and so began its awful drifting away from God.

We Americans are rightly proud of our great land, its mighty resources, its fine past and promising future. But wait—what is the future to be? Oh, we say, the most glorious days are ahead. They may be, but only if we, like our forefathers who established this nation, recognize God. If we do not, America will go the way of the forgotten empires of centuries past, and that in spite of all its past achievements and its present promise.

Let us always remember that America is not some vague entity apart from us, for we, you and I, are America, we determine what it shall be, and how it shall relate itself to God. Let us be sure that no one we know ever forgets God.

It is a significant thing that the leaders of our nation so often come from Christian homes, but it is sad that they are so frequently not Christians themselves. Their lives are shaped by the teaching and influence of godly parents who reared them, but what will their children do if they are not brought up in the fear and admonition of the Lord?

Forgetting God is bad enough in its immediate results, but just ahead there is great and certain disaster.

III. Forsaking God Brings Judgment (vv. 14-16).

God not only will not hold a backsliding nation guiltless, but will bring judgment even if He has to turn over His people to a despoiling nation. He has instruments of individual and national chastisement, and He is ready to use them.

Notice that wherever they went the Lord's hand was against them. There is no place to flee from the presence of God. Anyone who thinks he can do it, should read Psalm 139:7-12. It can't be done. That is a comfort to the believer, but it is not a little disquieting to the unbeliever.

God, however, always remembers mercy in the midst of judgment (Ps. 101:1). He sent judges to deliver Israel, when He was sure of their repentance (v. 16). "If there was ever a time when nations needed deliverers, it's now. The systematic looting of subjugated peoples, the deliberate murder of multitudes of Jews, the mass executions of many innocent people in reprisal for some patriotic act of resistance, are evils that cry to heaven.

"If men would call on God not merely for deliverance but in real repentance for sins committed 'perhaps the God who delivered Israel' would send deliverance to suffering people still" (Arnold's Commentary).

Well—why not call on Him now, in earnest repentance and faith. Will you do it?

ACRE OF BERRIES RETURNS $1,365

When S. A. Wurth of McCracken county sold 175 crates of strawberries from one acre at $7.80 per crate, he had proof that it pays to follow good methods of strawberry production. In the spring of 1943, he set out a half-acre each of Blakemore and Aroma berries on what he says was average creek bottom land which had been rather heavily fertilized the year before. He used healthy crownborer-free plants and cultivated frequently until September, then he mulched in December, used phosphate in the row when the berries were set, and ammonium nitrate at the rate of 75 pounds to the acre. Farm Agent Joe Hurt says the labor problem was met by the family's doing practically all the work.

BOYS HELPING OUT ON KENTUCKY FARMS

How large numbers of boys 14 to 18 years old are helping on farms in Kentucky—planting, cultivating and harvesting crops, caring for livestock, working in dairies, and the like—is reported in a statement from the State College of Agriculture and Home Economics. The placing of boys for farm work is part of the , Kentucky Farm Labor Program, carried out by the Extension Division of the college, working through county agents and home demonstration agents in all parts of the state.

The college helped to secure more than 8,000 workers to pick strawberries and other fruit, set tobacco, put up hay and harvest small grain. One trainload of 134 men and boys from Eastern Kentucky went to Maine to work in the potato fields.

Men now are wanted to operate combines and threshing machines, as well as for many other kinds of farm work.

Circulars published by the College of Agriculture discusses the use of boys on farms, including their training and wages. Many boys being recruited for farm work have had some experience with farming. Others need training, which means some patience on the part of farmers hiring them.

The college knows of many instances where boys were developed into first-rate hands, when farmers took time to show them how things should be done.

Farmers in need of help should file their applications with their county agent.

WITH OUR BOYS IN THE SERVICE

A SOLDIER'S PRAYER

Dear God in heaven somewhere up there,
I humbly beg You, hear my prayer,
Hear me Lord and understand
It's not just me, it's every man.
Give us strength to do this task,
Don't let us weaken, that's all we ask;
We don't want praise for what we do,
Just do our best, and win it, too
When we're sliding off the track
Reach down Dear God and bring us back:
We realize You pave the way
For each advance we make each day.
There's something else that I might add,
Please look out for Wife, Mom and Dad;
Thanks Dear God, thank You again
Not for me, it's for every man.

The above poem was sent us by one of the boys in service who failed to sign his name, although he writes it was written by another soldier in his camp.

Charles Newman, stationed in Alaska with the U. S. Navy writes:

"It so happens tonight I have a spare moment, so will try and thank you again for your paper.

"When I first arrived in Alaska your papers would come in bundles but now that I have been here some time they arrive regularly, and I look forward to your paper as if it was a letter and I can say this much, it means as much to me as a letter. The column 'With Our Boys in the Service' is sure a swell thing. That is the first thing I look at, and I have written to a lot of my shipmates since you started the column, as I have been able to find their addresses there.

"Well Pete, it looks as if I will be in the good old state of 'Kentucky' before long, that is if my luck holds out. I thought I would be there sometime this month, but now I guess it will be in July. I should be one of the first to get out because I have been here 18 months and 12 days with no leaves.

"When I first came here we were only supposed to stay here a year and then would get a leave. When the year rolled around they sent most of the boys out on leave, the remainder were to receive their immediately upon expiration of the first group's leave. However, as soon as they returned there was a law passed that all naval personnel would have to stay 18 months in Alaska without leave. That got me, so now I am still waiting.

In my last letter I was going to tell you a story about what the boys —not all of them—but the ones who haven't heard of Kentucky only from a history book, think of Kentucky. It's a great habit of the the boys to go around asking others 'what State are you from?' I have had many to ask me this question, and when I replied 'Kentucky', the first thing they think of is, 'he is a hillbilly.' Don't know why, but it never falls. I don't think they know that we have towns and cities there. They always say 'when he came into the Navy they had to put sand in his shoes to make him feel at home." As someone from Kentucky will go up and ask if he got any mail, some smart guy has to say 'how is he going to get mail, he doesn't know anyone who can write.'

"All the boys in our barracks know where his shipmate is from and that includes ever state in the union. They all know I am from Burlington. Once we were kidding each other about our states. I pulled a good one on a boy from Florida and thought I was big afterwards, but soon Florida speaks up and said, 'Boys did I ever tell you about the time I went through Burlington and the whole town came out to meet me and both of them were barefooted.' But it all is in fun and we like it.

"Well Pete, guess I have said enough for now so be good and tell all hello and to write. Hope to see you soon."

Pvt. Wilbur C. Gray, 35881567 Co. 13, 2d Eng. Prov. Regt., Camp Ellis, Ill., writes:

"I receive The Recorder every week. It sure is nice to have a home paper to read.

"I was home over the week-end recently and while there I saw Buster Snelling. I was glad to see him again. I am expecting a furlong in the near future, and I hope to see all my friends.

"As we were passing through Fairfield, Ill., we gave our name and address to some of the people, and this is the answer:

"To Pvt. Gray:
"So you want me to write to note to you
You want to get a line or two
From the town of Fairfield City, so
I'll write the best "pome" that I know.

"'Twas nine p. m. when the train went thru,
We whized the car down 1st Avenue
And stopped to see the soldiers gaze
Out of their cars into nights' black maze.

"Said Frankie who gave your name to me,
'That guy might like a card, you see,
So take a chance and write a note'
So home I went and sat and wrote.

"And here it is, short and 'sweet' (Detect sarcasm laid at your feet)
I'll tell you something about the lass
Who is writing this poem that has no class.

"I'm really dignified says I,
At this point, A Senior at Fairfield High;
At present I'm seventeen summers old
But will be twenty in three years, I'm told.

My eyes are brown, I measure 66 inches up and down,
A million brown tresses cover my crown
I cannot think of more to say
In this wee stanza—try as I may!

"And this tells of the lassie who
Has attempted composing this poem to you;
Hope I'll hear of the lad who they say
Now calls himself Pvt. Gray.

—Joyne Barnett '44."

The following letter was written by the wife of Sgt. William N. Elkin, Bushnell General Hospital, Ward 23, Brigham City, Utah:

"I'm writing for my husband to thank you so very much for sending The Recorder. You can't imagine how much pleasure it brings. I too enjoy it as much as he does.

"Since I've been out here five months, I can well understand what it means to be away from home and what a pleasure it is to have news from the home front.

"Bill has been bedfast for seven months and just this week got up in the wheel chair for the first time.

"The going has been pretty rugged for him, but like 'Old Glory' his chin has been kept high and now he is well on his way to recovery, thanks to the wonderful doctors here at Bushnell Hospital.

"Again we thank you Pete, for sending The Recorder—it's a wonderful morale builder. Keep 'em coming."

"Being with a bakery Company is just as important as any other branch of service. We have a primary mission to do and that is to bake bread and roast coffee. I assure you we are all performing that mission to the best of our ability.

"Your son's quarters are good and his chow (Army term for food) is excellent.

"There are many times your son works many hours—more than he should, but it is all for a good cause —to help win the war so they can return home sooner, to their wives, mothers, fathers and sweethearts.

"Your son is in good health and looks fine. Hoping for the war to end soon.

"Yours very truly
Lewis W. Fallor."

SUGGESTS FILLING SILO WITH ALFALFA

Farmers having silos might well consider filling them with the first cutting of alfalfa or other hays, suggests the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. This would be a sure way to save a valuable hay crop in a wet spring.

This method of saving feed is especially important for dairy farmers, it is stated. Hay put into a silo now could be fed later in the summer when pastures are short, and the silo then filled with corn or cane. Or the hay silage could be saved for winter feeding.

The college's statement points out that no molasses are needed in making hay into silage, if the alfalfa or other crop is properly wilted. Too much moisture is harmful. On good drying days, alfalfa will be ready for the silo, in most instances, in about two hours after cutting.

Home Nursing Classes Boasts Good Attendance

Home Nursing Classes are going splendidly in Boone County. The attendance at Florence is around twenty; Petersburg, 15 to 20; Rabbit Hash, 15 to 20; and Burlington 10 to 15. Taylorsport has decided to wait until fall when they are not so busy on the farms. The interest in these classes is fine and is stimulating to those who are promoting the work.

Miss Mary Hood Gillaspie has done a great deal through her ability and homemakers' groups to organize and keep up the attendance. The class members and Red Cross appreciate this very much and wish to extend to Miss Gillaspie a hearty vote of thanks.

WITH OUR BOYS IN SERVICE

Miami Beach, Fla.—S-Sgt. Lee R. Frakes, Erlanger, Ky., returned from service outside the continental United States, now is being processed through the Army Air Forces Redistribution Station No. 2 in Miami Beach, where his next assignment will be determined.

This is one of the Redistribution Stations within the AAF Personnel Distribution Command. At an AAF Redistribution Station, AAF returnees from theaters of operation are examined by specially selected medical and classification officers whose joint findings are used in recommending new assignments. Theme of the AAF Redistribution program is designation of each man to duty for which he is best fitted. Returnees live at a Redistribution Station under conditions that encourage natural response to processing, the greater part of their two-week stay being devoted to rest and recreation.

AAF personnel, enlisted men and officers alike, are assigned to a Redistribution Station upon their return to the United States, but do not report to the station until completing a furlough or leave of three weeks.

Sergeant Frakes, a B-17 radio operator and gunner, served in the European theater for five months, flying two missions. He was awarded the Air Medal. Wounded in the leg and chest when bailing out, he also wears the Purple Heart.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Frakes, Route 1, Covington, Ky. His wife, Patricia Ann Frakes, resides at 224 Mary St., Erlanger. Sergeant Frakes was graduated from Lloyd High School in Erlanger.

"I am sorry I didn't get around to all my friends in old Boone County, but I had so many friends to see I hardly knew where to start —I'm sure you understand.

Long Illness And Your Feet

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

Long illness or long convalescence often may be the cause of painful muscle spasm in the lower limb and foot. In either circumstance long periods of inactivity, lack of exercise, coupled with the weakened condition of the body cause the muscles to lose tone and become weak and flabby.

The foot, while lying, as in bed, cannot and is not, held in a normal position in relation to the limbs and rest of the body. The foot is held in an extended position, which allows a shortening of the large muscles in the back of the limb, and allows the weaker muscles in the front of the limb to stretch.

When partial strength, to the patient, is restored and he finally is allowed to walk, it is imperative that the bones of the foot are properly supported in shoes designed to distribute body weight evenly over the whole bottom surface of the foot, and to relieve further the strain on the muscles, ligaments and tendons, until normal strength and muscle tone return.

An ordinary "strong looking" shoe is not the solution to this problem. Ordinary shoes with so-called arch support and flat base planes, can only allow the foot condition to degrees further.

At this time special attention should be paid to the inner construction of the shoe. The base construction and inner foundation of the shoe should be shaped to the NORMAL CONTOUR of the bottom of a NORMAL FOOT. The inside of the shoe should resemble the normal foot print in soft turf or sand.

Such a shoe with sound construction and foot shaped base planes is found in an especially built surgical shoe.—Adv.

FERTILIZER FOR TOBACCO

One hundred or more farmers in Spencer county have used 1,000 pounds or more of fertilizer per acre of tobacco, according to Farm Agent Nevin L. Goebel. He says the large majority of those farmers treated their plant beds, and that about two-thirds of the plantings were of the root-rot resistant varieties.

Our next meeting will be announced later.

WHEN BUYING JERSEYS

It pays to Patronize the Established, Reputable Breeder. Buying cattle is not a simple or easy matter. There are a number of things to be kept constantly in mind.

For instance: HEALTH—Test for Bang and T. B. should be made.

PRODUCTION—Should not be taken for granted. Records of her milk yield and butterfat test should be available.

TYPE—Purity for good tops, level rumps, and well balanced, well attached udders is particularly high in Jerseys.

Your Refrigerator

NEEDS

"BREATHING SPACE"

Air space in back of your refrigerator and over the top is important . . .

Because the mechanism, which is usually at the base of the cabinet, requires free circulation of air so that heat removed from food compartment may be carried away.

Check your refrigerator's location. If air cannot flow freely from under the base . . . to the rear . . . and up the back . . . circulation is retarded.

Do this — move refrigerator or adjust surroundings to provide free air circulation. If possible, choose a location away from a hot stove, direct sunlight or other heat source.

It tells you ten simple things you can do to keep your refrigerator operating smoothly and economically for the duration. Ask for your copy at our office today. You'll find information in it of value regardless of what make refrigerator you own.

RURAL HOMEMAKER HELPS OTHERS CAN

Mrs. Hubert Straughn, Oldham county, is again planning to can around 1,200 quarts of vegetables and fruits. For the past several years she has put up more than 1,000 quarts, half of which is for her family of three, the rest for other people. With the money earned, Mrs. Straughn has made improvements in her home. She also helps her husband with the field work and grows the garden which produces most of the food she cans.

On the alert for new information as to canning methods, Mrs. Straughn, who is president of the Westport Homemakers' Club, never misses a canning demonstration, according to Home Agent Lilah Hembree. Canning is not drudgery to this homemakers, Miss Hembree said, for she has learned the easy and safe way to do it.

Mrs. Straughn has helped out in the wartime food emergency by taking her pressure cooker to the homes of friends and neighbors to assist in canning hundreds of quarts of food. She is also adviser in canning to the 4-H clubs in her community, her 14-year-old son being one of those taking the second year of food preservation work. Then she cans at least 50 quarts for a church orphanage and for the county hospital.

What would a farm reservoir like the one below be worth to you? This is something that 95 percent of the farmers can have in Boone County and from the number of bulldozers working the county now, it appears that they will all be built this year. Note in the photograph the fence which keeps stock out of the water; also not the heavy sod around the reservoir. This acts as a filter which will always furnish good clean water.

The second photograph shows a concrete trough where the livestock get their water. The water flows from the reservoir through a pipe pushed through the dam and the watering trough. An automatic float cut off can be used to regulate the flow or a turn off valve can be used. Instruction and blueprints for the construction of the trough can be had at the County Agent's or Soil Conservation Office. Valuable information on constructing farm reservoirs can be had from these same offices. Conserving or storing water also is conserving the soil.

At present, six bulldozers are in the county. If you want work done contact the operator near you or the Extension or Soil Conservation Office. Several hundred acres have been cleaned up for cultivation or pasture improvement during the last year by these operators.

Several people have inquired about fish ponds. Contrary to the general belief, most ponds have too many fish in them rather than not enough. A splendid bulletin on fish pond management can be obtained at the Soil Conservation Office.

Cooked A Fine Dinner; Then Threw It To Dog

One lady recently stated that she used to throw her own dinner to the dog most of the time. It made her sick just to look at anything to eat. She was swollen with gas, full of bloat, had headaches, felt worn out and was badly constipated. Finally she got ERB-HELP and says she now eats everything in sight and digests it perfectly. Bowels are regular and normal. She is enjoying life once more and feels like "some other woman since taking this New Compound.

ERB-HELP contans 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Elsmere Pharmacy, Dixie Highway.

Attention! All Home Canners

Before you begin your 1944, canning, Good Housekeeping Magazine advises you: use the boiling-water bath method for tomatoes and fruits, only. Can all vegetables except tomatoes by the correct use of a pressure cooker to be sure of killing botulinus germs. In the last few years, cases of botulinus food poisoning have cropped up in widely different parts of the country. Buy, borrow, share a pressure cooker—but don't can low-acid vegetables any other way. If you want further information, write Good Housekeeping Magazine, 959 Eighth Avenue, New York 19, N. Y.

AT ANNUAL 4-H AND UTOPIA CLUB FAIR — COMPETITION OPEN TO ALL JERSEYS IN COUNTY.

Boone County Jersey breeders are sponsoring the first adult dairy show to be held in the county in twelve years, according to Robert Youell, chairman of the Jersey Show Committee. Competition will be open to all Jerseys in the county and all owners of good cattle are invited to compete.

The Jersey show will be held in connection with the 12th Annual 4-H and Utopia Club Fair to be held August 19th. All funds for the show are now contributed by local breeders. A special feature of the show will be an aged cow production class in which production will count 50 percent and type 50 percent.

Members of the show committee are Robert Youell, O. W. Purdy, C. H. and Harry Tanner, Dr. R. L. Crudgington and Sheritt, Jesse Wilson, and T. P. Dunlap.

The 4-H and Utopia Club Council hopes that other breed owners will develop exhibits in the future and that the show will grow to represent all agricultural interests in the county.

Priming Tobacco Increases Yield

Russell Hunt advised Boone County tobacco growers in a meeting at Burlington, Tuesday, July 11th to prime their 1944 crop of tobacco. Priming will increase the yield of high quality market leaves and yield of ripe tobacco per acre.

Priming can best be done by boys and girls from 10 to 15 years. Women do an excellent job. The lower leaves should be primed when they are ripe and before they fire.

Will Smith, County Farm Labor Assistant, is planning to train groups of boys to do priming on a contract basis. The price will be around 8 cents per stick. Farmers who will be unable to prime their tobacco and would like to use this service should notify the County Agent's office as soon as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Barlow and Mrs. Rosie Renaker and children, of Florence called on Mr. and Mrs. W P. Beemon, Sunday afternoon.

POND BUILDING OPERATORS MEET

AT BURLINGTON, COOPERATING IN FARM RESERVOIR CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM — AAA PAYMENTS AVAILABLE.

Bulldozer operators cooperating in the Boone County pond building or farm reservoir construction program met at Burlington last Tuesday evening, according to County Agent, H. R. Forkner. Earl Welch, Agricultural Engineer, advised the operations on principles of construction found by the College of Agriculture to insure the most satisfactory earth dams for farm reservoirs.

The operators agreed to cooperate with the County Agent's office and the Soil Conservation Service in the construction of improved dams. Because many farmers with relatively small jobs have been unable to secure bulldozer services, the operators were encouraged to clean up requests on each road as they leave for another section.

Farmers who want pond dams built are urged to notify the County Agent's office or J. C. Acree of the Soil Conservation Service office by mail or telephone and also to contact the operator when he arrives in your neighborhood. This is important in the road routing of the equipment. Many farmers have become discouraged toward getting equipment but an attempt is going to be made to take care of all requests. It would be helpful if old requests would be renewed.

The AAA is making payments of 15 cents per cubic yard of dirt put in an approved dam. The payment comes out of the soil building allowance. Farmers who plan to request this payment should notify the AAA office.

Operators are using different types and sizes of equipment. Prices are ranging from $6.00 to $8.00 per hour. Farmers are cautioned to have a thorough understanding with the operator before work begins. Farmers desiring special service in staking out their dams should contact Mr. Acree at the S. C. S. office. The County Soil Conservation Service is offering an excellent soil program at no cost to the farmer.

Boone County Draft Board Resigns Post

Rumors that Boone County Draft Board 9 had resigned was confirmed Saturday, when Col. Norman and Maj. Russell, from Louisville headquarters, visited Burlington.

The local Board agreed to serve after a misunderstanding in regard to classification of farm boys under 26 years of age had been cleared up. State headquarters expressed belief that the local Board had been too liberal in their deferments of farm boys under 26.

It was also pointed out that any man under 39, who left the farm was automatically 1-A and would be put in direct line for induction in the next call.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Pope, of near Waterloo, were business visitors in Burlington, Saturday. While here Mr. Pope was a pleasant caller at The Recorder office.

Mrs. Henry Siekman and daughter Mildred spent several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. John Methven and family, of Middletown, Ohio.

'44 FAIR PREMIUMS SET RECORD HIGH

WILL BE LARGEST IN HISTORY ACCORDING TO OFFICIALS—CHARGE OF 25 CENTS FOR ADULTS WILL BE MADE.

The 1944 Boone County 4-H and Utopia Club Fair and County Picnic premiums will be the largest on record. Open classes in dairy cattle, sheep, poultry, garden, field crops, fruit, and Home Economics will be featured for the first time. The horse and pony show classes have been increased.

The Council, after a thorough survey of public opinion, voted last Friday evening for a gate charge of 25 cents for adults sixteen years or over as a contribution to the grounds improvement program. Children under 16 will be admitted free. The Council was advised by leaders that the people's desire was for improvements that could eventually service all needs of the county so far as a fair program is concerned. Such a program can not be achieved until sufficient buildings to accommodate the people, show rings for exhibits, and barns and sheds to house livestock and other entires are secured.

The County Picnic feature of the fair will be stressed until sufficient equipment to put on a full fair program can be secured. The Council urges full cooperation of all the people in working toward a long time goal.

FOR THIRD YEAR STORE CLOSES FOR VACATION

Quality Sample Shoe Shop, 627 Madison Ave., Covington, announces that it will close for one week, as has been the custom for the past three years, for vacation. Store will be closed July 24th and will reopen on Monday, July 31st.

The management of this store lay claim to the honor of being the first store in Northern Kentucky to adopt this method of group vacationing.

During this vacation period, it has been the practice to strip the windows of all merchandise and donate this window space to War Bond drive or some other War effort. Again this year the management gladly offers this space in behalf of any War display. So they say goodbye to their many satisfied customers for just one week, and will be rested and ready to serve you on Monday, July 31 with Quality Shoes, for your valuable ration stamp.

Men's Bible Class Will Play Boys' Team Sat.

Probably one of the most bitterly fought contests in the history of baseball will be played at Burlington, Saturday when the Men's Bible Class meets the boys' team at 2:00 p. m. (EWT).

Courtney Pope, "Little Napoleon" to his team will have the guiding hand over the veterans of many decades of baseball. Mr. Pope has given the following as the first nine players: Walter Brown, a great pitcher in his day (which was 50 years ago) on the mound; Shelby "Red" Acra, will act as backstop for Brown's heaves from the hill; "Lefty" Lizer, a forme sandlotter from Cincinnati (according to Lizer), will be the first baseman; Frank Maurer will put his ageing body at second base; "Dump" Doug Daley will endeavor to imitate Martin Marion at short stop, but will probably look like Lombardi; Pope, himself will handle the hot corner, and the boys have promised him it will, be hot. The speedy outfielders will very likely be "Killer" Court Kelly in left, "Ike" Smith will romp around in center and Sam Ryle of the Ryle & Hambrick Trucking Co., will be in right.

The subs are another group of fine baseball players. They are Elza Poston, Wilton Stephens, Ted Hambrick, and L. Gadd.

The class has endeavored to persuade Kirt Cropper to take his part in the contest, but he refused, even after it was explained that he was the best, most loyal, most enthusiastic and even went so far as to tell him he was the best in the county, but he told them they would have to get another water boy. Judge C. L. Cropper and A. E. Stephens are having it out who will be bat boy, but it has been rumored that Irvin Rouse already has the job.

Substitute battery for the men will be Lee Cropper on the hill and "Uncle" John Ryle backstop. These two will be the main attraction.

The boys' line-up is a secret at this writing, but Bob Brown will probably be his dad's opponent on the hill.

Admission is free, and everyone is cordially invited to attend this game [illegible]e school grounds.

Charles R. Wood Now Overseas With U. S. Army

An Air Service Command Station (Somewhere in England)—Cpl. Charles R. Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Wood, of Florence, R. 1, is now overseas and has participated in a course designed to bridge the gap between training in the states and soldiering in an active theatre of war. At one of the Air Service Command Stations known as Control Depots Cpl. Wood was carefully processed by classification experts who make certain that he was well fitted for the job assigned to him.

Security training, personal hygiene, a talk by a Special Service Officer informing him of facilities for healthful recreation and a lecture by the Chaplain are all in turn a part of the soldier's preparation for duties overseas.

His next station will be one from which America's fighting planes take off to smash the Nazi war machine.

Before entering the Army he was employed as a farmer on his father's farm.

700 BUSHEL BALBO RYE CONTRACTED

BY FARM BUREAU—WILL BE READY FOR DELIVERY WITHIN NEXT TWO WEEKS—WILL SELL FOR APPROXIMATELY $2.75.

The Boone County Farm Bureau has contracted for the purchasing of 700 bushels of pure strain Balbo rye seed. The seed will be ready for delivery in the next two weeks. Price of the seed will be approximately $2.75 per bushel.

The Farm Bureau is interested in securing this seed, in that it offers a reliable source to secure a pure strain of the seed. Farm Bureau members who pool their cash orders will receive the seed at actual cost. The rest of the seed will be handled by local dealers.

This seed should prove a valuable source of seed stock for next year. Farmers interested in securing seed may leave their orders at the County Agent's office or with their local dealer who is interested in handling this seed.

Miss Elva Akin was shopping in Cincinnati, Saturday afternoon.

22 AFGHANS MADE FOR RED CROSS

BY BOONE COUNTY HOMEMAKERS—AVERAGE OF SEVENTY WORKING HOURS SPENT ON EACH AFGHAN.

Twenty-two wool afghans have been given to the Red Cross by Boone County Homemakers. The afghans will be shipped to a hospital center for convalescent service men. Homemakers and their friends have been working on the afghans since last December. An average of seventy working hours was spent on each afghan.

Erlanger Boy Awarded Air Medal With Nine Oak Leaf Clusters

Miami Beach, Fla.—T/Sgt. Winfred C. Armstrong, Erlanger, Ky., returned from service outside the continental United States, now is being processed through the Army Air Forces Redistribution Station No. 2 in Miami Beach, where his next assignment will be determined.

This is one of the Redistribution Stations within the AAF Personnel Distribution Command. At an AAF Redistribution Station, AAF returnees from theaters of operation are examined by specially selected medical and classification officers whose joint finding are used in recommending new assignments. These of the AAF Redistribution program is designation of each man to duty for which he is best fitted. Returnees live at a Redistribution Station under conditions that encourage natural response to processing, the greater part of their two-week stay being devoted to rest and recreation.

AAF personnel, enlisted men and officers alike, are assigned to a Redistribution Station upon their return to the United States, but do not report to the station until completing a furlough or leave of three weeks.

Sergeant Armstrong, a B-24 radio gunner, won the Air Medal with nine oak leaf clusters. During 20 months in the Central, South and Southwest Pacific he flew 48 missions, shooting down at least one enemy aircraft, and probably three more.

The 25-year-old Sergeant is the son of W. C. Armstrong, 23 Center St., Erlanger. He was graduated from Lloyd High School in 1936, and before entering the Army in February, 1942 was employed by the Loomis Broom Co., in Covington.

SPENCE TO RETURN HOME SATURDAY

TO CAMPAIGN THROUGHOUT FIFTH DISTRICT IN BEHALF OF HIS CANDIDACY FOR RE-ELECTION.

Congressman Brent Spence, who is a delegate to the World Monetary Conference at Bretton Woods, New Hampshire, will return Saturday to campaign throughout the Fifth District in behalf of his candidacy for re-election in the August 5th Democratic primary, according to word received this week.

"I regret very much that I will have but two weeks to visit with the voters of my district before the primary election, but inasmuch as I believe the people whom I represent would prefer that I remain at Bretton Woods until the conference has ended, I shall allow politics to be secondary at this time," Representative Spence said.

His assignment as chairman of the powerful House Banking and Currency Committee gives him an important role in the Monetary Conference, which is shaping the financial pattern for the postwar world. Representatives of all nations, except those with which America is at war, are attending the conference.

Representative Spence plans to visit every county in the Fifth District during the final two weeks of the campaign. "Meanwhile," he explained, "I am relying upon the kindness of my Democratic friends to look after my interests until I can return home. My confidence in them is very great, and my only regret is that I cannot be with them during the entire pre-election period.

"I rely upon my record to commend me to the voters. They know of the work I have done, and the efforts I have made to give them the best possible representation in Washington. I shall depend upon their judgment and follow their wishes."

Returning from the mission, his formation fought off enemy fighters, shooting down two of them.

WOMAN'S PART IN NATIONAL LIFE

LESSON TEXT—Judges 4:1-9, 13-16.
GOLDEN TEXT—Who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this?—Esther 4:14.

Women of our day have unprecedented liberty of action and almost limitless opportunity to show their ability to meet responsbility and to accomplish great things. They are measuring up to that opportunity both in the armed services and in the multitude of tasks they are creditably carrying on in civilian life.

To those who seem surprised at their response to the nation's need, the church could well testify that women have always served well in those things which count most for God and country.

I. A Woman Can Rule (vv. 1-5).

God has established an order in the world which places woman where she best fits—in the home. There, under the guidance and with the help of her husband, she exerts her most powerful influence in the rearings of children. That is her normal, most effective and most blessed position.

But all too often conditions in the world are not normal, and woman, like man, is thrown out of the customary orbit of existence. Deborah faced such a day. Israel had sinned and been given over to the chastising hand of the Canaanite. Then God heard their repentant cry and was ready to send a deliverer—as He did in the case of each of the judges. Apparently no man was ready to take up the responsibility, or willing to thus serve God, and so He called Deborah. She sat under her palm tree and Israel came to her for judgment.

She typifies many women who have been the leaders of their people, and her story has been an inspiration to women in the church. May many more be encouraged to take up the weighty problems of moral and social righteousness, which the men of our nation (and others) do not seem to care or dare to attack!

II. A Woman Can Lead (vv. 6-9).

Barak was a man of ability. Deborah gave him full credit for his capable service (5:1, 12), but evidently he lacked that initiatve which would send him into conflict with his people's enemies. Without Deborah he would not go (v. 8), under her le[illegible] and courageous.

It is easy to ridicule Barak, and no doubt he deserves some measure of censure, but let us not be too severe on him. When the records are all in, it will be known that many of the feats of courage, the high and noble decisions, the victories in the fields of science and culture, and particularly those things that have been accomplished in and through the church, were the result of the leadership of some woman.

Many are the distinguished national and spiritual leaders who have said that all they were and had accomplished they owed to their mothers. Others speak with high appreciation of a noble and inspiring wife.

Think also of the many social and religious causes which have been largely carried on by determined and sacrificial women. Yes, a woman can lead, and often she must lead out to get the men to follow.

Not all the pursuits of life are lived out in peace or in preparation for war. The time comes when battle must be joined, and then we see that

III. A Woman Can Fight (vv. 13-16).

True it is that it was Barak who led his army, but he went out at the word of Deborah. Hers was the responsibility for strategy, for the determining of that important D-day, when the blow must be struck.

The courage of women in the battles for country makes an inspiring story. Not the least of that courage has been shown by those who have quietly stood "by the stuff" at home, who have bravely parted with their cherished loved ones, who have borne the dark hours of loneliness, uncertainty and often of heart-piercing sorrow. They shall not be without their reward (see I Sam. 30:24).

This is the place to say a further word of appreciation of the women of the church who have fought such a valiant fight against liquor, social degradation, vice, evil politics, etc. "Hats off to them!" May they be encouraged to go on.

Then too, one ought to say a word of sad and earnest admonition to those countless women who have used their great freedom in our day as a license to live wicked and ungodly lives. They do not have the courage to stand against the loose moral standards, the common acceptance of intoxicants, the immodest apparel of the day.

Christian women have the golden opportunity of setting a fine pattern of useful living now. Let them make the most of it, for the glory of God.

CHAOS OR CHRISTIANITY

ED WIMMER

Democratic Candidate for Congress

When the war is over, millions of men and women in our armed forces, and millions who have gone to work in war factories, will return to their home communities to make a new start in life.

Will we be prepared to meet this great emergency? Are the small communities to become the "Ghost Towns" of tomorrow? Will the big industrial cities become the battlegrounds of giant corporations now entrenched by war profits and wartime expansion?

Will the man with the GRAY HAIR be shoved aside in the mad scramble for jobs that will be made by war-workers; teen-agers, returning veterans and our new army of highly skilled women?

Will the returning veteran be GUARANTEED an OPPORTUNITY to make HIS OWN SUCCESS as a farmer? Will he be GUARANTEED a chance to succeed as a small businessman without fear of being crushed by the giant monopolies now seeking to control all American business? Will he have a chance to become an important person in a corporate structure designed to create instead of destroy?

These are just a few of the questions that must be answered if America is to lead the way to a better Christian world, and the biggest fight against OPPRESSION OF ANY KIND; against special privilege; unfair taxation; unemployment; falling farm prices; unfair competition and old age insecurity, will have to be made by the men you elect to Congress.

For 13 years, Ed. Wimmer has carried on a vigorous campaign to arouse the people against those evils which contribute to depression and war, and since Pearl Harbor, his movies, public addresses and his writings in behalf of the men at the front, have won him national acclaim.

We, the undersigned, believe that the mothers, fathers, wives and sweethearts of the men and women in uniform, as well as all other Americans who are concerned for the future, should work for the nomination of Ed. Wimmer, and cast a vote for him in the Primary, August 5th, 1944.

The Fifth District of Kentucky, and every other Congressional District in America, will need men who have proven they can neither be bought nor bluffed!

Signed: Mr. and Mrs. Leo. J. Grote, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Grow, Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Gaynor, Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Bosshammer, Mr. and Mrs. John Voshkuhl, Mr. Harry Johnson, Mrs. F. A. Rothler.

WITH OUR BOYS IN SERVICE

L. L. Griggs, 84th Bn., Co. C., Plat. 6, care Fleet Post Office, San Francisco, Calif., writes:

"Just a few lines to let you know what we are doing here.

"It is a clear night in New Guiena and from where we sit in our fox holes we can see the devil changing his watch. Yes, old Satan himself. We aren't quite in hell yet, just on the rim. This place is called hell's half acre, 180 feet from hell.

"Today is just like yesterday and the day before, nothing much doing. It is quiet and peaceful in this island paradise—not a sound to be heard except the rumble of cannon, the rat-tat-tat of machine guns, the burst of bombs and the zing of rifle bullets over our heads. If we raise our heads it's too bad. It is quite anoying too, because it disturbs our rest here in New Guinea. It is all rest and no work—it is sort of a rest cure in the tropics because if we make a mistake, it is here we rest.

"Today we are dead men, the Japs say they wipe us all out, but I guess it is time to tell them we are 'so sorry, didn't do.'

"One of my mates is sitting here practicing tying square knots in a snake tail. It isn't a very big snake, as it is only thirty feet long. The other fellow is reading a letter from his draft board, telling him if he doesn't report for his examination by the 5th of November they will come and get him. So I told him to write and dare them to.

"This war is a pushover. All we have to do is pack up and go home and by the time the Japs found out we were gone, the next war would be started and our kids would be over here fighting and we would be back there striking and tell people that it won't be long until it will all be over. I would even buy War Bonds and parade on Sunday with all the medals I won in a crap game in the last war. I can just see myself in the corner saloon telling how single-handed in a row boat with a machine gun mounted on it, sunk 1 aircraft carrier, four battleships, 14 destroyers, a light cruiser, shot down 51 airplanes and sunk one native canoe with one in it. I fought them to a stand still in 30 hours and all I had to eat or drink was a mouth full of water and a soda cracker.

"Well it is time for the keeper to put me back in my padded cell. I've been out in the sun too long.

"How is everyone back there? I am feeling fine and hope to see you soon."

* * *

Pvt. Leonard W. Bradley, H. Q. Co. 7th Inf. Div. APO 7, care Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif., writes the following letter:

"I have been planning to write you for a long time, but am just now getting around to it.

"I received the paper for the first time since I have been overseas and am very glad to get it for enjoy the paper and wish to express my thanks for The Recorder.

"Tell all the folks at home 'hello' for me as it looks as though it will be a long time before I get home, but I guess it will be good when we get home again.

"There isn't much I can write, but I saw in the paper where some of the boys had written you and said they wanted to go overseas. Guess they don't know what they are getting into for I was the same way until I got over here, and now I would give anything to be back in the U. S. However, I am glad to have had the opportunity to see the country that we have visited."

* * *

We are in receipt of the following letter from Pvt. Chester Fugate, Btry B. 294 FAOB Sn Bn., Fort Jackson, S. C.:

"I want to thank you for sending the paper. I can read about my friends and my buddies in your paper, and I can assure you I read it from beginning to end.

"Today is Sunday, and wash day for the boys in the Army. We stand in line to wait our turn to use the wash room.

"We are hoping that it won't be long until we all can come home to stay.

"I have located some of the boys from Boone County through the paper and hope to hear from more. I receive little mail, other than from my wife and six children, but I hear from them through the paper."

* * *

Pvt. Orville E. Hodges Co. K., Inf. APO 15186, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y., writes:

"I guess you think I am a good one for not writing and telling you that my address had been changed, but I have been on the run since I was at Wheeler.

"I am in the E. T. O. in England somewhere, but can't tell just where. I have seen some nice country and some bad, but I tell you that this country is not like the good old USA. Just give me old Kentucky.

"There are two boys with me from Boone County, Marvin Kelly and Carl Marshall. They are well and doing as well as myself.

"People don't know what this is all about until they have to leave all their loved ones and all that they have behind and go to another country.

Don't know any other news to write about for we don't hear much over here. That is why I am writing you for I want to get The Recorder so I can read about things back in Boone County.

"I sure will appreciate receiving The Recorder again for it makes a fellow closer to home."

* * *

We are in receipt of the following letter from Cpl. Hoffman, now stationed in England with the U. S. Army:

"Sorry I have not written sooner, but we have been on the go constantly. I have been receiving your paper regularly and it really keeps me up on the news.

"I see a lot of Boone County boys are in England, but as yet I haven't been able to see any of them.

"Boone County will be new to us when we return, but I'll be glad to see it once more. I've started my third year overseas and I've seen plenty of action, but it's fun when it's over. I don't expect to be here much longer, but will send you my new APO when we land—Berlin then home, I hope.

"Give my regards to all, and hoping to see you soon."

* * *

Eugene Setters, Co. B., 801 F. D. Bn., APO 230, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y., writes:

"Thought I would write you a few lines to let you know everything is going fine over here in the E.T.O. I haven't received the paper for over a month—in fact, I haven't had any mail at all.

"How is everything in good old Kentucky? It's really nice over here. I don't know if you ever heard from Earl Rector or not, but I was in a big town a few weeks ago and I run into him. He is the first boy from Boone County that I've seen. I know Jake Wolfe is over here somewhere, but I never have met him.

"I guess all of you were glad to hear of the invasion—I sure was. I want to go to France myself. I want to thank you for sending me the paper even if I can't get them often. Tell everyone I said hello."

* * *

Anna L. Grant, 10th Station Hospital, APO 179, care Postmaster, New Yor, N. Y., writes:

"After two and a half years I have gotten around to writing. I feel terrible for not writing before—just one of those things.

"I have been very busy setting up operating rooms which makes my third. Talk about a job when you have only an empty room, nothing to do with. I could never have made the grade had it not been for enlisted men—they made lights, operating room, just anything I needed. Now have the best operating room in E. T. O.

I suppose you are wondering why the sudden time to write. I met a soldier from Boone County and he knew that there were several others that wanted my address, so he suggested I write you, giving my address for publication."

* * *

Kenneth Shinkle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Shinkle, of Petersburg, who is serving in the U. S. Navy and whose address is Kenneth Shinkle, F 2/c, U. S. S. Acontius, care Fleet Postoffice, New York, N. Y., sends this little poem which he wrote while on watch the night before going out into enemy waters. His mother has titled it "A Sailor's Hope:"

"We're sailing mom at daybreak,
With Old Glory waving high;
God bless those stars and stripes she waves,
A symbol that freedom shall never die.
Into far distant waters we've never seen,
We'll meet the enemy with all we've got;
They're treacherous, cruel and mean,
So until this war is over
And Old Glory comes waving thru
Mom, always keep your chin up
Tell the rest to do that too.
But if that blue star in your window
Should ever turn to gold,
You will know I died a hero,
Even though it's never told.
For you know I'm not the type
That would ever leave my gun;
I've got too much to fight for—
Freedom, yourself, and my son.
So if it is to be that way
Then some day tell my son
That through those boys who bled and died,
His freedom has been won.
And so for now I'll say so-long,
You all be good and true,
And with God's help and a little luck,
Then I'll be seein' you."

BUY MORE THAN BEFORE

By Queen Esther Ryle

East New Market, Md.

Fathers, brothers, friends and sons,
They're the men behind the guns;
They're fighting the enemy day after day,
Always working, no time for play.
We are also in this fight,
Let's help our boys, let's do it right;
Let's all buy a bond in this Fifth War Loan,
Let's all help to bring our boys back home.
Out on a battlefield bleak and gary,
There, face down, a soldier lay;
The battle was over, all was still,
All were gone, but a boy named Bill.
The boy sat up, "I'm dying," he cried,
Then falling face down in the sand he died.
Thus, another young soul entered the gates of heaven,
A lad whose age was six and eleven.
Soon after this a kind sweet mother,
(There never was so sweet another)
Received a letter from which she read—
"We regret to inform you, your Bill is dead.
Let's help some boy and his mother,
Let's buy a bond and then another
We'll all buy bonds in this Fifth War Loan,
In that way we'll bring our boys back home."

The writer of the above poem is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert S. Ryle, former of Burlington, now residing in East New Market, Md.

I want to talk to you about your children and shoes they wear.

Maybe you never realized that the wrong shoes could be the cause of nervousness in your child.

I say it is the duty of parents, school teachers and family physicians to help bring stability and strength to nervous systems.

Symptoms of nervousness in children are often forerunners of organic disease. From the physician's standpoint ONLY there are many things that make us nervous. The most important are: 1, Wrong diet; 2, over fatigue, and 3, poor posture. Let me repeat the last and most important POOR POSTURE, because you cannot have good posture unless your feet are fitted with proper shoes.

We all know how important posture is to the physical and mental development of a child. At home we teach our children to stand straight to sit straight and to walk straight . . . that is we TRY to teach them how important it is. But sometimes, do you find that you are constantly reminding Billy or Mary to "SIT UP"—or "STAND UP STRAIGHT—almost to the point of nagging and even to the point of scolding.

If your child has poor posture—and it seems hard for him to remember to stand straight—suggest that you take a look at his feet. And remember, when you want to scold him for drooping that the child is no more responsible for his posture than for the food he is given to eat. There is some reason WHY he isn't standing straight and that reason may be weak, poorly constructed shoes that do not properly support body weight.—Adv.

The electric power that helps build fighting power is flowing over our lines at an ever-accelerating rate.

Since the start of the defense program in June, 1940, our deliveries of industrial power have been stepped up two and one-half times to keep pace with mounting war production demands.

Fifty-seven percent of our entire output now goes to industries supporting the war effort and to military establishments.

At the same time, we are continuing to meet all essential civilian needs — and at the lowest average price per kilowatt-hour in the history of our operations.

BALANCED RATIONS BRING MORE MILK

An increase of 25 per cent in milk production was the experience of a number of farmers in Robertson county following the feeding of balanced grain rations. During April and May, they reported shipping a fourth more milk to the condenser at Maysville, yet they had the same number of cows as at this time last year. Farm Agent Arthur A. Williams says that farmers feeding balanced rations to poultry and sheep have had similar production increases.

HE PLAYS THE FIELD OF SPORTS

. . . round the clock and round the calendar,
Ruby Reports in timely sequence to thrill Sport Page enthusiasts

EARL RUBY . . . Sports Editor of The Courier-Journal, plays to a full gallery of sporting males. It's a great life, Earl agrees, though a bit strenuous at times. No arm-chair philosopher, he actively covers the Sports front. Busier than a bird dog on opening day of quail season, Earl takes to the field and points up significant features of baseball, high school and intercollegiate basket and football, fishing, racing and hunting . . . in fact, every sport engaged in according to established rules. That's why we rarely see Earl hatless . . . he's always on the run!

Editor of America's most complete Sports Section outside the three major metropolitan centers, Ruby says it's people who make sports interesting . . . however, he likes to give readers an occasional flashback to the origin of main sporting events.

A native son, Earl began doing spot reporting in 1921, after school hours at Du Pont Manual High, continuing through years at University of Louisville and Jefferson School of Law. Then Ruby took a flyer as Sports Editor of The Ashland Independent before returning here as full-time sports writer. His natural interest, experience, and the law of averages, eventually led to the "big chair" of sports. Popular features of "Ruby's Report" are "Kentuckianities," always chockful of names, and "Questions and Answers," which, measured by the mail bag, pulls the most box-office. Only a fraction of his letters break into print . . . the rest are answered personally by the Sports Editor himself.

WAR GROWTH IS EXPLAINED

AT MEETING OF PCA HELD WEDNESDAY, JULY 19 AT LOUISVILLE—PLANS DISCUSSED FOR HANDLING CREDIT NEEDS.

The wartime increase in number and amount of production credit association loans to Kentucky farmers was traced to an informed membership and the cooperative principles upon which the associations operate, at a conference held Wednesday night, July 19 at the Kentucky Hotel. Attending the meeting were farmer directors of production credit association with central offices at Louisville, Elizabethtown, Williamstown and Owensboro.

F. L. Kerr, president; E. R. Raymond, secretary; Howard Garlaugh, vice president and C. D. Kenesson, treasurer, of the Production Credit Corporation of Louisville, led conference discussions.

Plans were discussed for handling the credit needs of returning veterans who are qualified for and interested in farming. Some production credit associations in Kentucky have already made loans for this purpose, and other Kentucky associations feel a responsibility to be prepared when the need comes.

Representng the Northern Kentucky production credit association, with members in Boone, Campbell, Carroll, Gallatin, Grant, Kenton, Owen and Pendleton Counties, were A. Threlkeld, C. Liston Hempfling and Leonard C. Taylor.

C. Liston Hempfling, director of the Northern Kentucky Production Credit Association, was elected to represent the associations at this conference on the 1944-45 district committee.

I. J. Smith, director of the Falls City Production Credit Association, was elected alternate. At eight other conferences delegates and alternates to the committee will be elected.

USE SAFETY QUIZ IN HOME CANNING

HOMEMAKERS ASKED TO STEER CLEAR OF HAZARDS—TWELVE QUESTIONS LISTED FOR SAFETY MEASURES.

Boone County home canners are urged to stop, think and check up on their standing as canners who steer clear of hazards. Here is a quick quiz in which canning specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture list 12 questions. "Yes" answers down the line are the goal for safety first:

1. Do you avoid oven canning, because of hazards of jars exploding?

2. Do you inspect jars to be sure there are no cracks, bubbles, or other defects? These are danger spots where the jars may give way later and break.

3. Do you try out jar tops, making sure you know how to adjust the kind you have correctly? Some types require looser adjustment than others and steam will build up in them so they break, if too tight during canning.

4. If you are using the 3-piece type of jar top, do you take care to leave enough "give" to allow air in the jar to escape during canning? With this type, the metal screw band must be screwed down over glass lid and top-seal rubber so loosely that the threads are just meshed in enough to hold top in place during canning.

5. Do you avoid burns on your hands by picking up hot jars with a thick cloth or good strong tongs?

6. Do you turn saucepan handles so they don't come out over stove edge?

7. Do you watch a boiling water bath canner, so it doesn't boil over and maybe put out a gas flame?

8. Do you make sure a steam pressure gauge is clear and clean, so that steam can escape from pet cock freely?

9. Do you make sure you have enough water in a steam pressure canner, so it won't boil dry ?

10. Do you slide any canner away from heat rather than lift a hot, heavy container?

11. Before opening a steam pressure canner, do you let pressure drop to zero, wait a minute or two, then open the pet cock slowly?

12. When lifting a steam pressure canner lid, do you tilt the far side up to protect you from escaping steam?

The new U. S. Department of Agriculture home canning bulletin has arrived in the county according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent. Anyone desiring this bulletin may contact the County Extension Office in Burlington.

The present planned schedule route of the operators is as follows:

1. Marshall Bros.—Cross the East Bend Road to the Burlington-Belleview Road to Belleview. First of the week, this outfit was working at H. E. White's farm and from there to the Raymond Goodridge farm.

2. Webster—From Burlington to Petersburg through Idlewild. First of the week at L. W. Gulley's farm. Route probably to Denzil Carpenter's farm.

3. Mosies—Bullittsville to North Bend. Mit Lucas farm to J. L. Jones, Jr. farm.

4. Vest—Verona territory, the first of the week at Joseph A. Huey's farm at Union; from there to Verona.

5. Walter Exterkamp—Union and Big Bone territory.

Mr. Taylor of Grant County was working on the T. J. Carr farm of near Verona on Tuesday of this week.

The operators have different sized equipment for which they are charging from $6.00 to $8.00 per hour. Four of the five operators cooperating in the planned program have two outfits each. All of these operators have promised to take large and small farmers as they come down the road and to cooperate in a better pond building program.

Farmers desiring pond building services are urged to do three things: (1) Leave their names at the County offices; (2) contact the operator when he is in the immediate territory and (3) have the location for the dam selected and if possible, have the base of the dam staked out before the equipment reaches the farm. The county offices can give specific recommendations on the last point.

If the farmer wishes to secure AAA payment on the soil building allowance at the rate of 15 cents per cubic yard of dirt put in the dam, he should first contact the AAA office.

DROUTH AFFECTS LABOR PROGRAM

APPLICATIONS FOR HIRED HELP REACHED NEW LOW PAST WEEK, ACCORDING TO WILL SMITH, LABOR ASSISTANT.

The drouth is having a marked effect on the county farm labor program. according to Will Smith, Farm Labor Assistant. Many farmers now have gotten their crops so that they are getting the first slack period since early spring. Applications for hired help reached a new low the past week.

Five applications for regular month hands still remain unfilled at the County Office. Possibilities for getting out of the county help and probably some help from within the county for a limited period are better than any time in recent months. Most of the available help, however, is from other farmers who have their own farm work caught up for the present.

Balbo Rye Available

Gulley and Pettit, Burlington, on Tuesday of this week secured 200 bushels of the Farm Bureau contracted Balbo rye for delivery to Boone County farmers. The rye will sell for $2.75 per bushel.

Farmers desiring this rye and especially those who plan to grow it for seed next year should make their purchases immediately as a large part of the seed is already sold and the supply is expected to last only a short time.

The Farm Bureau has no money involved either in the purchase or sale of the seed. Balbo rye of pure strain has been practically impossible to get in the past. The Farm Bureau contracted for one grower's entire production only so that seed of this variety of rye could be available to local farmers this year.

YOUNGSTERS TOP OLD TIMERS SAT.

BY SCORE OF 17 TO 13 AT BURLINGTON BALL GROUNDS—THREE PITCHERS USED BY MEN.

Former baseball stars of Burlington discovered Saturday that they are not as good as in former years when the Sunday School team handed them a defeat to the tune of 17-13.

Walter Brown, manager for the boys was on the hill for the men, leaving the game with a score of 11 to 7. Frank Maurer, took offer the hurling job, allowing 10 runs. Roscoe Akin, a former star hurler for Burlington, then took over, and showed the boys that he still had "plenty" on the ball, striking out six men in two innings.

The "old men," as the youngsters call them. made their final out in the ninth, when Dewey Benson, County Clerk, attempted to steal home with three men on and two out. Pete Stephens, batting at the time, was struck out by young Brown, after the final out had been made, in order to prove that the men never had a chance.

Bob Brown, pitching for the kids hit two batters with pitched ball, one batter being his uncle Earle Smith and other Luther Smith. He said it was open seasen on Smiths.

Some of the men displayed that they had not entirely lost their baseball. Courtney Pope slugged out a homer in the fifth, rounding the bases in 4 minutes and 26½ seconds.

Shelby Acra, catching for the men made two throws to second . . . from then on the boys had no trouble stealing that base.

Reports have it that many of the players for the men were unable to attend services at the local church Sunday, due to muscles failing to respond.

"Pap" Brady and Irvin Rouse called a splendid game, Rouse calling the bases and "Pap" calling balls and strikes.

A return game is scheduled between these same teams for August 5th.

Thursday, Burlington will go to Belleview at 6:30 for a game, and will go to Petersburg, Saturday.

Mrs. Josie Maurer, Mrs. Mae Lassing, Mrs. Lula Huey visited relatives in Carrollton, Tuesday.

WILL ENFORCE BEVERAGE LAW

BAN ON BEER SALES AT DANCE HALLS, ROADHOUSES OUTSIDE CORPORATE LIMITS WILL BE RIGIDLY ENFORCED.

Kentucky beer licensees have been told by Charles F. Brown Jr., commissioner of alcoholic beverage control, that the ban on beer sales at dance halls, roadhouses and other places outside corporate limits would be rigidly enforced.

In a circular letter addressed to "all retail beer licensees," Brown offered the definition of roadhouse he said the department will follow:

"Any place of business commonly known as a roadhouse (as used in statutes) is hereby defined," Brown wrote, "as being any public place outside an incorporated city or town patronized by the public for purposes of amusement, such dancing, the playing of music, juke boxes, pinball machines, slot machines, or games of any kind; but does not include bonafide restaurants, groceries, general stores, filling stations, or other establishments where no form of amusement is permitted."

The 1944 act forbids the sale of beer on premises used as a retail package liquor store, dance-hall, or roadhouse outside of incorporated cities or towns except in counties which contain a city of the first, second or third class and which maintains a county police force.

DUBIOUS HONOR

Union leaders are vying for the "honor" of being the first to break the government's wage and price stabilization program wide open and start another inflationary spiral. They have compiled statistics professing to show why the "soldiers of production" must have more money. They call strikes at the drop of a hat. Disrupting war production is their club. They get what they want, or else. The government's stabilization laws are currently the subject of their wrath and every attempt will be made to smash those laws.

Millions of Americans watch these union abuses in helpless fury. Those in the armed forces do not expect wage increase every time the going gets harder. They are at war and know it. Many more in civilian life do not expect providence or a labor union to hand them more money to make up for rising taxes and bond purchases and high prices.

Labor leaders should consider well and long before they decide to smash by force the laws designed to protect the nation from runaway inflation. If the union pit themselves against the government as ruthlessly as they have against industries, public opinion may destroy the unions.

THE LAND OF MIRACLES

If Kit Carson and his colleagues of the wilderness could look upon the nation they explored not so many years ago, they would think indeed that many miracles had come to pass in America. They would see miracles where we of today see nothing.

In Kit Carson's day, distance was a mountainous obstacle to be traversed painfully on foot. The journey sometimes took months. Now, airliners and express trains have made the mountain into a molehill. When a housewife in the Middle West wants a dish of fresh strawberries or a crab cocktail or fish for dinner, she has but to go to the nearest grocery store. If Kit Carson wanted them, he had to walk a few thousand miles to Maine or California.

The fact that nearly 8,000 carloads of fruit and vegetables were shipped by express to all parts of the country during 1943, is no miracle to contemporary consumers. But to the pioneers of a hundred years ago who were acquainted with nothing more speedy than a horse, the spectacle of a modern refrigerated express car loaded with delicacies rolling at sixty miles an hour across deserts and mountains, would have been overwhelming—the work of Gods from another world.

The miracle of refrigerated express is not a creation of super men, but merely the work of the American business men. It is only one of thousands of miracles that make the United States a good place to live. During the next hundred years, thousands more such miracles will be created by the same kind of men—providing this country remains a land in which men are free to create miracles.

Pointing out that it is of the utmost importance to prevent the destruction by fire of lives and industries vital to winning the war, the National Board of Fire Underwriters has urged public administrators to make provisions for obtaining new fire fighting apparatus to replace that which has been worn out or become obsolete.

The Board warns that: It is the fire apparatus of the regularly organized fire departments which must be depended upon to prevent destruction to the industries vital to the winning of the war. It is this apparatus which must be used to save the lives of people crowded into hotels, apartments, tenements and houses, and those in industries working under less than the normal safe econditions.

Even before the present emergency it was well recognized that much of the fire apparatus—the pumpers and ladder trucks—was becoming obsoleter. It was built before experience could eliminate undesirable features of design or material. It was becoming more difficult and more expensive to maintain in. And, of even greater importance, few cities had the desirable amount of reserve apparatus.

Restrictions on the manufacture and sale of modern fire apparatus have been materially reduced. Today is the time to take action to properly protect lives and property. This year's budget should include a liberal allowance for pumpers, hose, for gas masks, salvage covers, modern spray nozzles, and the many other pieces of equipment which a modern department needs. Thought should be given to adding to and modernizing the fire alarm system.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D., of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for July 30

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

GIDEON'S FAITHFUL FEW

LESSON TEXT—Judges 7:4-7, 15-21.
GOLDEN TEXT—There is no restraint to the Lord to save by many or by few.—I Samuel 14:6.

Man power is said to be the secret of victory. Our nation is concerned about the shortage of man power in critical manufacturing centers. The armed forces are calling for more and more men and women.

That will all make it a little strange to study and teach the lesson for today, for here is the story of a crucial military campaign in which the leader, Gideon, was told by God to cut down his forces. This happened again and again, until he had less than one per cent of his original force, which was none too large, humanly speaking.

What singular thing was going on? God was at work and He did not want Israel to look to the arm of flesh, but to Him.

Three questions are raised and answered in this interesting story:

I. Quantity or Quality? (7:4-7).

The Lord is looking for men to do His work, but He cannot use men who are afraid or careless. This was the lesson Gideon learned, and it applies to our day as well.

When Gideon started out he had 32,000 men (Judg. 7:3). Not willing that they should glory in their own strength and knowing that many of them were cowards at heart, the Lord told Gideon to let those who were afraid, go home. When the mob had left there were only 10,000 left.

How sad it is that so many are "fearful and afraid" (v. 3) when it comes to going into battle for the Lord. They sing cheerily, "Stand up, stand up for Jesus, ye soldiers of the cross; let courage rise with danger," etc.; but when the bombs of Satan begin to fall, or the bugle calls for an advance into the enemy's territory, they have disappeared to places of comfort and safety. What good are such soldiers? The Lord told Gideon to send them home; perhaps the church should do the same.

Then came the second test which appears in our lesson. Those who took the comfortable and easy way to drink (v. 6), were not alert and ready. Down went the number to 300; but these were men who were ready to obey, who were alert and courageous.

The church needs to learn that large numbers are not the answer to her problems. God is interested in numbers, be sure of that, but He is more concerned about quality than quantity. Let us get more people who are truly regenerated into the church, and not just more people.

II. Man's Power or God's Power? (vv. 15-18).

Strange as was the plan for recruiting, the plan of battle was even more unusual. Lights, broken pitchers, and trumpet blasts are hardly the accepted weapons of warfare, nor does the method sound like military strategy.

This was no time for questions, for logical arguments, for the usual organization of war, for now God was about to work. He was ready to show His power quite apart from the ability of man, and He had a right to work as He would.

Wise and blessed is the church which knows that there comes a time when the thing to do is to put plans aside and let the Lord work No one will question the value of organization and proper church "machinery," but we need to ask ourselves whether we have not become so organized that we impede the work of God.

Observe on the other hand that it was "the sword of the Lord and of Gideon"—not just the sword of the Lord. God is all-powerful. We must not hinder His glorious working. But He works through men, do not forget that! He used Gideon, and He used Gideon's little band.

God's power must accomplish God's work, but that power flows out to the world through yielded and obedient men.

III. Running or Standing? (vv. 19-21).

The enemy "ran and cried and fled." The sword of the Lord and of Gideon had put them to rout. Well may the enemies of God be terror-stricken when He begins to work through His servants.

All this was done "by faith," for we find Gideon's act of turning "to flight the armies of the aliens" listed among the exploits of faith (Heb. 11:34).

Now, see what Gideon's host was doing while the enemy ran (v. 21). "They stood every man in his place." No need for frantic hurry with them, no fear, no excitement.

God works that way. Remember the children of Israel at the Red Sea? The water ahead, and Pharaoh's host to the rear. What to do? "Fear ye not, stand still and see the salvation of the Lord." (Exod. 14:13).

Perhaps the word is coming to us just now—Trust God rather than the power of man! Stand still and see what He will do, for His own glory!

4-H CLUB MEMBERS TO RAISE ROASTERS

For the fourth successive year, 4-H club members in Logan county have undertaken the roaster project with the cooperation of local hatcherymen who this year provided 4,450 chicks and 8,900 pounds of feed. The roasters will be marketed cooperatively October 1, at which time club members will settle their accounts with the hatcheries. Last year, club members in the county helped out in the war effort by marketing 5,800 pounds of poultry meat, and then had 1,700 pullets left for egg production. It is estimated that production this year will be 10 percent greater.

A considerably greater acreage of legumes have been sowed in Robertson county than for the past several years.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Probably the most discussed subject of the winter among homemakers is how to cut the grocery bill. All agree that even small amounts of food must not be wasted. Favorite tricks for using leftovers are to combine bits of cooked vegetables with fresh ones in a salad, soup or caserole dish; to substitute cheese or nuts for meat in supper or luncheon dishes; and to stretch a small amount of meat for the big meal of the day with soybeans, the vegetable which supplies valuable proteins, just as does meat.

To be sure that the family is getting the foods everyday which are necessary for health, foods specialists at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics suggest that homemakers use the basic-seven-foods chart as a frequent checker-upper.

A good menu for supper or lunch is the following: baked onions stuffed with nuts or ground meat, scalloped potatoes, peach and cottage cheese salad, corn sticks and butter, and cup cakes with custard sauce.

Stuffed Onions: 6 spanish onions, 1 c. dry bread crumbs, ½ c. buttered bread crumbs, 1 c. chopped nuts or meat, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 3 tablespoons fat, 1-3 cup milk or stock, ½ teaspoon salt.

Parboil the onions in boiling salted water. Scoop out the centers, leaving a shell of two or three layers. Chop the onion removed from the center and add other ingredients with the exception of buttered crubs which should be sprinkled over the top after the onions have been filled with mixture. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, until onions are tender and crumbs are brown.

HORSE PULLING CONTEST TO FEATURE

One of the biggest features of this year's Dearborn County Fair, August 21 to 26th inclusive, at Lawrenceburg, Indiana will be the pulling contest. Over 1000 people were in the grandstand on Saturday morning at last year's Fair to view this big event. In addition to the classes of last year there will be a single horse Pulling Contest added this year. This new feature will add much to the show.

Bowel Cleaning Power Of Erb-Help Medicine

One man recently took ERB-HELP three days and said afterward that he never would have believed his body contained so much filthy substance. He says his stomach, intestines, bowels and whole system were so thoroughly cleansed that his constant headaches came to an end, several pimply skin eruptions on his face dried up overnight, and even the rheumatic pains in his knee disappeared. At present he is an altogether different man, feeling fine in every way.

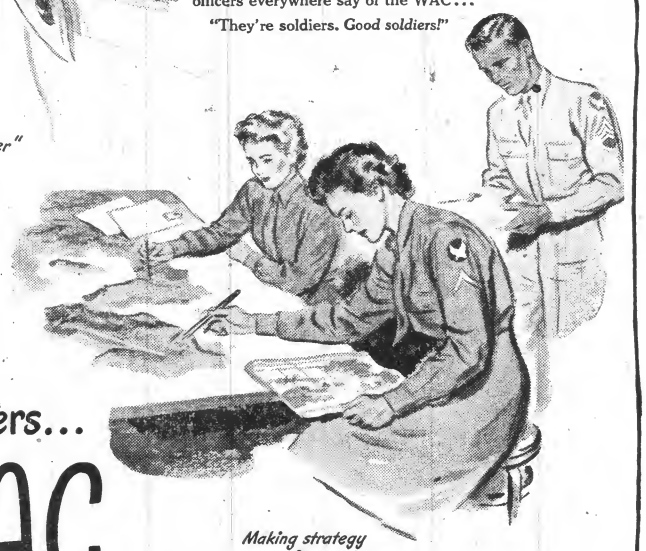
ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Elsmere Pharmacy, Dixie Highway.—Adv.

The proudest title in the Army

IT CONSISTS of two simple words.

Yet every soldier who's worth his salt covets it.

This title is simply:



"Good Soldier."

It isn't just happenstance that so many women in the WAC have earned this title—the proudest in the Army.

For wherever Wacs are working, both here and overseas, there you find a job well done. And done with a spirit so gallant and fine that high Army officers everywhere say of the WAC...

"They're soldiers. Good soldiers!"

BRENT SPENCE

Congress

He Is Reliable and Experienced

Following his return from the World Monetary Conference at Bretton Woods, New Hampshire, Congressman Brent Spence began an active campaign in the Fifth District this week for his renomination in the August 5th Primary.

"It is my hope that I may contact every voter possible during the remaining days of the campaign, and I regret very much that the monetary conference prevented my arriving in Northern Kentucky much earlier," Representative Spence said.

As Chairman of the powerful House Banking and Currency Committee, the Ft. Thomas Congressman was a delegate to the meeting in New Hampshire, which was attended by all nations of the world except those with whom America is at war.

"I felt it my duty to remain to the end of the conference, because we were planning the financial structure of the world after the war to guarantee a sound future to both returning members of our armed forces and civilians now at home. Our country owes them all the assurance of a livelihood in the days of peace to come, and our job at the monetary conference was to perfect the means by which this could be done," Representative Spence said.

As the conference ended, Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau praised the work of Representative Spence and other delegates, saying they had "erected a signpost—a signpost pointing down a highway broad enough for all men to walk in step and side by side."

He commented further, "the actual details of an international monetary and financial agreement may seem mysterious to the general public. Yet at the heart of it lie the most elementary bread and butter realities of daily life. What we have done here in Bretton Woods is to devise machinery by which men and women everywhere can freely exchange, on a fair and stable basis, the goods which they produce through their labor."

President Roosevelt said delegates to the conference "have shown that the people of the United Nations can work together to plan the peace as well as fight the war."

Representative Spence explained that, "the theme, or rather the major objective, of our work was to make sure that the monetary structure of the world is built to insure everlasting peace. We want everyone to be guaranteed employment and sufficient income. Only under such conditions can world peace and happiness return and continue."

ONLY The MINT CAN MAKE MONEY Without ADVERTISING

If it is true that the BALLOT BOX is the BULWARK of American Liberty, then every man who has ever died for this country, GAVE HIS LIFE FOR YOUR RIGHT TO VOTE!

Predictions are already being made, that we will have a "light primary vote" . . . on August 5th. If these predictions come true in this day when human liberty is being challenged all over the world, then PATRIOTISM IS DEAD in the Fifth Congressional District of Kentucky, and the Honor Boards which have risen up in our communities, will mock and shame us in the days to come!

I therefore urge you, earnestly and sincerely, to honor the men of Valley Forge, of Tarawa and beyond, by casting your vote on August 5th, and by that gesture prove to our Fifth District boys "over-there" that we "over-here" know what they are fighting for.

Yours for Victory on All Fronts.
Ed. Wimmer, Democratic Candidate for Congress, 5th District of Kentucky. (Kenton, Campbell, Boone, Pendleton, Gallatin, Trimble, Grant, Carroll and Oldham Counties.)
